This paper may be found on file at Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Advertising Office, 119 Spruce street, where advertising contracts may be made for it in New York.

Mr. L. S. Bowers, post master at Prosperity is our authorized agent at that place.

Deaths. Mr. W. H. Blaise lost his only child, a son one year old, Wednesday morning, the 9th instant. He died of congestive chill.

Laura, a four year old daughter of Mr. W. H. Blaise, died Friday morning, the 11th instant, of typhoid fever.

Go to H. A. Burns for a good assortment of Crackers, Plain and French Candy. 9-ly Opened Again. Read the advertisement of R. B. Keene in this issue. Give him a call.

Thomson, Dentist, opposite Herald office Preacher's Meeting.

The Preacher's Conference of the Reedy River Baptist Association will convene this (Tuesday) afternoon in the Baptist Church.

Ice will be kept for sale during the season, and can be had at all times at the Confectionery Store of H. A. Burns. 20-ly.

North Georgia Stock and Fair Association. We have received a Premium List of the North Georgia Stock and Fair Association. The Fair will be held in Atlanta, commencing October 20th and continuing one week.

Chew Jackson's Best Sweet Navy Tobacco. 42-ly

Robertson, Taylor & Co., Of Charleston, successors to Geo. W. Williams & Co., have an advertisement in this issue to which we call attention. Any business in their line entrusted to them will be faithfully and promptly attended to.

St. Mary's Muse. Is the name of a monthly Magazine edited by the young ladies of St. Mary's School, Raleigh, N. C. The June number, a copy of which we acknowledge, is filled with spicy and readable articles. Subscription, per school year, 50 cents.

Agricultural Liens. With and without mortgage attachment, and Landowners' Liens. For sale at HERALD BOOK STORE.

Out on the Fowl. Chickens thieves plied their avocations industriously Saturday night. The Senior of the Herald lost ten from a coop in his yard; Rev. J. B. Campbell, next door, lost seven from his yard, besides a water bucket and dipper that were in his back piazza.

Go to H. A. Burns for a good assortment of Tobaccos, Cigars and Pipes. All prices. Cheap. 9-ly

The Very Finest. Attention is called to the advertisement in this issue of Geo. A. Clark's Spool Cotton, for great strength and general excellence received a gold medal at the Paris Exposition in 1878. It is claimed that this thread is the strongest, smoothest and most elastic in the market. It can be had wholesale and retail of Mr. J. D. Cash.

Special Notice. All persons indebted to the Herald Book Store by memorandum accounts, are requested to call and settle at once. No goods hereafter will be delivered until paid for. 16-ly Pushing Advertising too Far. "Bless my soul!" said Col. Crawford, last Sunday morning. "This is too bad! Here's Bull's Cough Syrup in the Bible!" The Colonel took off his specs, rubbed them carefully and looked again. "Yes! here in the 23d chapter of Isaiah, 15th verse—'Over 300,000 bottles of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, &c.' Well, I thought that Bull got everywhere else except in the Bible. Now I'll give it up; it must be a good thing." Mrs. C. came in and explained that she had cut the slip out of a newspaper and put it in her Bible for safe keeping and it had stuck to the leaf. So the Colonel was satisfied.—Savannah, Va., Tindictor.

Barbecue at Jalapa. Wednesday, the 23d inst., at the Beverdam Spring, to be given by C. G. Chapman and T. R. Wright. Dinner 40 cents. It.

Chicken Fanciers in Limbo. A week or ten days ago Mr. Noah Martin had the lock of his fowl house broken and eleven chickens stolen. The tracks showed that four parties were engaged in the stealing. Butler Gilliam, Columbus Sanders and Boozer have been arrested and jailed. Ben King, the other party supposed to have been implicated, is still non est.

On the Excursion. One of the parties who went up to Hendersonville Saturday on the excursion didn't go for the pleasure of the thing; the grand scenery of the Bine Ridge had no attractions for him. He had been to Hendersonville before; and having gone he will, very likely, be persuaded to stay all summer. This excursionist's name is George Livingston, and he is of the sable persuasion.

Last November when Howe's Circus was here George took Mr. Polk Mangum's horse and rode it off. He was arrested and jailed on a charge of grand larceny. He soon broke jail and fled to Hendersonville, N. C. He broke open a store there just before Christmas and stole a considerable amount of goods. He then came back to Newberry and hired to Mr. T. F. Harmon, two miles from town. Sheriff Wheeler captured him there the night of January 10. He was tried in February, and acquitted on the ground that he took the horse mistaking it for another that he had been told to take. He has been working for Mr. Harmon since. Thursday evening Sheriff Williams, of Hendersonville, came after him, with a requisition. Chief of Police Felmers had already got the "dots" on George, and that night he, Deputy Sheriff Glenn and Sheriff Williams went out and took him in. The Sheriff left Friday, and took the excursion train Saturday morning, with his prisoner, at Strothers, on the S. U. & C. R. R.

Go to H. A. Burns for your Confectioneries, Canned Goods, Tea, Spice, Pepper, Laundry Soap, Starch, Bleaching Soda, Sugar, Coffee, Pickles, and also a good assortment of Toys. 9-ly

Heat, Rain, Crops. The greater portion of our County has suffered severely for rain. Some portions of the County have had good seasons. The section of country between Newberry and Prosperity and down as far as Pomaria has scarcely felt the drought. Matters had begun to look blue to most of the farmers. Red land cotton and corn have done very little for several weeks. On sandy land the cotton stood the drought very well till last week, when the excessive-ly hot weather made it wilt. The heat regular meeting will be held at Trinity, on the 3d Wednesday in August. The following are the officers: C. C. T.—Jno. H. James. C. R. H. S.—Miss Lizzie White. C. L. H. S.—Miss Maggie Rive. C. V. T.—Mrs. M. E. Packer. C. S.—James Packer. C. A. S.—Mrs. S. E. Thompson. C. F. S.—G. A. Ropp. C. T.—Miss R. K. Birge. C. M.—J. L. Wise. C. C.—J. W. L. Sheppard. C. I. G.—Mrs. M. A. Killian. C. O. S.—A. A. Killian.

It will pay you to go to Keene's Th Shop to get your old tin ware mended. Next door to Foot's. 29-2t.

Think of it. What a delightful, happy world this would be if we would but remember that we are all sprung from the same old stock, and consequently are all uncles, aunts and cousins to each other. If we would behave ourselves becomingly and act as if skin we might be as happy as the days are long. Unhappily there is not much love, and a heap of selfishness among the uncles and aunts and cousins of the present day, they won't even tell about a good thing lest some might be benefited or made glad, and if it were not for the newspaper editors whose hearts overflow with love to their fellows, many a good man and woman would go down to the grave without realizing many of the great blessings of life. Luckily we have it in our power to ameliorate this unhappy condition and do so on all occasions, and this time take particular pleasure in saying that housekeepers will find it to their advantage to make all their purchases of china, glass, crockery and other ware at Kingsland & Henth's elegant establishment in Columbia. There is no article in their extensive line but can be found in this store. 25-ly.

R. B. Keene to the front again. Cheaper than ever. Next door to M. Foot's. 29-2t.

Godey's Lady's Book for August. Comes to us full of good things, bright and fresh as an April daisy, though August suns may wilt everything else. The sketch by Darley is a beautiful seaside scene, that little folks may laugh over, and parents recognize as exquisitely true to nature. The mammoth colored fashion plate is unusually fine, but in addition are many pages of fashions in every detail for the wardrobe of a well dressed lady and her children. The serials continue with increased interest. There is a purity and sweetness about the girls in the "Rosebud Garden" that will repay any readers for a peep over the fence. The literary department comprises names well known to lovers of choice literature, and is a well chosen bouquet of prose and poetry. The Recipes are especially arranged for a Garden Party, one of the most popular forms of fashionable hospitality. All the usual features of the Book are given in their best form, and there are always new charms to be found in Godey.

Send $1 to the Publisher, and try it for 6 months.

Portulac, or Tabler's Vegetable Liver Powder, is a safe and effectual remedy for some of the greatest ills to which flesh is heir, and it is not noble to suffer the pangs of a disordered Liver, and thus be incapacitated for usefulness, when, by opposing it with this purely vegetable compound, we can put to flight Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Biliousness, etc. Price 50 cents. For sale by W. E. Pelham. cow.

Seasonable Spring Goods. Rubber Balls, Bats, Tops and Cords, Rubber Balls, Croquet Sets, Marbles, Fish Hooks and Lines, all sizes, Playing Cards, &c. H. A. BURNS.

Various and all about. The new buildings are progressing rapidly.

Farmers are wearing long faces—crops are dreadfully short.

Don't forget to make your tax returns. The time expires next Saturday.

Personal. Maj. Jno. P. Kinard has gone to Glenn's. 29-2t.

Mr. Z. P. Moses and family left Monday for Sullivan's Island.

Mr. Wm. A. Kinard is on a visit to his father at Williamston.

Mr. A. J. McCaughrin is summering at Saratoga Springs, New York.

Mr. James E. Todd is spending a few days at his old home in Laurens County.

Miss Leila, daughter of Mr. H. H. Blaise, has returned from Williamston Female College to spend vacation.

Mr. Jas. K. P. Grogans returned to Newberry Saturday from the Law School of the University of Virginia.

Dr. Albert P. Johnstone, of Anderson, stopped over a few days in Newberry on his return from the Southern Dental Association, held last week in Augusta. He is looking well; Anderson agrees with him.

Miss Mattie Boyd, of Newberry, spent last Friday night and Saturday in our town, the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. G. Morgan. She delighted us with her brief conversational powers for a brief hour or two on Saturday evening. Miss Boyd is one of those bright, genial spirits, in which melancholy finds no lodgment, and in whose presence kindred souls linger, taking no note of time as it passes. It is always a pleasure to meet her.—Hygeial Monitor.

For the Herald. Intended for last issue, but came too late.—Eius.

(GABLE END O' NOWHERE, A. D. 1879th.

To say that the "De'il is to pay and no pitch hot," would be but a poor expression of the conditions of things generally in this dilapidated portion of the "moral vineyard," known by the local name of "Dutch Fork." Socially speaking, there is enough gab circulating to run a high-pressure steam lift with enough force to either uplift all the errors, mental, moral, physical and political extent, or to burst the "blasted meridian." Pecuniarily we are non est incantatus, and from present appearances don't expect or care to be incantated; and the want of rain is beginning to suggest the want of bread in the near future, and even now real "cake bread" and sweetened coffee are "Sunday doings"; whilst "apple Johnnie" and "Mountain Dew" are excessively Utopian. I see no chance but to "go West, young man, go West," and take the woman along with us, notwithstanding the prophetic utterances of the "sleeping beauty" who dined on Bowie knives, bullfrogs and bullets, with Comanche Indian sausage served woda a la Delmonico—in a dream.

Please pass around this prescription to the author of that newsy letter published not long since in one of your papers: Take equal parts of good livery ashes and water. Stir in the ashes well then filter slowly. Dose—one pint three times a day. No cure, no pay. I really envy that boy his talent.

We have been feasting lately on a mixture of literature and pies, and are glad to say that our hospitality was extended to some of your city's fairest daughters and ugli—"Porbeareance is a virtue" when it keeps one out of a scrape, otherwise it is a humbug) long-est sours. To see, occasionally, a long unau is a pleasure, but a whole dozen at once creates a vague idea of famine, nevertheless we would be glad to see them all again, and will do so if we can infuse enough life into the Newberry Rifles to get a drill out of them, if not it devolves upon us (the Editors) to perform the "last sad rites,"

Each soldier shall discharge his farewell shot Over the place where the "Rifles" are buried.

Digestion is the father of "gas." I have digressed so here goes for the gas. What is the reason for the loss of interest in military affairs by the young men of Newberry village? It cannot be owing to any indifference on their parts, as is proven by the proficiency which they attained before their disruption. It cannot be any want of patriotism, for they have ever evinced pure principles in that direction; therefore it must be owing—I blush to say it—to opposition from a source which they cannot peculiarly disregard. If this be the case—and I am informed that it is—we may soon look for the re-encantment of Shylock's part in the celebrated Venetian blood trade. Can it be that those who once opposed themselves, a mighty bulwark, against the bail of death, to protect the liberty of our own "sunny land" cannot brook the loss of a few hours, when those few hours will redound to their credit, and in all possibility to the future independence of that land which they battled to defend. We hope not, and really believe that, after mature deliberation, there lives not one who will offer opposition, in its slightest form, to the military education of those who are zealous of a chivalric race, brighter than which none ever shone upon the indestructible scroll of fame.

If such there be, go scan his face, And see therein no love enrolled; For aught but that which brings disgrace; Prepared to conduct the love of gold; The cringing brow of cowardice; The grasping hand of avarice; Despised in life, forgot in death, And hated in his latest breath.

faces have assumed that look of some kind which has to the present writing baffled all known tongues in explanation.

There will be an excursion train run over the S. U. & A. R. R., on next Saturday, the 12th of this month, under the auspices of one Kirkland. Leaving Alston at 4 A. M., and arriving at Hendersonville, N. C., at 12.10, and return on same day, all for the sum of $1.25 for round trip. It is to be hoped that some good soul, with more money than judgment, will come along with $1.25 worth of interest in my health on that day, if so I will be enabled to tell you in some future epistolary confusion how much larger the mountains are than mole hills, how much Saur Krant is "on the head," and how large a string of beads they deck each part of—, but this last is enough to break the heart of a smothering iron, consequently I will leave you to keep me company in mouth-watering anticipation. Reading this over it looks like a hint, but allow me to assure you that 'twas not intended as such, for Editors have something else to do with their millions, and I—well, I keep better company.

For fear of writing a letter before I quit—which is entirely foreign to my intentions—I will call a "halt," "stack arms" and "break ranks" for the present. HOFFERTON. Rose Cottage, July 4th, 1879.
