Fire and Loss of Life.

The Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, caught fire in the laundry, on the night employees in that department were burned or sufficated to death, in consequence of there being no egress except by the stairs, which were on fire. It is supposed that some died while asleep. The loss is estimated at about $100,000 in damage to the furniture. Of the five hundred guests none were injured, though the fright is said to have been great. About eighty servants escaped.

The Last Sad Rites.

On Friday last the mortal remains of our murdered friend, and esteemed fellow-citizen, John J. Barre, were brought to his loved home, from whence he had been unstood for him for $10,000. Mr. Worth- stances, is sad and heartrending enough, ington, (our readers remember this oily but when it comes suddenly, by violence, gentleman,) as an ally of Patterson in by the hand of the cruel, bloodthirsty asthis wholesale and disgraceful system of sassin, the heart is crushed, overwhelmed, bribery, was required to give bond in in its great and mighty grief. Painfully two sums, viz: $5,000 each. And this sad was the scene enacted at the portal of the house, (which only a few months ago he had left in the full strength of young and promising manhood,) and which now opened to receive the slaughtered, pulseless body. Honest John is declared to be form, as father, mother, sisters, brothers of the eleventh, and twenty-two of the the Senator, however, for the term of and friends dropped their tears upon the casket. It was a scene calculated to touch the heart of the most insensible, and not one there present but felt the sympathy which could not be expressed. On Saturday, at two o'clock, the time appointed for the last sad rites, the different organizations of which the deceased was a member, viz: the Odd Fellows and Sons of Temperance, formed in procession, and marched to the house, where were gathered family and friends, from whence the body was borne by bearers from both Societies to the Lutheran Church, to the selemn tolling of the bell, and deposited in the altar. The funeral services by the Rev. Henry Wingard, assisted by the Rev. John Stout, of the Baptist Church, together with the sweet tones of the choir's music, were impressively touching. After which, preceded by the Societies named, and followed by an unusually large number of friends, the body was conveyed to its last resting place in Rosemont Cemetery. Here the Odd Fellows concluded the sad rites, and consigned the remains of their esteemed brother to its mother earth, where, free of all of life's troubles, it will lie till summoned by the Archangel's trump to an immortal life. We mourn the death of our triend, the untimely, cruel death, in common with the entire community, and fain would we render a fitting tribute to one so greatly esteemed for his many manly virtues and excellencies of character, to one who suffered so much, to one so brave, so true, so generous, so kind, but no sound of praise can reach the closed ears lying coldly, silently him. His friends knew him, and none knew

IN MEMORIAM.

PULASKI LODGE. No. 20, I. O. O. F. NEWBERRY, S. C., Dec. 13, 1872. When the cold hand of Death is laid upon the the snows of three score years and ten, carried to the silent tomb, we drop the tear of sad regret upon the grave, feeling that man's allotted period of probation is passed; but when the unwelome visitor comes into our midst, and chills with his touch the warm blood of manhood's prime, we start with horror as from a dream, and cannot realize the sad truth that our friend. ia the flush of life and health, has passed from us

Such was the sad fate of our late Brother, JOHN J. BARRE. Struck down by the cruel hand of the assassin, far away from a happy home and dear friends, in which, and amongst whom, he found everything to make life pleasant and desirable. This was a sad blow indeed.-Warm hearted, manly, generous, a staunch friend, a dutiful and affectionate son, the idol of his parents. What a void in the hearts of those who knew and loved him has been made by his untimely death. Recognizing the hand of a mysterious Providence in the removal of our Brother from us, we humbly bow in submission to His righteous will, and bear our loss in sadness and resignation, trusting that our loss is our Brother's eternal gain.

Ladies who have not been favored by Nature with this crowning charm of womanhood, can readily and certainly increase the volume of their hair and impart to it a silken lustre by using LYON'S KATHA-IRON as a daily dressing; while those whom Providence has blessed with a superabundance of this "Glory" of the sex, can preserve it, undiminished, in quantity and undiminished in beauty to the latest period of life. There is a germinating principle in the KATHAIRON which literally compels the hair to grow. It extirpates scurf, dandruff, and all exfoliations and excrescences of the scalp which interfere with the rapid and healthy development of the fibers.

WASHINGTON, D. C. A Great Public Want, at last, Supplied. There are hundreds of men in all parts of the country who daily need INFORMATION in regard to Pensions, Bounties, Patents, Internal Revenue Licenses and Decisions, the condition of Contractors' accounts, or some others of the endless claims which go before the several Denartments of the Government; which informaendless claims which go before the several Departments of the Government; which information, if it can be furnished reliably and promptly, saves them the loss of time and the expense of a visit to the seat of Government. If you seek it of your Member of Congress—absorbed, as he is, in his public duties—you impose upon him frequently a considerable extra burden; and, perchance, are obliged to submit to delay.

We can furnish, upon the shortest notice, specific and reliable information in regard to any point involved in the business of the various Bureaus; or can transact any of the business before them. The aid your Representatives will, from obvious reasons, be very willing to afford us, when necessary; our long acquaintance and 2-milliarity with the officers and with the routine of public business, and our prompt and unremit-miliarity with the officers and with the routine of public business, and our prompt and unremitting attention to all matters entrusted to us, enable us to offer the best facilities for obtaining information; and we desire to afford it on the most reasonable terms.

All letters enclosing One Dollar, with a stamp for return postage, will be immediately answered, and explicit and satisfactory information given. In its pursuit no efforts will be spared, and it will be communicated with the most scrupulous fidelity, so as to be absolutely reliable. We are determined to merit—and secure—the unqualified confidence of our patrons.
