THE MISCHIEF MRS. STOWE HAS DONE .-The New York Journal of Commerce returns to the Stowe Byron scandal, the editor holding that the non-appearance of proofs in the October Atlantic must be accepted as a confession that Mrs. Stowe has acted unadvisedly, rashly, from motives of a personal character rather than those of justice, and that she now invokes the charity of silence and the balm of oblivion upon her uncalled for assaults upon the memory of the dead. But, adds the Journal, the boon of for-getfulness can never be hers. So long as the English language preserves the name of Lord Byron, will Mrs. Stowe's trans-gression of the first principles of divine justice and mercy, and her violation of every canon of good taste, be remembored against her. She has spoken the winged words, and they have flown to the ends of the earth, and must circle on forever. And it will matter but little, after all Mrs. Stowe's good name and fame, whother her story shall be sub-stantiated by future evidence or not. If it shall be, she will be regarded as having done a positive injury to the human race by turning the minds of generations of young renders to the worst of Byron's poetry, and teaching them to look upon incest as one of the crimes which he practiced and justified in glowing verse. Rmulating Byron on other forms of vices, who knows but that there may be some to imitate him in that? Mrs. Stowe's article, it must also be said, has a ten-dency to sow suspicion and distrust in the bosom of families and to poison the springs of one of the sweetest and most innocent relationships on earth—that of brother and sister. Some things ought not to be talked about; the possibility of their existence should be ignored, so far as it can be, and the monstrous offence imputed to Lord Byron and his sister is one of their number.

THE RADICAL PARTY .- Some one has can be sustained by facts and figures. In this bill of indictment the Radical themselves Unionists, they have consummated and maintained disunion. Affeeting economy, they have given us the costliest government on earth. Prating of virtue, they made it the most corrupt. Clamoring for equal rights, they have prosserioed more people than any monarchy in Christendom. Invoking free-dom, they established and maintained the darkest despotism in cleven States. Professing toleration, they proclaim acceptance of their creed the alternative of ostracism and disfranchisement. Howling about purifying the government, they have made dishonesty and officeholding identical. Preaching principle, they subsist by passion and prejudice. Doploring caste, they elevate blacks above the whites in two thirds of the country. Magnifying loyalty, they trample out every worthy principle of our system. Claiming statesmanship, their officials against a consideration of the country. their officials are either conspirators or theives. Lauding independence, they are the servile slaves of a party caucus. Pretending to invite criticism, they stifle freedom of debate in Congress, by partizan rule, and drown it elsewhere in blood. Insisting upon peace, they pro-long the old strife to stir in a new con-long. News.

CARE OF BOOTS AND SHOES. - Boots and shoes, if taken care of properly, will usually last two or three times longer than they usually do, and, at the same time, fit the feet far mare satisfactorily, and keep them dry and more comforta-ble in wet and cold weather. The up-per should be kept soft and pliable, while the soles need to be hard, tough, thing to be done with any pair of new shoes for farm use is to a platter or an old dinner plate, and pour on boiled linseed oil, sufficient to fill the vessel to the upper edge of the soles. Allow the leather to absorb as much oil as it will for eight hours. Linseed oil should not be applied to the upper leather, as it will soon become dry, rendering the leather hard and tough, But if the soles be saturated with this oil, it will exclude the dampness, and enlarge the pegs, so that the sole will never get loose from the upper 1 ather. If the shoes be sewed, the linseed oil will preserve the thread from rotting. Now, wet the upper leather thoroughly when the boots or shoes are to be put on the feet, so that those parts which are tight may render a trifle, and thus adapt the form of the shoe to the foot upper leather is not wet. Keep them on the fet until the leather is xearly dry. Then give the upper leather a foot oil If shoes be treated in this shoe nails may be driven around the edge of the soles, they will wear like copper, and always set easy to the feet. Boots and shoes should be treated as months before they are put to daily service. This is the true way to save your shoe money.—Hearth and Home.

THE CAMPAIGN IN OHIO -THE ESTIMA TED DEMOCRATIC MAJORITIES. - There will be a lively contest this fall among the great Democratic counties as to which of them will give Pendleton the largest majority. The race will be close between Butler Holmes, Fairfield Crawford, Mercer, and Auglaize. Each of these counties are up to 2,000 and over, and the rivalry between them will be intense. Above these counties, in the extent of our majority hitherto, has been noble old Franklin and Munroe. The Franklin boys talk of 8,500 and Monroe can give

There is another class of counties, such as Licking, Hocking, Detlance, Putnam, Allen, Shelby, Ross, Pickaway, Brown, Richland, and Pike, which in numerical Democratic power are only inferior to the others we have mentioned. When the Hayes men hear from the above counties they will feel decidedly "Hazier" than before. We shall have to give two banners this fall - one to the county giving the largest Democratic majority, and another to the county showing the largest Democratic gain. This will give our friends in the Republican counties a fair chance. - Cincinnati Enquirer.

FORGOT HER NAME. - A colored individual of our acquaintance came to us in great perplexity the other day to ask if we could remember her title. It seems Mrs. Dinah was expecting a letter, but could not enquire for it at the Post-office, because she had forgotton her own name. At last accounts she was still uncertain whether she was Mrs. Smith. or Mrs. Walton, and was making anxious enquiries among her former employers .- Washington (Ga.) Clazette, BUILDING DEMOLISHED - The large brick building on the North side of Main street, and near the depot, belonging to Mr. G. T. Scott, fell last Saturday morning. About one hundred and sixty tons of Guano were upon the floor, and owing to this immense weight, one of the pillars which was imperfect gave way. > DIVORCE IN SOUTH CAROLINA .-- In a divorce ease heard at Chester, S. C., Judge Thomas sustained a plea to the jurisdiction of the court. He bases his decision principally upon the present imperfection of the divorce law, and is emphatic in his declaration that the words of the Constitution, Article XIV, Section 5, "Divorces from the bonds of matrimony shall not be allowed but by a judgement of a court, as shall be pre-scribed by law," means simply this, that until further legislation takes place, he is not authorized, in the face of authority and precedent, to decide upon so grave a question affirmatively.

METROPOLITAN FURNISHING ROOMS. 495 BROADWAY, OCTOBER, 1869. Ladies are anxiously asking for indi-cations of Winter styles: asking if flounces will be still worn, if street suits will be longer or shorter, bonnets smaller or larger, heels higher or lower, waists rounded or peaked, sleeves coat shaped or bouffante.

To these and similar weighty queries be so parrow or so numerous. Many of the most elegant models just received from Paris, have but one flounce on the suit, and that is deep and a la Russe—that is pleated with the pleats all falling one way. This is heavy but appropriate.—The tunies may be trimmed with a heavy ornamented fringe. When plaid is worn—as it will be very extensively, the trimming should be shawl fringe of the colors of the plaid. Street suits should be made to clear the ground freely. The pompadour or square waist is going out, the heart shaped neck is more affected, many of our model dresses are quite high in the neck as they ought to be for winter. A new style of colar called the "East Indian" accompanies the high-necked dinner dresses; it is simply a deep voke of net or muslin foundation. from Paris have but one flounce on the ruptcy, some abated, and others simply that is plented with the pleats all falling premiums is offered by the Society, is going out, the heart shaped neck is hence it is hoped that the citizens of more affected, many of our model dresses Newberry, especially the ladies, who are noted for good taste and grace in nice and grace in nice called the "East Indian" accompanies the manipulation, will receive their just high-necked dinner dresses; it is simply a deep yoke of net or muslin foundation Thanksgiving.

President Grant has proclaimed that the 30th November be observed as a day with a couple of small buttons. Velvet or satin ribbon of a suitable color may be introduced into these stylish collars. They are designed to be so thick that the dress will not show through them. Muslin or white silk therefare forms a better foundation than net. Crescent shaped organients go well with this style of collar if they otherwise become the wearer. In ball and party dresses there is a revival of the old style of peaked waists laced behind with silk; waists perfectly plain with the exception of lace laid on flat, the whole design being to show the shape as much as possible. Dresses were never before so simple, so severe in their outline as they are this Fall-and for that reason never so trying when badly fitted or clumsily made, nor so satisfactory to wearer or beholder as when fitted perfectly and smoothly and beautifully made. Many ladies are so particular about the 'smooth set' of their dresses when on that they will only have them lined with silk, and stitched on the Grover & Baker Machine, the seam of which is at once strong enough and elastic crough to meet the requirements of the fastidious belles who will have tight dresses, and yet who insist on even the tighest having a sense o' "give" to it. The Maria Theresa sleeve will still be worn on party dresses, but on walking suits the coat sleeve, only lighter toan before. Epauletts are no longer vorn, but bretteles reaching from the waist behind over the shoulders down to the waist in front are to be quite in style their lives, by jumping from the window, a for every day dresses. The sleeves for Casaques will be large and flowing. Heels on walking boots are worn lower, the uppers are eigher than in the Summer. The Polish shape will be the fashion this winter again only laced at the sides instead of buttoned. The Fan--it is decidedly aristocratic, and is called Valors.

Persons who are disposed to aid the colored people by furnishing School Houses in neighborhoods where it will be desirable to establish Schools for their benefit, will please inform him, and as your commissioner now has it in his power to see that proper order and discipline shall be observed, it is hoped that our people will see the necessity of aiding him in his efforts to benefit this helpless class of our people and encourago them to engage teachers from among our own people.
