We will send a copy of our paper and a copy of "Peters' Musical Monthly" for one year to any one sending us $1.50. Our paper speaks for itself, and you may know the value of "Peters' Musical Monthly" from the fact that every year's subscribers get about sixty Songs, Duets, and Choruses, and from fifty to sixty Piano pieces, worth at least $10.

Town Directory. MEETING—Newberry Division, No. 8, S. of E. meets every Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, in Masonic Hall. P. M. meets every Friday evening at 8 o'clock, in the same hall.

Just received by McCall & Pool, a beautiful line of Lace Collars and Sleeves. 24-1f

CANCER REMOVED.—A very successful surgical operation was made by Dr. Geo. Garmany, on Friday last, in the removal of a large cancer, from the breast of a colored woman, named Nancy Jackson. The cancer was a growth of fifteen years.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—The Lodge of Good Templars, lately organized in this town, is now in good working order. The regalia worn by the officers are beautiful. The lodge now numbers some twenty-five or thirty, and at every meeting new candidates are proposed and initiated.

McCall & Pool have now in store a fine assortment of Swiss, Lawn, and cheap Piques. 24-1f

ZE BULL.—Prof. Gerard got off a good thing the other morning. We inquired of him, where he would go from here. Said he, "I go to Ze Bull, to Ze Bull, but you call him Ze Bull, and I call him Ze Bull."

THE MOLLOHON FLOOD.—We learn from parties who have just returned from the above named section that a rain-fall was experienced about there on Saturday afternoon unprecedented for heaviness, and the extent of damage done. The flood which fell about this town some weeks ago is said to have been light in comparison to this latter, and that was bad enough.

JUSTICE CHASE'S COURT.—In looking over the docket of Squire C. Chase for items this week, we find nothing of special interest. It is full of petty cases of hog, cow and chicken stealing—a sad commentary on the times—together with small assaults and smaller batteries, &c. It is a great pity the colored people cannot see that honesty is the best policy, and that it is better for them to keep out of the meshes of the law.

At the store of McCall & Pool can be found, Lace Collars, and Sleeves, Swiss, Lawn, and cheap Piques, and other elegant goods. 24-1f

Distressing—The editor of the Lexington Dispatch determined to no longer trifled with useless announcements that he will commence publishing a black list soon—of all the names of persons who have had their papers stopped for non-payment of subscription.

We would follow suit, but it would hardly pay for the trouble, for those who have stopped the Herald without paying are so miserably poor that we have no hope of ever realizing anything from them. And then the amounts are so trifling—only one owing for a whole year, and as he stopped it some four or five years ago,—he now claims the statute of limitation. Besides we derive more pleasure in looking daggers at that man than we could possibly have from three greenback dollars. The rest of his pantaloons are worn threadbare too, and his elbows show signs of being free from confinement. Let him rip. No, we will not publish a black list, the whole thing is black enough already. Those stop-my-paper-without-paying fellows are sufficiently punished without our adding to their sorrows, and we look on them more in pity than anger.

SUDDEN DEATH.—It is with pain we announce the sudden death of Mr. M. Nathan, an old and respected citizen of this town, which sad event occurred on Monday morning about 9 o'clock. Mr. Nathan had been a sufferer from asthma, for some time, and that together with his weight of years, and recent family afflictions, had all helped to confine him in doors for several months, but suffering at times gradually, his immediate death was not looked for. On Monday morning, he walked across his bedroom, supported by his son, and seemed in usual health and spirits; but shortly after getting upon his bed, and while conversing with his son, and the doctor standing near, a change was noticed, he seemed to be in a fainting condition, and in a moment, without sign or word, the good old man, worn out with life's toils and troubles, yielded up his spirit to his maker. His death was painless, sudden, and like the snuffing of a candle. To his afflicted wife, who only a few months since, suffered the loss of two grown daughters, and now mourns afresh in the death of her companion, and to the entire family, we tender our sympathy. The remains of the deceased have been conveyed to Columbia for interment.

NOT ON THE PROGRAMME.—Our man of all work, Hart, accompanied us to Prof. Gerard's show on Friday night, in the capacity of a lay deacon. He had never seen any of the specimens before, and it only needed one wonder to bring him a deep "WELL!" The next came his hair to straighten, and his cheeks to blanch, he thought he had got into dangerous company. Directly the conjurer, (naturally taken by Hart to be first cousin to old Nick) broke a plate, and which he proceeded to mend. The fragments were gathered and placed in a fanned-shaped pistol, and the pistol was aimed at the spectator, said the Professor, and saluting the action to the world, it was pointed at Hart. The victim of diabolic signs jumped from his seat, and ran, his hair was straight now, and his eyes considerably enlarged. He had scarce become satisfied that the roof of his head was all intact, when the magician got down and among the audience, to show his rings, before manipulating them. He was anxious for Hart to look at one, and tried to get near him, but it was out of the question, the retreat of the one was faster than the forward of the other. Seeing it useless—Gerard gave a sharp squawk—in imitation of some bird or animal, at which he is splendid, which lifted our poor dry nurse about three feet from the ground, one or two more squeaks carried him to a window, and from which he would have leaped had the squeaks not ceased. And this was not all, again and again was he almost thrown into a spasm of fright. It was wonderful, we never have witnessed such a genuine scare before. At the conclusion of the performance, Hart's voice could be heard supplicating us to go, to get out of such a place. He would not live with such a man for a world of gold.

ABOUT THE TOWN AND COUNTY.—The seasons now are fine. We hear of one asking for rain. Everything in the vegetable and floral world is growing rapidly—we include grass and animals were splendid. His performance on the Harp elicited much applause, and it was due him, for he certainly is a finished performer. Take the entertainment from beginning to end, it was equal to the best. We regret very much to say that the audience was small, and did not near come up to expectation, and it is unaccountably rare treat, and we are pleased to say that Prof. Gerard carried out his promise.

GERSE NOT WANTED.—The farmer from Mollohon, who complained of too much grass last year, and who begged us to have some geese sent him, now countermands the order. He says the flood of Saturday has washed the grass away, and his fencing, and that geese would only be an incumbrance and tax to him at present, unless parties sending would also supply food for them, and rails to build pens to put them in. He need not apprehend getting any, for there is a man in town who has such an inordinate love for geese, that he buys all which may be brought him, or that he can hear of. The bird is consequently scarce.

Have you seen McCall & Pool's handsome lot of Lace Collars and Sleeves? 24-1f

A SWEET ENTERPRISE.—Our friend, Mr. David Buzhardt, Jr., not satisfied with the old and slow but sure way of making honey by the natural bee process, has entered into its manufacture by artificial means, and we must acknowledge that his honey—a sample of which found its way to our table last week, and of such detectable flavor and sweetness that it has already gone glimmering down the throats of the little ones—is so much like the Simon pure, that only when knowing to the fact can it be told that it is artificial. The only difference is that it is thinner and clearer. Mr. Buzhardt has the receipts for this County. Get one and make your honey, reader, and we warrant you will never be stung by a bee.

GOLDEN CHANCE.—An opportunity is now offered by which two birds can be killed with one stone. In other words, Mr. Lawrence Marshall makes the following extraordinary liberal offer. From all cash purchases of $1, twenty-five per cent will be set aside for some charitable purpose. This charity fund will amount to a considerable sum if purchasers are liberal. Mr. Marshall will keep a book, in which account will be kept of all the monies so received, and which will be given out to whatever object the buyer designates—it being so stated at the time of purchase. Two good things thus to be accomplished—Marshall will be lifted out of a tight place, and a large charity will be bestowed. It is worthy of consideration, reader, for you not only get the value of your money in goods, but you give 25 per cent. of it either to the poor, or some one of the churches or societies.

FOR THE HERALD. Notes from the Capital. COLUMBIA, June 11th, 1873. NEWSPAPER CHANGES. MR. EDITOR: Your readers are all ere this aware of the fact that the daily Union has been purchased by Mr. Thad. C. Andrews, and has been consolidated with the Herald, under the name of the daily Union-Herald. Mr. Carpenter, the late proprietor of the New York, leaves Columbia to-day for the Union, whence he will take passage for Europe. The Union-Herald, though an open and avowed Republican sheet, is conducted with marked ability and with more fairness than any of its predecessors.

That earnest champion of the people's rights, the Carolinaian, had achieved a large circulation and an enormous popularity in a very short space of time. But owing to the stringency of the times, its proprietors have been compelled to suspend its publication. Messrs. Thomas & LaMotte most certainly deserve the thanks of all honest people in the State, for their manly and persistent efforts to give us a bold and incorruptible journal at the Capital. The Carolinaian has failed it is true, but it has gone down with flying colors. It is hoped and believed the publication of this justly popular paper will be resumed before long.

COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT. The Commencement Exercises of the Columbia Female College, will take place June 22-25. Rev. R. L. Harper will preach the sermon, and Rev. Dr. Meynardie, of Greenville, will deliver the address. The graduating exercises will take place on Wednesday morning, and that night we will be treated to a grand instrumental and vocal concert. This has been a very prosperous session, and the probabilities are that next session Pres. Jones will have as many pupils as he can accommodate.

QUARTO-CENTENIAL. The Marion St. Methodist Church having reached the sober age of 25 years, it has been determined to celebrate this event with appropriate religious exercises, and Sunday, June 29, has been fixed upon as the day. All the former pastors of the Church have been invited to attend, and a general re-union of pastors and members is expected. On the morning of the 20th, a special sermon is to be preached by Rev. A. M. Christy, by Rev. J. T. Wightman, D. D., of Charleston, who was the first pastor of the church. In the afternoon there will be a social re-union and love-feast, and at night another special sermon will be preached by some one of the former pastors of the Church.—Altogether it promises to be one of the most pleasant and profitable celebrations we have had in a long time.
