Look out for the X mark.

CORRECTION.—In the Administratrix's Notice to debtors and creditors to the estate of Daniel Hugh, deceased, it was made to read David instead of Daniel. Please notice advertisement as corrected.

Release of Col. Aiken.

We are pleased to learn that Col. Wyatt D. Aiken, who was arrested some days ago, charged as accessory to the killing of Randolph, has been released on $5,000 bail, after a hearing before Judge Boozer in Columbia.

The Herald and Home.

S. M. Pettigill & Co., of New York, long and favorably known to the Press and the advertising world, design entering upon a newspaper enterprise. Their purpose is to issue on or before January next, the first number of a Rural and Family paper, under the above title, to be published weekly, and to be devoted to all that pertains to country life, in its broadest sense. The editorial corps will be of high reputation. We commend the enterprise.

Charleston and Columbia Elections.

The election in Charleston for municipal officers resulted we regret to say in the defeat of the citizen's ticket; Pillsbury, redoubt, being elected by a majority of 17 over the Hon. H. D. Lesesne. The election will be protested on sufficient and good grounds. The most intense excitement prevailed during and after the election, the negro party; outrageously violent, several white citizens being more or less injured by the wild and exultant mobs which rioted through the streets.

In Columbia the white ticket, with old John McKenzie as Mayor, went in to victory, and no body hurt.

Rev. F. A. Mood.

The South Carolina, M. E. Conference loses an efficient laborer in the departure of this gentleman, who has left the scene of his labors here in this State, to fill the Presidency of South Carolina College, Hill, Texas. Not until frequent solicitations to our mission, which would dissolve his connection with the people he has so long eminently served, did Mr. Mood consent to accept the flattering proposal. He preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation in Trinity Church, Charleston, on Wednesday last, prior to his departure. A long life of usefulness and prosperity, we trust is before him.

Very Little Politics.

John Quincy Adams while in this State was invited by letter to visit Macon, Ga., and address the people. The letter did not reach him, however, until after his return to Massachusetts. In reply, after regretting inability to accede to the invitation, among other things the following advice is given, which if good before the election just over, is eminently so at present.

"You want but little politics, as I take it, but you need every man of you to waste his every energy to build up your waste places, restore your languishing industry, renew your decayed trade, replenish your exhausted capital, educate and elevate the poor, ignorant and degraded within your borders, and strive all to leave no device untried to reconcile and adjust your people to the new era."

Very little politics is needed just now, and no more than to keep up our present organizations. What we most want for the next four years is more earnest devotion to industry and education. Let the people turn their attention now to the building up of interests private and public, and let the ignis fatuus of politics alone as much as possible.

To Assignees and Applicants for Bankruptcy.

Notwithstanding the many notices made from time to time calling upon Assignees, to settle for advertisements published, several of them have failed to respond. We are now publishing notices for Final Discharge of bankrupts in these cases. It is optional with us whether we do so or not, but at the solicitation of the bankrupt's lawyers we have done so. We give due notice now, however, that unless all dues, including this last for final discharge, are settled immediately, the bankrupt's discharge will be disputed by us before the bankrupt court. Hereafter notices for final discharge must be paid for in advance, or they will not be inserted. Since writing the above the following notice has been made by Marshal Epping:

Assignees and parties entering Bankruptcy will notice Marshal Eppings' card in another column, which states that no discharges will be granted till all fees are paid and receipts exhibited. This order has been made by the Court, and the parties interested will do well to give it attention. The Press are requested to notice this.

The Democratic Party of South Carolina.

The State Central Club makes the close of the late canvass the occasion of a brief address, and offers congratulations upon the general result, which being a gain of more than 80,000 over the election in April last, may be considered more of a victory than defeat. The National democracy also have cause for felicitation, for including the States voting in 1868 and not in 1864, and the States excluded from voting in 1868, and including also the number disfranchised, the result shows that Seymour received a majority of several hundred thousands of the popular vote. The address urges the importance of preserving the present admirable organization, in the various clubs, and recommends that features looking to the subjects of immigration, agriculture, manufactures and education, be engrained upon each club, to promote the industries of the State and the advance of popular intelligence. In conclusion, it says:

Fellow-citizens, we address you in the spirit of hope and faith. God in His providence has seen fit to deny to us the triumph which we deemed essential to the welfare of the State. If we cannot win, let us seek to deserve success. To the manhood of the State do we appeal. Let the Democratic party of South Carolina remain a power and an influence in the State. Keep your ranks undivided. Adhere to your political principles until better ones invite you to their adoption. From failure gather wisdom; out of defeat get patience and resolution. Preserving your fidelity to the eclectic principles of your party, go bravely and earnestly to work in the field of material development. Thus building up the State upon the basis of labor, and surrounding our political creeds with the solid muniments of wealth, intelligence and virtue, we will redeem our broken fortunes, heal our bleeding wounds, and ere long, secure the peaceful triumph of those wise and virtuous elements essential to the dignity of the State and the prosperity of the people.

The Bank of the State.

The application for a writ of mandamus to compel the President of the Bank of the State to deliver the assets to Gov. Scott, which has been some time pending, has been refused by Justice Willard. The Charleston News says: "Justice Willard holds that the writ of mandamus was the proper remedy in this case to enforce the duty devolved by the statute upon the President and Directors of the bank to deliver the assets of the bank to Governor Scott, but that inasmuch as the whole fund in dispute is now in the hands of the Court of Equity, a court of competent jurisdiction, no other court can lay hold on it or divert it from the purposes to which it was appointed by the course of said suit—and he therefore refused the motion. The Act of 1868, entitled 'An act to close the operations of the Bank of the State,' he considered not as a remedial statute, but merely as an operation of a proprietary claim to the fund, and, therefore, not exempting this case from the force of reasoning applicable to cases in which the State is not a party."

Dresser and Wife.

A dresser and his wife, very young women, sometimes enter the house of God in a costume which makes the act of devotion in the service seem almost blasphemous. When a brisk little creature comes into a pew with her hair frizzed till it stands on ends in a most startling manner, rattling strings of beads and bits of tinsel, she may look exceedingly pretty and piquante; and if she came there for a game of croquet or a table-party, would be all in very good taste; but as she comes to confess that she is a miserable sinner, that she has done, the things she ought not to have done, and left undone the things she ought to have done—she takes upon her lips most solemn and tremendous words, whose meaning runs far beyond life into a sublime eternity—there is a discrepancy which would be ludicrous if it were not melancholy.—Exchange.

We desire to have an Agent for obtaining subscriptions and advertisements for the Cultivator in every county and town in the county. We offer as an inducement, 20 per cent on all amounts collected and forwarded to us at our regular published rates for new subscriptions and advertisements (club rates not included.) The Cultivator is popular—its circulation is rapidly increasing—the crops this year are good—everything is favorable to obtaining subscriptions, and thousands of persons can, by accepting our agency and practicing a little industry, "put money in their pockets," without at all interfering with their ordinary business. Parties accepting our offer, will please communicate with this office, and written authority to act as agents, and blank receipts will be furnished them. To all who have acted as heretofore, we offer the same terms, and to the large number of gentlemen who have acted as agents for us the present year, without reserving any commission, we beg to return our most hearty thanks.—Southern Cultivator.

At a meeting of the State Central Executive Democratic Club, Dr. Reynolds submitted the following, which after some discussion, were adopted, and ordered to be published:

Resolved, That the late address issued by the State Central Executive Committee on the important subject of avoiding acts of intolerance and violence growing out of political excitement, meets the hearty concurrence of the State Central Club.

Resolved, That the late manifestations of violence—terminating in a few instances in bloodshed at some points in this State—though committed under circumstances of severe provocation and trial—are viewed by this body with sentiments of the deepest disapproval, pain and abhorrence, and that we will for the future, as we have in the past, discountenance such exhibitions of violence, whether enacted by the torch of the incendiary or the weapon of the assassin, and we call upon the civil authorities of the State to do likewise.

The Club then adjourned.

WADE HAMPTON, President.

JAMES G. GIBBS, Secretary.

NASHVILLE, November 14.—The hotel at McKenzie was burned to-day, and a woman and four children, from North Carolina, perished in the flames.

LOCAL ITEMS.

A large number of Assignee and other sales, and notices of final discharge in Bankruptcy, will be found on the fourth page this week.

We are pleased to notice that Messrs. Sampson Pope and Warren H. Jones, of our town, have received their final discharge in Bankruptcy.

LOOKING UP.—We understand that Gen. Kinard rented the lands of Middleton Kinard, deceased, on Tuesday, for the next year, at the very high rate of about six dollars per acre. This is certainly looking up, and an evidence of prosperity.

THE POMARIA NURSERY.—We take pleasure in calling attention to Mr. Summers' advertisement. He is now prepared to furnish all that is or can be needed in his line, in fruits, flowers, or shrubs, and all of good, acclimated stock. Farmers and gardeners will do well to send their orders to a reliable Southern nursery, such as Mr. Summers' is.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The election for Intendant and Wardens for this town resulted in the choice of Maj. J. M. Baxter, for Intendant, and J. S. Hair, J. N. Martin, Mathias Barre, and J. B. Smith, as Wardens. There was but one ticket. The number of votes polled, 124, of which 93 were colored. The day passed off quietly; no excitement or disturbance whatever.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—We have been requested to state that prayer meetings are held in the Baptist Church every Sabbath afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

In this connection we are happy to announce, that this Church has succeeded in securing the services of that able and eloquent divine, the Rev. Richard Furman, who will labor for this charge during the coming year. Dr. Furman, is a deeply pious minister, a ripe scholar and eloquent withal, and his advent in the community affords us great gratification. He will here some time in December.

THE METEORIC DISPLAY.—As announced, the meteoric shower did take place between the 12th and 15th. On Saturday morning, commencing at 1 and ending about 4 o'clock, the exhibition was seen by early risers and late retires. It is described as very brilliant. We did not witness it, for the reason, that our babies were restless early in the night and kept us from sleep for some considerable time, and when we did sleep, it was a two-forty kind of nap, not on a plank road, however. Next shower we'll give 'em a dose of paregoric or Winslow, that we may sleep soon and arise early.

THE FEMALE ACADEMY.—That the Trustees have awakened from their long sleep, and gone to work and secured contributions for repairing the old Academy, is a subject of great congratulation to this community. The effort to secure the means, are only needed, and the Academy made, a cheerful and substantial response was received from our citizens. The old Academy will once more be full of life and usefulness, and we give our meed, of praise to the trustees for the service done. The Rev. J. B. Hillhouse, a gentleman of fine attainments, and thoroughly fitted to fill so important a position, has been chosen as principal, and has already commenced the exercise of his school duties, temporarily in the Baptist school, until the Academy is repaired, which we trust will soon be done.

COLD.—For the past week we have had a real touch of winter, cold as the most ardent lover of winter snaps could desire, but accompanied with a clear sky and genial sun. We rejoice to say that this bracing, delightful weather has had the desirable effect of driving away the "ills flesh is heir to" in warm weather, and that our town is enjoying the happy change.

Not so a bachelor editor, who says: These cool nights make bachelors envious of matrimonial felicity. Any good-looking and sweet dispositioned girl of eighteen, with a cash capital of fifty thousand dollars, desirous of emigrating from the barren pasture of Single Blessedness into the fruitful field of Connujial Enjoyment, can sing "Meet Me by Moonlight Alone" under our office window at a quarter past eleven o'clock any evening.

P. S.—Only one at a time.

ANOTHER MONSTER RADISH, and more prodigious than the one last mentioned, has been brought in by Mr. Solomon Kinard, ex-post master. This radish bears of the palm, as it measures 2 1/2 inches in circumference, 15 in length, and weighs just 8 pounds. Mr. Kinard takes the button, and we hold the radish, but like the man with the elephant, we don't know what to do with it, as it is neither fit for man or beast to eat. It resembles Mount Vesuvius, and the jagged assures on its sides look like they may have been made by the flow of centuries of molten lava, and is as hollow as the mount itself; or it looks like the stump of a North Carolina 'Simmon tree, struck by lightning. Take it altogether it is an ugly vegetable, and of no earthly use to anybody, especially printers. If it had been a potato, or pumpkin, or squash, or turnip, or a bushel of apples, or a cabbage, or a pound or two of butter, or even a chunk of good lightwood, it would be worth talking about, but a big, ugly radish, one part bark, two parts water and the other part smell, is not good for the wholesome. So much on the radish. If any body is ambitious, for a puff that will make him feel like lifting himself up by his straps to the roof top, let him send in something eatable, digestible and profitable.

POTATOES.—In Southern New England, New Jersey, Delaware, the Gulf States and California, potatoes are reported a full average crop, with a deficiency of ten per cent, in New York and Pennsylvania; from three to seven per cent, in the Southern Atlantic States and Tennessee; twenty per cent, in Illinois; ten per cent, in Iowa; eleven per cent, in Indiana; fifteen per cent, in Ohio; sixteen per cent, in Michigan, and a greater or less reduction in other Western States.

The 'local' reports an entire failure of his crop. Having planted under the most favorable circumstances: the seed a gift, fertilizer nearly ditto, and seasons auspicious, his moderate calculation for five or ten bushels of tubers was reasonable, but alas, the miserable patch run into vines, all vines, with here and there a bunch of slender, fibrous roots, which his neighbors' pigs noted up, and leaving him altogether minus. The crop a failure then, calculations disappointed, his hope is that some of his subscribers have been more successful, and will not stand upon a few roots. Let them be good ones friends, big enough to slice and fry. So do, and he'll ever pray.

PUFFY.—Our acknowledgements are many, and hearty this week, and first Mr. L. R. Marshall, the man who caters so acceptably to the public appetite of Newberry, will accept thanks for his considerate and well-timed offerings to our inner man. Marshall is a whole-souled, capital fellow, and is continually doing something to bring him before the people through the Herald, and tickle our fancy. His stock of goods is a choice one, and we take pleasure in calling the attention of those who may not be aware of it, to the fact. Don't forget his fish and oysters.

And then there's Mr. A. Harris, down town; there is no end to the favors he showers down on us, first one thing and then another. We imagine sometimes that he has some design against us, but unless it be a kind one, we are utterly at fault. Long may Harris wave, and sell cheap goods, and that we are certain he will do, while he appreciates printers and their ink so highly.

And our old friend Mathew Albritton, at his country store, what better can we say of him, than that he loves to honor us. Last Saturday we called on him at his ranch, and was surprised at the extensive stock displayed, and at the low prices. Fancy our delight when we went out fanned down up to the shoulders with his offerings. We recommend Mathew to kindly consideration, and his varied stock to particular attention.

Capt. P. S. of the Fork is remembered for a monstrous yam potato. Wonder if he has any more of the same sort. We are in high grass just now, and feel like a bran new fiddle, strung with the finest Italian cat gut, and played on by masterly hands.

SUPPORT OF A BANKRUPT.—The United States District Court of Columbia, recently decided that real estate could not be set aside for the temporary support of a bankrupt, under the provisions of the act relating to exempting; but that money might be so appropriated in cases where the "articles and necessities" specially designated in the act did not amount to the specified sum of $500, and if necessary to take land for this purpose, it must be advertised and sold at public auction, and turned into cash.

A PRINTER "SETS UP" HIS OWN OBITUARY.—Strange as this may appear, it is nevertheless true. The Prairie du Chien Union contains a notice of the death, by consumption, of Judson Hurd. About a week before he died he was ordered by his physicians to quit work, and he did his last type-setting on a notice of his own death, containing his history, &c. The Union finishes the notice with a high compliment to the deceased as a printer and a man.

STRANGE RUMOR.—The story was "bruited about the streets yesterday afternoon, that Gen. Grant had announced to one of his friends in this city his purpose to give Gen. Lee a portfolio. If it were known that Lee would become a member of Grant's Cabinet, it would also be known that Grant's words were not idle when he said "Let us have peace." Lee's accession to the Cabinet would be the perfection of moral, physical and political reconstruction Acts.—St. Louis Times.

SUICIDE.—We are shocked to hear of the suicide of Mr. John Lee, by cutting his throat with a razor, on Friday last, at his residence near Batesville Depot, in this District. Mr. Lee was sixty years of age and a highly respectable citizen, and had for some time exhibited signs of mental aberration, but not sufficient to induce any fear of this dreadful result.

[Carolina Spartan.]

SOUTH CAROLINA MINING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this association, the following gentlemen were elected the directors for the ensuing year: Professor F. S. Holmes, Dr. N. A. Pratt, Messrs. George T. Lewis, Samuel Grant, Jr., J. E. Smith, Frederick Klett, S. F. Eisher, E. N. Hutchinson and T. J. Summers.—Charleston News.

A negro man named Melvin White, voted for Seymour and Blair, at Murfreesboro, N. G., left the polls and went home and fell dead shortly after. He was buried by his white friends in a silver-mounted coffin, six of them carrying his coffin to the grave as a token of respect to the deceased. It was suspected he was poisoned by some of the Leaguers.

Mrs. Eliza Garth, of New York, aged seventy-four, has sued Richard Howell, of Flanders, N. J., aged seventy-seven, for $5,000, and got it, for trifling with her virgin affections and marrying another girl.

At Belvidera, Ohio, Grant addressed a Republican procession, and said, among other things: "Gentlemen, I see many of you in uniforms. You laid them off three years ago, and you can now lay them off again, and we will have peace."

A "Honey-moon Car" is to be placed on the Pacific Railway when completed, for the benefit of bridal parties.

PRICE.—We have given no spice for so long a period, and the matter accumulates so fast, that we feel constrained to serve a small dish this week, and hope that it will serve the purpose of calling up a smile from the reader. The first ingredient is on the "Bend," and though we have no "case" in our midst, yet there is no telling what might happen, therefore read and be governed by the mishap which befell a fair maiden and her bender:

She stepped upon the platform—
Her grace I can't forget—
For Oh! that Grecian bend of hers
Clings to my memory yet;
Her smile was like the sunbeam;
Her bonnet "some" you bet;
But that lovely Grecian bend of hers
Was the "heaviest" bend I met.
Her waterfall was gorgeous,
And all who saw consented
That her grace was never equalled
By the Saratoga bend.
Ere alas, she bowed so heavily,
Dust will return to dust,
And the most enchanting bender
Is doomed to moth and rust.
In stooping to assume her seat,
"I hate to tell, but must," she said,
Some whalebone thing that staid her up,
Bent double—and then "burst!"
She softly sighed, and then sweetly smiled,
And then in accents tender,
As she rubbed her back, she gently said:
"Thank Heaven, I'm off my bender!"

Pat's "quivvike ansur" is full of laugh; A literary gentleman, wishing to be undisturbed one day, instructed his Irish servant to admit no one, and if any one inquired for him to give him an equivocal answer. Night came, and the gentleman proceeded to interrogate Pat as to his callers.

"Did any one call?"
"Yes, sur, wan gentleman."
"And what did he say?"
"He asked was your honor in?"
"Well, what did you tell him?"
"Sure, I gev him a quivvike ansur, jist."

"How was that?"

"I axed him was his grand-mother a monkey!"

To the Council and Citizens of Newberry.

MESSES. EDITORS.—It is a relief and pleasure that our community is at last in the hands of an honorable council and Intendant, and men who possess the confidence of all. We have an assurance now of peace and order. The first act of the new council is the appointment of Mr. B. Bleasie, an honorable, energetic citizen, as Marshal. This is an admirable appointment, but I hope that Mr. B. may not be left in so arduous a position alone, but that a competent assistant may be given him. This is the expressed wish of a number of citizens, and I have no doubt the wish will be echoed by every citizen in the town, as all are interested in the matter, merchants more particularly, and if the resources of council are not sufficient to pay the increased expense, which would only be about fifty dollars a month, I believe that every citizen will gladly contribute to raise the amount and thereby insure a greater protection and quiet.

I propose for that office, a good and tried citizen, one who has given proof of his zeal and activity already, namely, Mr. Thomas Chapman, our ex-marshal, just out of office.

STORE KEEPER.

Store Keeper's suggestion is announced. We fully endorse his sentiment, and believe that the town will readily foot the bill if the Council are unable to do so. Let us have Tom Chapman as assistant by all means.—Ed. Herald.

PETERS' MUSICAL PUBLICATIONS.—Monthly Glee Hiv, United States Musical Review, and Parlor Companion, for November, have just been received. Single copies 25 and 30 cents. Address J. L. Peters, P. O. Box 5,423, New York.

A busy man is a locomotive, and life a track. Every night he drives into "the house," and stops. Every morning he is fired up anew, and away he goes switching off in one direction and then in another. In this routine of business he forgets that the physical organization is of the most delicate kind, and to be well oiled up and rubbed over every day, how much more necessary is it that all men and women should use PLANTATION BARRICA, which are the plus ultra of everything which is necessary to keep the system in a perfect tone of health.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

MARRIED.

On the 22nd of October, by the Rev. D. Derrick, Mr. T. G. Smith, of Edgefield, and Miss Mary A. Leaphart, of Lexington District, S. C.

F. WERBER, W. C. JOHNSON, Finance Committee.

[For the Herald]

Mr. Editor—I sometimes think of advertising in your paper, but then again when I take the paper up to get some idea how an advertisement ought to be written I am dumbfounded at sight of the big notices contained therein, and am almost inclined to do as I once heard of a poor man doing, namely, picking out one of the most conspicuous advertisements and persuading you to let me put just beneath it "ME TOO," and signing my name. Then again I've heard it said, advertising is the sure road to fortune, and as I am in need of a small one at least, I thought I'd try all means of getting it.

Just received 150 lbs. of Candy, best make and all flavors, which I will sell at prices, according to quantity, ranging from 80 to 50 cents per pound. Ginger snaps, ginger nuts, sugar cakes and soda crackers. Jellies of all kinds put up in beautiful goblets, fresh fruits put up in cans, also oysters and tomatoes put up in the same way, best brands of cigars, genuine Durham mustard, superior Italian macaroni, drums of figs, fresh lemons, salmon in cans, pigging in price from 5 to 75 cents. The above goods have just been received. I also have cucumber pickles, which I get by the barrel and sell at $1 per gallon, a gallon holding upwards of fifty pickles. Also a few articles in the dry goods line, they are choice goods, and in consequence of being bought at auction can be sold extremely low. Groceries of all descriptions, also tin-ware.

Also received a choice lot of Florida Oranges. Also to be received this week large, fine Northern Apples. Notice.—William Summers, who has been adjudged a Bankrupt, on his own petition, having filed his petition praying his final discharge, all creditors who have proved their debts and other persons in interest, are hereby notified to appear before the United States Court at Columbia, in said District, on the 27th day of November, A. D. 1868, at 11 o'clock A. M., to show cause if any they have, why said prayer be not granted.

And I further take notice that a second and third meeting of Creditors in this case, will be held at the office of Henry Summers, Esq., Register at Newberry, S. C., on Tuesday the 24th day of November, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

By order of Court, DANIEL HORLBECK, Clerk District Court United States, nov 18 47 3t. For South Carolina.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an order from John F. Peterson, Probate Judge, I will sell on the first Monday in December next, before the Court House door, within the legal hours of sale. One tract of land, situated in Newberry County, and bounded on all sides by the lands of the deceased, and containing forty acres more or less, a part of the real estate of William Sheely, deceased.

Terms.—The purchaser to give bond with two approved sureties and a mortgage of the premises until the first day of March next, except cost, which must be paid in cash. By virtue of sundry writs of Fieri Facias to me directed, I will sell on the first Monday in December next, at Newberry, S. C., the following property:

Four hundred and sixty acres of land, levied on at the suit of Thomas Ellisor, et al., vs. H. W. Rikard, and bounded by lands of John P. Kinard, Dr. W. B. McKelhar, et al.

Two hundred and sixty acres, more or less, bounded by lands of John Wedeman, Rev. T. S. Boines, et al. Levied on at the suit of Thomas Ellisor, et al. vs. George A. Rikard.

Also, four hundred acres, bounded by lands of Moses Anderson, W. F. Peterson, et al. Levied on at the suit of John Budd, Adm'r, vs. J. B. Chappell.

Also, one No. 1 Flour Mill, in the district of Newberry, near Frog Levy, levied on at the suit of Thomas Ellisor, et al. vs. Jacob L. Aull.

Also 12 acres, more or less, bounded by lands of L. C. Kibler, Frank P. Sullivan, et al. Levied on at the suit of Thomas Ellisor, et al. vs. Wm. Bridges.

Also Tract No. 2, containing 7 acres, more or less, bounded by tract No. 1, and tract No. 3. Also Tract No. 3, containing 85 acres, more or less, bounded by lands of Henry Burton, waters of Bush River and tract No. 2. Levied on at the suit of T. M. Pafysinger, for another vs. estate of James Senn, deceased.

Also 1 house and lot in the town of Newberry, containing 3 acres more or less, bounded by lot of W. K. Griffin, Main Street and the Seceder Church. Also one half interest in 35 to 100 acres in one mile town and bounded by lands of Alonzo White, James M. Baxter, the Lutheran College, et al. Levied on at the suit of E. P. Moyer & Bros. vs. T. W. Blasse.
