Repeal of the Township Act.

It affords us great pleasure to announce to our readers that the township act has gone glimmering. Let it rest in peace. Mr. Arnim standing over the corpse, said: '

"Like avery other creature, in accordance with the law of nature, it had to die. It was, he said, created by the Senator from Charles-ton (Mr. Corbin) He had tried, three weeks, to nurse it, but he had to yield it up. The fist had gone forth that it was to die, and die to-day, and he thought they would bury it. This township law is a creature from a Northern climate, and cannot live in Southern atmosphere. It is impracticable, in toto, and, in regard to the jury law connected with it, they would soon have something better."

The Phonix says that the act as originally framed, would have cost the State about

A Reply.

It will be remembered that Ex-Gov. Perry contributes "Sketches of Public Men," to the XIX Century. Well, in his sketch of Mr. Calhoun, he represented that distinguished patrio as superficial in statesmanship, and infidelic in his religious tendencies, and Judge Longstreet administers to Gov. Perry a most withering rebuke. In the language of Sir Peter Tenzle, we exclaim "God save us from our friends"those who "damn with faint praise"-we mean, in this instance. Gov. Perry's sketch was an ill-concealed slur upon the character of a political opponent through the medium of panegyrie.

Report of Committee on Finance recommends that $1,000,000 o' State bonds be issued to Land Commissioner Leslie was adopted; Com, on State House and Grounds arthorized to accept proposals for completion of State House on or before August 1, 1870; Corbin protests against the passage of the Township net; Mr. Arnim introduced a bill to relieve the farmers of the State. (Hope this lan't doubtful phraseology.) The Committee appointed for the purpose, destroyed 1,191,392 bills of the Bank of the State ; a bill was introduced to charter the Lexington and Newberry Railroad Go.; to perpetuate the homestead law, and another to create the metropolitan police force in S. Ordination Service-

Last Sabbath morning, Rev. W. H. Leavell, of our town was ordained to priestly orders in the Newberry Baptist Church. The sacred service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Manly and Revs. J. K. Mendenhall and Thos, II. Pope. Dr. Manly preached from the text, "He that winneth souls is wise." The sermon was delivered in a sweet, persuasive touching manner, and whilst It gave evidence that the speaker's mind was trained to logical reasoning and enjoyed the powers of keen analysis, yet its force and beauty lay in its pastoral simplicity of expression and carnestness He spoke from behind the cross. It was the first time that we heard Dr. Manly and are satisfied that he is among those who feel aright, and speaking what he feels, feels all the reader can pursue the train of reflections for himself

At the close of the sermon, the candidate having previously submited himself to a rigid examination, and subscribing to the canons of the church, was presented for ordination. A briof and impressive prayer during the laying on of hands was offered by Rev. T. II. Pope, after which Rev. Mr. Mendenhall delivered the charge which was truly "a word in due season", allke to the young minister, and to the congregation.

The Confederate Dead.

"This deeply interesting and important matter has been too long neglected. We have suffered our noble dead to lie neglected, as though their deeds of imperishable heroism, had been tinged with shame by the failure of our cause, or had become less worthy of our veneration and gratitude, by the weight of our af-flictions, the depths of our humilition, or the oppressions of a tyranical government. Let us awake to our duty, and erect a suitable monument to the memory of our hero dead."

The above pithy sentences we extract from the Sumter Watchman. And they are too true. Neglected? Yes, neglected. But let it be no longer so. And though, in the language of Father Rinn, we

"Furl that hanner softly, slowly— Farl it gently for 'tis Holy— For it droops above the dead,"

Let us arise in the proud consciousness that those bright buttalions of noble men that went down beneath the turbid waves of battle, were honorable, unselfish patriotswhose proud, untarnished record has lent a lustre to the world's page of chivalry, and whose names are engraven upon the escutcheon of the brave in all lands. Standing front to the foe, with proud crest and bared breast, as a wall of adamant against impending woo. went down to death, in the bloody trench, with bright and glad young faces. Bright and glad from their innate consciousness of right and power to defend, and young in courage and in strength.

"For they fought for land, and life, For child and wife With naked steel in hund." With naked steel in hund."

The Confederate dead should not be neglected. No. The brave everywhere honor their dead. And now that the war—the shock of battle—is over, and we are willing to smoke the calume. of peace and good will with men, and work to the end that all may become prosperous and happy, we do not wish to see those forgotten who were so recently the pride of the land, and to this end every County in the State should erect a snitable monument at its Court House, to perpetuate the memory of its heroic cons.

STATE TAXES .- Under the law as it has been created, the collection of State and county taxes would begin on the 15th inst. We see it stated that it having been found impracticable to commonce the collection at that time, it will be deferred until about the 1st of Feb. ruary. It is also stated that the tax will be one third less than that of last year, and will be fixed at one half of one per-

The estimated expenses of the State Government amount to $936,000, which, added to the premium on gold in which the interest of the State debt is to be paid, will amount to $1,000,000. At the rate assessed upon real and personal property, the amount realized will be $820,000; and thus the State debt will likely be increased to the amount of about $200,000. As the sharpers, in order to pile up their own coffers, have made the interest payable in gold, this amount will no doubt be easily absorbed.

This, however, will afford some temporary relief to the tax-payer, and, it may be, postpone the day at which they will be required to pay the deficit of rad ical extravagance, until a time at which they may be better able to meet it Upon the whole, it would seem to be an indication of the exercise of some little more concern for the interests and prosperity of the country .- Sumter Watch-

UNWONTED MORTALITY IN OUR COM uusity .- During the past week, deaths in our community have been frequent and startling. A new disease-new to us, at least-called Meningetis, (we spell it as it sounds,) is prevailing extensively, and proving very fatal. Among those who have died, is Mrs. General Dunovant, only daughter of the late Colonel Whitfield Brooks. This much esteemed lady, nowever, died, not of Meningetis, but after a lingering illness. Of this new disease, has died young Robert Boulware, one of the most promising and beloved youths of this town; and young Irwin E. Bolton, another estimable youth, just entering life. Of negroes, the number is shockingly large. In and around the town, some six or eight have died within the past week or ten days, of Meningetis. In truth, we have scarce-ly ever known so much sickness in Edgefield, The weather has been and continues, cold, wet and changeable. It behooves all to be extremely careful. Mrs. Mary Styron, a very old and estimable lary, ninety years of age, died at her residence, a few miles below the village, during the past week.-Edgefield Advertiser.

+ -Wright, the senator from Beaufort, has introduced a bill into the Legislature, providing that it shall not be lawful for any person or persons "to issue checks, eccipts, or "scrip, to be used as money, or for the purchase of goods, without the consent of the "General Assembly." The obect is to prevent employers from giving lue bills instead of money to their la porers; but in its present shape this tremendous bill would not put a stop to our mercantile business, close all the banks, and prevent II. H. Kimpton from drawing more drafts upon the Treasury of the S ate. Will not Senator Wright have mercy and amend his little bill? Per aps he would also introduce a proviso trat, when a planter has not the ready money with which to pay his laborers, and date not give a due-bill or check, he shall be permitted to draw the necessary amount coin from the Financial Agent of the State .-- Dai'y News.

The near Cambridge, in Abboville District. The last twenty-five years of his life were spent in this community, where he was regarded by all as a most useful citizen. He was distinguished pre-eminently for his strict lonesty, his truthfulness and his energy. While these enviable and by no means universal characteristics were so prominent in his case, as to constrain all to notice and admire, there were other virtues known and appreciated by his family and intimate friends, and which they can readily recall to mind. Among these may be mentioned his sincerity, cordiality, candour, frankness and generosity. In the profession of Dentistry, to which he devoted himself with untiring industry, his skill was universally acknowledged. The degree of excellence to which he attained in this science, is seldom reached. In short, he made his mark in the world, and it will be a long time indeed, before all trace of it is obliterated in the place where he lived and died. LOCAL.

Pain Killer

A CURE FOR DIPTHERIA! All interested, please read the following extract from a letter from Mrs. Ellen B. Mason, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Tounghoo, Birmah:—

son, wife of Rev. Francis Mason, Tounghoo, Birmah:—

. . My son was taken violently sick with diptheria, cold chills, burning fever, and sore throat. I counted one morning ten little vesicles in his throat, very white, and his tongue, towards the root, just like a water-melon, full of seeds; the remaindor coated as thick as a knife-blade. So many children have died around here, I was afraid to call a physician, and thought I would try your Pain Killer for a gargle, with small doses inwardly. I did so, and found the gargle invariably cut off the vosicles, and he raised them up, often covered with blood. He was taken on Sunday: on Wednesday his throat was clear, and his tongue rapidly clearing off. I also used it as a liniment, with easter oil and hartshorn, for his neck. It seemed to me a wonderful cure, and I can but wish it could be known to the many poor mothers in our be known to the many poor mothers in our land who are losing so many children by this drendful disease.

I have found your Pain Killer one of the most valuable medicines ever used in Bur-mah. Once I was stung by a very large black scorpion: the pain was indescribable. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, (for I never travel without it,) again and again, and in half an hour my foot was well. Dr. Wallon writes from Coschocton— "Your Pain Killer cures this new disease— Diptheria, or Sore Throat—that is so alarmingly prevalent here; and it has not been known to fall in any instance when used in time. This fact you should make known to the world." (It is used in this disease as a gargle and lotion, as well as a tonic and stimulant.)

—In Halifax, where this disease prevailed for many months in its most malignant form, the use of Perry Davis' "Pain Killer" was invariably attended with the most "vorable results, when it was used ere the disease had made too much progress to preclude the use of so powerful a stimulant.

Let Common Sense Decide.

What is the rational mode of procedure in cases of general debility and nervous pros-tration? Does not reason tell us that judi-cious stimulation is required. To resort to violent purgation in such a case is as absurd as it would be to bleed a starving man. Yet it is done every day. Yes, this stupid and unphilosophical practice is continued in the teeth of the great fact that physical weakness, with all the nervous disturbances that accompany it, is more certainly and rapidly re-lieved by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than any other medicine at present known .by any other medicine at present the attended with torpidity or irregularity of the bows els, and that this symptom must not be over-looked. But while the discharge of the waste matter of the system is expedited or regulated, its vigor must be recruited. The Bitters do both. They combine aperious and anti-bilious properties, with extraordinary tonic power. Even while removing obstructions from the beautiful control of the combine nary tonic power. Even watte removing ob-structions from the bowels, they tone and invigorate those organs. Through the stom-ach, upon which the great vegetable specific acts directly, it gives a healthy and perma-nent impetus to every cafeebled function. Digestion is facilitated, the faltering circu-lation regulated, the blood reinforced with a new accession of the alimentary minerale. new accession of the alimentary principle, the nerves braced, and all the dormant pow-ers of the system roused into healthy action; not spasmodically, as would be the mere stimulant were administered, but for a continuance. It is in this way that such extraordinary changes are wrought in the continuance of the feeble, emaciated and nervous invalids by the use of this wonderful correction. tive, alterative and tonic. Let common sense decide between such a preparation and a prostrating eathertic supplemented by a poisonous astringent like strychnine or quinta. Jan 5 1 1m.
