Not A Cure-All.

Norman's Neutralizing Cordial is not a cure-all and we do not recommend it for every ill "to which the flesh is heir." It is all, but nothing more than is claimed for it in the name of this excellent remedy. It neutralizes the acids and gases of the stomach, makes digestion easy and gives tone to the debilitated system.

We don't remember ever seeing as elegant a spread of good and nice things as were prepared on Friday evening at the Female Academy. It was a sumptuous and elegant supper, and exceeded in quantity and quality all previous entertainments. The ladies grow into our favor more and more every day, as every occasion of this kind exhibits some new grace, or excellence in the efforts they set forth to gratify the taste or charm the eye and the heart of man. The rooms at an early hour were crowded and con-tinued so until the "wee sma' hours beyant the twal," or until every appeite was satisfied, every taste ministered to. The feast proper was not the the Chief entertainment, for the "flow of soul" made the hours speed on golden wings. Another score is made by the ladies, and success has crowned their laudable efforts, the proceeds amounting to $163. Making a clear total of $150.

More of the Storm.

After passing the Johnstone farm, the storm struck Dr. J. C. Halfacre's place, demolishing several tenant and other houses, also his cotton press. The oak grove to the east of the residence was entirely destroyed. His dwelling escaped. Near by at the old Buzhardt place a fine apple orchard was swept away. Mr. Isham Kinard living on Dr. Halfacre's place had his stable blown away and all his fodder. He son who was confined to his bed with has not been able to find any of the what appeared to be consumption of the fodder since. A large pine near 30 inches in diameter was broken off half up the tree and the top was carried fully three quarters of a mlie.

Mr. Geo. Johnstone says that his house which was removed from its pillars was uninjured except as to springing in the centre, caused by resting on a large pile of rubbish.

Portions of the timbers of St. Mathew's Church, were found across Broad river in Fairfield County. The distance could not have been less than four miles, may be more.

A cat blown from Mr. Reid's Store at Chappell's was found seven miles away. At Dr. J. C. Halfacre's a large heavy trunk was blown across a room, the windows being closed and only an outside door open, but not opening into the room. The pictures hung in the same room were blown down. He estimates his damages at $300. A friend tells us that he was caught out in the storm and says he was riding a very sure footed horse, one that he had never known to stumble or fall, that while the lightning was playing most vividly his horse fell prostrate in the road, something unknown before. He says that after riding some farther, his horse began turning around and around rapidly in the road, and that a no very gentle reminder with his spurs were sufficient to urge the frightened or bewildered animal forward. Becoming frightened hinfself, he leaped from his saddle and made for a negro house which was near by. The horse followed easily when he went before, and leaping into the door he called to the man to hold his horse for he wanted to get out of that thing.

A kind of olla podrida; much in little; Tom Toddy like, big head, little body make up this week's text. I am pleased that the paper in whose welfare I am so deeply interested is offered by its proprietor to clubs of five at $1,50 each, and an elegantly bound copy of the Poets, and other equally handsome prose works to the getter up of each and every club. This is a liberal offer, and one which must be highly appreciated. Besides this a copy of the HERALD'S artistic Almanac-itself worth three month's subscription to the paper, to every single single subscriber. Think of it reader ! and then say no more that there is nothing new under the Sun-this is certainly new-a newness so incomporably bright that its lustre will be reflected far and near. Behind these gifts, this generous hearted editor has a number of strikingly beautiful steel engravings, which are held in reserve, and will next follow. Glorious isn't it? So happy did I feel on the strength of | the hogs. all this that I took the train Wednes-

DISSOLUTION.

The business heretofore conducted under the name and firm of T. C. Pool & T. Q. Boozer, was dissolved on the first day of January, 1884. The business will now be conducted by me at the old stand, corner of Friend and Pratt streets. Thankful for past | chant. favors I respectfully solicit a continu-

T. Q. BOOZER.

I am agent for the Taylor and Cox Steam Fire extinguisher, for, Newberry, Laurens, Spartanburg and Greenville Counties. The most useful invention of the age. A life time insurance for the small sum of $35,00 or $40,00. Will put out your gin in five minutes. Worth what it cost for dampening your lint room. Any man can put it up and run it. One agent made in one day $150. One man whose Gin house caught fire last fall says, he would not be without it for five hundred dollars. An energetic man can make $1500 in one year selling this extinguisher. This is a South Carolina invention and is no humbug.
