Shot by Burglars, Then Robbed.

Mason, W. Va., November 9.—Harry Allemang, a ball player, who pitched in the Southern League this season and who has signed with Cincinnati for the coming year, was shot and mortally wounded here early this morning. Allemang had been out with friends and was returning home at 3 o'clock. He found burglars at work in the post office. found burglars at work in the post office.

A sentry on the outside ordered Allemang to halt. No attention was paid to the command, and the sentry fired on Allemang, the bullet entering his back and lodging in the left lung. Physicians state that the wound is fatal. When Allemang had fallen to the ground the robbers took $600 from him.

An Elephant is Hanged at Sea. New York, November 8.—Mandarin, an elephant of the Barnum & Bailey circus, was executed by strangulation to-night in his cage on the main deck of steamship Minneapolis of the Atlantic Transport Line. A two-inch hawser was fastened to the drum of a "winch" engine. The engines were started at the same time and run slowly at first until the hawser was taut about the animal's the hawser was taut about the animal's neck when the speed was increased and the hawser quickley tightened. In a minute and a half the hind legs sank to the floor of the cage and the elephant was unconscious. Just eight minutes after the engines had been started Mandarin was pronounced dead. The cage containing the body was then hoisted from the ship by a crane and loaded on a barge on which it was towed about 20 miles out to sea and sunk, the cage being weighted with about 5,000 pounds of old railroad iron. THE MODEL RURAL SCHOOL.

Kind the School Improvement Workers Hope Soon to Have in George

Little John Smith is now six. Hi mother calls him to her. "John," sh says, "you are now old enough to go to says, "you are now old enough to go to school. Your sister Carrie can tell you that Miss Brown is a very sweet woman and loves to teach little boys. You must be a good boy; the State is educating you, so learn fast and be a man."

"Now, John," said Carrie, "brush your nails and teeth; Miss Brown will not let boys come who have soiled nails and teeth."

Mrs. Smith, Carrie and John stated to the school. On the road John theres.

rock at a mocking bird. "Why, John!" exclaimed Carrie; "Miss Brown says God made mocking birds for some good use. Don't kill them. All of us over at Red Rock belong to the Audubon Society and love the birds."

"Look at that beautiful new house and pretty flowers over there!" exclaimed John presently. "Who lives there?" "Why, that is Red Rock school. We planted those flowers last Arbor Day."

"What is that flag?"
"That is our 'Old Glory' prize from The Youth's Companion."

A bell rang. Like soldiers the children marched to the cloak room and then to chapel. The organist played "Nearer, my God, to Thee." The children rose and sang it very sweetly. John Brown, the leader, read a Psalm and all repeated the Lord's prayer. Then Miss Brown the Lord's prayer. Then Miss Brown called the roll and each child answered with a Bible verse. John Brown au-nounced, "Jack Jones is the leader for to-morrow." Miss Brown organized her school. To

"Mrs. Smith, Jack Jones will show you over our new building," said Miss Brown." "Quite different from the school rooms when we were girls."

With politoness that would grace the halls of Congress Jack showed Mrs. Smith the teacher's handsome desk and Smith the teacher's handsome desk and chair, the patent school desks, the historical pictures, pictures of great men and women, the clock, the bust of Calhoun, the charts, dissected maps, the globes, the 'Nature's Corner,' in which were numerous bugs and in-sects, and he explained to her also the rainy day games. Next was the library, with its books of history, biography and good fiction. In the same room were swords, sabres, etc., of warriors; stuffed birds and insects, and numerous relics of the past. They then went into the yard. Vines covered the door, roses and other flowers bloomed everywhere. "Here is a rose from Governor Perry's birthplace." Jack explained to his friend as they walked among the flowers and trees; "an elm from the home of Nat. Price, who saved Wade Hampton's life; an oak from the Pickens farm; cedars from the home of John C. Calhoun; a pine from Horse-shoe Robinson's Bend, and dearest of all a rose from Mrs. Ludie Coleman's home.

Mrs. Smith, can we ever be thankful enough to her for starting the school improvement work? Well, all these are great Oconee people. But there is the bell; my period is up. Good day, Mrs. Smith. Come back again."

Miss Brown then had a few moments to talk to Mrs. Smith. "At recess, Mrs. Smith, I get the children to work on the yard. I make the work like again." yard. I make the work like play, they enjoy it, and in a few weeks they will see the results of their work. Chil-

"Wasn't Carrie's report good? I find it so helpful to rural teachers to give reports. Come again, Mrs. Smith. I am sure John will do well here. Good-bye." This is a plan we wish to establish in Oconee—to improve the rural school iouses and to lend a helping hand to the Top Cotton Crop is All in Talk.

Valdosta, Ga., November 7.-I see Mr eill has come forward with an estimate Neill has come for ward with an estimate of 11,500,000 or 12,000,000 bales of cotton. The people of the South will see that he is out of line 1,000,000 bales when their crop is gathered and marketed.

In 1899 he said the crop would reach 12,000,000 bales. Figures showed we did not make 10,000,000 bales. We can't give much credence to his estimates. The farmers of the South have marketed 75 per cent of their cotton grop and this 75 per cent of their cotton crop and this has been sold for less than it cost to make. We can't make 12,000,000 bales with drought, overflows and the Mexi-can boll weevil to destroy.

The spinners and their agents tell us The spinners and their agents tell us we will make more from the top crop than we did from the bottom crop. Farmers tell me that the top crop of cotton is like the top crop of childrentid on't amount to much. Most of the talk and writing of the top crops is done by the appropriate.

Philippine Army to be Reduced.

Washington, November 8.-It is said Washington that the army in the Philippines will soon be reduced about This will cause the sifting out of 0,000. he rank and file as well as the officers Army authorities will not confirm the but the report is supposed to have grown out of an order sent to command ing officers everywhere to begin a thorough system of weeding out the rank nd file, which might result in reducing the Philippine army more than any branch of the service. The army is very popular among the private soldier class, and no difficulty is experienced in get-ting the proper kind of recruits. On the other hand the navy is always having much trouble to keep its ranks full. Many more applicants for enlistment are continually appearing than it is possible to accept and the men already resist every attempt to dislodge them. In order to get the army down to a peace footing it will be necessary for the officers to do some pretty thorough sifting. Every man who is not esteemed a valuable soldier will be marked for discharge at the earliest opportunity, and, if direct cause does not arise for dismissing him, he will be given his extra pay and certificate and retired to private life. This is expected to reduce the Philippine branch of the army more than any other and it is believed that it will be left in its reduced state until some occasion arises when it will be ad-visable to increase it.

"I have been so greatly benefited by Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure that I freely recommend them as the best remedies for the diseases they are recommended to cure. When I began taking these medicines I weighed scarcely 140 pounds, my nerves were badly shattered and my heart troubled me a great deal. I had pain in my left arm and shoulder, had difficulty in sleeping on my left side, had frequent smothering spells and my heart would flutter and palpitate. I could eat scarcely any kind of food without suffering great distress, and was so restless and nervous that I sleep little night or day. Now I am never bothered with my heart, nay nerves are steady as a die, I sleep well, eat well and weigh 163 posnds. Craig; alternate, J. M. Sanders. The Pumpkin State of the South

Our State contemporaries, always interesting and instructive, are devoting less attention these days to politics and more to the material things of life. The Barnwell People, for example, thinks that it would pay the farmers of that county to "get an expert to spend some time among them as a tobacco mission-ary," the lands of Barnwell county being well adapted to the cultivation of the

that it would pay the farmers of that county to "get an expert to spend some time among them as a tobacco missionary," the lands of Barnwell county being well adapted to the cultivation of the best money crop now produced in South Carolina. The People is also trying to arouse public interest in the passage of a law that will "rid the country of worthless dogs and give the people a chance to eat mutton occasionally."

It also reports some remarkable things about agricultural affairs in its county, and declares that "Farmer Heyward Hair, of Rosemary, eighteen years old, and as good as anybody, sent in a potato weighing 7½ pounds last week," and that Mr. G. W. C. C. Gill left at the People's office last Monday samples of three story potatoes, and remarks in passing that, "The Baptist Courier, for whose senior editor more pantry keys have been used than for any other editor in the State, speaks in the highest terms of the splendid hospitality extended by the good people of Mount Calvary church to the recent Baptist Association." It is a good thing to live in a county which is not solid for the yellow dog and produces three atory potatoes. When the German Immigration Society is organized there will be a splendid opening in Barnwell county for the new settlers.

The Keowee Courier reports that Mr. J. D. Isbell, of Oconee county, "makes good crops of all kinds," that he got a yield of four hundred bushels of turnips from a third of an aore two years ago, will do better this year, and that one of these vegetables, a large fine rutabaga, grown this year, weighed 5½ pounds. The Courier adds that "Oconee beats every county in the State growing big things in the field crop and vegetable line," and in proof of this statement says that E. P. Wood got forty-seven good sized pumpkins, the largest of which weighed 58 pounds from one vine growing back of his stables. The vine covered a plat of ground 23x27 yards in diameter and the forty-seven pumpkins aggregated 893 pounds in weight. And yet there are a lot of people living in

The Timmonsville Enterprise reports that two tobacco farmers in its section sold 6,000 pounds of tobacco at a good price in that market last week. It also reports that there are a number of farmreports that there are a number of farmers about Latta who have made this year from $125 to $150 an acre on their tobacco crops, that H. E. H. Smith and Laurens Bethea, of the Buck Swamp section, sold their entire crop of about 50 000 pounds at $15 a hundred pounds in the rough. J. R. Reeves of the same section sold his crop of twenty-five acres at about $140 per acre. The buyer of the Smith and Bethea crops cleared $1,500 on his purchase, so that tobacco growing not only pays the farmer, who grows it, but the seller who handles it.

Ghou!s Point Out Graves They Robbed.

The ghouls were taken to the Ebenezer and Adaptator. day. The ghouls were taken to the Ebenezer and Anderson cemeteries for the purpose. The detectives wanted the names of other bodies stolen in order that other warrants might be sworn out. At the Anderson cemetery the sexton told the detectives that about forty graves in the place were empty. In the Anderson cemetery Cantrell pointed cut the graves of a woman and her daughter as among those he had robbed. Cantrell said he stole the body of the woman by agreement with her husband and paid him half of the $30 which a prominent local physician paid for the body.
