FEBRUARY WORK AND PLANS.

Extracts from the American Agriculturist. The last month of winter has be gun for the Northern farmer, while in the Southern States spring has already opened; whatever is to be done in the way of preparation can be no longer delayed. A late beginning makes a late season, and to regain time lost now, may be found impossible hereafter. A far. mer who is behindhand is a prey to accidents and misfortunes of the season, and often finds his labor increased, and the results lessened by reason of his own carelessness. On the other hand, the forward man gets the benefit of every advantage, and many disadvantages of season are safely passed over, because he is ahead of them.

HAULING OUT MANURE.—While the ground is hard or covered wirh snow, the manure heaps can be hanled to the fields with the least trouble. Those who have profited by our hints for the past few months, will have the manure in good condition for hauling out now; others will have it lying around loose and frozen, and consequently useless for some time yet.

The finest manure is made by turning the heap over twice. To do this, begin at each end of the pile, and throw off the manure to a distance of three feet, building up the new heaps, and placing the coarsest manure in the center. Then proceed until two heaps are made. These will soon heat, and a month or so afterwards the process may be reversed and the two heaps made into one again.

CABBAGES.—Every farmer should raise cabbages, both early and late. For early kinds, the seeds should be sown in a hot-bed this month, unless plants started last fall have been keep through the winter in cold-frames. Directions for making a hot-bed will be found under the Notes for Kitchen and Market Garden. It is not a waste of manure to use it for a hot-bed, as it will be all the better for application in the garden after it has served this purpose-

SPRING WHEAT .- In many localities spring wheat will succeed if it is sown early. Open weather this month, may permit plowing and sowing, although the under soil is still frozen. A cold spell may freeze the ground, or cover it with snow, but the seed is safe, the work is done; and one may rest contented, while others are grumbling.

Plowing should be done, only when the soil will crumble loosely; when the plow smears the upturned surface, the soil will be injured. While earliness and forehandedness are commendable, one should make haste with caution.

LOOK AHEAD !- A farmer should always think in advance of his work. The whole plan must be laid out in the head, before the hands are put to it. There is timyet left for thinking over what should be done in the next two or three busy months.

localities the future prosperity of the farmers will depend upon the growth of larger crops by the expenditure of more labor on the land. To reach this end will be a work of time, but it will never be reached unless a beginning is made, and there was never a more propitious time to begin than now.

VALUES ARE INCREASING .- Every relic of the long continued depression-the seven lean years-now happily gone by, is passing away. Prices are advancing, and every purchased thing costs considerably more than a year ago. The farmer who values his land and stock may justly put up the figures from 25 to 50 per cent. His income must be made to increase in proportion, and this must be done to a great extent by increasing in every possible way the productive value of his property.

BETTER STOCK MUST BE KEPT .-The right stock too must be kept in the right place. The choice and management of animals require an accurate knowledge which must come from outside of his own farm practice. A farmer can not test these things for himself and run the risk of losses that would be ruinous to him. All this has been done and recorded in books and agricultural papers, together with much other indispensable information, so that

A farmer must be a reading man; else he can never hope to be as successful as he should be. A dozen volumes of the American Agriculturist will form a nearly complete cyclopædia of agricultural, mechanical, and other useful knowledge for any one who lives by cultivating the soil. The work of the farm, garden, and household has been discussed, described, and explained in these volumes for more than 30 years back, in a full, fresh, and instructive manner; with them one can learn how to improve his own stock or where to procure the best animals, as well as to improve every method of working, enabling him to meet nearly every question and demand that may naturally arise.

KEEP THE GOOD CALVES .- As the cows come in, the best of the heifers may be selected for raising. There can be no better way to improve the stock of cows than to use a good bull and keep the best calves, well feeding and caring for them until matured. After these become cows a selection can again be made for breeding, and only the best retained. In a few years the value of dairy cows may be doubled by this careful practice of selection.

GEESE AND DUCKS .- These are profitable birds in some cases, and may be kept where there is cheap grazing. Half a dozen geese will soon fill a good sized feather bed or a pair of pillows. The white ducks are perhaps equally useful in this way. Both of these will now begin to lay, but must be closely watched and kept up at nights or they will drop their eggs abroad. The eggs should be gathered and kept in a cool; but not cold place until they are wanted for setting.

Scalloped Oysters .- Crush and roll several handfuls of Boston or other nice crackers; put a layer in the bottom of a buttered pudding dish; wet this with a mixture of the oyster liquor and milk, slightly warmed; next put a layer of oysters; sprinkle with salt and pepper and put bits of butter upon them then another layer of moistened crumbs, and repeat until the dish is full; let the top layer be of crumbs thicker than the rest, and beat an egg into a little milk and pour over them; put bits of butter thickly over it and bake half an

Dear Sir—During this year I vai ed in ne hundred cases of lung diseases. In the lower wirds of the city the cases were of a very severe ty e. It was there my attention was called to Tutt a Expectionant, and I comess my surprise at its wanderful power. During a practice of twenty years, I have never known a medicine to act as preapptly, and with such happy effects. It instantly subdued the most violent fits of coughing, and invariably cured the disease in a rew days. I cheerfully indorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

This is a compound remedy, prepared with scientific skill from vegetable ingredients, which rarely fails to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever and the concomitant disorders. Such a remedy the necessities of the people in malarious districts demand. Its great superiority over any other medicine yet discovered for the cure of Intermittents is, that it contains no quinine or mineral, and those who take it are free from danger of quinism or any injurious effects, and are as healthy after using it as before. It has been extensively employed during the last thirty years in the treatment of these distressing disorders, and so unvarying has been its success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. It can, be safely recommended as a sure remedy and specific for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South, which, once broken up by it, do not return until the disease is again contracted.

The great variety of disorders which arise from the irritation of this poison, such as Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Splenis Affections Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and derangement of the Stomach, all of which become intermittent or periodical, have no speedier remedy than AYER'S AGUE CURE, which cures them all alike, and protects the system from future attacks. As a preventive, it is of immense service in those munities where Fever and Ague prevails. as it stays the development of the disease if taken on the first approach of the premonitory symptoms. Travellers and temporary residents are thus enabled to defy these disorders, and few will ever suffer if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity, it is an excellent remedy; it stimulates this organ into healthy activity, and produces many remarkable cures where other medicines

THE SUN FOR 1880.

THE SUN will deal with the events of the year 1880 in its own fashion, now pretty well inderstood by everybody. From January I until December 31 it will be conducted as The Oldest and Best Fashion Magazine in newspaper, written in the English language, and printed for the people As a newspaper, The Sun believes in get-ting all the news of the world promptly, and presenting it in the most intelligible shape—the shape that will enable its readers to keep well abreast of the age with the least unproductive expenditure of time. The greatest interest to the greatest number—that it is happendighter its daily make. that is, the law controlling its daily make up It now has a circulation very much larger than that of any other American a wspaper, and enjoys an income which it is at all times prepared to spend liberally for the benefit of its renders. People of all conditions of life and all ways of thinking ny and read THE SUN; and they all derive satisfaction of some sort from its columns, for they keep on buying and reading it. In its comments on men and affairs, THE SUN believes that the only guide of policy should be common sense, inspired by gen-nine American principles and backed by honesty of purpose. For this reason it is, and will continue to be, absolutely independent of party, class, clique, organization, or interest. It is for all, but of none. It will continue to praise what is good and reprooate what is evil, taking care that its language is to the point and plain, beyond the possibility of being misunderstood. It is uninfluenced by motives that do not appear on the surface; it has no opinions to sell says those which may be bed. sell, save those which may be had by any ourchaser with two cents. It hates in-ustice and rascality even more than it hates nnecessary words. It abhors frauds, pities ools, and deplores aincompoons of every species. It will continue throughout the ear 1880 to chastise the first class, instruct any names afterwards at same price as the the second, and discountenance the third. All honest men, with honest convictions, whether sound or mistaken, are its friends. And THE SUN makes no bones of telling the truth to its friends and about its friends whenever occasion arises for plain speak-These are the principles upon which THE SUN will be conducted during the year to The year 1880 will be one in which no patriotic American can afford to close his eyes to public affairs. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of the political events which it has in store, or the necessity of resolute vigilance on the part of every citizen who desires to preserve the Government that the founders gave us. The debates and acts of Congress, the utterances of the press the exciting contests of the Republican and Democratic parties now nearly equal in strength throughout the country, the varying drift of public sentiment, will all bear directly and effectively upon the twenty-fourth Presidential election, to be held in November. Four years ago next November the will of the nation, as expressed at the polls, was thwarted by an abominable conspiracy, the promoters and beneficiaries of which still hold the offices they stole. Will the crime of 1876 be repeated in 1880? The past decade of years opened with a corrupt, extravagent, and insolent Administration intrenched at Washington. The Sun did something toward dislodging the gang and breaking its power. The same men are now intriguing to restore their leader and themselves to places from which they were driven by the indignation of the people. they succed? The coming year will bring the answers to these momentous. THE SUN will be on hand to chronicle the facts as expediency and right.

Thus, with a habit of philosophical good humor inlooking at the minor affairs of life, and in great things a steadast purpose maintain the rights of the people and the principles of the Constitution against all iggressors, The Sun is prepared to write a ruthful, instructive, and at the same time entertaining history of 1880.
