Drop In .- The cordial invitation so poetically expressed by our good lady friend, Mrs. Ludecus, will surely be appreciated. Her store, lately opened, is neatly fitted up and stocked with a full assortment of such goods as ladies delight in, and we take pleasure in commending her to the kind consideration of the public. Give this lady a call and examine her stock by all means.

OLD SILVER WANTED .- One thousand ounces of old Silver wanted at the Jewelry Store of J. F. Speck. The highest price will be paid for it in any quantities.

Mr. M. Foot we are pleased to see at home again, and almost entirely recovered from his late serious attack of sickness. The pleasantest thing about it is that he is prepared to do a large amount of good to our citizens, in distributing. a superior assortment of merchandise, in return for which he only requires a small cash equivalent. This thing of spired and is pushing for the end of the asking big prices, he says, is all vanity and vexation of spirit-his motto being cheap for cash.

advertisement of Messrs. McFall & Pool in this week's paper will attract general attention. These gentlemen have decidedly a most handsome and elegant stock of Dry Goods, Cassimeres, Carpets, Millinery, &c., and a visit to their store must certainly result in satisfaction. Taking into consideration the low price of cotton and scarcity of money, they are determined to sell at such prices as will suit the pockets of a needy people. The taste heretofore displayed in the selection of stock has again been carried out, and the result can be seen by visiting them.

RUNAWAY.-The blind mare belonging to Benson M. Jones, Esq., made a furious dash from Mrs. Mower's corner to the opposite one of Mr. Phifer's, on Monday, striking the brick wall under the elephant sign square and solid. Buggy and horse then rolled into the ditch near, the former smashed into a hundred pieces, the latter badly damaged. Luckily there was no one in the way during the quick, mad run of the frightened animal, or perhaps a life would have been lost. It is said the fright was occasioned by the colored driver slapping the animal with the lines. Fortunately again, the young ladies who have lately been driving the mare were not in the buggy on this oc-

Messrs. Kingsland & Heath, proprietors of the popular House-furnishing establishment situated under the Columbia Hotel, in the city of Columbia, are now daily in receipt of new goods in their line from the Northern markets, and their stock of China, Glass, Wood, Tin and Iron Ware is the completest ever brought to the city. In the fancy line, also, they have a superb assortment. Housekeepers and seekers of articles in the ornamental line are advised to give them a call.

ABOUT THE TOWN AND COUNTY .-Summer set in again on Tuesday last. Newberry is as lively as the most sanguine could wish. Newberry is rising, a perambulating boot black is the latest sensation.

Dr. John R. Thompson can now extract teeth with pleasure to his patients. He has immortalized himself.

New goods roll in from the depot all day long, and wagons roll out heavily laden to all parts of the country. The returned white excursionists don't ay much about their experience. Perhaps they did not realize greatly.

Lately Newberry was without a single fresh cracker, now every store in town is supplied, and in great variety. Fodder seems to be scarce—there is none offered for sale.

Butter and sweet potatoes are also in great demand. Bring them in farmers f you have to spare.

Wood should be brought in now while if you have to spare.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and we heartily acknowledge the assistance afforded us by Mr. D. B. Wheeler, of the big dry goods house over the way, in getting our press righted. We hope his store will be crowded with customers from now out.

An enterprising rising man is Speck -he has opened a first class restaurant in rear of his confessionery, and will serve up substantials and delicacies in best style. With or without an appetite go there and call for something good. The indefatigable Alexander will serve you satisfactorily.

> BEWILDERING .- The visitor to the store of Messrs. Perry & Slawson is in danger of having his wits go on a woolgathering expedition, so extensive is the display of stock which fill counters. shelves and show cases, in segars, tobacco, pipes, canes and a hundred other fancies for gentlemen, and these are not all the causes which are calculated to lead to a slight wandering of the fancy, as the entire arrangement and design of the store is in the most elaborate style of art. It is decidedly one of the neatest and most perfectly finished stores in the city of Columbia. Should the visitor be affected, we gladly state that an antidote can be at once had in any of the numerous choice brands of their segars, a few puffs from one of which will immediately restore him to his former condition, the reaction of which will be so pleasant that an investment will be at once made in a whole box. These gentlemen do besides a large wholesale business, and the trade are invited to send orders. Remember the place-one door below
