TAKE CABE OF YOUR HABITS .-Character is the substance, reputation the shadow only-sometimes longer and sometimes shorter. How important, then, is care in the growth and formation of habits, since character is but a "bundle of habits" that years have been picking up and combining; and when combined you may annihilate the composition, but you cannot alter it. It is no easy matter to drop habits, even those that hang most loosely upon the outside. We have an attachment to them, or they have an attachment to us, which is not readily separated. They are like an old pair of shoes, which, though there are no advantages attending them, still they are easy and we are loth to "cast them off." They are like an old hat, which, though it has become unsightly, still sits comfortably to our head, and we dread the breaking of a new one.

A STANDARD HISTORY BY GEN. LEE A Work of National and Permanent Value.

Memoirs of the War,

GEN. HENRY LEE,

THOROTOBLY REVISED AND ANNOTATED BY GEN. ROBERT E. LEE.

WHO HAS ADDED AN

Entirely New Biography of his Father.

1 vol., octavo, 600 pages, with new Steel Portraits of Gen. Henry Lee and Gen. Nathaniel Greene; beautiful Steel Engravings of "Marion Crossing the Pedee," and the "Surrender of Cornwallis;" and five original Maps and Plans...

This admirable history of the operations of the American Armies during the Revolu-tionary War, in the Southern Department of the United States, is the standard work on the subject of which it treats; and this edition, revised and corn cted by Gen Robert E. Lee, the distinguished son of the Author, is made doubly interesting and valuable by an entirely new Biography of his father, prepared by Gen Lee, from materials never before made use of.

It is a work whose value is permanent, for it relates to the foundations of this great nation, and details a history of which every American citizen is proud. While the his-tory is chiefly of operations at the South, yet considerable space is devoted to North-ern movements and battles, thus giving the work a national value. Among many other re movements and battles, thus giving the work a national value. Among many other matters, it embraces

The campaign of 1777, and the Surrender of Burgoyne; Sir William Howe's Departure from Nam York, and the Bat le of Brandywine; Washington is Advance, and the Narrow Eccape of Hamilton and Lee; Sir William Howe's March to Philadelphia, and the Battle of Germinown; Count Donop's Movement to Fort Mereer, and the Repu se of the Hessians at Research; Sir William Howe's Advance against Washington; and Return to Philadelphia; Washington; with William Howe's Advance against Washington; with Eccape of the Hessians at Research Washington; and Return to Philadelphia; Washington; with William Howe's Advance against Washington; and Return to Philadelphia; Washington; with William Howe's Meet at Valley Forge; Sir William Howe's Meet I, and Sir Heary Clinton's assumption of command; Gen. Moultrie's disloding of Gurdner. Gen. Ache routed by Prevot at the Savannah; John Rutledge, Dictator is South Carchina; Battle of Charleston; Gen. Matthews Bestr. ys the ctore at Portamouth and Co-port; French Fleet arriver under Count of Sir Hearthing; Sir ge of Savannah; Sir H. Clinton sails for 'the South; Sege and Pall of Charleston; Gen. Gate appointed to the command of the Countern Department; Sattle of Ling's Mountain: Death of Col. Williams, of S. C.; Gates of Coecad by Gen. Greene; Delaware and Marr, and added to the Southern Department; Battle of Lange South; Baron Gent feet to the South; Battle of Ling's Mountain: Death of Col. Williams, of S. C.; Gates of Coecad by Gen. Laurens; Charleston evacuated and Feace restored to the South.

The historical value and interest of this excellent history make it a wo k which will be purchased by all persons who buy booksat all, while its thorough correction and revision by Gen. R. E. Lee, and the addition of his new biography, prepared by him from private and personal materials never before given to the public, give it greatly increased and peculiar interest. The fact that it is the only book now published, even in part, from Gen Lee's pen, gives it an interest possessed by no other work

Among the new materials introduced in the biography, are important letters from President Madison, Gen's, Lafayene, Greene, and Hamilton, Governor Rutledge, and othe ers, letters to Washington, Madison, Governor Reed, Gen. Wayne, and o hers; and a most interesting series of letters to his eldest son, Charles Carter Lee, in which his advice and instruction in regard to his son's studies, reading, and general conduct, are fully

The Work is handsomely printed and bound; the Steel Engravings and Lithographed Maps are engraved in the most artistic style; and no expense nor care have been spared in its preparation to make it worthy alike of its subject and its author. THE BOOK IS SOLD ONLY BY CAN-VASSING AGENTS,
