NEWBERRY, S. C. THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1888.

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE. The Herald is the highest respect a Family Newspaper, devoted to the material interests of the people of this County and the State. It circulates extensively, and as an advertising medium offers unrivalled advantages. For Terms see first page.

SALESDAY.

Viewed in its relation to order and public morals, it is a serious question whether the institution known as Salesday should not be abolished. We doubt whether there was ever any good reason for its existence, but if there ever was, that reason has ceased to exist and the custom should no longer be observed.

No advantage results to the public sales from the presence of such crowds as the day brings, but the sales could be made just as judiciously on any other day. Men do not buy property thoughtlessly or at random, and those who intend to become purchasers at the public sales usually make up their minds before the day of sale. Men do not buy property thoughtlessly or at random, and those who intend to become purchasers at the public sales usually make up their minds before the day of sale.

We believe that it would be wise to do away with the law setting apart the first Monday in each month as a day for public sales, and let public sales be made after legal notice, without a common day.

South Carolina will not be represented at the New England Exposition next fall. Considerable pressure was brought to bear upon the Board of Agriculture to induce it to appropriate a sufficient sum to enable the State to make a fitting exhibition of her resources at the Exposition. We are glad that the Board had the courage to resist this pressure, and to decide that it will not make the appropriation. It is always right to decide not to do that which we have no authority to do. The Board gives its reasons as follows:

"To the Chamber of Commerce of Charleston and the Board of Trade of Columbia: In response to the resolutions of your bodies relative to an exhibit of the resources of South Carolina, at Boston in September, I am directed by the board of agriculture to say that, after a full consideration of the invitations to have the State represented at the Expositions to be held at Boston and at Louisville, the board of agriculture decided that it was inexpedient at this time to accept either invitation. There are grave doubts as to the authority of the board to expend money for such purposes; there is certainly no express authority in the Act creating the department.

"But even if the authority exists for the expenditure by the board of any sum for this purpose, it was thought that at present it would be inexpedient to do so. It was estimated that it would require at least $5,000 to enable the board to make a proper representation of the resources of the State. The expenditures for the purchase of the Parker Hall property and those which must be incurred in furnishing the laboratory and in the expenses of litigation in protecting the interests of the State in the phosphate deposits, will draw heavily upon the funds under control of the board and render it doubtful whether it will be possible to appropriate so large a sum as $5,000 for the purposes of securing a representation of the State at either Exposition.

"Thomas Jefferson did not believe anything he read in the newspapers, mistaking even the agricultural column and the household recipes," says an exchange. Of course not, he didn't even believe in the Bible.

Of 89,566 Irish emigrants during 1887, 96,962 came to the United States, 8,628 to Canada, 4,614 to Australia and 380 to New Zealand—none to England.

FLORENCE, April 11.—There is considerable indignation among the people since the announcement that T. L. Weston had been appointed postmaster at this place, vice, J. E. Wilson. Weston was county treasurer of Chesterfield during Chamberlain's administration, and was a defaulter to the amount of several thousand dollars. His bond was sued on, but the county did not recover all.—C. to the News and Courier.

The President, before leaving for Florida, signed commissions in blank and left them for Assistant Postmaster-General, Frank Hatton, to fill in the names, thereby entrusting to that gentleman extraordinary powers, which he promptly abused. He appointed Weston postmaster, despite the wishes of the people concerned, and over the head of the President. Wilson, who is a Republican, was approved by Democrats and Republicans.

From the Department of Agriculture at Columbia we have just been furnished with official statistics of the chief fibrous product (cotton) and of two of the chief cereal products (wheat and oats) of the State of South Carolina in the year 1882. A comparison of them with the statistics of the year 1879, as given in the Federal Census of 1880, warrants an inference that the changes and developments of Southern agriculture are rivaling in rapidity those of Southern manufactures:

Table with 4 columns: Years, Cotton, Wheat, Oats. Rows for 1879 and 1882.

These figures do not indicate a shifting of the culture from one kind of crop to another. The yield of wheat has more than tripled within three years, and the yield of oats shows an increase almost in the same marvellous proportion; but at the same time the cotton crop, far from falling off, has also increased more than one-fourth.—New York Herald, April 11, Editorial.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 12.—In the Democratic State Convention to-day after a lengthy discussion a special committee of eighteen was appointed to endeavor to effect a compromise on the question of a nominee for Governor. The committee immediately entered upon its work.

The committee retired at 12 M., and after remaining out till 6 P. M. returned and recommended Henry D. McDaniel, of Walton County, who was nominated by acclamation amid the wildest enthusiasm. He was conducted into the hall and addressed the convention, expressing his thanks for the nomination, outlining briefly his policy and congratulating the people upon the prosperity of the State. Messrs. Bacon and Boynton withdrew when the report of the committee was made. The convention then adjourned. The nomination meets with universal approval as far as heard from.

The war that is waging in Europe between dynamite and dynasty, is bitter and relentless. Dynamite is composed of nitro-glycerine and an earthy substance; dynamite is made up of equal parts of power and oppression, according to the view of those who advocate the reign of dynamite. Successive attempts have been made to blow up the government buildings in London; and the Czar of all the Russias is in constant and mortal fear of the rule of dynamite. So much so that he is afraid to appoint a day for his coronation. In this case, Uneasy lies the head that wants to wear a crown.

The National Republican was astonished that the letter issued to the United States Commissioners by Judge Bond was necessary. It "would never have made light of the political arrests, had it supposed it possible that they had been made in the absence of the showing required by law." The Republican knows very well that the history of the Republican party in this State has been conspicuous on account an utter "absence of the showing required by law" and justice.

COLUMBIA, April 11.—I have heard authoritatively to-day of two interesting letters. One was from Attorney-General Brewster to ex-Governor Manning, who was an old college mate of his, assuring him that he had no heart in this work of prosecuting the white men of South Carolina, but that he was unable to help it, that he had no feeling against our people and that Melton was the cause of it. Melton, he said, had reported to the Government that there was cause for the prosecutions and that convictions could and would be had.—N. G. G., to the News and Courier.

A rule was granted this evening, on motion of Solicitor Orr, by request of the bar, against J. T. Nix, a member of the Greenville bar, to show cause why his name should not be stricken from the roll as an attorney. The rule is based upon the affidavits of sundry clients of Nix, who claim to have been fraudulently dealt with by him. It is made returnable on the first day of the next term of the Court of Common Pleas.—A. M. H., to the News and Courier, April 12.

Mr. H. Frank Moulton, of the Columbia Stocking Factory, has brought from the North, six skilled instructors for his factory. They will become permanent residents.

An exchange speaking of the unjust criticism of a contemporary, says: "We commend our contemporary to the lines of Burns: 'Oh for some gift to give us, To see ourselves as others see us.'"

If Burns saw himself as our contemporary sees him, he saw himself as a writer of very bad and meaningless verses.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Peter Cooper's will was filed for probate to-day. His estate amounts to about $2,000,000. The bequests amount to $200,000. His son, ex-Mayor Edward Cooper, and his daughter, the wife of Abram S. Hewitt, are the residuary legatees. Edward Cooper and Abram S. Hewitt are executors. The largest bequest is in a codicil devising $100,000 to the Cooper Union.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Ashville and Spartanburg Railroad was held in Spartanburg last Friday, and it was ordered that a mortgage for five thousand dollars be issued. This, it is said, will be enough to build and equip the road to Ashville. Work will be begun at once, and will be completed in a short time.

W. J. McDermott, the president of the Chester Oil Company was arrested a few days ago, charged with burglary and larceny—entering the oil mill on Sunday morning at 3 o'clock and carrying away portions of the machinery. He was bound over for trial at the next term of the Court of Sessions, in the sum of $1000.

A dispatch from Dublin states that, on the 19th, Joe Brady was convicted of the murder of Lord Cavendish and Mr. Burke, at Phoenix Park. He was sentenced to be hanged. Somehow, it occurs to us that there is an individual in this country who bears the name of Brady and deserves a similar fate.

Governor Thompson, Secretary Lipscomb, and Commissioner Butler were invited to dinner, and on being asked whether they would drink tea or coffee, champagne or brandy, replied unanimously that they preferred water.

The contract for building the monument at Yorktown, Va., has been awarded, at $66,752, and the work is to be completed by October 18th, 1884, the anniversary of the surrender. The monument is to be ninety-seven feet in height.

"The Empress of Austria has taken to fencing—two hours a day generally—to keep herself a light weight for the saddle." And now our farmers who are opposed to the no-fence law will want to emigrate to Austria.

It has been discovered that the legislature, in enumerating the deadly weapons which one is forbidden to carry concealed upon his person, failed to mention the "flask of whiskey."

The lands below the City of Savannah, were flooded on the 10th, resulting in considerable damage to the crops. The Savannah river rose twenty-six feet, in eighteen hours.

Sam Walker, who was convicted, at the last term of the Spartanburg court, of the murder of Mose Hawkins, and sentenced to be hanged in May, died in jail on the 12th.

The State Executive Committee acted wisely and justly in employing Hon. L. F. Youmans and Judge A. G. Magrath to defend the political prisoners.

The number of recent strikes seems to indicate that labor is unsettled and discontented throughout the Country.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington, reports that the condition of the grain crop of the South is not up to the average.

Mr. B. Covar, of Edgefield, states that sleeping with the head on a pillow stuffed with life everlasting will relieve asthma.

The Republican committee decided to-night not to put out a candidate, so that McDaniell will probably have a walk over.

COLUMBIA, Friday Evening, April 13.—Col. R. L. McCaughrin and Mr. George S. Mower, of Newberry, reached Columbia to-night on their return from a ten days' trip North in the interest of proposed Newberry cotton mills. They went as far North as Maine, not primarily to secure subscriptions, but to get from prominent mill architects an estimate of the cost of the works.

It was estimated that from $175,000 to $190,000 would build a cloth mill of 10,000 spindles capacity and furnish it with 5,000 spindles and the necessary accompaniment of looms. Over $100,000 has already been subscribed in Newberry, and Col. McCaughrin has assurances that if $25,000 more can be raised in that town he can obtain the remainder of the subscriptions elsewhere. Of this there is very little doubt. The object is to build the mill and start with 5,000 spindles, and when this beginning is made to increase the stock by $100,000 and fill the mill with the full complement of 10,000 spindles. Col. McCaughrin finds that Newberry coal can now get Pennsylvania coal by way of Charleston as cheap, or cheaper than Providence or other New England manufacturing cities now get it. The Georgia Pacific Railroad bonds were placed the other day, and the completion of the road is thus assured. When it is finished next fall, South Carolina can obtain coal much cheaper than New England. The Newberry mills are assured.—News and Courier Correspondence.

The Press and Banner says: "At Abbeville Village the colored people are asserting their manhood by educating their own children and paying the tuition fees, and they are making real progress in civilization and in the elevation of their character. The better class of this portion of our citizens have no desire to put their children down as paupers. They accept their share of the public fund, and make good the deficiency."

A Kentuckian lost a field of wheat in a curious manner during the floods. The wheat had come up nicely, when a heavy storm of sleet fell and covered his farm with a thick coating of ice. Before the ice melted the river overflowed the field, the ice rose to the surface of the water and pulled up with it every wheat blade. The last he saw of his crop it was following his fence down the Ohio.

It seems that T. L. Weston, the lately appointed postmaster at Florence, is not so bad a man as he was represented immediately after his appointment. W. L. T. Prince, speaking of Weston, says, "It is just to him to say that he has resided here about fourteen or fifteen years, and he has conducted himself with propriety."

Ben Butterworth, of Ohio, came to Charleston a few days ago, to take Crowley's place in the election trials. The Northern papers are making fun of Crowley for resigning the place.

Wm. M. Crockett, white, charged with the murder of J. H. F. Hurt, was taken out of the Wytheville, Va., jail last Thursday, and hanged by 100 citizens.
