

THE NEWBERRY HERALD.

The Address of the State Democratic Committee.

At a meeting of the state central executive committee of the democratic party, held in Columbia on Thursday, the 6th instant, the following address to the people of the state was unanimously adopted and ordered to be published:

THE ADDRESS.

To the People of South Carolina:
The state central executive committee of the democratic party do not deem it necessary to publish any lengthy statement of the reasons which induced them to meet at this time. It is sufficient to say that events which the people of the state are painfully familiar made it indispensable that the organization of the democratic party in South Carolina should be revived, as the speediest and most practicable means of bringing together our hitherto scattered forces, and of concentrating them in the struggle into which we are forced for the maintenance of liberty and law in the state. Thus it has become the duty of the state committee to take such steps as will enable the people of the state to begin the work of party reorganization at once, and make it thorough and complete.

In the contest in which we are about to engage we must win. Defeat cannot be borne. Success, however, cannot be expected to crown our labors unless there be absolute unity in the democratic party, together with such discipline as will insure the prompt and efficient execution of its policy when declared. From our adversaries must we learn, at last, the lesson of organization and activity. When the agencies on which society relies for the conservation of its varied interests menace those interests with destruction, and threaten a whole people with ruin, politics are no longer a matter of sentiment, in which the citizen is free to engage or not, according to his tastes. Upon the management of our political affairs depends the security of property, as well as the safety of person. By political movements alone can the purification of the state government be accomplished. Only through political instrumentalities can honesty, fidelity, capability gain a preponderant influence in the councils of the state. To politics, then, for their own salvation, must the people of South Carolina now address themselves with the vigor, the persistence and the systematic endeavor which mark their conduct in business life. It would not be wise to declare a policy before the party which shall give effect to it is ready for both deliberation and action. The officers must not be chosen until the rank and file of the political army shall have been mustered in and trained. There should be, in fact, such organization in each ward, township and county, that when the state convention shall assemble, it shall represent, by its delegates, the known wishes, opinions and purposes of the organized democracy of the state. Then will its voice be the voice of the people; its determination theirs; its fight their battle. To such organization, searching and far-reaching, should the people of the state without delay address themselves. Without it the state cannot be saved! The state convention, when it shall assemble, will determine authoritatively the policy of the party; and by the decision of that convention shall we all be bound. As, however, the democratic party, as such, has had no active existence in South Carolina for some years, the state committee desire to say emphatically that, in recommending its instant and comprehensive organization, their sole purpose is to obtain an honest and economical government in South Carolina, which shall maintain, without abridgement or change, the public rights and liberties of the whole people, and guarantee to all classes of citizens the blessings of freedom, justice and peace. And in this crisis in the constitutional life of the state, when civilization itself is in peril, we look for and confidently expect to receive the sympathy and aid of every citizen whose aims and desires are like unto our own.

In common with their fellow-citizens the state democratic committee have watched, with anxious solicitude and growing confidence, the course of the present governor of the state. They recognize and appreciate the value of what he has done in promoting reform and retrenchment during the past year. They applaud his wise and patriotic conduct in exercising the whole official power and personal influence for the undoing of the infamous judicial election. And they declare their belief that the democracy of the state, rising above party, as he has done, will give an unflinching support to his efforts, as governor, for the redress of wrongs, for the reduction of taxation, to obtain a just administration of the law, and to make the state government a faithful guardian of the public and private interests of the people.

Therefore, the State executive committee earnestly advise the people of the State to reorganize thoroughly the democratic party, in preparation for the State democratic convention, which will meet at a time and place to be hereafter designated by this committee. The following gentlemen are charged with this organization of the party in every precinct, ward and township in their respective counties: Abbeville, J. S. Cochran; Anderson, James A. Hoyt; Aiken, G. W. Croft; Barnwell, T. J. Counts; Beaufort, William Elliott; Clarendon, B. P. Barron; Chester, W. A. Walker; Chesterfield, A. McQueen; Colleton, J. J. Fox; Darlington, F. W. Warley; Edgefield, J. Scott Allen; Fairfield, John Bratton; Georgetown, B. H. Wilson; Greenville, T. B. Ferguson; Horley, T. Walsh; Kershaw, E. M. Boyan; Lexington, Gerhard Muller; Lancaster, J. D. Wylie; Laurens, W. Ball; Marion, A. Q. McDuffie; Marlboro, J. H. Hudson; Newberry, E. J. Pope; Oconee, R. A. Pickett; Orangeburg, J. F. Izlar; Pickens, R. E. Bowen; Richland, John McKenna; Spartanburg, J. W. Evans; Sumter, T. B. Frazer; Union, R. W. Shand; Williamsburg, S. W. Maurice; York, James F. Hart.

The organization of Charleston county is entrusted to the committee of fifteen, of which Col. Charles H. Simonton is chairman.

In conclusion, the State committee earnestly say to their fellow-citizens that we are not as those who are without hope. The magnitude of the task before us can hardly be over-rated. Every step is beset with difficulty, if not danger. But, knowing this people, the committee are confident that the future can be made as bright as the present is dark. This is the accepted time! By organization, labor, patience, boldness and liberality can peace and plenty and political security be restored to the State.

ORANGEBURG, S. C.,
December 31, 1875.

To His Excellency, D. H. Chamberlain.

MY DEAR SIR—Enclosed find communication from the Bar of Orangeburg, which I have the honor to send you on behalf of my brethren.

We were unwilling to let an occasion pass whereon we could testify, for our county, our appreciation of your bold and manly stand, and to show you in all your endeavors to put down the gross corruption existing in our State.

I will send you to-morrow, a similar acknowledgment on behalf of our citizens generally. They have been rushing to sign, and all its town have signed. Still I preferred waiting for more signatures from the county.

With great respect, I am yours, &c.,
W. J. DETREVILLE.

THE DECLARATION OF THE BAR.

To His Excellency, D. H. Chamberlain, Governor of the State of South Carolina:

The undersigned, members of the Bar of Orangeburg, having read the resolutions adopted by the citizens and Bar of Charleston, on the 28th instant, beg leave to state to your Excellency our entire and sincere approval and endorsement of the same. Thomas W. Glover, W. H. Hutson, Jas. F. Izlar, C. B. Glover, T. B. Whaley, Malcolm I. Browning, W. F. Hutson, W. J. DeTreville, Mortimer Glover, Julius Glover, S. Dibble, James S. Heyward,
December 30th, 1875.

A similar memorial was sent by a great number of prominent citizens of Spartanburg.

THE EDGEFIELD MEETING.—The meeting at Edgefield court house on Monday last, called to protest against the election of Moses and Whipper, was the largest held there in many years. The court house was packed to its utmost capacity, many colored people being present. The meeting was called to order by General M. C. Butler, who nominated Colonel Thomas Bacon as chairman. Colonel Bacon said that he fully appreciated the exigency of the occasion and the hour. Carolina had, in his long experience, many trials, but this was her sorest, and he for one wanted to evoke the aid of God. Prayer was then offered by the Rev. Mr. Round. Mr. J. R. Shepherd was then elected secretary. A committee on resolutions was appointed. During its absence Colonel H. D. Cappers delivered an impassioned address, after which the committee reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the recent action of the legislature of South Carolina in the election of Whipper and Moses to the judicial bench is an outrage upon christian civilization and an evident expression of a determined purpose to degrade the manhood and insult the virtue of our people.

Resolved, That we have no hope but in the organization of the democratic party in South Carolina, and that this meeting pledges itself to abide by the action of the executive committee of the democratic party in South Carolina.

Gen. M. C. Butler supported the resolutions, which were enthusiastically adopted.

Furman University.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The Board of Trustees of Furman University hereby announces, that according to the certified report of C. H. Judson, Treasurer, the sum of two hundred thousand dollars has been secured, in good, reliable bonds, towards a permanent endowment of said University. Henceforth, for a term of ten years, the University will be open to all competent to enter, free of any charge for tuition in any of the regular schools.

The conditions of the bonds having been complied with, on the part of the University, obligors will be called upon and will be expected, literally, to fulfill their part in the prompt payment of the instalments, and of the interest as they mature.

JAMES C. FURMAN, President.
FRED. W. EASON, Secretary.
GREENVILLE, S. C., January 1, 1876.

In acknowledging the receipt of the resolutions of the Orangeburg bar, Governor Chamberlain handsomely says:

Personally, I claim no merit for my recent action. I did no more than any right-thinking man in my place must have done. But I am deeply grateful for the proofs which every day reach me of the approval of my fellow-citizens. The recent judicial elections cannot be tolerated. They warn us that the hard earned triumphs of long centuries are again in danger, that we must combine again to turn back the incoming tide of corruption and incompetency which will, unchecked, rise over our whole State.

In the presence of a common danger all true men must unite. In this spirit I interpret all the support now given to me, and in that spirit I will use it.

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

The Herald is the highest respect a Family Newspaper, devoted to the material interests of the people of this County and State. It circulates extensively, and as an Advertising medium offers unrivalled advantages. For Terms, see first page.

The "Register"

Has moved into the old quarters of the "Phoenix." It is set with the type and printed on the presses of that mythical bird. We have full confidence that its flight will be more steady than that of the former occupant of the eyrie. The beak and the feathers and claws may all be very good, but it takes a little brain substance to direct the flight. We credit the Register with having that indispensable ingredient of a successful aerial voyage. Fly!

Speculation and Gambling.

We clip the following from the New York Herald:

In an action before our courts to recover from Jay Gould the value of a contract made by him as a speculator in Wall street, his counsel, Mr. Shearman, has entered an extraordinary plea which is worthy of consideration from several points of view. Mr. Shearman takes the ground that Mr. Gould in dealing in "puts" and "calls" is simply gambling, and that therefore when he loses he is not to be compelled to pay his contracts. In other words, Mr. Gould appears in the court through his lawyers and practically swears that his business is nothing more nor less than betting, and that he is entitled to the same release from any obligation it involves that he would receive if he were the keeper of a faro bank or a lottery, or if he had made a wager on the result of an election.

We have always contended that, morally, this business of "puts" and "calls" on Wall street was gambling. We believe that if the courts were to decide the question from a strictly equitable point of view they would so rule. If Mr. Gould's defence is sound, then what is Wall street but a vast gambling concern? Our "business prosperity," our "immense stock values," are no more than the passing game of a gambler's chips over the faro board. For the last year Wall street has been as much of a gambling den as Mr. Morrissey's saloon at Saratoga. The principal stocks bought and sold have been gambling stocks. Jay Gould, the principal operator, swears to that fact. He swears that while he was doing business in the eyes of the world he was gambling in his own eyes; that while he was making "contracts" for stocks and gold he did not mean to keep them unless it was to his own benefit. The shamelessness and frankness with which Mr. Gould makes this defence would be looked upon as an astounding revelation in any age but the one in which we live and from any man but Mr. Gould himself. There really seems to be no end to the infamy of which this man is capable in prosecuting his designs upon the credit of the community.

If the Court should accept his plea and decide that this kind of Wall street operation falls within the legal definition of gambling quite a new phase will be put upon this species of business. It would then be the duty of the District Attorney to get the whole street indicted for gambling and proceed to enforce the penalties. There would be no more excuse for not breaking it up than for not interfering with the gambling dens of the city.

It may be difficult to draw the line between legitimate mercantile speculation and gambling. We must allow a considerable degree of latitude to the operations of speculators; we must not hamper their energy to such an extent as to take away the stimulus to the exertion. It is deplorable that the chief stimulus to work is the desire for wealth. Such, however, is a fact which we must accept. Without this desire to hoard man would never have acquired the present state of civilization. It is to be hoped that other motives of a higher order may in the future be made more prominent incentives to work, and that this result will follow the progressive development of man's moral nature. But we are getting into a different channel. That the operations of Jay Gould above alluded to amount to gambling thereof, we have little doubt. But whether the fictitious sale or a contract for a fictitious future delivery of any commodity comes within the pale of legitimate speculation is a subject which might be profitably considered even in a latitude lower than New York.

The Claffin University at Orangeburg was burned down on the 6th inst.

Advices from Liberia represent that the war with the natives is practically ended.

Col. Lamar has been unanimously nominated by the Democratic caucus for United States Senator.

Booth performed Hamlet at the Baltimore Opera House to an immense and enthusiastic audience.

It is reported that a new ultra radical paper will be started in Columbia since the Union-Herald has espoused the cause of reform.

Congressman Wallace has introduced a bill to secure the erection of a United States court house and post office at Greenville.

The Governor has appointed Col. A. C. Haskell, Col. J. P. Low, and T. S. Cavender, Esq., commissioners to audit claims under the Big Bonanza Bill.

Public meetings were held in York and Barwell on Saturday. At the latter place a committee was appointed to request Mr. Wiggins to resign his Judgeship.

The venerable Church of St. James Goose Creek, was reopened on the 2d inst., on its 165th anniversary, after having been closed for nearly a quarter of a century.

Five cents, for a half-ounce letter and two cents for an ordinary newspaper, are now the universal foreign postage rates between the countries in the Postal Union.

A. H. Stephens continues in a very feeble state from disease in one lung. Though he eats and sleeps well, he does not regain his strength. It is feared he will not be able to take his seat in Congress during the present session.

Messrs. Canton and Hubbard have established a detective agency in Columbia. It has been suggested to us that the town council have a special detective at this place. The above named firm is, however, sufficiently near for all practical purposes.

It is reported that Attorney-General Melton is going to resign and Judge Carpenter is to be appointed to his place. Report says that Judge Cook will take Carpenter's place and Gen. McGowan is spoken of as Cook's successor. All this is surmise, thus far.

A meeting was held on last Saturday at Laurens; J. Wistar Simpson, Esq., in the chair. Resolutions were passed condemnatory of the acts of the Radical party and endorsing the action of the Governor, and calling upon all true men to join the Conservative party in the approaching election.

The meeting on sale day at Edgefield in reference to the late election of Judges was large and enthusiastic. In the judgment of the people, the organization of the Democratic party was the only hope of delivery; they pledged their cooperation to those counties upon which those corrupt Judges had been foisted in their resistance to such outrage.

At Chester Judge Mackey made a characteristic speech at the opening hour of the new year. He said, among other lively things: "Whipper's infamy is local, Moses's infamy is national. Their election was the apocalypse of political villainy." We don't know exactly what the learned Judge means, but we suppose he alludes to the pouring out of the spirits of wrath.

It was found upon an investigation ordered by Judge Maher, that the Jury box of Aiken County had been foully dealt with, the names of a great many good men had been extracted and others of bad character, mainly notorious negro politicians, substituted. The Judge promptly dismissed the grand and petit juries, ordered bench warrants to be issued for the arrest of the jury commissioners, and then ordered an extra court in March.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Sumter on the third inst., to protest against the election of Moses, Jr., to the bench. Resolutions to resist such wrong at all hazards were unanimously passed. Mr. Moise closed his remarks with these words: "Should F. J. Moses, Jr., by any legal trickery, attempt to ascend the steps of the courthouse to take his seat as judge, I, Charles H. Moise, forty-six years of age, with a wife and ten children to support, am ready to unite with a band of determined men, and with muskets on our shoulders, defend that temple of Justice from such a desecration."

A happy man is John Alred, of Rome, Ga., who remarks:

"I am fifty-two years old and don't owe a dollar; haven't bought a bushel of corn or a pound of meat since the war; never had a cross word with a neighbor in my life, and never swore an oath; never buy any clothing—have them spun, woven and made at home; never had a lawsuit with any one, and never was a witness in court."

The people of Rockingham, N. C., are getting enthused on the brass band question, as we see by the Spirit of the South, that the innocent citizens, who have no experience in such matters, are to be waited on for a subscription of $350 to pay for instruments and instruction. The Spirit of the South thinks it will be a valuable acquisition to the town.

The circular note sent by the Washington Cabinet to the Courts of Europe on the Cuban question, advises the formation of a confederation in the Spanish West Indies resembling the Canadian, with local independent rights and a Governor-General appointed by Spain. The abolition of slavery would be a necessary condition of such arrangement. Uncle Sam desires to hear the voices of Europe on the subject.

Mr. Bain, at George's, S. C., shot and killed a negro whom he caught in the act of stealing a sack of corn from his bin. A jury of fourteen, composed equally of whites and blacks, after due deliberation, rendered a verdict to the effect that Mr. Lovick Bain had justifiably shot and killed one Sisco Jenkins, while stealing corn from his granary on the night of Dec. 29, 1875. Look out thieves, a Newberry jury might do likewise.

The note drawn up by Count Andrássy, the Austrian premier, relative to reforms in Turkey, has received the approval of Russia, and is understood to have been dispatched to the guaranteeing powers. The note proposes equality for all religious denominations, and the introduction of provincial and communal self-government, and that, the first results of these changes in the insurgent provinces, shall be the imposition of taxation by the provinces themselves, and the abolition of serfdom.

According to the Washington correspondent of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, Speaker Kerr does not deny that the Pacific railway committee is made up to be favorable to the southern Pacific project, and Mr. Kerr adds that he thinks "the people of that section (the south) entitled to a fair committee and report, and then it is for the house, in the present condition of the treasury, to say that it cannot vote any more subsidies." The Memphis Avalanche is rejoiced at the make up of the committee.

On New Year's day the "Union Republican Party" of Charleston, held an abortive "mass meeting" to approve the election of Moses and Whipper. The "mass" consisted of about 150 men—mostly women and boys. Pinkney, the Santee orator, was particularly severe on the Governor. He advised them not to be scared as they had the National Guard and the U. S. troops to help them. (We are not afraid of the Federal army but the National Guard makes us tremble.) "Red Hot" Jones said the Democrats had called Chamberlain a thief and now he was proclaimed a great reformer. Now, why in the name of God, can't Whipper and Moses reform too. Rather than be sold out by a bald-headed Massachusetts Yankee he would elect the Hon. A. G. Magrath Governor. After some more of the same sort by other orators, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That we solemnly pledge ourselves, without regard to consequences, to support and maintain the laws of the State and the United States, to uphold and support the action of the Legislature and the Courts, and to this end we pledge our very existence.

It was by this time very dark, and the little band of malcontents "folded their tents like Arabs and as silently stole away."

FOR THE HERALD.

Fox Hunt at Jalapa.

Mr. Editor.—Christmas was enjoyed by all in various amusements—parties and plays; by the young folks generally—while the grown men sought amusement in hunting. Uncle Teague L., in his usual felicitous way, took part in the plays, and in the selection of fruit sprigs. The arrival of Thomas and Simeon Gallman was hailed with delight by all, and their dogs were noted for their excellence in the chase which took place four consecutive mornings—result, a Reynard for each morning, three grays and one red. The Colonels, Captains, M. D.'s, pedagogues, and all professional men participated, and on one start twenty-five men and horses were to be seen in a squad, and still they were not satisfied, as all regretted the leaving of Messrs. Gallman's and Welch, who with their dogs will ever be remembered by the people of Jalapa.

Christmas dinners of turkeys from 18 to 20 pounds were numerous. The merchants received a liberal patronage. No accidents of any kind nor fights; all seemed merry, and Mr. Tangleleg did not make his appearance.

We are sorry to report that the fare on the Laurens Railroad has been raised from 25 cents to 50 cents, and freight from 15 cents to 25 cents, which prices drive our people to try the dirt road, and we learn the merchants will have their goods stopped at Newberry, and conveyed by wagon at 10 cents to 15 cents per hundred.

The colored people generally have secured homes, and have gone to work manfully. Yours, &c.,
JALAPA.

FOR THE HERALD.

Mr. GRENEKER.—I snatch a moment from out my busy life to write a line of acknowledgment in reply to your kindly inquiry for delinquent correspondents, so courteously expressed in a previous issue of the HERALD, deeply sensible of the solicitude therein contained; I tender thanks, and feel in all potency the sentiment of those charming lines:—

"The' lost to sight,
To memory dear."

Pen is inadequate to describe the inordinate demands made upon my time and patience by the recent Christmas festivities, which, with the many duties incumbent on all the adherents of "Santa Claus," must plead apology for my long and rather ungracious silence.

I had only thought to write a line, but the low sobbing of falling rain, the quiet hour, the solemn hush of night beguile me into forgetfulness;

While time on silent wings goes by,
Soft and noiseless as a zephyr's sigh,
Williamston. MAGGIE.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for February is before us, ahead of all others, and containing, as a Supplement, a fine large-sized steel engraving, after Ch. Truman's celebrated picture, "The Declaration of Independence," the CENTENNIAL GIFT of the publisher to his subscribers for 1876. The plate is very finely engraved, with fifty-six portraits, and can be taken out and framed, if desired. It is a picture which every family ought to possess; and every family, therefore, ought to subscribe for "Peterson." Besides this costly supplement, there is the usual "Snow size," a colored pattern; and more than a score of other embellishments of fashion, &c., &c. There is also an illustrated article on the "Signers of the Declaration," with a facsimile of part of the original Declaration, an engraving of Hancock's chair, an engraving of the table on which the Declaration was signed, &c., &c. "Peterson" is one of the few magazines that gets better and better the older it grows. We remember it as a boy, and now it is sprightlier and more useful than ever. We have no doubt it will live to celebrate its own Centennial, and we confess we should like to see it page it. The price is but two dollars a year, postage free, with great deductions to clubs. Address, Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut street, Phila.
