

MY FIGURES ON SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Will make you give up all thoughts of economizing. It isn't necessary when you can get everything the children need for about one-fifth of what it cost your fathers. My stock includes: Writing Pads, Pencils, Sponges, Crayons, Pens, Ink, Drawing Material, etc. When you want a lot of these things I will make lot prices. Respectfully,

J. H. DARBY, Druggist.

P. S.—Just received a fresh line of Candy.

Death of J. B. Sanders, Esq.
J. B. Sanders, Esq., died at his home, near Oakway, in this county, at noon on Wednesday, October 3d, after a brief illness. In his death Oconee loses one of her most useful and respected citizens. He was born on the 8th day of January, 1830, and was in his seventy-first year. In early life he married Miss Mary McDonald. Of this union two sons and three daughters still survive. She died several years ago, and he married Miss Elizabeth Herbert, who also predeceased him about two months. In all the relations of life he was found to be a true, noble, honest man. Actuated by the highest ideas of duty he served his day and generation with fidelity. From early youth he utilized every opportunity and turned it to best account. For nearly fifty years he was a surveyor, and he served as Trial Justice and Magistrate for over thirty years. In the last Democratic primary election he received the highest number of votes polled for any candidate, and had he lived, he would have been appointed his own successor as Magistrate. He was also a loyal member of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and contributed liberally of his time and means to the support of her institutions. He made it a rule to give one-tenth of his income for this purpose, and he was scrupulous in its observance. It has been said that he missed only two quarterly conferences in the last thirty-five years. He saw long service as steward, also as secretary for church, quarterly and District Conferences. He also frequently went as a lay delegate to the Annual Conferences of his church, and always delighted in the discharge of his Christian duties. It can truly be said of him that a good man and a humble Christian has entered upon his reward, and his works do follow him. His funeral services were conducted in the Center Methodist church on Thursday morning at eleven o'clock by Rev. J. W. Bailey, assisted by Revs. J. M. McGuire and D. L. Whitaker, and attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. His mortal remains were interred in the Center burying ground.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or not. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could have had. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 25 cents, at all drug stores in the county. Every bottle guaranteed.

Close of the Baptist Protracted Meeting.
The series of meetings which have been conducted in the Baptist church at this place since the evening of September 27th were concluded last Sunday night. Rev. Oliver J. Copeland, of Anderson, assisted the pastor and did the greater part of the preaching, services being held in the morning and evening each day. The attendance for the first two or three meetings was rather small, but increased in interest and numbers until the last service when the large building of the Baptist congregation was not sufficient to accommodate the congregation. On Sunday night not more than two-thirds of the people could find seats in the building. The doors and windows were filled with anxious listeners. Mr. Copeland preached some twenty forcible and earnest gospel sermons. The business houses of the town were closed during each service for the last week. We feel that much and lasting good may have resulted. If not, the fault does not lie at the door of the preachers. The ministers of the different churches joined heartily in the meetings, and, as a result, the Methodists received several accessions to their church. This was Mr. Copeland's first meeting outside of his own church, but he developed remarkable ability as an evangelist. He is a talented young preacher and a bright future awaits him. The churches have been much revived and many sinners have been made to think. Some twelve or fifteen conversions were professed. The people of Wallhalla would certainly be gratified to have Mr. Copeland visit our town and hold another meeting.

Nerve Food
If you have neuralgia, Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will feed the nerve that is crying for food—it is hungry—and set your whole body going again, in a way to satisfy nerve and brain from your usual food. That is cure. If you are nervous and irritable, you may only need more fat to cushion your nerves—you are probably thin—and Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will give you the fat, to begin with. Cure, so far as it goes. Full cure is getting the fat, you need from usual food, and Scott's Emulsion will help you to that.

Confederate Soldier in the Poor House.
Messrs. Editors: I saw in your paper last week that there is an old Confederate soldier in the poor house! Shame on our country. It isn't worth while to ask the old soldiers to give their mite, for I know they will. I ask the sons of veterans to show themselves men and lend a helping hand. For God's sake let us take this old soldier out. I am an old soldier myself and lost as much blood on the battle-field as any man to live. I will help to the last cent. D. W. FENDLEY. Tugaloo, S. C., October 8.
