CONTROLLING LABOR IN THE SOUTH.

But the method of controlling labor which is of most general application, is the cutting down of our cotton crop, sowing small grain to greater extent, sowing the grasses, and making all our arrangements bear upon the support of a large number of live stock, particularly sheep and cattle. Hogs we cannot raise for market, as they require too much grain, and the negroes love pork too well. Goats are also too costly, though every farmer should raise his own mules or horses. But sheep and cattle require only pasturage and hay. In many favored localities, only pasturage is necessary.

It is not intended to undervalue cotton. It is hardly possible to exaggerate its value to us, when raised in due proportion to other farm products. But it may be made a scourge to the land and the planter. A man may become cotton poor as well as land poor. If he sells $5,000 worth of cotton, and it costs him $6,000 to make it, including interest, wear of land, taxes, fertilizers, supplies, labor, blacksmiths' bills, loss and depreciation of live stock, and the value of his own time at a reasonable salary, he is $1,000 poorer by the operation.

Suppose a farmer owns five hundred acres of land. The following would be a labor-saving division and appropriation of it: Let two hundred and fifty acres be devoted to arable purposes and the rest to grazing. The two hundred and fifty acres might be divided into five fields of fifty acres each. The following rotation would be a good one: 1. Cotton and corn in suitable proportions. 2. Oats sown in August, on the corn and cotton land. 3. Rye, or rye and wheat, sown in August. 4 and 5. Clover, if the land is suitable; if not, the fourth year rest, if not grazed, and the fifth year, sheep and cattle penned until every night during the year, using a movable fence. An ordinary farm of five hundred acres will sustain five hundred sheep, besides the crops in the above rotation. The oats and rye will feed them during the winter nearly, or entirely, without injury to the grain. Five hands would be sufficient for such a farm, and to manage the live stock.

During the first year, about the following results might be expected on an ordinary farm without manure:

| | |
|---|-------|
| 25 acres in cotton, 10 bags at 15 cents, | $750 |
| 25 acres in corn, 250 bushels, at 75c, | 250 |
| 25 acres in oats, 500 bushels, at 75c, | 375 |
| 25 acres in rye, at $1.00, | 250 |
| 25 acres in wheat, 150 bushels, at $1.50, | 225 |
| Increase and mutton sales of 500 sheep | 500 |
| Wool, 3 lbs. per head, at 30 cents per pound, | 500 |
| Manure at $1.00 per load, | 500 |
| $3,250 | |

The next year the cotton and corn would be more than doubled from the penning of five hundred sheep on fifty acres, and also annually with this rotation are unploughed crops. It may be asked what is the use of the other two hundred and fifty acres? They will pay without labor, by grazing. There is not an acre of brownage that will not put, in the run of a year, one dollar's worth of flesh on a cow, calf, or of flesh and wool on one or more lambs. If it does this, it is paying ten per cent. interest on ten dollars. Few planters were unwilling to sell their whole plantation at ten dollars per acre. What reliable railroad or bank stocks pay more than ten per cent? And there is this difference. The railroad shares do not get any larger, the land becomes more valuable by judicious grazing.

It is objected that we cannot raise valuable artificial grasses for live stock. The truth of this objection is denied. But allowing it to be well founded, we have two grasses, which answer very well for the successful raising of medium sized live stock of the different kinds; these are broomrape, kept closely grazed, and Bermuda grass.

The latter, in the opinion of the writer, will afford more grazing and hay than any of the artificial grasses in their best climates. C. W. HOWARD, in the Rural Carolinian for November.

ONE REASON WHY FARMERS ARE SO POOR.—It is believed that seven-tenths of the planters and farmers of this country, North and South alike, are staggering to their fall under a load of debt and mortgage. What is the matter? As a class, farmers are not lazy. They are seldom idle. They work as hard as anybody ought to work. They make, taking one year with another, what may be considered, under the prevailing standard of agriculture, fair crops, and they get, as a rule, good prices for the surplus products they put into the market; still they don't get rich—in fact, are getting poorer and poorer every year. Why is it so? To say nothing now of a faulty system of cropping—all cotton, all wheat, or all something else; or of credit, liens and interest, the reason which we had in mind with which to point this paragraph is, that it costs too much to make our crops. We grow poor, not so much because our incomes are so small, as because our outgoes are so large. There is no strict method in our operations and no close economy of means. The expense of making a crop has not been reduced to a minimum. We fence in too large a field and travel over too many acres to produce ten bales of cotton or a hundred bushels of corn. We pay out too much for labor and for fertilizers for the results produced. The remedy must be sought in sounder methods, labor saving implements and better trained labor and less of it.—Rural Carolinian for November.

SMUTTY WHEAT.—Our farmers need not have any smut in their wheat, provided they will take the proper steps to prevent it. Smutty wheat may even be used for seed by taking a large tub or half barrel, filled half full with water, to which should be added salt enough to make a brine that will float a sound egg, allowing a space the size of a dime above the water. Pour the seed wheat into this brine slowly, stirring it as it is poured in. The light grains will float, and should all be skimmed off. Continue to stir for two or three minutes, and skim off the grains that rise to the top. Take out the wheat, put into a basket or sack made of open cloth, to drain. Continue this process until wheat enough is prepared, and begin to sow immediately, or spread upon the barn floor to dry, if not wanted until the next day. No necessity for using blue vitriol (sulphate of copper), but if you should desire to use vitriol they can substitute four ounces to the gallon of water for the salt.

BREACHY HORSES.—The habit of jumping fences runs in families, among horses, very remarkably, though any colt we ever saw will easily take it up. Ninety-nine horses in a hundred as we use them have no occasion to jump, and a three-foot fence will confine them after they are four years old if they have up to that time never learned to jump. W. J., of the Western Farmer, says: To prevent jumping, I have found just two ways effective. Buckle a surcingle around the body, then the halter-strap through the forelegs to the stirrups; so that the horse can not get his head above the place of the shoulder. Second—Place upon the horse a common halter with forehead strap; sew to this a piece of sheepskin, the wool side next the head, and hanging long enough to compel him to hold up his head to keep it for a spring to enable him to see the top of the fence. This latter suggestion we value as applicable to colts, to which the temptation to jump is liable.

TO REMOVE GREASE SPOTS.—In taking out grease spots from clothing with benzole or turpentine, people generally make the mistake of wetting the cloth with the turpentine and then rubbing it with a sponge or piece of cloth. In this way the fat is dissolved, but is spread over a greater space and is not removed.—The benzole or turpentine evaporates and the fat covers a greater surface than before. The only way to remove a grease spot is to place soft blotting paper beneath and on top of the spot, which is to be first thoroughly saturated with the benzole and then well pressed. The fat is then dissolved and absorbed by the paper and entirely removed from the clothing.

TO POLISH CUFFS AND SHIRT-FRONT.—Procure at the hardware stores a polishing iron, that with a bulge at both ends is the best, and will cost $1. Iron the linen as usual. Then place it on a board with a layer of muslin on the board, pass a damp cloth over the linen, and rub with the polishing iron until the desired degree of glossiness is obtained. The iron should not be very hot, or it will scorch; if it is too cool, the polish will be long coming. Gum arabic dissolved and added to small quantities to the starch improves it; a lump of sugar is almost as good, and so is isperm, or soap, or butter, or white wax.

DR. TUTTS
VEGETABLE
LIVER PILLS.

A mild aperient and gentle purgative, recommended for the cure of all liver ailments, of the stomach, liver and bowels, by their timely use, such sickness is prevented. The best of many years have proven them to be the safest, surest and best of all the pills ever offered to the public. They purify the blood, remove all obstructions and restore the diseased system to perfect health. As an Antidote to Chills and Fever they have no equal. For Sick Headache and Bilious Colic they are a sovereign. For Constipation, Rheumatism, Piles, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, Nervousness, a positive remedy. For Female Irregularities, such as Menstruation, they are a sovereign. They are a singularly safe and reliable remedy, and restores the appetite, and imparts vigor to the system. Sold everywhere. Office: 18 Murray Street, New York.

DR. TUTTS
EXPECTORANT.

The greatest remedy that has been discovered for pulmonary affections is frightful. There is no disease that is so insidious in its attack as consumption. By the neglect of "slight colds" they soon become deep-seated and deadly remedies which, if applied at the outset, would have averted all danger. Dr. Tutts' Expectorant has proven itself the most valuable lung medicine ever discovered. It is a distinguished elegantly of New York, pronounced it "the greatest blessing of the nineteenth century," and says "no family should be without it." It is pleasant to the taste and does not operate upon the most sensitive organs. Office: 18 Murray Street, New York. Apr. 1, 87-88.

SIMMONS' HEPATIC COMPOUND OR LIVER CURE

Is pronounced by Dr. J. A. Simmons, who was the former proprietor of Simmons' Liver Regulator, as being far superior to any Liver Medicine now offered in the market. It is a pure preparation, and its operation will not remove the most sensitive organs. Office: 18 Murray Street, New York. Apr. 1, 87-88.
