Newberry, S. C., May 11, 1882.

Mr. L. S. Bowers, post master at Prosperity is our authorized agent at that place.

Parties wanting Fertilizers for cash or negotiable paper will see J. C. Taylor, Saluda Old Town. Feb. 9, 6-3m.

Military Review.

Adjutant-General Manigault will review the State Volunteer Troops at Prosperity June 5th; and at Newberry C. H. June 6th.

Rev. J. W. Neely will preach at Lebanon next Sunday at 10:15 o'clock A. M., instead of at his regular appointment on the 3rd Sunday of the 21st inst.

A Vegetable Freak.
Mr. A. Y. W. Glymph, of Glymphville, sends a radish resembling a person's left hand, but deformed. It is a singular looking affair.

Dr. Moffett's Teething (Teething Powders) will cure your child. For sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants. 50-ly

Painful Accident.
Mr. H. H. Franklin was thrown by his horse Saturday near Mr. Croswell's. The horse, newly shod, stepped on his right hand and mashed it in a fearful manner.

Uno
That diarrhea, colic, and cholera morbus, are things not wished for by anyone, but who suffering from any of them, Pelham's Balm is just the trick to stop it. 25c per Bottle. 18-2t

Peterson's Lady's Magazine.
The June number of Peterson's charming magazine is received, and we find it full of interest to the family circle. Its monthly visits always afford pleasure. If there are any ladies among our readers who do not take it we advise them to subscribe at once. Clubbed with the HERALD, the price is only $5.50.

The Oriental Casket.
Is the appropriate title of a new paper, quarto size, 16 pages, published by L. Lum Smith, 912 Arch Street, Philadelphia. It is indeed a repository of literary gems, and is superbly printed. The subscription price is only $2 per annum, or 15 cents per single copy. We advise our readers to subscribe for it.

Beauty Regained.
The beauty and color of the hair may be safely regained by using Parker's Hair-Balm, which is much admired for its perfume, cleanliness and dandruff eradicating properties.

Due West Men.
It speaks well for Erskine College that she has so large a proportion of graduates among the public officers of Newberry County. The following were educated at that institution: Senator Thos. C. Brown; County Commissioner J. C. Wilson; County Clerk Ebenezer J. P. Chalmers; Auditor Jno. K. G. Nance.

Bridge at Bouknights.
The Newberry HERALD suggests the building of a bridge at Bouknights, and says that the C. G. R. will give $1,000 towards it. Of course the bridge would greatly benefit the people of that section of Edgefield county, but it would chiefly benefit the merchants of Newberry, and would certainly be to their interest to build it. —Edg. field Chronicle.

Attempted Suicide.
Dr. Homer P. Tarrant, of Newberry, shot himself in the head Tuesday with the supposed intention of taking his own life. The ball entered the head bone, glanced and came out near the temple. The accident occurred in the rear of Col. Leavelle's residence.

Dr. Tarrant has been in very bad health for some time past. His ill health had probably something to do with his rash act. The wound is not considered serious.

Vanity! Vanity!
One of the handsomest pleasure crafts on the river is that of Mr. Stephen B. Fowles, just launched this season. She is a bateman, sloop rigged, 10 feet long, 7 feet beam and was built by Mr. Oliver Curtis, who has already turned out some fast sailers. Mr. Fowles has named his boat "Vanity," but it is by no means vanity to expect that she will beat the sails of any other good craft in the sailing matches that are proposed for the coming summer.—See Island News.

In our minds eye we can see Steve sitting back in the "Vanity" with Miller in hand skinning Beaufort Bay, and wish we could enjoy it with him.

The following sweet little epistle was found on the streets the other day. The young man who wrote it deserves to be promoted to the halls of Congress:

"Dear Miss —
—As soon as the first warm day comes, filling the soul with longings for the draught that 'cheers but not inebriates,' would you not go with me and slake your thirst with a glass of Pelham's beautiful and delicious Soda Water? His flavoring is soda-lightful that you can scarcely decide which you prefer. Will you meet me at the fountain?"
— Ever yours,
— W. — H. —

A History Worth Having.

The new and charmingly beautiful, as well as wonderfully cheap edition of "Green's Larger History of the English People" which is being published by The Useful Knowledge Publishing Co., New York, is most deservedly finding a place in the libraries of home libraries. No history is better worthy of a place in even the smallest library, and, though formerly published by the Harper's at $10, it is now easily within the reach of any one, the price varying in the several forms, from 65 cts. in one volume, octavo, Utility binding, to $3.35 in 5 vols. Elzevir edition, half Russia binding. It also forms a part of the first volume of the Cyclopaedia of History which is shortly to appear. These editions are for sale by the wholesale booksellers, and club agents and canvassers are wanted everywhere by the publishers to whom are offered very unusual inducements and facilities.

THE AMERICAN FARMER

For May 1st, is a number of great excellence, and its leading article, the Prize Essay by Dr. M. G. Elzey, of Virginia, on the advantage of raising improved farm live stock in the present state of agriculture, will be read with much interest and profit. The Farmer devotes much space to questions connected with live stock, fruit growing, market gardening, etc., and is always alive to new discoveries and improvements in the line of agriculture. Its contributors include men of practical experience, who work daily in the several departments on which they advise. Dr. Pollard, ex-commissioner of Agriculture of Virginia, continues his admirable papers on the agriculture of the South, and the improvements of lands, and a number of other writers contribute to the instructive variety of this number. A Home Department will please the ladies, and a number of interesting articles will be read with the "Weighted and Wandering." Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine.
The June number abounds with brilliant and highly interesting contributions by the editor (Rev. Dr. Talague) and other talented writers. The opening article, "Henry Wadsworth Longfellow," is by the editor, also an admirable article, "Brightening Prospects" and the "Home Pulpit" contains one of his characteristic sermons, "Shall We Know Each Other in Heaven?" "Milan and its Cathedral," "The Philosophy of St. Ignace," and "The Pilgrimage of Goutbeil and Irges," are among the prominent illustrations in this highly interesting and well-edited number. The "Religionists in America," by Rev. J. V. Lewis, with its five illustrations, will not fail to attract great attention, as will likewise "Grub Street, London," by Frances Hayes. The sketches, essays, etc., are by well-known authors; "Margaret's Enemy" are continued, and the poems are numerous and of great merit; many of them are beautifully illustrated. Besides an abundant miscellany, there are the following interesting features: "The Collection Basket," "Information for the Curious," "Religious Facts and Fancies," etc., etc. A single number costs 25 cents only, and the annual subscription is $3, postpaid. Address, Frank Leslie, 23, 35 and 37 Park Place, New York.

The Agricultural Review.
And Journal of the American Agricultural Association for May, will contain an exhaustive article on the Cattle Industry of the United States, by Hon. J. B. Grinnell of Iowa, giving a complete history of cattle breeding, the development of the industry, and a detailed description of the various raising of the Plains in the Western States and Territories; showing the lands best adapted to the business, and describing the methods of herdsmen owning from 500 to 20,000 head each.

The number will also contain articles by Hon. Cassius M. Clay, Dr. Peter Collier, Prof. J. B. Smith, of Kentucky, Dr. E. C. Lewis, Sturtevant, and other practical and scientific writers.

The proceedings in full of the Great National Agricultural Convention recently held in New York, including addresses and papers by Hon. J. T. Kinney, Francis D. Moulton, Dr. John A. Warden, Rear-Admiral Anson, Gen. H. E. Tremain, Hon. N. T. Sprague, A. A. Willard, and other leading agriculturists and speakers.

The thirteen papers on Entomology, giving full directions for growing the crop, building sites, and preserving the fowling, by the ablest and most experienced entomologists in the United States, comprising the fullest, most reliable and most valuable information on this subject yet published.

The Agricultural Review is published quarterly with supplements, and is pronounced by the highest authorities the most valuable publication of its class issued.

Terms.—$3.00 per year. Edited and Published by Jos. H. Reall, Secretary of the American Agricultural Association, 26 University Place, New York.

Reliable agents wanted in all sections of the country.

The American Exposition of Products and Manufactures, being inaugurated by the Association, gives unmeasurable value to the Agricultural Review. The HERALD and Review will be furnished for $4.

Mad Dogs.

A mad dog was killed at Helena Friday by Mr. B. H. Holman, supposed to have been bitten about three weeks ago, when several other dogs at that place were bitten.

Mr. J. B. Regain's dog appeared to be affected Sunday and conducted himself strangely. Mr. Regain, fearing he might be mad, killed him.

W. L. Gourdin's dog went mad in town Monday morning. He killed it.

Skin diseases are increasing to an alarming extent, and when left alone take deeper root, and the longer neglected are the more difficult to cure. They all indicate a diseased or impure condition of the blood. A few bottles of the great vegetable alterative, S. S. S., by purifying the blood, cures all such diseases, and bids future years of such suffering. Price, $1.00 and $1.75 per bottle.

Rev. H. C. DuBois

Delivered an address yesterday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church, and another at night, on the subject of Chinese Missions. Mr. DuBois was born in 1817 at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Burlington. He was sent out to China in 1872 as a Missionary, and has been engaged in missionary work in that country up to four months ago, when he came home, by direction of the Presbyterian Church, for the purpose of advocating the cause of missions and reorganizing the church in this country more thoroughly upon the subject. Since his return he has traveled over a large portion of the Southern States delivering lectures, giving information regarding the work being done and exciting a greater zeal and greater efforts in that direction.

Mr. DuBois while in Newberry is the guest of Rev. Mr. Smart, who was a classmate of his in the Seminary. He will leave to-day.

Supervisors of Registration.

Last week we gave the list of Republican Supervisors appointed by Bryan of the U. S. Court. As stated at the time, the list was not perfect. This week we give the full list; and also the list of Democratic Supervisors appointed by Judge Bryan:

An Elopement.

Four or five weeks ago a man named F. E. (or Frank) McGill, from Lancaster County, stopped at the house of Mr. Marcus L. Shell, on Mr. S. D. Garlington's place, near Liberty Hall. He remained there under the plea of being sick, and Mr. and Mrs. Shell were very attentive and kind to him—especially Mrs. Shell. Mr. Garlington, not liking to see a man killing and loitering about the place, told Mr. Shell about two weeks ago he must send the stranger out of his character. Mr. McGill, however, before he left the latter part of week before last. Monday, 1st, he wrote a letter to Newberry to Mrs. Shell a most affectionate letter, calling her his "beloved," hoping she would soon be Mrs. McGill, and asking her to meet him that night at her father's, Mr. Thos. Phillips. The letter did not reach her, but was delivered to her husband on the postoffice at Whitmer's Thursday morning. Mrs. Shell had already died, having left with McGill the night before, and her whereabouts unknown, taking with her best clothes and other articles necessary to carry. They have not been heard from since. Mr. Shell has sued out a warrant of arrest against the guilty pair.

Mr. Shell is a wheelwright; a hard-working man, about fifty-five years of age. His wife is about forty, but looks like a girl of twenty, and is a fine looking woman of considerable intelligence.

They have been married twenty-four years, and have had children; but none of them are living. McGill is about forty or forty-five, and is a good looking fellow. It is said that he has a wife and a daughter fifteen years old in Lancaster County.

The Farmers and the Literary Revolution.

A recent issue of the "American Agriculturist" contains some insinuations respecting upon the character of the Useful Knowledge Publishing Company, of New York. They are insinuations only, no direct allegation being made. Their foundation is mere fear, on the part of the Agriculturist publishers. The average cost of books published by The Useful Knowledge Publishing Company, in proportion to their retail value is less than one-fifth that of the Orange Judd Co. With an investment of less than three years the "Literary Revolution" gave the American people over one million dollars' worth of the choicest books the country has ever seen; more in value than any one publishing house in the United States has published in a third of a century, and more than would have given them for five million dollars. No class is abused more abundantly by the book publishers than the farmers. I was a farmer boy before I was a publisher, and know the feelings of both sides. Twenty-five years ago I was a barefooted boy, driving an ox-breaking team through the hazel-brush and prairie grass through the hazel-brush and prairie grass between "Iowa," and reading Grimsbury's "Iowa," and "The New York Tribune" between times and by daylight. I thought and I got there a little too much of "Useful Knowledge," and of strength to allow assistance slander to overthrow the enterprise which I have given my life. I shall realize his fear that the Useful Knowledge Publishing Company will publish books as well as other books, and will not charge $1.50 for a book that does not cost 15 cts. to manufacture. In response to pressing and almost distressing calls from all over the country, from farmers, boys and teachers, it will also enter the field of school-book publishing, and we shall see at this season of the year, and every body should know that Pelham's Blackberry Balm is a specific. Only 25c per bottle. Try it. 18-3t.

Registration.

Supervisor Fair spent Sunday at home. He says the negroes are registering very generally; that the whites are not registering so fully, but he has no doubt that they will all register before the books are closed. Many sensible farmers are now busy in their farms now, but would come to the Court House in June and register. The Republican Supervisors at the different precincts keep a list of those who register.
