Married.

A man stepped into a drug store the other day and called for a bottle of Norman's "Naturalizing" Cordial. He had forgotten the word Neutralizing and certainly substituted a good one as it assists Nature in bringing the the system to its natural condition.

Our traveling agent writes us that Norman's Neutralizing Cordial is very popular where he has been. He has no trouble whatever in selling it as everyone knows it to be the best, most pleasant and most harmless family medicine in existence.

Silver Wedding.

Last Saturday evening Gen. and Mrs. W. H. Hunt celebrated the twentyfifth anniversary of their wedding. They had a family gathering which was attended by Capt. I. F. Hunt and wife, of Greenville, and Prof. Hood and wife, of Due West. The evening was most agreeably spent. We wish them a happy golden wedding.

Miss Thompson will give a soiree at the Newberry Hotel this evening, at

A Street Display.

One of the most attractive and charmng sights to a lady was the display of prints and fine homespuns in front of the store of D. C. Flynn on Saturday last. We almost wished that nature had made us a woman instead of a man, that we might have invented in some of the gay patterns. Inside, too, counters and shelves are piled with them in like beautiful manner.

The Illustrated World.

The above is the tittle of a beautifully printed and elaborately illustrated literary paper, published by Jas. Elverson, Philadelphia, the successful publisher of that splendid weekly, Golden Days. The present is the initial number of the World, and we are delighted with it. Our advice is to ubscribe for it by sending to the pubisher 83.

> Searcity of Cattle. The butchers say that marketable cattle in this County are becoming very scarce, and in buying for market they are obliged to extend their search into Laurens, Union, and Edgefield. This scarcity is not due to the existence of the stock law, so much as to the fact that a great many cattle have been shipped from this point during the last few years. Newberry is famous as a beef-eater, and she may yet be forced to eat imported beef as well

Reading Notice.

Godey's Lady's Book makes its appearance earlier than usual this month, and also brighter than usual. Its Frontispiece and Fashion Plates show a decided improvement, and its Fashion News, together with the account of the Vanderbilt Ball in New York City, will be read with interest by the ladies. The innovation of a corner for gentlemen in the Fashion Department will be duly appreciated, and we doubt not that many of the male sex will take a sly peep into that part of the Fashions to find out what is "chie" or special occasions.

Its Novelties, "Marguerie," by Elizabeth Olmis, and "Her Graces," by Miss Emily Read, need only to be mentioned, as all they write is eagerly sought. In a word, Godey's Lady's Book well merits attention this month in every department.

How They Do in Florida. The Rev. James Scott, of Canada, delivered temperance lectures in the Methodist church on Thursday and Friday nights of last week. On Friday night he explained to an audience of twenty-five persons, how a man must do in Jacksonville, Florida, when ne wants to get license : He is required to send a petition to the Commissioners. The petition must be signed by a majority of the voters in the City. and each signature must have two witnesses. There must be an affidavit that no name was obtained by fraud or bribery. Then the entire list must be printed in a newspaper, two weeks. it is likely that very few licenses will be granted in Jacksonville. Mr. Scott says the Marquis of Lorne, Governor General of Canada, is a prohibitionist, though he takes his wine.

The Country Prospering.

A leading grocery merchant of our town said a few days ago that he had not sold his first car-load of corn : that up to the same date last year, he had sold six or seven car-loads. This resulted to the County from the fine last year, and the lesson should not be disregarded. In addition, the Bank made clearer collections and was obliged to carry over fewer notes last fall than at almost any time for years. though the Bank is willing to lend, the demand made by the farmers for loans things show that we are tending towards a point at which we can live at

We learn that the college authorities, with the help of the ladies, expect to hold a strawberry festival about the first of May, for the purpose of raising money to aid in paying the small amount still due on the college building. Sniffles at Jalapa.

Jalapa is a right smart chunk of a place. I went there last week, on one of my periodical visits, and got there by the 4.40 express fast train. Precisely at the minute, the entire train being hitched to the locomotive started, without blowing or fuss of any kind, and made a fine run for nearly two miles, when she stopped, I suppose to see if any of the couplings had be-come loose. I stopped also, always do stop, when there is occasion to stop. I wanted to ascertain the nature of the difficulty, if there was a difficulty, and if it had a nature, but mystery always hangs around railroad troubles, and the difficulty in this case was hard to find. The conductor was out, engaged an hour he had found it out. Like the last week. good little boy, he "tried and tried again" until successful; a lesson was here learned, "that there is nothing so difficult but search will find it out." In that half hour I variously conjectured as to the cause. I thought that the good conductor wanted to gratify his passengers with a prolonged view of the scenery which meets the vision in that locality; then I thought that the engineer saw signs of "the wild woman," and was afraid to go any further. My blood grew chilly, but in a Grand Lodge of the K. of H., in moment my attention was diverted by Aiken. the four year old Sniffles who asked if the engine was tired. I told him that only wagons and buggies got tired, that some were badly tired before they left the manufactory. I had not time to say any more on this subject, for my attention was drawn to a noise outside, a heavy pounding noise, and looking I saw the fireman, Bub M., and all the train hands with fence rails belaboring the unfortunate smoke-stack. That wild woman had evidently crept into it to get out of the weather, and efforts were making to dislodge her, and get her back to her "lodge in the wilderness." The fight lasted half an hour, and the rail road men were victorious. The conductor then came into view, and cried all 'board, and got aboard himself, it was my opinion that we all had been bored for thirty minutes. I nese.

was no woman in the case, but simply an aggregated accumulation of red hot particles of inflamed pine vulgarly known as cinders, in the stack-smoke." He was angry at my insinuation of a woman being in the smoke-stack. It would never do to let such a tale get out. Conductors are proverbially moral you know-when on duty-and will not tolerate women about the engine. They are right, for one woman might demoralize the whole rail road force.

"What woman," he asked. I explain-

Our city expects to grow. Willie Sligh talks about a new house, his place is finely situated and a new house would lend additional grace to it.

There is talk of a steam mill, which will saw lumber, grind corn, and gin cotton.

Dr. Folk has the Plymouth Rock breed of fowls, and has more demand for the eggs than he can supply. I heard him say that the editor should have a pair of the chicks. A rabbit disgusted with the constant rain fall, jumped into Willie Sligh's well, to get out of the rain, and stayed there, so long that the water was contaminated. Our women are raising any number

The farmers are behind very badly this Spring, owing to too much rain. shows the immense advantage that Corn that was planted early is up to a resulted to the County from the fine good stand, but unfortunately the crops, especially the grain crops, of majority of farmers were unable to there. There is also a good Sabbathplant early. Some are planting cotton, looking very promising at this time. The fruit crop is very good, but will not be as bountiful as last year.

Hogs are in great demand, the demand can't be supplied; it seems that our farmers are becoming more determined to raise their supplies at home, so they can be a more happy and prosperous people.

We have a debating society here, meets every two weeks; our next question for discussion: "Was it a necessity for the State that Willard should have been appointed Chief Justice?" Mr. Seth Williams has two children very sick with Scarlet fever.

Dr. Folk's children are well of the fever, but the younger one is threatened with dropsy. Mr. R. Holmes bought 80 bales of cotton in our little town last Saturday. The wild woman, when last heard from, slept under Mr. W. W. Riser's

The fire began at the foot of the stairs, and certain members of the family who were sleeping in the second story, were effectually cut off from escaping by that way. Mrs. Briggs carefully wrap ped up her infant child and let it fall rom the window to the ground; she then leaped down from the shed, her thigh being broken by the shock. 2 r 3, 14-3m e o w. +0+ The Spring number of Ehrichs' Fashion Quarterly more than fulfils the promise of its predecessors. Within the compass of its one hundred and twenty pages, it sets before one numbers and absolutely complete epitome of the fashions of the coming season in ladies' wearing apparel and fabrics of every kind; and this, not in the shape of a series of vague generalities, such as the ordinary fashion journal too often contents itself with, but by means of a succession of clearly written descriptions of actual articles, each new the second of actual articles, each new the second of actual articles. ten descriptions of actual articles, each accompanied with an engraving of the thin described and all arranged in so orderly and methodicala manner that any desired inform ation can be referred to without difficulty.
Over sixty new designs for ladies' and children's dresses are illustrated and described. together with a large number of trimmed hats, light spring wraps, and other articles for the adornment of the outer woman. A new feature of the Magazine is the introduction of fashions in men's clothing; a large variety of stylish looking and economical suits being illustrated and described. The literary features of the Magazine also deserve their meed of praise. Margaret Eytinge, Josephine Pollard, Eben E. Rexford, and other well-known writers are represented by tales, sketches, and poems. An inter-esting article on "Household Decoration" is contributed by Mrs. E. V. Battey of the New York Sun; and Hope Ledyard's talk from the Easy Chair will be read with interest by mothers, far and near. Altogether, we think the emphatic verdict pronounced by every lady reader on the pre-sent number of the Fashion Quarterly will be: "Worth its price and ten times more."

Published by EHRICH BROS., Eighth Avenue, New York, at 50 cents a year, or 15 cents a copy.
