DEATH. - A. G. Maybin, Jr., son of Mr. A. G. Maybin, Sr., died at his father's house in town Friday, the 19th instant, of Rheumatism, at the age of sixteen. He had had rheumatism in his limbs for a week, and Thursday the disease attacked his brain, causing his death the next day. Gus was a young man of excellent character, and promised to make a useful man. He was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and attended regularly upon all its services.

THE LAURENS RAILROAD. - Slowly, but we hope surely, this road is creeping along toward Laurens. The big trestle over Millan's branch, four miles this side the village, is about completed, and the balance of the road will not give much trouble. The work already done has been done well, considering the necessity for the strictest economy. The same old rails being used.

PREMIUMS. - The following persons from Newberry received premiums at the State Fair: T. W. Holloway, red wheat, Essex Bore and Sow; Mrs. T. W. Holloway, canned cherries, canned tomatoes, sweet peach pickles, regatta, red and white quilts; W. Sumner, Trees - apple, peach, pear, dwarf pear, cherry, apricot, plum; Miss Rachel Foot, Lace handkerchiefs; Mrs. E. H. Eppius, Opium; L. J. Jones, Leather - calfskin and skirting; O. L. Schumpp, Pointer; and Dr. J. L. Spence, Agent, Portable engine, threshers and mounted horse power, manufactured at Waynesboro, Pa.

REVENUE. - The amount of the tax that the road should have paid was $2,145; but the fifteen per cent. penalty, with costs and interest, will run it up to $2,617.50.

RELIGIOUS. - Rev. J. T. Lamar, Pastor of the Christian Church, Augusta, Ga., will preach at the Hall of the City, and every succeeding night this week, and also Sunday morning and night. All persons are invited to attend.

NEARLY A SEVEN-FIVE. - Last night (Monday) about ten o'clock a lamp exploded in one of the upper rooms of Mr. W. G. Mayes' house, and set fire to the bedding in the room. The alarm was given, which soon drew a crowd who put the fire out before much damage had been done.

PERSONAL. - We had the pleasure last week of meeting Mr. Newton F. Walker, Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Cedar Springs. This Institution has just begun the first session of the present scholastic year under very favorable auspices.

WE WOULD HAVE KEPT IN MIND that only those who pay in advance for their paper get it at the reduced rate of $2. This has been the advertised rate from the first, and the subscriber should not therefore complain when after a neglect of six months or a year to find fifty cents added to the amount. It is not the publisher's fault.

CONNECTION. - In the notice last week of the destruction of Mr. F. L. Boozer's house mention was made of the kind help extended by Mr. Jas. Meredith to the distressed family. Last the reader should infer that no other help was extended, we take this occasion to correct our hurriedly written notice by saying that Mrs. M. Boozer's neighbors came to her rescue in a most noble manner, to all of whom he returns most hearty and sincere thanks.

NEW CROP NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES. J. N. MARTIN & CO. Nov. 14, 46-21.

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, &c. 18 Old Establishment 57 M. FOOT. AND M. FOOT. Best House for Bargains! I have now a full and complete stock of goods such as are generally kept in a country variety store, and am ready to sell to Farmers and others. At as Low Prices as any other Store, And for the reason that since I had the misfortune of being burnt out in April last I have refitted the Store where I first established myself in 1857, and by that change have lessened my expenses in the way of Store Rent. And will now give my customers THE BENEFIT OF IT. Goods bought of me have always been found as represented, and as cheap and cheaper than any bought in this or any neighboring city, whatever any one else may say to the contrary notwithstanding. If I do not offer any one ARTICLE AT COST OR UNDER and then make up the loss on something else. I OFFER ALL MY GOODS AT A VERY SMALL PROFIT. All I ask is a fair trial and you will be convinced. My goods were selected with the utmost care in the markets of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and realizing the fact that my store is not convenient but somewhat out of the way, I now offer extra inducements in the way of Bargains. I make no enumeration of the different articles, but simply say that I have everything in the way of Dry Goods, Groceries, Shoes, &c. Thankful for the confidence reposed in, and for the liberal patronage bestowed upon me for the past twenty years, I respectfully ask a continuance of the same. GRANTVILLE SHIRTINGS, SHEETINGS AND DRESSES AT MANUFACTURERS PRICES TO MERCHANTS. I will open in a few days a lot of Ladies' and Misses' FINE SEWED and PEGGED SHOES of every description, all of which I will sell at very low prices. Also, a few pairs of Gents' FINE SEWED SHOES. 300,000 BRICK at my Brick Yard - CHEAP FOR CASH. M. FOOT. Nov. 7, 1877-45-11. Clothing. NEW STOCK CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS AT Unprecedentedly Low Prices! WRIGHT & J. W. COPPOCK Respectfully announce to the citizens of Newberry that they have now in store an elegant and cheap stock of CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, which embraces a large variety of the LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS IN SUITS, which they can sell at lower prices than ever before offered in this market, and to which they now invite attention. They make a specialty in FINE CLOTH COATS, OVERCOATS, PANTS, SHIRTS, &c., an examination of which is only necessary to convince any one of the difference in prices between this season and the last. HATS for men and boys of all styles and grades, together with FINE GAITERS AND SHOES at prices which defy competition. Call and make an examination before purchasing elsewhere, and see if you cannot save money. WRIGHT & J. W. COPPOCK, No. 4 Mollohan Row. Oct. 4, 40-11. NEW CROP NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES. J. N. MARTIN & CO. Nov. 14, 46-21.

Two hundred and eighty-three tickets were sold last week by the R. R. Agent at this place to persons going to the State Fair. ABOUT THE TOWN AND COUNTY. - Both mails come together now - it is not liked, but of course every one cannot expect to be pleased. Some fine horses are on sale at present. It is not near Christmas, and yet eggs have already made a jump upward. Perhaps this is owing to the number of marriages in and around town last week. We thought that the lull in the matrimonial market denoted something. Several big turnips from the patch of Mr. Moreland Boyd. So large and fine we felt constrained to take them in part pay for the HERALD. A tremendous yam potato from the patch of Mr. A. J. Kilgor. We don't believe Smokey Town can beat it. Some folks don't believe it, but it is so - that job printing can be done at the HERALD office as cheaply, neatly and rapidly as in any office in the county. Mr. Wooten, after a brief sojourn at Ninety-Six, as a cotton buyer, has returned. He says the cotton buyers did not average one bale per day. Three changes last week: Mrs. Rodon, Mr. Scholtz and Mr. Hudgins. Change in quarters - and now they expect to reap dollars. Matches, calico and cooking stoves are not in stock at the Herald Stationery Store yet. Calls have been made for them. Strange. A young lady of this county a night or two before the intelligence reached Newberry of the death of Mr. Foster Bledgett, dreamed she saw Mrs. B. drive past her house, clothed in mourning and weeping bitterly. It seemed to be the general impression that the Newberry boys were the best looking fellows at the Fair. Portions of Harrington Street have been widened. Mr. Pope's house is much improved in appearance by being stuccoed. POMARIA LOCALS. - Messrs. J. B. O'Neill Holloway and J. E. Berley, both of whom Pomaria claims with pleasure, paid a flying visit to our community on Friday and Saturday last. The former, as was recently stated, is the principal of what a flourishing academy near Orangeburg; the latter, a member of the Junior Class of Newberry College. We regret to learn that Mr. Andrew J. Bodenbaugh had the misfortune to lose about one hundred and forty dollars whilst at the Fair. He says: "A gentlemanly-looking individual, happening with me near the Fair Grounds, stated in the course of conversation that he was negotiating the purchase of certain of the stock on exhibition, and desired to secure the change for a hundred dollar bill. Upon my producing my pocket-book to accommodate him, it was dexterously snatched from my hand, and so rapidly bore away as to thwart every effort towards its recovery." We learn that Capt. Radcliffe, Chief of the Columbia Police, recovered the money. - Ed.] Whilst in New York a short time since, our Pomaria merchant became acquainted with a man, who showed him the receipt of a lottery ticket. Last week, reports say, he received a letter and a package, the former stating that the drawing had taken place and that the latter contained the magnificent sum of eighteen thousand dollars, to which he had the title as the owner of the aforesaid ticket. On opening the package, it was not unexpectedly found to contain the usual lot of pinchbeck jewelry, worth less probably than the charge for transportation. The following favored citizens of Pomaria were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on Tuesday and Wednesday last week, respectively: D. Charlton Lake, Esq., and Miss Druca Ann, of Newberry; and Miss Idie R. Rikard to Mr. Thompson L. Wheeler, of Prosperity. We respectfully tender our warmest congratulations to the happy parties, and hope that the even tenor of a long life of uninterrupted success and happiness may but deepen their appreciation of the benedictions of Moore: "There's a bliss beyond all that the minstrel sings, When two, that are linked with the same golden tie, With hearts never changing, and brows never dim, Love on through all ills, and love on till they die! But an hour of feeling so sacred as this Equals a year of senseless and falsely-called bliss." For O, if there is an Elysium on earth, its existence surrounds the love-sanctified heart. We regret to learn that the Metts' School has closed from the want of patronage. Before Adam and Eve were expelled from Paradise, it is said, that they were thoroughly instructed relative to the things to come upon them, so that they might therewith go forth "though sorrowing, yet in peace." Equally so should it be with us, that we should bless our children thus, as they stand out there in sadness upon the threshold of their paternal Eden, dismissed into manhood. Their place of rest, and Providence their guide." The most recent sources of amusement among our youthful people are "pound parties." These differ in some respects from that of the New Testament, each young gentleman furnishing a pound, and receiving in exchange from ten to two hundred and ten cents, depending on his liberality. We regret to know that our faithful and obliging assistant postmaster and railroad agent, Mr. Yarborough, has permanently vacated his position among us. During several years, in season and out of season, he was always found at his post - active, efficient and obliging. The community highly appreciate those efforts in its behalf, and wish him every future happiness. The requested meeting of the Pomaria Ladies, at Bethel Academy on last Saturday, proved another failure. Citizens of Pomaria, in our patriotism taking only a Rip Van Winkle slumber after their active labors in the last campaign - it is really dead and awaiting burial? The corn entered by Thos. W. Holloway, Esq., for a premium in the Fair, but which failed on account of its mixed sixteenth bushels per acre. This demonstrates that there is not the least necessity, as far as the fertility of our soil is concerned, for a "Westward ho!" A portion of our people had the pleasure of again meeting their former fellow-citizen, the venerated O. B. Marer, Sr., M. D., Professor of Physiology, Hygiene, &c., in Newberry College, whilst in attendance on Divine Services at Bethlehem (Lutheran) Church on Sunday last. (From the Journal of Commerce.) The Court at Columbia. C. W. Montgomery Discharged - Cardozo's Plea for a New Trial. COLUMBIA, November 16. - Court met at 10.30 A. M. The Judge inquired if there would be any need of the jury to-day, as it was understood that a motion for new trials in the Cardozo and Smalls cases would be argued by ex-Judge Melton and General Courner. The jury was then dismissed, and the court then proceeded to the call of the docket and when the case of the State vs. C. W. Montgomery came up, Attorney-General Courner stated that he was satisfied that C. W. Montgomery, late President of Senate, was guilty of having been misled rather than misleading, and he would enter a not pros in that case. The following order was then granted: The State vs. C. W. Montgomery. The Attorney-General having entered a not pros in the above case, it is now ordered, on motion of the Attorney-General, that the said C. W. Montgomery be discharged without delay. C. P. TOWNSEND, Presiding Judge. November 16, 1877. Judge Melton then proceeded to read his argument in the matter of a new trial in the Cardozo case, setting forth at length the several grounds upon which the motion was based. General Courner said that he could not concede the correctness of some of the assertions stated in the statement read by defendant's counsel, as to the evidence that had been admitted, and the rulings of the court. Some of these statements, as made by Mr. Melton, in his grounds for the motion, the court held were incorrect. The objections were taken up seriatim, and controverted by Mr. Miles. At the conclusion of the argument, Judge Townsend adjourned Court until 9 A. M. Saturday. The opinion will then be delivered. In the County Convention to-day, John C. Haskell was nominated for representative to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of C. S. Minor. W. H. MCK. JUDGE Y. J. POPE. - The name of the above gentleman is very prominent at present, before the people, in connection with the Judgeship of the Seventh Circuit. The Charleston and Courier, Columbia Register, Edgefield Advertiser, Abbeville Medium, and many other leading papers of the State, speak in high tones of Judge Pope. His reputation at the Bar, and the part he has taken in all the leading campaigns, as an uncompromising Democrat, is well known in the Seventh Circuit. Newberry County has certainly struggled hard, and at last has gained her freedom, and great credit is due to Judge Pope for the manner in which he conducted the last campaign, as county chairman. While we do not pretend to set up Judges, we can but say that should Judge Pope be elected, the Circuit has lost nothing in the resignation of Judge Northrop. We knew Judge Pope personally during the war, and found him every inch a gentleman and a soldier. He was District Judge of Newberry for two years, and is at present Democratic member of the Legislature from Newberry. [Carolina Spartan.] A VALUABLE DISCOVERY. - Dr. C. Benson, a Practitioner of Medicine, who has paid much attention to nervous diseases, has discovered that Extract of Celery and Chamomile combined in a certain proportion, varies variously according to the Bilious, Dyspeptic, Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia and Nervousness. This is a triumph in Medical Chemistry, and it removes all over the country are ordering by mail. DOWIE & MOISE, Nov. 21, 47-1m. Charleston, S. C. Thousands use it, why hesitate? JOY TO THE WORLD! WOMAN IS FREE! - Among the many modern discoveries looking to the improvement and elevation of the human race, none is entitled to higher consideration than the renowned remedy - Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, Woman's Best Friend. It is a most precious and valuable medicine, which every endeavor will be made to make it regular to her sex. Before its magical power all irregularities of the womb vanish. It cures whiteness, it restores the system. It braces the nerves and purifies the blood. It never fails, as the thousands of women will testify. This valuable medicine is prepared and sold by J. Bradfield, Atlanta, Ga. Price $1.50 per bottle. All respectable drug men keep it.

THE FALL ELECTIONS. The autumn elections which have just closed teach some valuable lessons. Beginning with September and closing with Tuesday of this present week, fifteen States have voted on general tickets of more or less importance. These States extend from the extreme East to the far West, and embrace remote points in the South, and may therefore be presumed to cover every phase of political opinion. Ten of these fifteen States voted for Hayes for President and five for Tilden. The first important fact that strikes the observant eye is that the five States which cast their votes for Tilden have now been carried for the Democrats, while the Republicans have lost three and perhaps four of those that were carried for Hayes. The five States which went for Tilden last fall, and have now been carried by the Democrats, are New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, and Mississippi. The Democrats held their own in these, wherever there was a serious contest, by majorities which are about the average in what are called the off years. The ten States that have voted this fall for general tickets and which went for Hayes last year by large and in most instances by overwhelming majorities, are California, Maine, Ohio, Iowa, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, and Nebraska. Three of these States have now certainly been captured by the Democrats, and perhaps four, namely, California, Ohio, and Pennsylvania, with Wisconsin rather in doubt, though the chances are in favor of the Republicans. Of the six States in which the Republicans still maintain their control, they have carried two this year by repudiating the Hayes Administration, while in two of the others they have not gotten absolute majorities but elect their tickets by mere pluralities. These seem to us to be highly significant features of the fall campaign. They are an emphatic and stinging verdict against the Fraudulent Administration of Hayes and the policy toward which there is such an outspoken revolt in all sections of the country. These results, however, are not wholly owing to the determination of the masses of the Democracy to testify their abhorrence of the chicanery, the duplicity, the dishonest practices and false pretences whereby Hayes obtained his defective title to the Presidency, but they are to some extent due to the dissatisfaction and disgust which large portions of the Republican party feel toward him for having abandoned and betrayed so many of the principles whereon his supporters fought their battle in the last Presidential campaign. But it is safe to say that severe as this rebuke is, it would have been far more marked and significant if portions of the Democratic party had not surrendered the solid ground whereon they should have fought their battle this fall. The elections of this year present another striking feature. We refer to the unusual number of outside factors which took the field, and the large vote they have cast. The present and probable future effect of this widespread refusal to draw in the traces of the two leading parties of the country is worthy of the grave consideration of both Democrats and Republicans. Indeed, this outside vote has been so heavy that though the Democrats elected their tickets in California and Pennsylvania, and the Republicans elected theirs in Massachusetts and probably in Wisconsin, it will pretty certainly turn out when the canvass is completed that both parties are in a considerable minority in States wherein they have now what, upon a superficial view, seem to be victories. So, too, in Ohio, if we are right in our recollection of the final figures, the Democratic candidate for Governor barely obtained a majority of the aggregate vote, though he appeared to have beaten his Republican opponent by some 25,000. We fancy it will prove to be very much the same in Minnesota where we get the complete returns from the recent quadrilateral contest in that State. We all recollect that it looked upon the surface as if the Republicans had swept Iowa by the outside vote came to be counted the absolute majority dwindled to some 12,000 or 400; and this, too, in the strongest Republican State in the Union. How it will fare in this regard with the Democratic State tickets even in New York and New Jersey when the County Canvasses have gathered up the "scattering," remains to be seen. [New York Sun.] POST OFFICE. NEWBERRY, S. C., Nov. 17, 1877. List of advertised letters for week ending November 17, 1877: Counts, Miss Nancy J. Marren, Charley Dawkins, Miss McNeill, Jno. H. SOUND AND WELL. ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 29, 1868. Dr. J. Bradfield - Dear Sir: - I take pleasure in stating that, some time previous to late war, I used with the most successful result a servant girl, your FEMALE REGULATOR, prepared then at Bradfield's Drug Store, West Point, Ga. She had been suffering severely from suppressed menstruation and this medicine soon restored her to health. She is today living in Atlanta sound and well. I will state further, that I know of its being used with equal success in other cases. I do not hesitate to endorse your preparation for the purpose for which you recommend it. Yours truly, J. M. WHITNER. For sale by Dr. S. F. Felt, Pope & Wardlaw, W. E. Pelham and W. F. Pratt 47-21

ECONOMY IS WORTH. Poor Richard says, "If this be true, then it is wise in every family to use Dryes's Satin Gloss Starch in preference to any other, but more so in the case of the poor, as it is the most economical because it is the best; it is the cheapest because it is the best." It is worth the price asked for it. Will not the friends of the Orphanage get up a list of subscribers for us and make it a pleasure to us to assist in supporting it? DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, &c. 18 Old Establishment 57 M. FOOT. AND M. FOOT. Best House for Bargains! I have now a full and complete stock of goods such as are generally kept in a country variety store, and am ready to sell to Farmers and others. At as Low Prices as any other Store, And for the reason that since I had the misfortune of being burnt out in April last I have refitted the Store where I first established myself in 1857, and by that change have lessened my expenses in the way of Store Rent. And will now give my customers THE BENEFIT OF IT. Goods bought of me have always been found as represented, and as cheap and cheaper than any bought in this or any neighboring city, whatever any one else may say to the contrary notwithstanding. If I do not offer any one ARTICLE AT COST OR UNDER and then make up the loss on something else. I OFFER ALL MY GOODS AT A VERY SMALL PROFIT. All I ask is a fair trial and you will be convinced. My goods were selected with the utmost care in the markets of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and realizing the fact that my store is not convenient but somewhat out of the way, I now offer extra inducements in the way of Bargains. I make no enumeration of the different articles, but simply say that I have everything in the way of Dry Goods, Groceries, Shoes, &c. Thankful for the confidence reposed in, and for the liberal patronage bestowed upon me for the past twenty years, I respectfully ask a continuance of the same. GRANTVILLE SHIRTINGS, SHEETINGS AND DRESSES AT MANUFACTURERS PRICES TO MERCHANTS. I will open in a few days a lot of Ladies' and Misses' FINE SEWED and PEGGED SHOES of every description, all of which I will sell at very low prices. only a Rip Van Winkle slumber after their active labors in the last campaign - it is really dead and awaiting burial? The corn entered by Thos. W. Holloway, Esq., for a premium in the Fair, but which failed on account of its mixed sixteenth bushels per acre. This demonstrates that there is not the least necessity, as far as the fertility of our soil is concerned, for a "Westward ho!" A portion of our people had the pleasure of again meeting their former fellow-citizen, the venerated O. B. Marer, Sr., M. D., Professor of Physiology, Hygiene, &c., in Newberry College, whilst in attendance on Divine Services at Bethlehem (Lutheran) Church on Sunday last. (From the Journal of Commerce.) The Court at Columbia. C. W. Montgomery Discharged - Cardozo's Plea for a New Trial. COLUMBIA, November 16. - Court met at 10.30 A. M. The Judge inquired if there would be any need of the jury to-day, as it was understood that a motion for new trials in the Cardozo and Smalls cases would be argued by ex-Judge Melton and General Courner. The jury was then dismissed, and the court then proceeded to the call of the docket and when the case of the State vs. C. W. Montgomery came up, Attorney-General Courner stated that he was satisfied that C. W. Montgomery, late President of Senate, was guilty of having been misled rather than misleading, and he would enter a not pros in that case. The following order was then granted: The State vs. C. W. Montgomery. The Attorney-General having entered a not pros in the above case, it is now ordered, on motion of the Attorney-General, that the said C. W. Montgomery be discharged without delay. C. P. TOWNSEND, Presiding Judge. November 16, 1877. Judge Melton then proceeded to read his argument in the matter of a new trial in the Cardozo case, setting forth at length the several grounds upon which the motion was based. General Courner said that he could not concede the correctness of some of the assertions stated in the statement read by defendant's counsel, as to the evidence that had been admitted, and the rulings of the court. Some of these statements, as made by Mr. Melton, in his grounds for the motion, the court held were incorrect. The objections were taken up seriatim, and controverted by Mr. Miles. At the conclusion of the argument, Judge Townsend adjourned Court until 9 A. M. Saturday. The opinion will then be delivered. In the County Convention to-day, John C. Haskell was nominated for representative to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of C. S. Minor. W. H. MCK. JUDGE Y. J. POPE. - The name of the above gentleman is very prominent at present, before the people, in connection with the Judgeship of the Seventh Circuit. The Charleston and Courier, Columbia Register, Edgefield Advertiser, Abbeville Medium, and many other leading papers of the State, speak in high tones of Judge Pope. His reputation at the Bar, and the part he has taken in all the leading campaigns, as an uncompromising Democrat, is well known in the Seventh Circuit. Newberry County has certainly struggled hard, and at last has gained her freedom, and great credit is due to Judge Pope for the manner in which he conducted the last campaign, as county chairman. While we do not pretend to set up Judges, we can but say that should Judge Pope be elected, the Circuit has lost nothing in the resignation of Judge Northrop. We knew Judge Pope personally during the war, and found him every inch a gentleman and a soldier. He was District Judge of Newberry for two years, and is at present Democratic member of the Legislature from Newberry. [Carolina Spartan.] A VALUABLE DISCOVERY. - Dr. C. Benson, a Practitioner of Medicine, who has paid much attention to nervous diseases, has discovered that Extract of Celery and Chamomile combined in a certain proportion, varies variously according to the Bilious, Dyspeptic, Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia and Nervousness. This is a triumph in Medical Chemistry, and it removes all over the country are ordering by mail. DOWIE & MOISE, Nov. 21, 47-1m. Charleston, S. C. Thousands use it, why hesitate? JOY TO THE WORLD! WOMAN IS FREE! - Among the many modern discoveries looking to the improvement and elevation of the human race, none is entitled to higher consideration than the renowned remedy - Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, Woman's Best Friend. It is a most precious and valuable medicine, which every endeavor will be made to make it regular to her sex. Before its magical power all irregularities of the womb vanish. It cures whiteness, it restores the system. It braces the nerves and purifies the blood. It never fails, as the thousands of women will testify. This valuable medicine is prepared and sold by J. Bradfield, Atlanta, Ga. Price $1.50 per bottle. All respectable drug men keep it.

THE FALL ELECTIONS. The autumn elections which have just closed teach some valuable lessons. Beginning with September and closing with Tuesday of this present week, fifteen States have voted on general tickets of more or less importance. These States extend from the extreme East to the far West, and embrace remote points in the South, and may therefore be presumed to cover every phase of political opinion. Ten of these fifteen States voted for Hayes for President and five for Tilden. The first important fact that strikes the observant eye is that the five States which cast their votes for Tilden have now been carried for the Democrats, while the Republicans have lost three and perhaps four of those that were carried for Hayes. The five States which went for Tilden last fall, and have now been carried by the Democrats, are New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, and Mississippi. The Democrats held their own in these, wherever there was a serious contest, by majorities which are about the average in what are called the off years. The ten States that have voted this fall for general tickets and which went for Hayes last year by large and in most instances by overwhelming majorities, are California, Maine, Ohio, Iowa, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, and Nebraska. Three of these States have now certainly been captured by the Democrats, and perhaps four, namely, California, Ohio, and Pennsylvania, with Wisconsin rather in doubt, though the chances are in favor of the Republicans. Of the six States in which the Republicans still maintain their control, they have carried two this year by repudiating the Hayes Administration, while in two of the others they have not gotten absolute majorities but elect their tickets by mere pluralities. These seem to us to be highly significant features of the fall campaign. They are an emphatic and stinging verdict against the Fraudulent Administration of Hayes and the policy toward which there is such an outspoken revolt in all sections of the country. These results, however, are not wholly owing to the determination of the masses of the Democracy to testify their abhorrence of the chicanery, the duplicity, the dishonest practices and false pretences whereby Hayes obtained his defective title to the Presidency, but they are to some extent due to the dissatisfaction and disgust which large portions of the Republican party feel toward him for having abandoned and betrayed so many of the principles whereon his supporters fought their battle in the last Presidential campaign. But it is safe to say that severe as this rebuke is, it would have been far more marked and significant if portions of the Democratic party had not surrendered the solid ground whereon they should have fought their battle this fall. The elections of this year present another striking feature. We refer to the unusual number of outside factors which took the field, and the large vote they have cast. The present and probable future effect of this widespread refusal to draw in the traces of the two leading parties of the country is worthy of the grave consideration of both Democrats and Republicans. Indeed, this outside vote has been so heavy that though the Democrats elected their tickets in California and Pennsylvania, and the Republicans elected theirs in Massachusetts and probably in Wisconsin, it will pretty certainly turn out when the canvass is completed that both parties are in a considerable minority in States wherein they have now what, upon a superficial view, seem to be victories. So, too, in Ohio, if we are right in our recollection of the final figures, the Democratic candidate for Governor barely obtained a majority of the aggregate vote, though he appeared to have beaten his Republican opponent by some 25,000. We fancy it will prove to be very much the same in Minnesota where we get the complete returns from the recent quadrilateral contest in that State. We all recollect that it looked upon the surface as if the Republicans had swept Iowa by
