There is a slight falling off in this County in the average assessment this year from that of five years ago. The assessment of personal property is larger, and the assessment of real estate in town is also larger, on account of improvements; and new buildings; yet taking the County altogether, the decrease will be not less than $100,000, and will probably be twice that.

THE CANTATA.-Esther, the Beautiful Queen, presented in Thespian Hall Thursday and Friday evenings, was one of the most enjoyable occasions of the season. The costumes, acting and singing were entirely in keeping with the theme. The Chorus of the children in Act V, Scene 1, was delightful. Everything passed off so pleasantly that we were really sorry to see Haman led off to be hanged.

Don't.-The old practice of knock ing spots out of a man must be stopped at once and forever. The necessity of this is plainly to be seen in the fact that the absence of spots on the sun is the prime cause of the recent hot wave which has been experienced all over the country. Don't knock the spots out of a man any more, but if you must go for him, take his scalp off or do something else equally expressive, only be sure and leave his spots.

> The County Commissioners have issued an order to have the roads worked. We hope they will now see that their order is obeyed. The roads of this County are in a deplorable condition; the principal highways being in many places almost impassable. Let good overseers be appointed, and if anybody refuse to work the road after being called on to do so, put the law to him. Overseers, in warning the hands, should give at least two days' notice, as this is required by law in order to make those who refuse liable to punishment.

FINE PEACHES.—The finest peaches we have seen this season were grown at Alston by Mr. John Elkins. The specimens presented us were unusually fine, both in size and quality, and are from trees procured from the Pomaria Nurseries of Mr. Summer. Good fruit is certainly a desideratum, and it is just as easy to have a fine quality as an inferior one, and we wonder why it is that our farmers do not improve their orchards by the introduction of acclimated stock warranted to be as represented, instead of buying trees from far off Nurseries, and which so frequently prove of no account. Mr. Elkins is sending his peaches all over the coun-

A CORRECTION .- A local in the last issue, in regard to the incarceration of Jim Rook, colored, to await trial at the Sessions Court for assault and battery, seems to reflect upon Trial Justice Carlisle, though not so intended. It stated that Mr. Carlisle ought to have tried the case himself, and that four months confinement in jail, besides the expenses was more than commensurate with the offense charged. The particulars of the assault, as appears from the written testimony, is that Rook beat his wife most unmercifully over the head and body with a big stick and a buggy trace, that be stamped upon her with his feet, she being at the time enciente: that the poor woman was rendered unconscious by this treatment for four hours, her life having been despaired of, and that this a very acceptable manner. DEATH .- The many friends of Mr. S. B. Calcutt and family, formerly of Newberry, will learn with sorrow of the death of Mrs. Willie Moore, the youngest daughter, which sad event occurred in Spartanburg, on Monday, the 22nd. Her illness was of a protracted character, but was borne with sweet patience and Christian fortitude, and up to the last moment her mind was bright and clear, and her beautiful trust and faith in the Divine love and acceptance gave her afflicted family and friends the assurance that all was well with her, that death was disrobed of all terrors, and that her only pain was the parting from her family and the two little babes she had to leave behind. Just before her death she gave loving admonitions to all around and sent assurances of love to absent friends, and particularly to the dear physician, Dr. L. C. Kennedy, who so faithfully and patiently waited upon her. Death is at all times sad, in this case particularly so, and to the sorrowing family and friends we tender our heartfelt sympathy at the loss of one so amiable and lovely in character, and who will be so much missed.

PROVIDENTIAL ESCAPE. -On Sunday afternoon, the 21st, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Chase, formerly of this place, fell from the garret window of the Piedmont Hotel in Spartanburg, a distance of 40 feet to the hard ground below and miraculous to state without a bone being broken. Only a few minutes before, Mrs. C. had been entertaining her little ones and those of her sister, by reading and singing previous to sending them to Sunday School, when little Lula becoming impatient started to play, and the rest all following ran up stairs into the attic, the windows of which are cut low down to the floor, It is supposed that while running near the window her foot tripped in the carpet when she was precipitated below. Hog PENS .- Of all the abominable nuisances in a crowded town in the summer time, the worst is a hog pen. From it arises an effluvia not only unpleasant to the neighborhood near it. but one which is positively unhealthy, and we think it within the province of the Council to assert authority in its removal. For common protection all such nuisances should be reported, and the Council requested to interfere. In this connection it is proper to state that there are filthy sinks which should be looked after, and the owners be required to put them in such condition as that the public health be not endangered. Some weeks ago allusion was made to the importance of a thorough cleansing out of all filth, but we are satisfied that this has not been generally done. We respectfully suggest that the town marshals be directed to use their noses and eyes while making their rounds and report all unpleasant odors and sights.

Since the above has been put in type played universally upon Pianos and we are pleased to state that the Marshals have been authorized to give notice that all such places must be cleansed and purified. Three days from Monday last is the time given.

In Lexington County, twenty miles away North-west on the Columbia Road, lies Spring Hill, consisting of a few straggling residences that need not fear the floods, because founded, not upon one but a million rocks.

Here, at 10 A M., on the 27th inst. in the presence of a large concourse of people in the Lutheran Church, this first reunion was inaugurated by the election of D. B. Busby, A.M., as Chairman, Mr. Cyprian M. Efird, A.B., as Secretary. The exercises having been opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Hawkins, Editor of the Latheran Visitor, an excellent

ADDRESS OF WELCOME, in behalf of the citizens of Lexington County, was delivered by Mr. C. W. Welch. This was eloquently responded to by Prof. J. B. O'Neall Holloway, by appointment; and, afterwards, by the Chairman officially. The first subject, COLLEGIATE EDUCATION, was treated by Rev. Prof. Geo. W. Holland in his usual plain, practical and exhaustive manner.

After an intermission of upwards of an hour, during which the good ladies, under the umbrageous boughs of some neighboring oaks, organized a spiendidly attended mass meeting in the interest of internal improvements, the following sentiments were proposed: 1st. The Alumni, Students, and Friends of Newberry College, which was responded to by Prof. G. B. Cromer. 2nd. The Common Public Schools Our Country, which was responded to by Prof. J. B. O'Neall Holloway. 3d. The Moral and Intellectual Edu cation of the Youth of Our Country—the Great Demand of the Age. Replied to by Mr. J. Brooks Wingard, A.B. 4th. The Endowment Fund, responded by Rev. Prof. S. P. Hughes. 5th. Newberry College; Its Past, Present, and Future, responded to by the Hon. Henry A. Meetze, State Senator from Lexington County, in an extemporaneous, splendid address abounding n the wisest precepts to old and young. The audience, apparently highly gratified with the day's entertainment, was then dismissed with a benediction

According to all that we have seen and heard, these reunions promise to become very beneficial, not only to the College, but, also, to the people at large in the way of stimulating an interest in the Common Public Schools and in raising the standard of them. We, therefore, wish them continued
