MR. FDITOR.—The cotton have a rule in the weight of cotton bales that does not work both ways, and is, therefore, not a just one. To illustrate: I carry a bale of cotton to market; I offer it for sale; a merchant examines the sample and buys it at 124 cents; I have it weighed; it weighs 390 lbs; he takes off the onefourth of a cent because it did not weigh 400 lbs. Now, sir, I contend that I sold him the cotton and not the weighed 410 lbs, would he have given me 13½ cents for the cotton? No, sir, not if it had weighed 500 lbs. The reason given, or rather subterfuge-for there is neither reason nor justice in the rule—is that he pays as much freight on a 390 lb. bale as he does on a 410 lb. bale. But does he not gain 10 lbs. over his standard bale of 400 bales. If it had weighed 500 lbs. he gains 100 lbs. The rule, therefore, does not work both ways, and is unfair and unjust. I hope the next meeting of the Council of Patrons

A PATRON. MOBILE, ALA., December 23 .- A fatal duel took place in Mississippi, mear Green Bay, at 12 noon to-day. The principals were A. H. Tardy and B. D. Lay, both of this city. Seconds, for Tardy, Col. J. M. Williams; for

Lay, Capt. P. M. Murphy. Mr. Tardy was killed at first fire, being shot through the heart. His body was brought in to-night on the New Orleans train. There is much feeling over it.

The origin is said to be an article in an Insurance journal, written by Tardy, and construed by Lay into a reflection upon the Grangers' Life Insurance Company here, of which he is actuary. Lay struck Tardy in the face on Tuesday, on the street, and Tardy challenged him. The challenge was accepted and the duel fought with the above named result.

THE ALDINE for January, 1875, is duly as hand, and is certainly entitled to the credit of being the very best number yet issued o that very beautiful publication. In both pictures and literary matter, this month, there is an infinite variety and correspond-ing excellence. Pictorially, the leading at-tractions are "A Daughter of Cleopatra." Biter Vernet-Lecompte, by John S. Davisan admirable work of art, and supplying one of the highest types of the duskier Oriental beauty; three magnificent views of the mountains of the "Delaware Water-Gap," il-Instrating that picturesque region to fine advantage; an attractive full-page, also by Davis, "Fisherman's Luck;" "Love's Offices," by Siegert, and "The Appointment," by Otto Erdmann, two admirable companion pictures, telling their stories with life and vigor; a very striking "Silver Full-Moonlight," weirdly attractive; a fine view of the new "Western Union Telegraph Building," New York; and an elaborately executed portrait of Miss Margaretta B. Moore, the popular elecutionist. Such an array of pictorial charms is not 1 Mill. often given in one number, even by The Al-

The literary contents embrace a rare collection, and want of space only prevents an ennmeration of the variety presented, and which make an issue of equal excellence and variety, rare even for The Aldine, and evidences the fact that under the new editorial management, while nothing is to be lost in high artistic reputation, the literary merit of the publication is to be kept quite abreast with

The Aldine Company has determined to establish an Art Union, similar to the well-known Art Union in England, and distributes its works of art, both sculpture and paintings, which are constantly collecting, among its subscribers. Art premiums, valued at $2,500, will be distributed among each series of 5,000 subscribers. Subscription tickets, at $6.00 each, entitle the holder to The Aldine for a year, to the new chromo, and to a ticket in the distribution of art premiums. The

THE SCHOOLDAY MAGAZINE-ENLARGED AND IMPROVED -The Schoolday Magazine or Januaay, 1875, appears in a much en-erged and improved form. This number begins the Nineteenth Annual Volume, and is now the oldest among all the juvenile peiodicals, and is steadily growing and improving. George Carv, Eggleston's story of the Creek Indian War is alone worth the price of the whole Magazine. The Chromo given to its subscribers is the handsomest ing of the kind offered by any publication, and the inducements to agents are enough to set all the boys and girls in America to work. Terms, $1.50 a year. Send ten cents for specimen number of Magazine, list of Premiums, description of picture, and particular about canvassing to J. W. Daughaday & Co.. Publishers, 434 and 436 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

PENN MONTHLY.-The January number of this very meritorious monthly is received. Its contents are varied and interesting, and embrace the following, viz: The Month; Shall we give up Sunday?; Pioneer Governnent of Oregon; Miniature Painting; Viollet-le-Duc; The Parthenon; The Voyages of the Zenos; Value of Paleontology; Presi-dent Grant on Finances; New Books, &c. The reader who wants a substantial paper will do well to send to the Penn Monthly As-sociation, 506 Walnut St., Philadelphia, S3 and get the above named,

BE JUST TO YOURSELF AND GENEROUS TO YOUR WIFE.-Keep your farm accounts orrectly and regularly in the "Rural Accountant," and give your wife a copy of the "Carolina Houswife." The large sale of the Rural Accountant has enabled the publishers, Walker, Evans & Cogswell, Charleston, S. C., to stereotype the forms and thus reduce the cost. They now offer the small size at S1, and the large at $1.50 per mail, postage pre-paid. The Carolina Housewife is Miss Rut-ledge's old established cookery book, and should be in every house in Carolina. 50-tf
