was once our pupil, and his manly deportment won our respect and love. He was endowed with an activity of body and a keenness of intellect that gave promise of a useful and honora-ble career. His engaging manners made him popular in his community, and his loss will be keenly felt. More than all he was a good young man, in the best sense. It is sad that one so young and so promising was smitten; that his young life went out when its future was brightest; that the bad was plucked when all were anxiously looking for the full blown flower. But there is comfort in the reflection that the flower of his life has been transplanted, where it will always wear a brighter bloom, and breathe a richer

Mr. O. Klettner, the gentleman who has succeeded Mr. A. Koppel in the proprietorship of the Opera House Saloon has been conducting that business for some time. A Good Fish Trap-

Mr. J. P. Blair took from his fish trap, on the Saluda river, below Bouknight's Ferry, in two mornings, one hundred and forty pounds of red horse fish. This is an unusually large haul, and evidences some commotion among the finny tribe. What was it? The river was too wet, suggests our youngest typo.

The Debating Club,

Met after the mass meeting, Mon-day night. The question, "Which is the stronger incentive to action, hope of reward or fear of punishment?" was decided without debate. The president named one side of his knife Hope, and the other Fear; he then cast it three times, and Hope won. The question for next Monday night is "Was Hamlet mad?"

The Newberry Hotel-This caravansary is noted for its table delights as well as the refreshing comforts afforded in its sleeping arrangements, as Mr. Chase, the proprietor, and his amiable lady's long and tried experience qualify them for the position of hosts. We are pleased to know that this popular institution is on a solid basis, that is every member is on his feet and actuated solely in maintaining an upright position in the future notwithstanding the ups and downs of the past. This rolling society meets twice a week, Tuesday and Friday evenings, and much stirring business is usually done by the active members and their lady coadjusters. They have lately purchased new and improved rollers and there is no telling how long they will roll. At the last Tuesday nights meeting the following officers were elected; President, L. J. The boys and girls have our best wishes, and we suggest that when the Spring is advanced pleasantly that they will give a pic-nic and invite the editors.

Laborers' Contracts-

It is important that all farmers should know the following law: All contracts made between owners of land or their agents and laborers shall be witnessed by one or more disinterested persons, and, at the request of either party, be duly executed before a Trial Justice, whose duty it shall be to read and explain the same to the parties. Such contracts shall clearly set forth the conditions upon which the laborer or laborers engaged to work, embracing the length of time, the amount of money to be paid, and when; if it be on shares of crops, what portion of the crop or crops. The law provi les that either party violating such contract may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

While these contracts are not required to be in writing, they ought always to be witnessed.

Of all the attempts which have been made of late to utilize the wonderful resources of electricity for domestic purposes, none have been more strikingly successful, and few are so interesting to a wide range of readers, as the new invention of the Portable Electric Light Company, whose manufactory, at 79 Water Street, is now a scene of the greatest activity, both day and night. The instrument from which this company takes its name is a small and compact piece of mechauism, occupying a space only five inches square, and it can be readily carried from room to room, as it weighs but five pounds. It is so constructed as to furnish electricity whenever desired for a large number of important and constantly recurring domestic uses. When provided with simple window, safe or door attachment, it serves as an unfailing and startling burglar alarm, the trespasser being confronted with light and bell instantly, and is equally adapted for the ordinary uses of a call bell. As a lighter, it is perfect, being capable of producing instantaneous light in any part of the house. by adjustments furnished by the company. It can also be attached to a medical galvanie coil by which a powerful current of electricity can be conveyed. Many prominent business men are interested in the company, which | Monday night.
