THE NEWBERRY HERRLI

Alternate activity and rest is a body except the heart and blood vessels, and for the mind also. This law can not be violated without more or less barmful results, whether they are noticed or not. The human stomach must have periods of rest, or it will weaken and finally fail. It is in one sense the gristmill that supplies the whole body with nutriment. The mill keeps to work as long as there is anything in it to grind. An ordinary heavy meal requires 4 to 5 least an hour or two to recuperate through the window. before it has disposed of the previous meal, and rested, is harmful Lunches between meals, nibbling at cake, candy, fruit, at anything that must be digested, keeps the stomach at work, and it robs it of rest absolutely needed. Last week he was talking to a friend about what a hard time he had trying to find out if his wife had a temper. The friend offered to bet $50 that if Ferguson were to go home drunk, raise a row, and pull the table cloth full of dishes off the table, she would show some signs of annoyance. Ferguson said he didn't want to rob a friend of his money for he knew he hours for being dissolved, and sent would win; but they at last made out to the system; in weak stom- the bet of $50, the friend to hide achs more time is needed. Do you suppose she grumbled and talked about going home to her ma, or that she sat down and cried like a fool, or that she sniffled and ponted? Not a bit of it. With a pleasant smile, she said : 'Why, George, that's a new idea, ain't it? We have been married ten years, and have never yet eaten our supper on the floor. Won't it be fun-just like those picnics we used to go to before we got mar ried,' and then this angelic woman deliberately sat down on the floor along side of the wretch, arranged the dishes, and fixed him up a nice supper. This broke George all up. He owned up he was only fooling her, and offered to give her the fifty dollars to get herself a new hat, but she took the money and bought him a new suit of clothes and a box of cigars.

NOTES ON LIVE STOCK IN WINTER. -The farm animals at this season are directly dependent upon the care and attention of the farmer. To pass the winter with profit they must be well kept. Animals are very complicated engines, and must be run by careful engineers. The food they receive is the fuel, and the daily rubbing, cleaning, etc., may be likened to the inspection, cleaning and oiling of the engine. The fuel must be equal to the de mands made of the animal engine, else the machinery will be run at a disadvantage, and therefore with diminished profit. When the water is low and the fire almost out, the engine is a source of loss to the own er. On the other hand the fire may be brisk, and the boiler well supplied, but some screw is loose, or a part rubs another too closely and the friction thus produced neutralizes much of the force. So in the animal machine, all the parts must work harmoniously together, or in other words there must be perfect health to obtain the best results. An animal may have the best of food in sufficient quantity, and still rass a hard winter, and without profit to its owner. Food of the best kinds without shelter, is in the animal economy like fuel in an engine that is rusty and loose and out of order. Both are expensive meth ods of arriving at desired results. It takes too much force to run the machine in both cases. As it is cheaper to have a good engine kept in good order, so it is to have an animal in health and comfort. The thoughtful farmer will see many other points of likeness between the animal machine and the one constructed by human hands, but this is enough to suggest the importance of keeping farm an imals in a healthful and comfortale condition by means of warm stables with clean floors and pur air .- American Agriculturist

More people have read THE SUN during the year just now passing than ever before since it was first printed. No other news-paper published on this side of the earth has been bought and read in any year by so many men and women.

We are credibly informed that people buy, read, and like THE SUN for the following easons, among others:

Because its news columns present in at Because its news columns present in at tractive form and with the greatest possible accuracy whatever has interest for human-kind; the events, the deeds and misdeeds, the wisdom, the philosophy, the notable folly, the solid sense, the improving non-sense-all the news of the busiest world at sense-all the news of the based work at present revolving in space. Because people have learned that in ifs remarks concerning persons and affairs The Sux makes a practice of telling them the exact truth to the best of its ability three hundred and sixty-five days in the rear before election as well as offer should three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, before election as well as after, about the whales as well as about the small fish, the whales as well as about the small had, in the face of dissent as plainly and fear-lessly as when supported by general appro-val. THE SUN has absolutely no purposes to serve, save the information of its readers and the furtherance of the common good. Because it is everybody's newspaper. No

Because it is everybody's newspaper. No man is so humble that THE SUN is indifferman is so induced that the solution is induced ent to his welfare and his rights. No man is so rich that it can allow injustice to be done him. No man, no association of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the strict application of its principles of right and ways strict application of its principles of right and wrong. Because in politics it has fought for a dozen years, without intermission and sometimes almost alone among newspa-pers, the fight that has resulted in the re-cent overwhelming popular verdict against Robesonism and for honest government. No matter what party is in power. The SUM stands and will continue to stand like a rock for the interests of the people against the ambition of bosses, the encroachments of monopolists, and the dishonest schemes of public robbers.

All this is what we are told almost daily by our friends. One man holds that THE SUN is the best religious newspaper ever published, because its Christianity is undi-inted with cant. Another holds that it is Inted with cant. Another house that it is the best Republican newspaper printed, be-cause it has already whipped half of the ras-cais out of that party, and is proceeding against the other half with undiminished vigor. A third believes it to be the best magnzine of general literature in existence, because its readers miss nothing worthy of notice that is current in the world of thought. So every friend of THE SUA dis-covers one of its many sides that appeals with particular force to his individual liking. If you already know THE SUN, you will observe that in 1883 it is a little better than observe that in 1883 it is a little better than ever before. If you do not already know THE SUN, you will find it to be a mirror of all human activity, a storehouse of the choicest products of common sense and im-agination, a mainstay for the cause of hon-est government, a sentinel for genuine Jef-teronic Democraty a scourage for wicked. fersonian Democracy, a scourge for wicked-ness of every species, and an uncommonly good investment for the coming year.
