

THE NEWBERRY HERALD.

Special and Local.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1878.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Edgefield Advertiser.
Martha P. Cross—Notice.
Herald Book Store—Do Not Read This.
H. H. Estlin—The Savannah Weekly News.
Cullen Lark and Sarah B. Mitchell—Executors Sale.
Ludden & Bates—The Organ War—A 100 lb. Solid Shot.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Business notices in this local column are inserted at the rate of 15 cents per line each insertion.

Obituaries, notices of meetings, communications relating to personal interests, tributes of respect, etc., are charged as regular advertisements at $1 per square.

Notices of administration, and other legal notices, obituaries, tributes of respect and notices of meetings, as well as communications of a personal character must be paid for in advance.

The subscription price of the Herald is $2.00 for twelve months, $1.25 for six months, 75 cents for three months and in advance. Names in future will not be placed on the subscription books until the cash or its equivalent is paid.

Mr. L. S. Bowers, post master at Prosperity is our authorized agent at that place.

A choice lot of Teas, at H. A. Burns.

About two dozen gentlemen had a splendid barbecue dinner near Mr. W. Y. Fair's Saturday. Thanks for an invitation, which we could not avail ourselves of on account of sickness.

THOMPSON, Dentist, over Mower's Store.

THE LATEST.—We are pleased to see that the genial Biggs, after a lengthy absence of two and a half days, has returned, and is in his usual felicitous condition. His last display with the "ribbons" was behind a trio tandem, which elicited no little admiration.

Nominations not exceeding one square will be inserted for $5, in advance.

HYDROPHOBIA.—Mr. Thos. D. Buzzard lost a mule and a cow last week from hydrophobia. Supposed they had been bitten by a dog. They exhibited all the symptoms of the disease, frothing at the mouth, and going into convulsions when water was thrown on them.

SHOP-LIFTERS.—Winfield Robinson, Caesar Cannon and Albert Counts were detected stealing shoes from Mr. Foot's store one day last week. The Town Council, Thursday night, sentenced each of them to jail for twenty days, or to pay a fine of ten dollars. They are old hands at the business.

THE SAVANNAH WEEKLY NEWS.—With pleasure we direct attention to the card in another column of this sterling paper, which in its issue of July 6, will commence a new serial entitled "Mrs. Dare." It is unnecessary to say more than that the News is an excellent weekly and worth double its price.

Rev. Dr. L. Pierce, of Sparta, Ga., says, I have been speaking two months and have been taking Thrush's consumptive cure nine days, and can do without it. Call at our drug store for a trial bottle, 50c; larger size, $1.00, by mail, Dr. S. F. Fant.

THE GARY.—The vessel, a small schooner, was taken from the wharf at Savannah on Sunday. The keepers had taken him and other convicts to the river to bathe, and while in the water Gary, who was a good swimmer, was seized with cramps and drowned.

All communications relating to personal interests will be inserted at regular advertising rates, one dollar per square, cash in advance.

SPECIAL.—The papers of the county poor house, through their efficient keeper, Mr. H. C. Wilson, have of their abundance sent us a fine and large variety of garden products, hard cabbages, beans, squashes, cucumbers, tomatoes, etc., for which we return hearty thanks, with the hope that they may never know want. That they singled out the editor shows their appreciation of the fact that we are in the same boat.

Another lot of those Fresh Crackers in variety, and French Candy, at H. A. Burns.

EDGEFIELD ADVERTISER.—We invite attention to the advertisement in another column of that veteran journal the Edgefield Advertiser. With an honorable career of forty-two years, it is so well and so favorably known that it needs no recommendation at our hands. Its new features will add greatly to its interest and value. The last number has a fine portrait and sketch of Senator Gordon, of Georgia.

HUNCHBACK.—The Thespian Club has reason to be gratified at the full attendance last night, and the very creditable manner in which the play was performed. Julia and Helen trod the boards with an ease and naturalness very uncommon in amateurs. The gentlemen engaged did their parts well. Fathom and Modes affording infinite amusement to the audience, which served to relieve the mind at proper intervals from the deep and painful interest felt in the seeming fate of Julia and Clifford. The farce that was to close the evening was omitted, on account of the indisposition of one of the principal characters.

QUERY.—Why will men smoke common tobacco, when they can buy Marburg Bros.' Seal of North Carolina? at the same price? — 5-ly.

NEWBERRY COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

The occasion looked forward to with pleasant anticipations for many weeks has come; the first Commencement of Newberry College since its return to its native place. Every effort has been made to render the occasion an enjoyable one.

Visitors began to come in Saturday, and have been coming steadily since. The College Chapel not being large enough for such an occasion the use of the Court House has been tendered the Faculty, and the exercises will all be held there.

The first feature of the programme was the Baccalaureate Sermon in the Lutheran Church Sunday morning by Rev. W. S. Bowman, D.D., of Charleston. The reputation of this distinguished divine attracted a large gathering from the town and the surrounding country, and although the Church is large and additional seats had been placed in every available space, the accommodations were not equal to the demand, and many failed to get in.

The text was Proverbs, 1:7: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction." The sermon was fully up to the reputation of the Doctor, and we regret that we are able to give only a short and imperfect sketch of it. He began by saying that the text was the words of a man who was a philosopher, statesman, theologian; of an author profoundly learned, whose writings have been standard for thousands of years; that it is as true to-day as in the days of Solomon, that "True Religion is the Groundwork and Foundation of All Useful Knowledge." Man, while a fallen being, is also religious by nature. The longing of his nature is for some spiritual remedy. See how manifest is this in the midst of spiritual darkness. Look at the Orient, the cradle of mankind, of religion, arts and sciences—rich in historical reminiscences—there behold Mahomedanism, Astrology, and Superstition lift their heads begrimed with the smoke of sacrifices and stained with blood of victims. Of even such a religion its votaries are not ashamed, but are ready to fight for it or die for it. Look at the Israelites, clinging to the old faith with a unanimity and a sublime tenacity. Look at the idolaters of Hindostan, of Africa and India—their gods are their first boasts, their religion their first principle. The distinction belongs to this great country of containing the largest proportion of those who profess no religion; where many, perhaps the greater part, of the legislators, the judges, and the rulers belong to no church, offer no prayers, confess no faith, are even skeptical concerning the penalties incorporated in their oath of office. Such men may be wise in their own esteem, and in the opinion of the world, but Solomon says they have not attained to the beginning of wisdom—the fear of the Lord. The Old Testament taught a religion of fear, which is modified in the New Testament. The love of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. Sanctified and un sanctified education may be compared to the two houses spoken of in the parable—one built upon a rock, the other upon the sand. The house built upon the sand was as good as the other in its material and design; and as skillfully constructed; but the mistake was in the foundation. It cannot be said that un sanctified knowledge is no knowledge, effort, deep research and many years of toil—but it is built upon the sand; Christ, the chief corner-stone is not in all its construction; and when the storm of final reckoning comes it falls. Voltaire, Hume, Hobbes, Bolingbroke thus built, and it would have been better for them had they never lived to write. It is because of the indeductibility of sanctified knowledge that Solomon says, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." The education that leaves out of consideration the immortality of the soul is evanescent; it is a structure built upon the sand of time. Knowledge is power; but oftener a power for evil than for good, because the world is more susceptible of evil influences.

Who are the "fools" referred to by Solomon?—"but fools despise wisdom and instruction." He does not refer to the Hotentots, nor the Arabs, nor those who are fools by nature, but to many people who are respectable, refined, honorable and honored, rich, distinguished, and terms all fools who like Dives, or like him who had much goods laid up for many years, look only to this present life and consider not that which is to come. Solomon uses "wisdom" for religion, and "instruction" for the learning of religion. The moment faith enters the heart man draws his inspiration from a higher world, his faculties are refined and ennobled, his conscience is quickened, and he is raised above the contingencies of the world. The religion of the Bible is the salient mark of distinction among 100,000,000 of the human family, who regard its acceptance as the highest mark of wisdom, its rejection as the highest folly. He closed by saying, "Young gentlemen of the Graduating Class, I commend it to you as the foundation of all your education. Without it you can never hope to obtain the full development of those faculties which God has given you. Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Sunday night Rev. E. T. Horne, of Charleston, preached in the Lutheran Church by invitation of the Y. M. C. A. of the College. He had a good audience, and delivered a very sensible discourse on Charity.

Monday morning the following students of the Preparatory Department gave an exhibition in declamation in the Court House: Allen G. Wise, Jas. M. Kibler, Ed. J. Houseal, R. G. Wallace, F. J. D. Felder, Jas. B. Wheeler, Jas. P. Kinard, Luther M. Kuhns, Jno. M. Sense, and Gas. E. Werber. The extracts were well chosen, and the young orators acquitted themselves handsomely. Joseph A. West was prevented from speaking by sickness.

This (Tuesday) morning at 10 o'clock Prof. G. D. Haltiwanger, of the Class of 1875, delivered the Alumni Oration, his subject being "Means and Ends of Education." After referring to the varied and trying experience through which the College has passed and the cheering prospects of the future, he said Education. The reputation of this distinguished divine attracted a large gathering from the town and the surrounding country, and although the Church is large and additional seats had been placed in every available space, the accommodations were not equal to the demand, and many failed to get in.

The text was Proverbs, 1:7: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction." The sermon was fully up to the reputation of the Doctor, and we regret that we are able to give only a short and imperfect sketch of it. He began by saying that the text was the words of a man who was a philosopher, statesman, theologian; of an author profoundly learned, whose writings have been standard for thousands of years; that it is as true to-day as in the days of Solomon, that "True Religion is the Groundwork and Foundation of All Useful Knowledge." Man, while a fallen being, is also religious by nature. The longing of his nature is for some spiritual remedy. See how manifest is this in the midst of spiritual darkness. Look at the Orient, the cradle of mankind, of religion, arts and sciences—rich in historical reminiscences—there behold Mahomedanism, Astrology, and Superstition lift their heads begrimed with the smoke of sacrifices and stained with blood of victims. Of even such a religion its votaries are not ashamed, but are ready to fight for it or die for it. Look at the Israelites, clinging to the old faith with a unanimity and a sublime tenacity. Look at the idolaters of Hindostan, of Africa and India—their gods are their first boasts, their religion their first principle. The distinction belongs to this great country of containing the largest proportion of those who profess no religion; where many, perhaps the greater part, of the legislators, the judges, and the rulers belong to no church, offer no prayers, confess no faith, are even skeptical concerning the penalties incorporated in their oath of office. Such men may be wise in their own esteem, and in the opinion of the world, but Solomon says they have not attained to the beginning of wisdom—the fear of the Lord. The Old Testament taught a religion of fear, which is modified in the New Testament. The love of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. Sanctified and un sanctified education may be compared to the two houses spoken of in the parable—one built upon a rock, the other upon the sand. The house built upon the sand was as good as the other in its material and design; and as skillfully constructed; but the mistake was in the foundation. It cannot be said that un sanctified knowledge is no knowledge, effort, deep research and many years of toil—but it is built upon the sand; Christ, the chief corner-stone is not in all its construction; and when the storm of final reckoning comes it falls. Voltaire, Hume, Hobbes, Bolingbroke thus built, and it would have been better for them had they never lived to write. It is because of the indeductibility of sanctified knowledge that Solomon says, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." The education that leaves out of consideration the immortality of the soul is evanescent; it is a structure built upon the sand of time. Knowledge is power; but oftener a power for evil than for good, because the world is more susceptible of evil influences.

Who are the "fools" referred to by Solomon?—"but fools despise wisdom and instruction." He does not refer to the Hotentots, nor the Arabs, nor those who are fools by nature, but to many people who are respectable, refined, honorable and honored, rich, distinguished, and terms all fools who like Dives, or like him who had much goods laid up for many years, look only to this present life and consider not that which is to come. Solomon uses "wisdom" for religion, and "instruction" for the learning of religion. The moment faith enters the heart man draws his inspiration from a higher world, his faculties are refined and ennobled, his conscience is quickened, and he is raised above the contingencies of the world. The religion of the Bible is the salient mark of distinction among 100,000,000 of the human family, who regard its acceptance as the highest mark of wisdom, its rejection as the highest folly. He closed by saying, "Young gentlemen of the Graduating Class, I commend it to you as the foundation of all your education. Without it you can never hope to obtain the full development of those faculties which God has given you. Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Sunday night Rev. E. T. Horne, of Charleston, preached in the Lutheran Church by invitation of the Y. M. C. A. of the College. He had a good audience, and delivered a very sensible discourse on Charity.

THANKS.

Thanks to J. B. Campbell, of Jalapa, for a supply of vegetables.

Hon. J. R. Chalmers will accept our thanks for Congressional documents.

To Capt. Levi Folk we are under obligations for some delicious peaches. Thanks to the committee for an invitation to the Commencement Ball, to come off the evening of the 27th inst.

Policeman Lathrop has placed on our table a ripe tomato thirteen inches in circumference. Can you see it and go one better?

We acknowledge receipt of invitation from Cadet Thos. W. Keitt to the Celebration of the Military Societies of the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va. Our young friend takes a medal as Debater.

MAKE YOUR TAX RETURNS.

All persons who fail to make returns by 20th July, are liable to a penalty of Fifty per cent. Persons who only have a poll to pay, or those who have property and fail to return it, do not thereby escape taxation. It is the duty of the County Auditor to ascertain as near as may be, the value of such property, and to assess the same with Fifty per cent. added. This has been done, and will be done again this year unless Returns are made on or before the 20th July. All Real Estate taken this year anew.

"THOSE SUNNY HAPPY HOURS."

There is toil and there is sorrow In this world, this world of ours, But where mingle with the shadows Ever sunny happy hours.

"Happy Hours" is a lovely song by Millard, author of "Under the Daises," It is published in the Southern Musical Journal for June. This No. also has "There's Music in the Air," quartet; "Dixie's Land," and "Come where my Love lies dreaming," for piano. Single copies 12c. Three copies $1.25, early with $1.00 worth of Sheet Music as a premium, and a Ticket in the $800 Piano Premium Drawing at Georgia State Fair next October. Published at Ludden & Bates' Southern Music House, Savannah, Ga.

Ogburn's Best and Free and Easy Tobacco, at H. A. Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard are at Glenn Springs.

Prof. R. H. Clarkson has gone to Virginia to spend vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitz Caldwell are rusticiating in the up-country.

Morris Gaunt, tonsorial artist, has gone to Glenn Springs with a complete outfit.

Mr. Julian A. Selby, of the Straight-out Democrat, paid Newberry a flying visit Saturday.

Miss Emma Herbert, who has been teaching in Marlboro', is on a visit to the home folks.

Gen. A. C. Garlington, of Greenville, came down on the train Saturday, and is stopping in town a few days.

Mr. A. L. Crouse, one of the proprietors of the Summit Courier, is attending Commencement, taking notes.

The friends of Mrs. George A. Sligh will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from the sprain lately received.

Capt. C. L. Fike, one of the handsomest and best Sheriffs in the State, and Col. J. W. Ferguson, of Laurens, were in town last week.

Gov. Hampton will probably come on the excursion train to-morrow, and remain in town two days to attend the Commencement exercises.

A little four year old son of Mr. J. J. Amick's was brought in on Monday with a plum stone in his left nostril. It was extracted by Dr. McIntosh.

Miss Cynthia Boulware, daughter of Mr. Jas. R. Boulware, of this County, graduated last week at the Columbia Female College. There were sixteen in the class.

Mr. I. E. Orchard, of Columbia, special correspondent of the Journal of Commerce, came up Saturday, and is reporting the Commencement exercises for his papers.

Bill Pratt wants to know why a hop vine winds around a pole with the sun, and a bean vine climbs it the other way? We cannot answer this question, but speaking by the book we can tell the reason why the store of Messrs. Kingsland & Heath, of Columbia, is so popular. It is because they search the markets at home and abroad for every new and serviceable article in their extensive line and sell at very low prices. This is so plain that the who runs may read. In Crockery, Glass, China and Housekeeping articles of every description they cannot be excelled for variety, excellence or cheapness.

LIVER IS KING.
The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

VARIOUS.
Warm.
More rain.
Seasons good.
Plant more beans.
Cucumbers, squashes, corn,
Subscribe to the Newberry HERALD,
Pay all your debts promptly, and
We guarantee that you will all be happy.

Tuesday last was a remarkably dull day.
That corn spoken of last week is still growing.
The town is full of visitors—Commencement.

The band should have gone to Ninety-Six last Tuesday.
"Of all things wisdom is profitable to a man." That's so.

We learn that the "genial Biggs" sold seven buggies last week.
A man never calls his wife a bald-headed old woman but once.

Mr. Bayles Taylor was bitten by Mr. Zed White's dog Monday morning.
Cheap summer reading at the Herald Book Store. A complete novel for only 10 cents.

A company from Abbeville and another from "96" looked like bloody Britishers in their red coats.
The little folks are in grief because our Apricot tree is now bare of fruit. We have a pear tree in reserve.

A French paper thinks that "No Cards" inserted after a marriage notice, means that the company didn't gamble.
A colored girl the other day after sniffing the odor of a case of jessamine balm in full bloom, exclaimed it smells beautiful.

Mr. Mike Bazhardt has left a potato at this office which weighs seventeen ounces. It looks like a piece of Bald Mountain.

It is a good thing for some people that Apollo does not inhabit the earth now-a-days. He was a rare fellow for striking a lyre.

Mr. J. J. Amick claiming to have the tallest corn, came in for the chrono Monday. Ours is a head or two taller and still growing.

He spells right, but hits far short of the meaning when he says I-b-e-x is a billy goat, and u-r-a a sugar dish. He is not going to College yet.

The Newberry Rifles elicited universal praise at the Old Star Fort Anniversary for their martial bearing and efficiency in the drill. The boys deserve it.

We beg every reader of the HERALD who knows that his subscription has expired, to help us out by a cash remittance. It is hard to print without money.

With the exception of subscribers everything is about a fortnight earlier than usual this year. So says a Northern exchange, and we find it the case down South.

E. N. Parker has a whole cucumber, two inches in diameter and five inches long, in a bottle, the mouth of the bottle being only half an inch wide. How did it get in there?

Biggs has taken his buggies on a tour through the upper Counties. Next Fall he says he will waken the country up. We hope to have an elevated roadway for him by that time.

We regret to learn that Master Mat., a son of Mr. D. Walter Barre, had two fingers of his right hand badly cut on Tuesday last, in one of those new Wild Cat's Straw Cutters.

In the good old days cotton was shipped to Columbia at 75 cts. per bale, now it takes $2.25. What a difference—and it is strange that the markets on other lines of road are progressing.

Cucumbers, squashes, cabbages and other vegetables were offered for sale on the streets Saturday in large quantities, but they did not sell readily because nearly everybody in town has a good garden.

As a note of travel, (on foot), the remark of the tramp who was begging something to eat, is one of the best on record. He was so thin, he said, that when he had a pain he couldn't tell whether it was a stomach-ache or a backache.

The farmers say they are having a harder time with General Green (without the final e) than Cruger had with his namesake at the "old Star Fort" ninety-seven years ago. The present General has captured the cotton and corn fields, and it will require a long and vigorous siege to dislodge him.

A couple of little darkeys belonging to two families of laborers on Mr. D. W. Barre's plantation, quarreled and fit, and their parents went to law about it. Result—loss of a situation in one case—and $6 cost in the other. If they had spanked their beloved offspring the end would have been more satisfactory.

A $5,000 market house is being agitated on Mollohon Row—anything to get rid of that ugly display of old stoves-pipes in the rear of the present range. We do not advise the building of this new edifice, however, until the Cotton Factory is completed and in running order, and the new railroad is built which will give Newberry a chance to compete with other towns.

The price of chickens is out of all proportion to other provisions. The price is the same now as when bacon was worth twenty cents a pound, flour twelve dollars a barrel, etc. It's a monstrous absurdity to ask fifteen cents for an unweaned chicken, three of which one of our best doctor's say would just suffice for a well man's dinner. Come down, good folks from the country, be reasonable. With bacon at six cents a pound, it is unkind to ask fifteen cents for five ounces of chicken meat. Consider our philatins.

BENEATH THE STARS.
He sang to his darling, "The stars are forth;
The night winds gently sigh;
There's a light in thy window, love, for me,
And waiting below am I."

Her father the minstrel's voice o'erheard,
And mentally whispered "Wait!"
As he gathered in the serenade up
And yanked him over the gate.

And she? She knew by her lover's words
The wreck that the old man made—
"Ten dollars are what those trousers cost,
And I'm glad the bill isn't paid."

NEWSPAPER BUSINESS.—An exchange says: We suppose many people think that the newspaper men are persistent duns; let a farmer place himself in a similar business position and see if he would not do the same. Suppose he raised one thousand bushels of wheat, and his neighbor should come and buy a bushel, and the price was a small matter of only two dollars or less, and the neighbor says, "I will hand you the amount in a few days." As the farmer did not want to be small about the matter, he says all right, and the man leaves with the wheat. Another comes in the same way until the whole one thousand bushels of wheat are trusted out to one thousand different persons, and not one of the purchasers concerns himself about it, for it is a small amount that he owes the farmer, and of course that he would not help any. He does not realize that the farmer has fritted away all his large crop of wheat, and that his value is due him in a thousand little dribslets, and that he is seriously embarrassed in his business because his debtors treat it as a small matter. But if all would pay him promptly, which they could do as well as not, it would be a very large amount to the far, and enable him to carry on his business without difficulty. The above comparison is too true of the difficulties that the newspaper man has to contend with.

The July number of the Eclectic Magazine, beginning a new volume, offers a favorable opportunity for commencing subscriptions, and its contents are certainly of a kind to attract all classes of readers. It is embellished with a fine steel-engraved figure-piece entitled "The Roman Children," affording a pleasing variation from the portraits of which one is usually found in each number. The leading paper is a trenchant reply by Dr. Elam to Tyndall's famous Birmingham lecture on "Man and Science," and this is followed by a timely discussion of "The Eastern Crisis," by Goldwin Smith. The third paper is a very charming description of "Vienna and Viennese Life," following which are the second part of "The Earth's Place in Nature," by J. Norman Lockyer, F. R. S., "The Maendard's Grave," "Edmund Burke," a wonderful picture of "The State of Paris Before the Outbreak of the Revolution," by Taine, and a curious account of "The Gardener Bird." There are some delightful "Memorials of a Man of Letters," by John Morley; and "The Greatness of the Romans," by Goldwin Smith, is one of the best magazine articles of recent times. Besides several shorter papers and poems, there are four chapters of Black's "Maecled of Dare" and well-filled editorial departments; and the number altogether is one of great variety and interest. Single copies, 45c.; one copy one year, $5. Published by E. R. Pelton, 25 Bond St., N. Y.

The Organ War—A 100 lb. Solid Shot.
If any man insults your common sense by offering a first-class 9 Stop Organ for $65, "shoot him on the spot." All necessity for buying such inferior Organs is forever done away with. $100, Cash, or $110 on Easy Terms, now buys a magnificent Mason & Hamlin Parlor or Church Organ with Four Stops, and Ten Stops, in Extension, New Style Case with Illuminated Panels—Hand-some Style of Case ever produced—Special Offer to introduce this new Style—Sent on trial—Guaranteed for a life time—Rented until paid for—Other new styles just out—Illustrated catalogues free—Address LUDDEN & BATES, Savannah, Ga., Manufacturers' Wholesale Agents for the South.

Would you have Rosy Cheeks?
EXPERIENCE OF A YOUNG WOMAN.—A country girl, young, pretty and happy, her step was elastic and the roses of her cheeks bloomed upon her cheeks. One April morn she was overtaken by a "spring shower," and caught a cold.

It was "particular time," and suppression was the result. At the next "period" nature refused to act. She became swollen, swollen and suffered intensely with pain in the back and ten stops in the stomach, difficulty of breathing, indigestion and headache. Doctors failed to palliate her distressed condition, and she longed for death as the only hope for relief. At the instance of a friend she herself experienced its benefits, she was induced to try Dr. J. Bradford's Female Regulator. One bottle cured her. She was again the happy girl she was that April morning before the shower. The Female Regulator is prepared by Dr. J. Bradford, Atlanta, Ga., at $1.50 per bottle and kept by all respectable drug men throughout the land.

A MOST EXCELLENT REMEDY.
I have examined the recipe of Bradford's Female Regulator, and from my knowledge of its ingredients, believe it a most excellent medicine, as well suited to that class of diseases designated. I have no hesitation in advising its use, and confidently recommend it to the public.
For sale by Drs. S. F. Fant, Pope & Wardlaw, W. E. Pelham and F. P. Pratt.

POST OFFICE.
NEWBERRY, S. C., June 22, 1878
List of advertised letters for week ending June 22, 1878:

Miss Nancy J. Long, Mrs. Wm. Susan Calderwell, Barlow, Risler, Mrs. Susan Gordon, J. H. Willis, Jimey Hipp, J. D.

Parties calling for letters will please say if advertised.
R. W. BOONE, P. M.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.
Down Train arrives..... 3 P M
Up Train arrives..... 2 07 P M
Laurens Train arrives..... 12 40 P M
For sale by Mrs. S. F. Fant, Pope & Wardlaw, W. E. Pelham and F. P. Pratt.
Mails close for all trains at 1 30 P M
Up and Down Trains pass at this place.

NEWBERRY, S. C., March 12, 1870.
I have examined the recipe of Bradford's Female Regulator, and from my knowledge of its ingredients, believe it a most excellent medicine, as well suited to that class of diseases designated. I have no hesitation in advising its use, and confidently recommend it to the public.
For sale by Drs. S. F. Fant, Pope & Wardlaw, W. E. Pelham and F. P. Pratt.

LEGAL BLANKS.
The following Blanks are kept on hand and for sale at the Newberry Herald Office:

Conveyances Real Estate.
Mortgage.
Passbook Property.
Commitments.
Execution Against Property.
Sheriff's Bond for Money.
Warrants of Arrest.
Recognition to Proceed or Testify.
Summons for Debt.

" " " Money Demand.
" " in Civil Action.
" " in Probate Court.
" " in Partition.
Search Warrants.
Subpoena Tickets.
For sale at
HERALD OFFICE.
Jan. 2, 1878.

NOTICE.
The undersigned respectfully informs the public that he has now in charge and for sale, a stock of

DRUGS AND FANCY ARTICLES.
Such as are usually kept in a Drug Store, to which he respectfully invites attention. Prescriptions carefully compounded at all hours of the day and night. Can be found on Pratt Street, near Public Square.

LEGAL BLANKS.
The following Blanks are kept on hand and for sale at the Newberry Herald Office:

Conveyances Real Estate.
Mortgage.
Passbook Property.
Commitments.
Execution Against Property.
Sheriff's Bond for Money.
Warrants of Arrest.
Recognition to Proceed or Testify.
Summons for Debt.

" " " Money Demand.
" " in Civil Action.
" " in Probate Court.
" " in Partition.
Search Warrants.
Subpoena Tickets.
For sale at
HERALD OFFICE.
Jan. 2, 1878.

Commercial.
NEWBERRY, S. C., June 25.—Cotton quiet—milling slow.
Number of Bales shipped during week, 62.

Newberry Prices Current.
CORRECTED WEEKLY
By J. N. MARTIN & CO.

BACON	Shoulders, Prime New.....	5
	Shoulders, Sugar Cured.....	6
	Sides, C. R. New.....	6
	Sides, C. R. New.....	6
	Sides, Long Clear.....	6
HAMS	Uncured.....	10
	Un-cured Hams, (Magnolia).....	12
LARD	Leaf in Tierces.....	12
	Leaf in Buckets.....	12
SUGAR	.....	16
	Powdered.....	14
	Granulated Standard.....	12
	Extra C.....	12
	Yellow.....	11
	New Orleans.....	12
	Demerara.....	12
MOLASSES	New Orleans Syrup.....	15
	New Orleans.....	15
	Cuba Molasses.....	10
	Sugar House Molasses.....	10
TEA	Gunpowder.....	1.50
	Crabbed.....	90
ALLSPICE	.....	25
PEPPER	.....	30
COFFEE	Roasted or Pared.....	20
	Best Rio.....	