Salutatory.

In assuming the duties of Editor of this hitherto popular journal, we are aware of the difficulties and responsibilities, we will have to encounter. An Editor is expected to cater for the amusement and instruction of a variety of readers of diverse habits, dispositions and avocations, some of which are terested only in speculations of wit and mor, while others value chiefly lessons of morilty and sound sense. The diffusion of gen ral information in politics, the promotion religion, the encouragement of education the development of the agricultural of the country, constitute the great air purposes of the press, as they are the pal sources of wealth and prosperit publican government. To secure, tion of the general reader to able objects, it becomes necessar instruction with amusement and to so d the stern scutiments of wisdom and virtue by |

ing. We dare not hope to succeed in this to to the satisfaction of all our readers, but we trust blessings may attend him and his carough a with time and experience to send forth a week, ly sheet, which shall command the hearty welcome of our subscribers-In our efforts to advocate the great sources of wealth and good government, we trust, we shall receive from our brethren of the quill that courtesy and Methodist civility, which has ever characterized the fra. ternity and which we now willingly extend to and services w

POLITICS,

fin its primary sense denotes the science of government but by common usage is now understood to express the conteats of parties for power-In the latter sense we espouse the democratic party and shall devote all our efforts to the calm and unimpassioned vindication of the great principles of republican govern_ ment, of which that party is the embodiment. W Freedom of religion; freedom of the press; freedom of the person under the protection of the habeas corpus; the support the State governments in all their rights; a jealous care of the right of election by the people; and economy in the public expense;" constitute the bright galaxy of democratic principles. which nerved and sustained our ancestors through a bloody revolution, and guided their steps to freedom and success. These princi ples, though crippled and defaced by the usur pations of the general government, still live in the hearts of the enlightened and virtuous citizens of the country. To cherish and restore them to their pristine vigor and brightness; to assuage the bitterness of party excitement by the influence of reason and persuasion, and thereby restore the governanent to pence, safety and prosperity in the affections of the governed, is our present great duty. This, we believe, can only be effected permanently by moderation and forbearance, while reason is employed to work conviction -surely never by violence or threats-

RELIGION, is the root and pith of virtue, which has ever been regarded an indispensible support of political prosperity in a republican government. Without it virtue is a sickly plant, which soon droops and dies and leaves every security for life, property and reputation unguarded. Whatever therefore promotes the advancement of religion, increases national virtue and thereby strengthens the pillars of good government--

. EDUCATION. too is a necessary spring of popular govern ment, which from its very structure gives great weight to public opinion. In the general dif-Tasion of knowledge alone, can we rely for that resist dangerous innovations in the government, prevent the ban ful effects of party spirit and weaken the power of political demagogueism,

AGRICULTURE. is the first and most important of the three great sources of national and individual wealth. It is the "sine qua non" of life itself and is the principal pursuit of the citizens of this section of country. All admit that our present system of tillage is susceptible of much Improvement and with this view, it will be our wim to place before our readers whatever practical information we may obtain on the subject from the communications of good farmers or from the columns of our exchanges-In this effort we trust to enlist the hearty co-operation of our farmers and the time will soon come, when our country will be styled "primus inter pares" in agricultural wealth and prosperity. Thanking our subscribers for part favors we wish them a happy new year and a continuate of there liberal patronage.

A Swindle.

About the first of December last, a mat by the name of EXPERIENCE MOE, hailing from New Jewsey, arrived in this place, and set about purchasing lands, offering in pay therefor, bonds of a Company entitled the Brooklyn Steamship and Emigration Company, and succeeded in making several trades with our unsuspecting citizens. Suspicion having been aroused as to the value of said bonds, enquiry was made at once in New York and other cities, when it was ascertained that no such bonds were known in market.

The following paragraph, clipped from a Northern paper, has been handed us for publication, and doubtless relates to the same individual who has been in our midst with bogus bonds and brass watches :

On the 4th inst. two promissory notes, for $5,600 each, indorsed, and made payable to the order of Messrs. Bowen, Whiteman & Winslow, were stolen from the office of the above named firm. Suspicion rested on James Ripley and J. W. Talmage, and Inspector Dilks telegraphed throughout the country to procure the arrest of the suspected parties. In pursuance of this telegram, Officers Schmitt and Rowe, of Clevela ley and Talmage their

COMPLETE THE AMNESTY. -There seems to be a generally expressed wish among the more moderate of the leading journals of the country that the President should complete his work of amnesty by releasing all political prisoners now held in confinement, including those at the Dry Tortugas. The Wash ington Express says : We heartily concur in the hope that the President will equalize the closing days of his rule with such a graceful act of Executive elemency. The " New York World" speak as follows:

The President having issued his proclamation extending a full pardon to all persons, without any exception whatsoever, for the ofonce of treason against the United States, or adhereing to their enemies, giving the maid or firmness and constancy, which can effectually comfort, it would seem but right that, as those held to be guilty of the greatest known polit. ical offence have been perdoned, a similar grace should be extended to such as are now under punishment for political offences of a lesser grade. On the 20th of last July there was introduced into the House by Mr. Eld. ridge a resolution that the Secretary of War be directed to inform that body of the names of all persons then under sentence by military authority, at Dry Tortugas, together with the nature of the orimes charged, and the term of sentence, and the unexpired time remaining. There is no better time than on the re-assembling of Congress to forthwith revive this resolution and push it to a vote. Some poor wretch, forgotten doubtless by all but his jailors, may now be in a dungeon by sentence of a drum head court held in the heat of pas sion, and were there but one such it is time

FOR THE KEOWEE COURIER. CANE CREEK, Oconce County,

January 1, 1869. Mr. Editor: Will you allow me a place n your paper to communicate what I saw and heard in a jaunt around Bounty Lund Post Office, in this county. The county is a beautiful one, and interspersed with hills, sufficient to give an observer at various points a beautiful view of the Blue Ridge Mountains, especially from "Wind Top," on Mr. Parker's and. I enjoyed Mr. Parker's hospitality, and was struck at his genius as a mechanic, while viewing his Steam Saw Mill, located immediately on the Blue Ridge Rullroad .-His business is surely a success.

As the day passed away, it was my privioge to pass Mr. James Wright's place, where I saw, what I afterwards learned to be, a threeand a half acro cotton patch; true, the cotton had all been picked out, but the empty pods stood so thick I was induced to ask him how he manured, and what was the yield. He told me that he put 150 pounds of Soluble Pacific Guano per acre; and that it yielded him four bales of cotton, weighing over 400 mark, this was done on nounds each. eres, and a portion of it orchard.

passed on further, and came to Mr. Shank s farm, where I learned he made, on an d planted in cotton, with lity of manure as meninish my jaunt until I lead's two acres II. De first acre b ands of Soluble Helded him 1800, lbs. was manured mixed, which yielded 1400 ands of securiton, all picked out. The same land is now seeded with wheat, with a beautiful and healthy stand.

From what I have seen and heard about the success of cotton distribution this latitude, I am led to believe that every farmer ought to lant a few acres to the hand; and no gult prosperity when we have it in Tho lands of this vicinity, rightly the tiller as independent as heart could wish.

WASINIIGTON, January 3 -Sharman telegraphs that Sheridan reaches! Fort Cobb December 19. There has been no more fighting. Sheridan has the two chiefs, Santanta and Lone, whom he will hold as hostages until the Kiowahs sarrender. Sheridan and Hagen are together, and Sherman says that they can Settle the matter perfectly. Alabamians here say that Judge Busteed will be tried by the Senate. Steps are being taken to prevent Busteed from drawing cortain money from the Mobile Bank.

Washington, January 4-2 P. M .- The Supreme Court re-assembled to day. Members of Congress are arriving rapidly, and there will be a quorum to-morrow.

8 P. M. -The bill authorizing the militia in North Carolina, Plorida, Alabama and Louisiana, passed before the recess, will be signed by the President.

A Washington special to the "Philadelphia Ledger" says the statement of the public debt for the month of December will show an increase of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. CHILDREN'S PARTY AT WASHINTON .-Washington disputches give interesting accounts of a party given on Monday evening last at the Capital by the Chevalier Marcel Corruti, the Halim Minister, to about seventy children belonging to the "first families" of Washington society. On that occasion, Miss Nellie Grant, daughter of General Grant, was crowned acon, when the following message was 'fread from the throne :"

MY BELOVED SUBJECTS-I feel greatly

rejoiced to find myself on this happy occasion surrounded by my faithful subjects. I assume the crown and title of "Nellie the First," and I promise to reign over you, inspired always with feelings of affection and justice. I begin my administration by an act of generosity and benevolence. I have ordered my prime minister to prepare for you many prizes in a lottery which I destine for you. Each of you may approach my throne, and I will confer upon you a number corresponding to a prize. The present season opens under the most favorable auspices. We have had many Clivistmas Trees and many presents. There are still some aunts and uncles that have not performed their duty, but we hope that they will do so without obliging us to resort to severe measures. My relations with foreign powers are as favorable as could be desired. I have received from all parts precious lettors of friendship-from England a large cake; from Portugal many oranges; Italy has sent me a large bag of Chestnuts; Greece has honored me with boxes of raisins; Turkey has presented me with his best Smyr na figs; Spain's homage was fresh grapes and France has sent boxes of champaigne the African Princes have sent man dates; other nations have shown an equally generous disposition. I must now call your attention to a very important matter. Having no othor desire at heart than the happiness of my people, I have decided to choose a husband, and my royal choice has fallen on Edward Thornton, whom I order you to love and esteom. From this moment I confer upon him the title of "The Duke of Candies and Prince of Sugar, Plums." I hope that next year we shall again be re-united, and that I shall then be able, as now, to announce to you the happiness which Providence has again designed to shower upon my country. I have ordered my ministers to place all my presents on the table for royal banquet, to which I invite

AT A few years ag), at the conclusion of Missio ary sermon, the preacher requested one one to pass around the hat, and "take up a collection." A young man, a stranger in the place, jumped up and commenced 'circulating the hat' in such a way as to finish the job at the door and pass out with the proceeds. The preacher, eyeing him as he went out, observed: "If that young man runs away with that money, he'll be damned." A descon sitting by the window, seeing him make off down the street, responded : "And if he hasn't run away with that money, I'll he d----d."

RIGHMOND, January 2.-For two days past, a conference of some of the leading men in the State has been in session, and last night, about midnight, they agreed on a plan, and adopted a resolution which sets forth that while the people of Virginia do not believe that negroes in their uneducated condition are as yet fit for suffrage, yet in view of the expression of public opinion in the recent national election, and in the hope of restoring hafmony and union, they are willing to accept universal amnesty. A Committee of Nine, has been appointed to visit Washington, to urge Congress to legislate so as to secure this to the people of the State.

NEORO SUFFRAGE .-- Missouri refused, by nearly 20,000 majority, to admit to the exercise of the franchise and full privileges of citizenship 22,431 negroes. Michigan refused by nearly 40,000 to grant such asfavor to 1,226 negroes. Iowa enfranchised 231 negroes, and Minnesota her seventy-five: In Missouri, the 82,000 radicals deny ship, while the same men clamor for the enfranchisement of the negro in the Southern States, refusing to great it to their own. Neither in Michigan nor Missouri could this have been done but for the opposition of the radicals. A writer in the "Richmond Dispatch, who is said to be "one of the most distinguished scatesmen in the Valley of Virginia," after setting forth "the difficulties of our situation; of the impossibility of avoiding negro suffrage, and of the possibility of escaping other and worse evils," advises the people of Virginia to agree upon the platform of "univer sal amnesty and universal suffrage," and, framing a constitution upon this basis, to ask at the hands of Congress its substitution for the "obnoxious instrument" proposed by the late convention.

RECEIPT FOR CURING MEAT .- To one gallon of water, take one and a half pounds of salt, one-half pound of sugar, one-half ounce of saltpetre, one half ounce potash. In this ratio the pickle to be increased to any quantity desired. Let these be boiled together. until all the dirt from the sugar rises to the top and is skimmed off. Then throw it into a tub to cool, and when cold, pour it over your beef or pork, to remain the usual time, say four or five weeks. The meat must be well covered with pickle, and should not be poured down for at least two days after killing, luring which time it should be slightly sprink le I with powdered saltpetre, which removes all the surface blood, &c., leaving the meat fresh and clean. Some omit boiling the pickthrowing off the dirt always to be found in Germantown Telegraph.

THE COLDNESS BETWEEN GEN. GRANT AND PRESIDENT JOHNSON .-- A Washington correspondent of the "Baltimore Sun" telegraphs as follows under date of 30th ult. :

Referring to the coldness between the President and General Grant, the papers menion the embarrassment on the part of the latter attending the observance of an old custom, or matter of official etiquette, on New Year's day in Washington, namely, the call apon the President which all the officers of the army and navy stationed in Washington are expected to make on that day. It is suggested that General Grant, by his absence from this city o . Friday next, will be relieved of this embarra, sment.

There is another custom observed between outgoing and incoming Presidents that, if observed on the fourth of March will renew the kind of embarrassment referred to. Usually, on that day, the outgoing President notifies his successor of his readiness to accompany the latter to the Capital, and does seat him in the Executive carriage and drive with him to the place assigned for the inauguration ceremonies to take place.

If General Grant declines to come in conact with President Johnson on New Year's day, because of the unpleasant feeling existng between them, the same cause will in all probability induce him to wish to avoid a meet ng with Mr. Johnson on the 4th of March. Probably the embarrassment may be overcome consistently with General Grant's practice of avoiding prepared owitions and ceremonies. He may decline the inauguration ceremony, and quietly take the executive oath before a competent officer -- even a justice of the peace -and as quietly take possession of the White
