The fire caught in the lint room, and is thought to have come from a match in the cotton. The two gins were burned and about three bales of cotton. The engine was not injured.

When in the Course

Of human events it becomes necessary for a man to blow his own horn, let him do so with no uncertain sound, but blow low, loud and sonorous, that all may hear alike. We respectfully announce without fear of contradiction, and with an assurance of stationery, fancy articles, fine paper, envelopes, visiting cards, and printers' stock, never was larger, better or more complete. Come and examine it, and what you don't see ask for.

If you will use a bottle of Dr. Fant's Chill Cure you will shake no more. 35f

The Second Primary Election

Came off Tuesday. The result is published in another column. Maybryn sent in no returns; and it is reported that no box was opened there. The vote at that box is light, having been only 34 at the first primary; so that it would not have changed the result. But it is very much to be regretted if no election was held at Maybryn; and if that section have not some good excuse for their failure to hold an election they will be censured severely, and deservedly so. They should, by all means, have held an election, unless it were impossible to have done so.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for October.

The great excellence and the remarkable cheapness of this periodical have secured for it, deservedly, an immense circulation. The present number is exceedingly interesting, entertaining, and full of general information, and contains the only Living General (Sir Garnet Wolseley), by Alfred H. Guernsey, is an admirable and timely article. It has seventeen illustrations. Among other notable profusely illustrated articles are: 'A Visit to the Phosphates in Fields and Hills'; 'A Visit to Palermo'; 'The Last King of Tahiti'; 'The Mariner's Compass'; by Wm. Durban, etc., etc. A new series by M. T. Caldwell, 'A Whited Sepulchre,' promises to be deeply interesting; 'The Letter'; 'Or. The Jocelyn Sin,' is concluded; and there are short stories, sketches, etc., by S. A. Weiss, A. E. Barr, Margaret F. Aymer, etc.; poems (mostly illustrated) by popular writers, and a miscellany embracing a large variety of interesting and instructive reading. The embellishments are even more than the usual numbers, and are meritorious works of art; the colored title-page, 'The Sultana and her Attendant,' is very beautiful. The price of a single number is 25 cents; yearly subscription, $3 post-paid. Address: Frank Leslie, Publisher, 35, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

Our tabulated vote is not official, but, no doubt, correct. We did not obtain it from the Executive Committee, but directly from the different boxes, through the kindness of the Managers, to whom we return thanks. The new nominees do not appear this week at the "mast head," because the official count has not yet been made. It will be made to-day; and next week they will appear in their proper place.

The Quintette Club, the unrivaled and only genuine vocalists, will appear again Monday night. After serenading their sweethearts they paid their respects to the editor, and poured forth their tribute of song at his feet, so to speak. The performance was opened with an entirely new song that is destined in time to become popular. From a few words caught up here and there it sounded like something about the Sweet By-and-by. This was followed by a touching and pathetic song about the fly on the wall, and by other select melodies. Our thanks are tendered to the kind vocalists.

The Republicans of the County are lying low and watching their opportunities. They did hope for a time that there would be a contest put in the field, but that hope is gone; there is not the remotest probability that anything of the kind will be done. They are now waiting to see whether the half dozen greenbackers in the County will do so; and if the aforesaid greenbackers do not put out a ticket they will get back. They have no intention, so far as we can learn, to put out a straight republican ticket; they think they can accomplish their purpose better in another way. Their purpose is to oppose the regular democratic ticket, and they are trying to devise some scheme to disguise their real object and to get the support of some who in the County. In this they they will not doubt fail; but all the same, they will put out a ticket before the election comes off. The ticket will likely be selected by the executive committee. They are working in secret, in the hopes of taking the Democrats unawares. Their County Chairman, Henry Kennedy, is very close about it, but he is working in the dark. He has not yet got any of the campaign fund; he is expecting, however, some one from the State Chairman, E. W. Mackey. Money will be furnished to beat the democrats. It behooves the democrats to be wide awake and to watch closely, and to secure all the votes they possibly can.

to vigorously push a business, strength to study a profession, strength to regulate a household, strength to do a day's labor without physical pain. All this represents what is wanted, in the often heard expression, "Oh! I wish I had the strength!" If you are broken down, have not energy, or feel as if life was hardly worth living, you can be relieved and restored to robust health and strength by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, which is a true tonic—a medicine universally recommended for all wasting diseases.

See N. Fremont St., Baltimore. During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago I brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors were unable to relieve me. I could not live. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving. G. DECKER.

Death of Major Peter Hair. Major Peter Hair died yesterday afternoon, after a long illness, at shortly after three o'clock, in the 79th year of his age. Major Hair was a native of Newberry, and came to this county nearly twenty years ago, having resided with his son-in-law, Mr. William Goldsmith, since that time. The deceased has always been a most useful and energetic citizen, and his extensive and thorough knowledge of practical work was conceded by all. He was one of the original contractors of the Columbia and Greenville Railroad, and was a contemporary with Judge O'Neal, with whom he was most intimate. Major Hair was an excellent farmer, and was celebrated for his genial and entertaining conversation. He was highly respected by every one, and made friendships wherever he went. He was most highly thought of here, and his death is much regretted. His remains will be taken to Newberry to-day and interred there.—Greenville News, 27th.
