MISSISSIPPIAN & HOPKINS, Newspaper Advertising Agents, No. 4 South St., Baltimore, Md., are daily authorized to contract for advertisements at our lowest rates. Advertisers in this city are requested to leave their favors with this house.

Bargain HUNTERS call at the Grand Central, and see all that elegant Stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, at reduced prices. 20—11. McFALL & POOL.

THE HIGH SCHOOL Celebration takes place to-night—Tuesday—at the School, house, and the entertainment promises something good. Mr. Jilison, State Superintendent of Education, will deliver an address on this occasion. Tickets of admission 25 cts. for the benefit of the School.

On Friday last, the trial of the little colored boy, Jack Cromer, aged barely 11 years, came off, in the Court of General Sessions.—The indictment was for murder, and there seems to be a painful surprise throughout the community at the finding of a verdict even for manslaughter. It is felt that the evidence must have been misapprehended.

SATURDAY BLOW.—The blow on Saturday afternoon was but the fore end of a severe wind storm experienced in Columbia on the same afternoon, and which is described by the papers as very destructive to movable or slightly protected property. A carriage belonging to Col. Duland was overturned by the force of the wind.

GLASSWARE AND CROCKERY.—Messrs Nathan & Son have now in store a very large and varied assortment of glassware and crockery, comprising every article in either line that can possibly be needed. Among the list is a variety of new and improved fruit jars and jelly tumblers, the best we have yet seen. Better than all, every thing in the assortment is figured down to such low prices that housekeepers forced to be pleased. Call and examine. 11.

VALUABLE TO HOUSEKEEPERS.—I am now preparing the best article in use for cleaning Gold, Silver, Plate and Britannia Ware, and warrant it to be entirely free from grit or any injurious matter, and therefore will not scratch the finest surface. Price only 25 cents per bottle. For sale only by JOHN F. SPECK, Jeweller, Newberry, S. C. May 28, 21—11.

CORRECTION.—We are requested by Mr. Wm. Conynson to say, that if the Hollanders—lately mentioned by us as coming here under false allegations—were misled, that neither himself nor any of his family had any hand or part in it. He represented things to him in his letters just as they are, and nothing more. He attributes their dissatisfaction and sudden departure entirely to the advice of a Chicago man who followed them up from their first landing to this place, and gave them no rest until they left for the West.

A GREAT DISSEMINATION.—By reference to a card in to-day's paper, it will be seen that Dr. J. D. Bruce is prepared to give the celebrated Electro Chemical Bath, for the cure of chronic diseases of various kinds. We speak knowingly in recommending this Doctor, and the late hour at which the Doctor hands in his card only prevents a more extended notice of a practice which we are indeed rejoiced that he has determined to give this opportunity to suffering humanity, and shall revert to it again.

TREPHINING.—A most successful surgical operation of the above character was performed on Wednesday last, on a son of our fellow-townsmen, Mr. Durr J. Ramage. The operation was performed by Drs. Darby of Columbia, and assisted by a majority of our physicians, together with Dr. E. E. Jackson, also of Columbia. The time occupied was nearly two hours. The accident which made the operation necessary, was the result of a kick on the head from a mule, between 12 and 14 years ago. So far the patient is doing finely. In our next issue we hope to give full particulars of this exceedingly delicate operation, and also to be able to state that our young hero friend who submitted to it is out of danger.

COURT.—The General Sessions docket was entered into with spirit during the week, and considerable business accomplished. We learn that the Grand Jury returned ten true Bills, against parties for selling liquor, and in accordance with the requirements of the True Tupper Law, but in consideration of the innocence of the transgressors, have recommended them to the mercy of the Court; and we suppose that on their promise to do so no more no fine will attach. The following cases have been disposed of: The State vs. J. B. Chappell and B. M. Dintzler—riot, assault and battery, with intent to kill—not guilty; State vs. T. M. Paysinger—official misconduct and habitual negligence—guilty, but recommended to mercy; State vs. Jack Cromer—murder—verdict manslaughter—recommended to mercy; State vs. Anderson Beacham, alias Bank Beacham—murder—recommended to mercy.

S. S. CELEBRATION.—On Friday night last, the members of the Methodist Sabbath School, by the Revs. H. M. Mood and O. A. Darby, to which the public are respectfully invited. It is hardly necessary to reiterate the notice that on Saturday following there will be a picnic, to which the scholars of all other schools are invited, with their teachers, mothers, fathers, uncles, aunts, and the rest of mankind generally. With baskets, boxes, trunks and paper parcels of refreshments. A liberal supply of fried chicken, pies, cakes, etc., will be appreciated. The picnic will meet in front of the Methodist Church and from thence march in procession, about 8 o'clock, to the beautiful grove in rear of Dr. Ruff's residence, and near the Vandans Spring. If the Cornets kindly consent to play for fried chicken and cake, the procession will march to lively music.

OUR STREET LAMPS.—By an unaccountable oversight we failed last week to chronicle the erection of a portion of the public street lamps. We must have been under a cloud. Such an important improvement as this deserved immediate notice—we failed however, and while acknowledging the fault with deep contrition, we beg our worthy town fathers to forgive us. We are indeed a rising, growing people, our streets are lighted not with the blaze of gas however—that will come in due time—but with soft mellow Kerosene jets, of sufficient brightness and capacity for all present purposes. When the whole number is erected and put ablaze, the streets will present a different appearance to that of old times, and we extend our congratulations to the Intendant and Council for the interest shown in the public welfare, and felicitations to the citizens who now have lamps to guide them in their night wanderings to and fro. Mr. W. T. Wright has had the honor of doing the work, and we are pleased to say that he has rendered full satisfaction.

We now have a granite side walk—our devil says siding—a new market house, a factory with a bell, and street lamps, and next in order is a Babcock 100 foot gas projector, after that we will respectfully call for water works, by which we can have a supply carried to our houses by piping for bathing and other purposes, then will we advocate the erection of gas works, but in the meantime we do hope some little thought will be given to the Cotton Factory and the Chester extension railroad.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.—The Anniversary Celebration of Pulaski Lodge, No. 10, F. O. F., of Newberry, will take place on the 4th day of June next. A procession will form at the Lodge Room at 5 o'clock, P. M., and, accompanied by the Silver Cornet Band, will proceed to the Lutheran Church, where an address will be delivered by Ira B. Jones, Esq. The public generally are invited to attend the address. At 8 o'clock, P. M., there will be an Entertainment at Mayes & Martin's Hall, to which the wives, widows, sisters and daughters of the Odd Fellows of Newberry, are requested and expected to attend as guests, and as a matter of course without further invitation. The Celebration will be entirely worthy the attention of the community, and we predict a brilliant success, as well as a perfect enjoyment to those who are not Odd Fellows—and all such are very odd for not being members—are entitled to the privilege of attending, and not only partaking of the refreshments afforded, but of enjoying the society of the many fair ladies who will grace the Hall on this festive occasion, by procuring tickets from the Committee, and paying the small sum of 25c.

BABCOCK'S EXTINGUISHERS.—On Tuesday night last, the citizens of Newberry had the great satisfaction of witnessing the admirable and highly successful working of one of Babcock's smallest size Extinguishers, manipulated and explained by Major J. H. Lacy, traveling agent for the company. A number of hogheads and barrels, filled with shavings and light combustible matter, were piled up in front of the Court House, upon which, after a pleasant talk of some five minutes, a quantity of Kerosene was poured and a match applied. In a moment the whole mass was in a bright flame. Waiting long enough for the solid staves to catch fire, the gas generated in the extinguisher was turned on the flames, and it took but a minute or two to show that fire could not resist its powers. It was a most decided success—and gave convincing proof of the superiority of these machines over the old system of water playing. This small machine is worth $50—and we are pleased to say that our enterprising and thorough-going fellow-citizen, C. M. Harris, bought one the next morning just as soon as he could swallow his breakfast—and is intended for private use in hotels, factories, stores, etc., but can be used frequently to most advantage for public purposes, in stopping incipient fires. The Company builds large ones, and on trucks, capable of throwing from 100 to 300 feet, and ranging in price from $1500 to $3000 dollars. The cheapness, the simplicity, the durability and the perfect adaptability of one of the latter kind, to the wants of this community, are, we believe, pretty well conceded since the exhibition on Tuesday night, and we do hope that the idea entertained now by a number of gentlemen will not be allowed to die out, but that steps will be taken as soon as possible to procure something so much needed here. One costing $1500 will be of ample capacity here, it will throw a distance of 100 feet, and can be worked with the greatest ease by a half dozen men. In our present unprotected condition, with the recollection of the conflagration which destroyed so much valuable property on the morning of June 18th, 1895, it will be indeed strange if the chance now afforded is not made available. Will not some of our citizens take the matter in hand, or perhaps our Town Council will devise some way—taxation perhaps—by which a Babcock can be obtained. Let us hear from some on the subject.

MEMORIAL DAY.—Though the heavens threatened drenching showers on Thursday last, and an occasional sleet sprinkle did fall, yet the turn out exceeded expectation. All persons, young and old, and of both sexes, seemed fully inspired with the sentiment of the occasion, and nearly all of the stores closed their doors, and suspended business from 11 to 3 o'clock, that proprietor and clerk alike might contribute to swell the throng and join in doing honor to our brave Confederate dead. Shortly after the hour appointed, Messrs. Mayes & Martin's Hall began to fill, for instead of the procession forming at one outside as the first step in the order of published arrangement, it was deemed best, in consequence of the heavy clouds, to gather inside, and have Col. J. V. Pope's address first, and the decoration last, and this was happily done. The address was an eloquent one, full of touching tributes to the gallant dead, and was listened to with rapt attention. The Hall was appropriately and tastefully decorated with evergreens, hung in festoons from one extremity to the other, and suspended from the stage in large evergreen characters were the words "OUR Confederate Dead," while appropriately in rear were the words—"They are ours." After the address, the Silver Cornets sounded the assembly, and the audience slowly filed down to the street, and formed in procession of twos, each with his or her floral offering hanging from the arm. The procession was soon formed, for thanks to the committee of arrangements everything necessary to make a general harmony of action was done, and we do not recollect ever having seen anything of the kind carried out in all its details with as little confusion; and in consequence the procession soon moved off under the lead of the Cornets inspiring strains, first to the Church burial ground and from thence to Rosemont Cemetery, where the flowery offerings were gently laid above the ground where rests the lost and lamented father, husband, son and brother. There were twenty-seven graves in all which received the grateful and tearful tribute. Before closing this brief notice of Memorial Day at Newberry, we cannot sufficiently express our gratification for the general interest manifested, and the marked respect shown by the entire community, and it is well here now to indulge the hope that a like spirit will be manifested in regard to building the monument, so long spoken of as an enduring and fitting tribute of respect to the sleeping heroes whose last resting places have been so recently strewn with flowers.

ABOUT THE TOWN AND COUNTY.—Notice the advertisement in relation to the leaden tip in Columbia. The schedule of the Air Line railroad is to be found in this issue. We are pained to learn that a child of Mr. Jacob Paysinger, died on Monday night of congestion. Do not forget that Job Printing can be done expeditiously and at low prices at this office. Mr. L. R. Marshall is out in a characteristic card—Good Templars, Sons of T. and all other good people are considered by him to do good purpose. Attention is called to card of Col. Coward's Male Academy. This is an institution deserving of high consideration, and as such we cheerfully commend it. The article advertised by Capt. Speck for cleaning Silver, Gold and Plated Ware, is just what he represents it— we have seen it tried, and pronounce it good. Do you want a bargain, either in Crockery, Glassware, or something else? If so, go to the store of M. Nathan & Son and get one— They have a great desire to do the people good.

We are pleased to notice that our enterprising down town merchant, Mr. T. F. Harris, is putting up a warehouse in rear of his store, to accommodate his increasing business. A miraculous escape from serious injury happened a few days ago: a little girl of Mrs. Stewart's fell from the rail road bridge twenty feet to the track, and her sister a few yards off, jumped down after her. Strange to say neither were hurt. We were much gratified with a visit from that very pleasant gentleman and ac. complished Columbia Druggist, Dr. E. E. Jackson, last week. It looked natural to see him around in his old haunts. Gen. A. C. Garlington is in town on a short visit. We are pleased to notice that he is in excellent health, and we even imagine that he looks better since his dramatic experience. He is now in attendance on the Court.

The friends of Mr. Thos. Cook will be pleased to know that he has started in business for himself, having purchased the stock of Messrs. Singleton. He is a thorough business man, and will give satisfaction, and we commend him heartily to the public. Mention it is sad to state, but again made its appearance in this community, on Monday a most estimable young lady was stricken with it, and now lies very low. It is reported that a colored man is also sick with the same fearful disease. A short ride in the country, enables us to say that the crops generally, are looking fine. We noticed a piece of wheat, some corn, and also cotton, on Major Kinard's place in splendid condition. On some other places king grass is largely in the ascendant. Generally speaking, the prospect is good. The cards of Messrs. Lovelace & Wheeler tell of good things. Their Demarara sugar is of the sweetest and best, their purchased coffee, A. 1, tobacco of choice brands, and besides they are replenishing their stock generally with the choicest and best. They know just how to suit the people of Newberry.

Attention ye disconsolate housekeepers, for Mr. Sill speaks to you through the Herald this week. Your tables can now be supplied with fresh vegetables any day in the week, and your children made glad with confectionery, and the entire family healthy by the use of fruit. Give him a call. In this week's issue the celebrated Morris Cornets—of which more have been sold in Newberry than of any other pattern—is once more brought to the attention of planters. These gins are known and approved far and wide, and justly so. The manufacturer, Mr. E. Morris, devotes his entire attention to them, and warrants every one to give unlimited satisfaction. Read his card. Change is written on all things, and while in the course of nature there are many sad changes, it is a consolation that some are better and of a pleasant character. Mr. C. F. Jackson, of Columbia, has made one of the latter kind, in the removal from his old and well known stand to a larger and better store, just a few doors above, and near the Columbia Hotel. He advertises an extensive new stock of Dry Goods, and a large assortment of notions.

Improvement is the order of the day, and the one now to be considered will work greatly to the public advantage. Uncle Julius Smith will soon tear down the wooden row, commencing with the store occupied by Mr. Cash, for the purpose of erecting an elegant Brick Range of Stores. This makes it necessary for Mr. Cash to reduce his large and elegant stock, rather than box his goods up. He will therefore sell, from this date, at a greatly reduced price for cash. The advantages offered in this are numerous, for the stock is very large, entirely new, and and embraces almost every article that married or single people have need for, all of which will be sold just as he states—CHEAP. We advise the reader to look in, examine, and be convinced. DOWNS ON THE BACHELORS.—The bachelor portion of our community were exercised on Sunday night last, by a sermon from the Rev. Mr. Kuhns, from the text: "Left alone in Athens." He showed them conclusively that they were in the broad road to ruin, and being negligently alone in this life, must alone suffer the heat and the torments of the next. There are many hard cases among us, and if the Rev. gentleman succeeds in awakening them to a sense of their sinful condition, he will accomplish a good end.

"Who dat hit me?" "Where's dat lantern?" were the exclamations of an astonished Dinah darkey, after being thrown something like a hundred feet by a locomotive.
