HYGIENE FOR HORSES.

Dr. C. E. Page gives the Medical and Surgical Journal some suggestions on keeping horses in health...

The custom of working or exercising horses directly after eating; or feeding after hard work, and before they are thoroughly rested...

The morning meal given, if possible, early enough for partial stomach digestion before the muscular and nervous systems are called into active play...

The following is given as a remedy for lockjaw: Let any one who has an attack of the lockjaw take a small quantity of turpentine, warm it, and pour it on the wound...

To Broil Steak.—The great thing in broiling steak is to cut it thin. Cut it fully an inch in thickness. Then beat it with a rolling pin...

WELSH RABBIT.—Two tablespoonfuls of milk, three ounces of cheese, half a tablespoonful of mustard, two or three tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs...

MARK TWAIN VEXED.

Somebody was asking a Hartford man how it happened that Mark Twain wrote and published so little nowadays...

"His barometer is a man servant named Jacob, who is remarkable for his deficient sense of humor. Mark never can judge of the merit of his own performances...

"About three years ago, it appears, Jacob learned for the first time from some outsider that his master was a professional humorist. He felt greatly honored that he should have been chosen habitually to enjoy the first freshness of every new production of genius...

"One day Mark called Jacob in and read him a sketch entitled 'The Cow and the Lightning-rod-man.' In composing it Mark had flattered himself that he had struck a pretty fine streak...

"Then Mark waited six weeks or two months to collect his forces (for he is never precipitate in anything he does), and achieved a romance called 'How I Bounce the Baby.' He summoned Jacob and watched his face with obvious anxiety as he read the touching narrative...

"That," said the Hartford man, in conclusion, "is why Mark Twain does not write. He hung his reputation as a humorist upon his barometer, and his barometer no longer works."

"You mustn't touch the top of the baby's head," said a mother to her little four-year-old; "she has a soft spot there that is very tender."

The youngster gazed at it curiously for a moment and then asked, "Do all babies have soft spots on their heads?" "Yes," "Did papa have a soft spot on the top of his head when he was a baby?" "Yes," replied the mother, with a sigh...

It is a good thing to be deaf if a slanderer begins to talk.

THE SUN.

NEW YORK, 1883.

More people read THE SUN during the year just past than ever before since it was first printed. No other paper published on this side of the earth has been bought and read in any year by so many men and women.

Because it is every body's newspaper. No man is so humble that THE SUN is indifferent to his welfare and his rights. No man is so rich that it can allow injustice to do him wrong. No man, no association of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the application of its principles of right and wrong.

Because in politics it has fought for the people without interest. It has sometimes almost alone among newspapers, the fight that has resulted in the overthrow of the corrupt and dishonest administration of the late President.

Because it is the best newspaper ever printed. It is the best newspaper ever printed, because it is the best newspaper ever printed, because it is the best newspaper ever printed.

TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS. The several editions of THE SUN are sent by mail, as follows: DAILY—50 cents a month, $6.00 a year; with Sunday edition, $7.00. WEEKLY—81 pages, $1.20 a year. The best market of the daily issues; an Agricultural Department of unequalled merit; market reports, and literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence.
