The paper is stopped at the expiration of time for which it is paid.

The mark denotes expiration of sub

Pianos and Organs.

HAINE

9-1

Can Give You Satisfaction Both as to Prices and Terms. CATE WANT PIANOS.

These Organs and Pianos can be purpochased on easy terms for a small cash payinent, and balance to be paid in installinents. Specimens of these Instruments can be seen at Mrs. Redus & Daniels' Millinery Store.

W. M. SHACKLEFORD. To Nov. 24, 48 6m. RGANS

parison to the foisted upon a unscrupulous

0

以

wares by Miscellaneous. CROCKERY

GLASSWARE.

A nice assortment of CROCKERY and GLASSWARE just received and for sale by

WRIGHT

Who still has only a few of those CHEAP STOVES left. Call quick if you want one. Who still continues to carry on the TIN BUSINESS in all its branches, and keeps a Tinware and Stoves. And last, though not least, who will do all the ROOFING, GUTTERING and other JOB WORK he can get, just as cheap as he can afford it. Mar. 23, 47—1y.

SPRINGS. GLENN SPARTANBURG CO., S. C.

The Proprietors of this Celebrated Watering Place respectfully announce that it will be opened this Season on the 1st of May under the same management as last year. TERMS OF BOARD.

Per day.....$ 2 00 Per week...... 12 0-1 Per week for 2 weeks..... 10 00 Per week for 3 weeks..... 9 00 Per week for 4 weeks...... 8 10 Cottages to Rent-per tenement-of 3 rooms—for the Season, $30.00; Whole Cottages—6 rooms—for the Season,

Special attention given to shipping the Water. The Springs can be reached from Spartanburg at lowest rates by Hacks. SIMPSON & SIMPSON, May 11, 19-tf

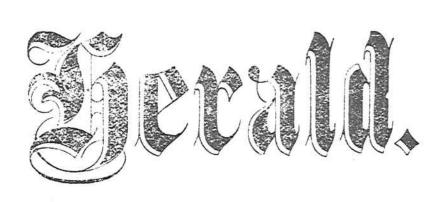

Proprietors.

1880. GRAND CENTRAL HOTEL (Formerly the Wheeler House,) COLUMBIA, S. C.

THOROUGHLY RENOVATED, REFURNISHED AND REFITTED. TERMS, $2.00 TO $3.00 PER DAY.

Nov. 10, 46-tf.

A Family Companion, Devoted to Literature, Miscellany, News, Agriculture, Markets, &c.

Vol. XVII.

NEWBERRY, S. C., WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1881.

No. 21.

Miscellaneous.

SPEECH

HON. M. C. BUTLER, OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

In the Senate of the United States, Thursday, April 28, 1881.

YY MR. PRESIDENT: I have had no Burnside.]

very ungracious duty-but never- duress, should be held responsible bargains' are sometimes made Senator from Georgia [Mr. Hill.] Virginia has said that he has ginia, in the public belief, a de- ment answer the calumnies against national Legislature. And if in the public utterances of all Senthe heat of earnest discussion I should appear to transcend the the public. limits of parliamentary propriety, I trust it may not be regarded as intentional or wanting in a proper estimate of senatorial deco-

Mr. President, on the 20th of this month referring to some observation made by the Senator from Maine, [Mr. Frye,] who I regret very much is not in his seat, in a colloguy between the honorable Senator from Rhode Island [Mr. Burnside] and myself, I used the following language:

The Senator sat there and heard that tirade; but when I rise and attempt to vindicate myself, the Senator comes to the front and declares that whoever says there was a bargain in this Chamber, has uttered a falsehood.

Mr. Burnside. Well, I do say

Mr. Butler. I have made no such charge; but, Mr. President, if I do not demonstrate it by irre fragable testimony I will resign my seat in this Senate.

Again I said: The Senator from Maine arraigned the entire South almost; he arraigned every Senator from the South, charging that we are here the representatives of States that have repudiated their public obligation, as an excuse for something that is being done in this Senate. Further on I said: But Mr. President, I have been betraved into saying a great deal more than I intended when I rose. I repeat that at the proper time if the remarks of the Senator from Maine, in my judgment, by. whom perhaps he had never shall require further notice at my hands as to what he may have dition of affairs down there, I | not guilty; 'I never saw the deate to hear me in response; but for the present I desire to repeat that that is not the issue. The real issue is whether or not a barcaucus or the democratic caucus or both combined in exchange for the influence or the vote or the power of any man or set of men. to wit, the officers of this Senate. They do not belong to us. They belong to the sovereign people of this country, and we control them in trust for the people and not to barter away for political power.

I regret extremely that the Senator from Maine who saw fit to make this arraignment of myself, and my associates, and my people is not in his seat; I regret that circumstances will not permit me to postpone what I have to say, until his return; for I shall have something to say about him, and about his State, which I should prefer to have him hear. I said, Mr. President, that I him: but when he and his new constituency, as a democrat, and JOHN T. WILLEY, Propriet'r. made no charge of a bargain in political allies rise from their seats | Second. His purpose to vote the Senate, and I repeat it. I said in this Senate and charge me with with the republicans was never der, piracy, rapine, arson, rape, in- ing snffrages and corrupting the ities, morals, and customs.

promise made to the honorable ernment and protection of society, liberties of the people. Senator from Rhode Island, [Mr. mankind provided that men who are twenty one years of age, who tablished by circumstantial evi-It is not an agreeable duty—a are sui juris, who are not under dence as well as crime. 'Political > ators and all men who belong to It is not my habit, it has never cowards, the patriot and the dem been my habit, to impugn the motives or question the integrity of any Senator; and while it is true that we cannot 'search the human heart,' how many human beings have been sent to the gallows and to the State's prison for life upon circumstantial evidence! How many of the greatest and most party tyranny is so unrelenting revolting crimes in history have and exacting, like the cyclone in time with the republicans-never tion. been investigated and determined nature, when it bursts from a upon circumstantial or presumptive evidence, when no eye saw the earth, tearing up by the roots and no ear heard the actor committing the crime! It is also true that there can be no crime without intent. The presence of crim- the chaff and dry leaves of auinal intent is necessary to constitute crime or wrong-doing, but mankind frequently determines the character of the crime committed or wrong done by the acts of the individual, by circumstances, by indirect evidence, not by the plea of not guilty or the protestations of the accused or suspected. It is not sufficient in the affrirs of this life, in a civilized country to meet a charge by the plea of not guilty and by the counter charges of falsehood and cowardice and slander and revoluare not met in that way. The ciety are more exacting.

man who stands upon a house-top ed him to the Senate, I had never they seek to create, thereby paraand recklessly throws a bille' of wood upon a crowded street below and kills one of the passersseen or heard of before, will it avail for that man to come before said about my State and the con- a court of justice and say, 'I am shall take occasion to ask the Sen. | ceased; 'I had no malice against him,' (and malice is a necessary ingredient to constitute murder;) 'it is a cruel falsehood to charge | dence? What is that circumstanme with murder.' This does not tial presumptive evidence by gain has been made on this floor satisfy society, it does not satisfy which it is proven? Hundreds of custodian of his own democracy, by which it is proposed on the the law made for the protection criminals have been sent to the and yet he has transferred the one part to take something which of society. So the law intervenes, gallows and hanged until they custody of it to the republican does not belong to the republican and says, 'Although you may were dead with not one particle caucus and votes its 'bidding.' never have seen or known the deceased, you have a heart devoid of social duty and fatally bent on mischief.' and the law implies malice from the reckless act of burling the billet of wood from the house-top into the crowded highway and destroying the life of the innocent. So there are innumerable examples that I might use to illustrate the proposition, that acts and circumstances some times 'speak louder than words; as true when applied to political action and official life as to law or morals or social duty.

> with the motives of the Senator lated as follows: from Virginia. I make no charges would go to establish beyond all in vindication of myself, to ac- veloped that fact. doubt that a bargain had been count for the course that I am Third. Following close upon and others of his caucus propose poses and intentions of Senators, litical arrangement by which the to the chairmanship of an impor- ployes of the Senate until next as individuals, I have nothing to offices of the Senate are proposed tant committee of this body. disposition to take part in this de- individual integrity and honesty pose, then my conduct is unjusti- republican caucus of Mr. Riddlebate, and should have carried out of Senators. The junior Senator fiable, but if I believe conscien- berger, a democrat, his intimate, my purpose to remain silent but from Virginia [Mr. Mahone,] says tiously, from the evidence, not personal and political friend, for Virginia and other republican Sen- than I have ever been before in civilizations in this country; there for the most remarkable and un- that 'no man can search the hu- from my own say-so, that there Sergeant-at-Arms, and the Senacalled-for philippic of the Senator man heart.' That is true. No has been, it is my bounden and tor says he is responsible for that from Maine [Mr. Frye] and some power but the power of Omnis sworn duty to act accordingly and nomination. novel and extraordinary proposi- cience and Omnipotence can prevent if I can by all constitutions of his republican colleagues, search the human heart' and in- tional and lawful means the conwhich have made it necessary for terpret its mysterious operations; summation of that which I believe me to enter into a vindication of but in making ordinances and will bring trouble and disaster republican organ in this city, who do this to divert the attention of of all the States of the Union, and bloody-bones of war and famine my own course and to fulfill a rules and regulations for the gov- upon this country and upon the had earnestly espoused the Sena- the country from this unnatural their devotion to popular educa- and revolution at us with terrible theless a duty; and I shall en- for their acts as well as their ut- by political parties and receive deavor to discarge it fearlessly, terances. While I do not attempt the assent of men who, as individ and with becoming consideration to 'search the human heart' and uals, would never think of confor the feelings of my brother determine what motives influence senting to them. Where party ham. Senators and a due regard for Senators or gentlemen, I have the ambition, party exigency, the love those amenities of debate that right, and it is my duty as a Sen- of party power, become aroused the President, of the personal and hands with no man who has not retrograde movement of years, so creased from about five to twenty should always control us in this ator, to criticise, legitimately, the and a line of policy is entered up- political friends of the Senator to expressed repentance for his sins as to bring her back from the fit- million dellars; taxes amounting high and dignified branch of the public acts, the public votes, and on, every member of that party is important Federal positions in of rebellion; and there must, teenth in grade to her original to about ten millions more wrung swept along before its irresistible power, the honorable and the disbonorable, the courageous and the agogue, the staesman and the time-server, and honorable men sometimes find themselves obeying the behests of party dictation, involved in measures and policies against which their private judgment and feelings revolt. It will always be so, Mr. President, while cloud and sweeps over the face of the strong, sturdy monarch of the forests, at the same time that it of the United States to do their lot and fair count' in Virginia; my son only obey my voice, and I have not the time. tumn. Many allowances should ding. therefore be made. Many are made for the weakness of partisans who are unwilling to brook the displeasure and encounter the frowns of less scrupulous party > friends by resisting the unconscionable demands of party. But if when I propose to vindicate myself and those with whom I am acting and to justify our official conduct in this senatorial contest I am met with denunciation instead of facts, argument, and reason, the country will not be tion and treason. No, sir, charges satisfied, the people will not be law demands something more sub- charges upon the Senator from which the Senate was convened stantial, and in the conduct of Virginia, I had never charged in extraordinary session until they human affairs the interests of so- him with being a repudiationist, I shall have disorganized the Senate In the familiar illustration of a treachery to the party that elect. Senator to the vacancies which not choose to admit that he was ward the Senator for his votes and right in all that he was doing. But, Mr. President, recurring, gives them. what is the evidence which demonstrates the existence of a 'political bargain?' What is that evi- steadily with the republicans. of direct evidence as to the crime with which they were charged. The power and force and efficacy of circumstantial evidence rurs through the entire civil and criminal code of this and all civilized countries, and it has been affirmed by men learned in the law to be in many cases the very strongest and most conclusive and convincing of all evidence. Now, what are the facts and circumstances and the inevitable inferences and conclusions to be drawn from them. going to establish the truth of the charges that have heen made? I repeat, I have nothing to do They may be grouped and formu-against him. I have nothing but ginia [Mr. Mahone] was elected party (the democratic) and build upon that State prepared to buy lecture on this side of the Chamber, that the Anglo-Saxon race of the the kindest feelings personally for to the Senate by a democratic up our own (the republican) is every venal voter who offered evidence which in my judgment duty, it becomes necessary for me first vote in this Chamber de- able,' says that Senator.

Fifth, the nomination of Mr. on this floor, because they vote as 'Political bargains' may be es- (the editor) is an uncompromising plausibility to an untenable and joyment of a priceless suffrage is concerned I would simply say this: 'stalwart' republican, and the Sen- wrong position. ator a 'better democrat than the |

Virginia, although the Senator therefore, be some other reason says, and they say, they are dem- for the interchange of political Eighth. The President has not affinity and personal regard. appointed other democrats, the democratic Senators in any other State, to important Federal posi-

Ninth. The Senator has voted rupt partices, seek to prevent on one hundred and twelve times, up | this floor free speech and legitito April 26, since he has been a mate discussion touching those member of the Senate, and every charges by threats and denunciawith the democrats-although he said in his speech, printed in the signed for this extraordinary ty coming to him, and in the lan- ocratic administration for the same Record on the 31st of March last, that 'I was elected to the Senate | Virginia is in favor of a 'free bal- claiming, 'Upon me be thy curse, | 096, and so on through the list. But carries before its whirling tempest will, [meaning his constituents,] that it secures 'a free ballot and go fetch me them.' The republinot to a caucus to do its petty bid- fair count. Whereas there is no can party says this to the Sena-

Tenth. By said votes the Sen- the 'ballot' is not perfectly 'free' ator is carrying out the will of the and count 'perfectly fair' in Virrepublican caucus as obediently ginia. The elections in that State as if he had never belonged to are managed by three election fend Virginia from those who at- vail throughout the State. any other party.

from the democratic to the republican side of the Chamber, and appears to obey the dictation and publican and readjuster. 'bidding' of the republican caucus and republican Senators as abso lutely as if they controlled his will and senatorial action. Twelfth. The republican caucus and republican Senators have resatisfied. I had never made any fused to transact the business for had never charged him with and elected the friends of the charged him with a want of fidel- lyzing the executive arm of the ity to his trusts; and yet, in the Government, preventing the profirst utterance he made on this per discharge of the public busi floor, he takes occasion to arraign ness, obstructing the wheels of every democratic Senator who did the government-all this to refor political power that his vote

Thirteenth. The Senator still claims to be a democrat, but votes

Fourteeuth. The Senator avowed in his speeches that he 'is the Fifteenth. The action of the Senator and the republican caucus in seeking to turn ont faithful officers at an executive session of the Senate and elect and install others, some of whom are untried and inexperienced, is with out precedent in the history of the Government.

Sixteenth. Mr. Riddleberger is, as he avows, a 'democrat' and unreconstructed; a readjuster or repudiationist, and must therefore be objectionable and offensive to republican Senators.

First. The Senator from Vir- thing that will beat down that bags of money, and they camped and then proceeded to read us all a of terror and suffering and wrong.

further that I would produce the 'revolution and treason,' it is my announced to the public until his cendiarism-'anything' is 'justifi suffragans when your powerful cor Eighteenth. The same Senator made; and in proceeding to do taking, and for the votes that I this 'new departure' and that to buy our acquiescence in their their will and their bidding, and that I wish it to be understood cast. If there has been nothing vote, was the assignment of the corrupt party policy by tendering made a travesty and mockery of it has been ground down for a hunthat with the motives and pur- improper, if there has been no po- Senator, by the republican caucus, pay to the present democratic em- free elections. 'A free ballot and dred years by slavery. December, if we will allow the to Maine before I get through that | South was founded upon barbarism, do. I am not here to impeach to be transferred from one party Fourth. In a brief space of time election of Riddleberger and Gor- such a thing as a free ballot and a and the civilization of the North motives, to call in question the to the other for an improper pur- followed the nomination by the ham, and this, too, without the fair count' is scarcely known (meaning I suppose New England) semblance of law or right.

> and questioned the official integrity of every democratic Senator in his speech:

George C. Gorham for Secretary their conscience dictates; and we dial relations with all sections of civilization; that we had been conof the Senate, the editor of the have a right to assume that they a common country and the people quered; and he rattled the raw-head tor in his newspaper, although he alliance, and bolster up and give tion, their efforts for the free en- significance. So far as my own State Twentieth. The Senator from their determination to make Vir- Her records under democratic govern-Sixth. The appointment, by the nothing to apologize for respect. sirable home for all men, wher- her and I confidently refer to them. Senator, as clerk of his committee ing his part in the confederate ever their birthplace, whatever I wish I had time to run through the of the brother-in-law of said Gor- army, is therefore, unreconstruct- their opinions, and to open her catalogue of crimes under the rule of ed, and the President of the United fields and her mines to enter- his friends in that State from 1868 to Seventh. The nomination, by States has said that he will shake prise and capital, and to stay the 1876. I could show her debt inand personal favors than political my action here should be controll- riots, lawlessness. ballot-box stuff-Twenty-first. The Senator from party has waged war upon my archy; public officials holding high Virginia and some of his new political allies, instead of inviting in-> but the hand is the hand of Esau.' judges-one republican, one readthese is not a free ballot and fair whole country.

been made, far and wide, of cor-

Twenty-third. It has hereto- rent and torn by the rough plowfore been the unbroken, universal rule and practice of the republicans to nominate none but republicans for Sergeant-at-Arms, and make none but republicans chairmen of the committees, when in the majority, except as to the last, to give unimportant chairmanships to three of the oldest democratic members of the Senate. They have never before made a democratic Senator chairman of one of their important committees-in this case one who bas been recently sworn in-and never before have the republican caucus nominated for the important position of Sergeant-at-Arms a democrat unreconstructed | yards of my own dead as to atand a repudiationist. Mr. President, it is said that you want 'a free ballot and a fair count' in the South; you want to dissolve 'the solid South.' I hope I may not be considered as indi-that-claim is. 'A free ballot and a fair count!' when the gallant democratic State which my distinguished friend on my left [Mr. Voorhees] so ably represents in part on this floor was colonized with colored voters from the South immediately preceding the last election to nullify neutralize the democratic vote of that State. A 'free ballot and a this Chamber upon the ground that abuse and misrepresent us because we Seventeeth. The republican Sen- fair count!' when you sent your he was a new member here, 'the act with the northern democracy. In ator from Ohio avows that 'any- emissaries into Indiana with justifiable in morals and law.' himself for sale; when you spent people, attacked our habits and kindness, not an expression of revidually offensive to any republisay a 'free ballot and a fair count'

is the last thing that you want,

and I have only to turn to the record of the last election to show porations and monopolies coerced their employes, dependent upor them for their daily bread, to vote a fair count!' If I do not show as Nineteenth. The Senator from taken in the effect of evidence school-book, &c.; that there were two ators have assailed the motives my life.

and an honest count of ballots, vestigation of charges that have I conceive to be the interests of this. I could show that in one year coalition is that the Senator from | guage of Rebekah to her son. ex- | purpose spent in one year but $84.tack her and ought to have been Eleventh. He moved his seat juster, and one democrat-and if her defenders. I have never attacked Virginia; I could not find count the fault lies with the re- it in my heart to attack that State. I have seen her fair bosom much of the uncomplaining, unbeautiful daughters, and splendid hands to attack Virginia, and I have given some evidence at least of my desire to defend her by taking the chances of death upon her beautiful hills and classic fields. made no attack upon that oid State. My own blood is mingled soon think of attacking the grave- his assault upon South Carolina. tack ber. If I had any inclination to attack anybody in Virginia, can Senator on that side when I how absolutely empty and unreal dictate in this body.

ADVERTISING RATES.

and 75 cents for each subsequent insertion. Double column advertisements ten per cent.

Notices of meetings, obituaries and tributes of respect, same rates per square as ordinary

Special Notices in Local column 15 cent

Advertisements not marked with the num-ber of insertiors will be kept in till forbid, and charged accordingly.

Special contracts made with large adverisers, with 'iberal deductions on above rates

JOB PRINTING DONE WITH NEATNESS AND DISPATCH

TERMS CASH.

He arraigned my State. He said we did not have 'a free ballot and a fair count,' and he used this unfortunate expression :

Ah, it is easy to shoot labor when He said that the civilization of the

there, then I shall be more mis- was founded upon the Bible, and the had been an 'irrepressible conflict' be-The Senator from Virginia said tween slave labor and free labor, and he arraigned the entire South The desire of our people for cor- for her 'barbarism' and want of She needs no defense at my hands. position among the first in the from impoverished people, stolen, sizterhood of States, forbid that squandered, wasted; race conflicts, ed or influenced by a caucus whose | ing, crime, confusion, disorder, an constituency and where party carnival in debauchery, profligacy, success is held paramount to what robbery, conspiracy. I could show all Virginia and the welfare of the the republican Legislature spent for public printing $385,000. The dem-He asks a blessing for Virginia | ocratic Legislature spent only $6.178 He will pardon me for saving for the same purpose. The republithat 'the voice is Jacob's voice, can Legislature spent for legislative expenses in one year $1,533,574, and Twenty-second. The reason as- I think I hear the republican par- in four years $4,187,573. The dem-

Now, under democratic rule the expenses for the public service are reevidence here or elsewhere that ator and the Senator responds for duced to the minimum of economy Virginia with 'the voice of Jacob.' | and are about one fourth of the radibut with the 'hand of Esau.' He cal expenses. Peace, quiet. order. says that he is called upon to de- prosperity, progress, good feeling pre-

The Senator would invite us to another republican feast like the one which broke up in confusion, terror, flight, in 1876. I shall decline the invitation. The whole people of the State decline, except the vampires who share of war. I have seen too fattened (and fled) on the vulgar viands of radical debauchery. No. flagging devotion of her fair and sir, we want no more of it, and we will not have it. I refer the Senator to gallantry and daring genius of her any twenty of the most respectable, peerless sons. I have received intelligent, patriotic republicans in too much of kindness and hospi- that State, ay to any 20,000, and let tality and consideration at their him ask them if they would have the State remanded to republican hands such as controlled it in the flush days of radical rule. Let him ask them if it would be a good thing for them, for the State, for the whole country, to and so has the Senator. I have exchange the present democratic govverument for any that the republicans could organize. By their answer with her dust, and I would as I will abide, and this is my answer to

And is this eternal, everlasting, insatiate, insatiable, crusade upon the it would be those of her sons South never to stop? If secession whose course, I believe, is bring- was a crime and a mistake, oh, how ing dishonor and degradation up- egregiously has the South suffered for on her. If I had any disposition it! If maintaining slavery in her to attack 'the old mother of States' | midst was a crime, how the revenges or her sons, or any of her people, of time have settled with her for it! it would be those who are asking Is there then never to be a cessation, blessings in her name and receiv- a stop to tantalizing, misrepresenting, ing them for themselves. I have calumniating a people who have had not only not attacked Virginia, a problem to deal with that no people but I have attacked none of her have ever had since civilization dawnsons. But I am not content as a ed on the earth-such a problem, I southern Senator to permit her say, as no people have ever had to junior Senator, or any other Sen- solve. They have been and are doing ator, to impugn my motives and the best they can to solve it, fairly asperse my integrity because I and honestly and truthfully, and in see fit to vote as my inclinations accordance with that love of constitutional liberty and republican freedom which was born with them. It And now I crave the indulgence of seems to me that, instead of helping the Senate while I discuss another us to solve it, the republican party matter. The Senator from Maine have thrown obstacles in our way, and apologized for the remarks he made in then curse and anathematize and voungest Senator.' I believe he said, all those dark days, in all those days assailed our civilization, arraigned our South was subjected to, not a word of Corrupt bargains, perjury, mur- millions all over the country buy- methods of life, denounced our pol- lief, not a whisper of sympathy