THE FIRST REQUISITE OF A SHOE

The very first requisite of a shoe is that it shall fit the foot with absolute accuracy—closely, but not tightly—with no waste space, yet with no pressure.

"Queen Quality" is the one shoe for women which is made so that it fits the foot just as a Paris-made glove fits the hand.

Have you ever noticed that but few other shoes talk much about fit? They talk about "style" and "beauty" and "form" and other things that mean nothing. But they say little about "fit."

"Queen Quality" fits because it is an entirely different construction, which, by the way, adds many dollars to the weekly pay roll.

But the Shoes fit perfectly!

COONEITES AND OTHERS ABROAD.

Facts About Our Friends Gathered from the Columns of Exchanges.

Anderson Intelligencer, 4th: Our young friend, W. E. Giles, who has been attending a business college in Augusta, Ga., for several months, was in the city last Saturday and gave us a pleasant call. He was on his way to his old home in the Townville section to visit relatives.

Spartanburg Spartan, 4th: Col. J. C. Carey returned to the Lockhart mill Monday after a trip to Boston. The capital stock of the plant has been increased to $1,800,000 and an additional 50,000 spindles will at once be erected. While in the north Mr. Carey completed all arrangements for the machinery to equip the new mill.

Sally, Cor. Aiken Journal and Review, 4th: Some of our citizens heard Rev. Sam Jones in the Court House last Monday night and report Jones as a fine lecturer, but had to admit that the entertainment given by Prof. Walter G. Peterson last Friday night was just a little ahead of Sam Jones. About five hundred people came to said entertainment, and it was admitted by all that Prof. Peterson's entertainments are just grand. People came from four counties.

Greenville Herald, 4th: Dr. C. T. J. Giles and wife, of Spartanburg, arrived in the city yesterday. They will make their future home in Greenville, and will live in Perry avenue. Dr. Giles was married about a year ago to Miss Nell Walters, one of the most popular young ladies of West Greenville. He already has many friends in the city who predict for him a lucrative practice here, as he comes well recommended from the people of Spartanburg and other towns in the State where he has practiced.

Wagner Cor. Aiken Journal and Review, 4th: On Saturday evening, February 21, the Wagner High School presented to the public a well gotten up programme. The selections showed a great deal of taste, and the manner in which the pupils carried out their parts proved that their instructors had exercised a great deal of care in training them. There were about 500 present and I am sure that every one went away feeling proud that they had come. This speaks well for Prof. Wade C. Hughes and E. B. Jackson, who are so earnestly striving to crown their year's work at Wagner with success. These energetic young men certainly do not fear work and the trustees of that school should feel proud that they secured such able men.

Pickens Sentinel, 5th: According to announcement, Prof. W. E. Dendy and J. H. Newton made an educational talk to the people at Six Mile school house Saturday night. A good crowd greeted them and much interest was manifested along educational lines. Prof. Dendy is profuse in his praise of that section of the county and of his treatment by those hospitable people and will go again when opportunity presents itself.

Dyson Cor. Greenwood Index, 5th: Mr. J. C. Mickler is sawing a lot of excellent timber near here.

Atlanta Journal, 5th: Former Chief Justice Logan E. Bleckley is visiting friends in Atlanta. Judge Bleckley has just completed the erection of a new home in Clarksville. His residence was destroyed by fire there last summer. Judge Bleckley has hundreds of friends in Atlanta who are always glad to see him, and he is always warmly welcomed when he visits Atlanta. He will be one of the guests of honor at the annual meeting of the Georgia Bar Association, which meets at Tallulah Falls this year, and it is very probable that he will make a speech. He always attends the meetings of the association, and it has been several years since he has made a speech.

New York, March 4.—To help pay the debts of the Peary Arctic Club an old violin, relic of the ill-fated Greeley relief expedition, bequeathed by Roderick R. Schneider, its former owner, as he lay in the snow to die, in 1884, to the next explorer who should come so far north, is now for sale in Brooklyn. Mr. Peary found the violin and turned it over to the Peary club.

A Two-Billion-Dollar Congress.

Washington, March 3.—Representative Livingston, of Georgia, the ranking Democratic member of the House committee on appropriations, makes a rough estimate that the total amount of money appropriated by the Congress which is about to close will reach a minimum figure of $2,000,000,000.

"I have not the complete figures at hand yet," said Mr. Livingston, "for the reason that several bills are yet in conference, but I judge that the total amount will not be less than $2,000,000,000. This is a remarkable fact upon which the country can well afford to ponder. It means that the expenditures of the government are far greater than the growth of the country warrants. Of course allowances must always be made for growth, but the development is being exceeded by the total of our disbursements.

"The fact is, this Republican administration is following the same course of an extravagant person who finds his pockets full of money and who does not know what to do with it. A man extravagantly inclined, who does not know what to do with the money in his purse, always manages to get rid of it, and in most instances a great proportion of it goes to waste. There is now a surplus of about $477,000,000 in the treasury, and the Republicans don't know what to do with it.

"Therein lies the evil. There should be no gigantic surplus. The Republican protective tariff is responsible for the situation, and I believe that with a tariff-for-revenue-only policy we could manage the affairs of the treasury much better, obviate the great surplus, without injuring the state or our finances, and thus eliminate any chance for extravagance. I believe that is the solution of the problem and that the true Democratic policy would conduce largely to wise economy.

"With a $2,000,000,000 Congress starting us in the face, it is time to cut down appropriations. A few years ago the country was advertised to find that it had just witnessed a billion dollar Congress. Now two such Congresses are combined; that is we have a billion dollar Congress every year instead of every two years. I do not favor a cheese-paring policy, but I think the appropriations of this country are far in excess of what they should be."

William J. Bryan has informed his intimate friends in this city, says the New York Tribune, that if the anti-plutocratic Democrats triumph in the next national Democratic Convention he will lead his followers from the hall and nominate an independent Democratic ticket with a platform that will enlist the support of the radicals.

"The friends of Mr. Bryan," said one of the Nebraskaan's confidants, are keeping the fires of the Democracy burning on the Democratic altars. There is something wrong in their defeat. It is a sacrifice of principles. Now, don't make any mistake. Not all the Democrats who voted the regular ticket in 1896 and again in 1900 were in favor of all the things in the platform, but the platform was nine-tenths right, and should have had the support of every Democrat."

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. It attacks too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold free, also pamphlet telling how to get it. None of Swamp-Root, full about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name—Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address—Binghamton, N. Y.—on every bottle.

BEN HUR "SKINNED."

Revs. Broughton and Morgan Take Top Seats at the Performance—Tickets Torn Up.

Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, the eminent evangelist, in his sermon at the Tabernacle Baptist church Tuesday night, took a shot at the Ben Hur performance which is being given nightly at the Grand opera house and advised Christian people to stay away from it.

As a result of the denunciation which Dr. Morgan hurled at the show last night a number of people have torn up their tickets to the performance and their seats will remain empty. Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church, declared this morning that he himself knew of quite a number of people who had torn their tickets up and he doubted not many others had done the same thing.

Dr. Morgan declared last night that to attend the Ben Hur performance was as unchristian as to attend other performances on the stage which the church was opposed to, and that for the sake of fashion many people were allowing their children to attend the show and commit a sin.

Dr. Broughton, when seen this morning, said it was true that Dr. Morgan had "skinned" the "Ben Hur" theatrical company last night, and that he was right in doing so.

"By dramatizing this sacred and beautiful story, the professional actors have committed sacrilege, and Christian people should wipe their hands of the whole thing," declared Dr. Broughton. "I am opposed to it, and I heartily agree with what Dr. Morgan had to say. All performances on the stage are alike, whether they be 'Ben Hur' or 'Ben Devil,' and I am opposed to them."

He Claimed to be a Preacher. W. C. Clifton, an alleged Baptist preacher, is in a cell at the Greenville station house, charged with grand larceny, having been arrested by Chief of Police Kennedy, at the instigation of Alderman G. H. Mahon, yesterday afternoon at his boarding house, in McBea avenue.

After making the arrest, Chief Kennedy went to the room occupied by Clifton and there found a large stock of almost every conceivable article of merchandise, from a tooth brush to a pair of shoes or an overcoat. A quantity of the goods were at once identified as being the property of the Mahon & Arnold Company and R. L. R. Dentz.

The Rev. Clifton came to Greenville about two weeks ago and has been here since, selling the "Life and Letters of John A. Broadus." He claimed to be a Baptist preacher, was well dressed, had a clerical look and a gentlemanly bearing.

In some way he secured the names of a number of the Baptists of the city. To each of these Rev. Clifton gave a very creditable tale, stating that he was a Baptist preacher; that he was a personal friend of the Broadus family; that because of unfortunate circumstances he was compelled to take up the work of selling books. By this means he succeeded in disposing of a number of the books, receiving $1.50 for each one.

While canvassing the city the Rev. Clifton always carried with him a small grip, and it is supposed that he would steal the goods and convey them to his room in this grip.

G. H. Mahon, of the Mahon & Arnold Company, was one of the first persons to buy a book from Rev. Clifton. Mr. Mahon stated yesterday, however, that he suspected the man when he first saw him and told Chief Kennedy to keep an eye on him; shortly afterwards Mr. Mahon thought he saw Rev. Clifton take a pocket book from his store. However, he wanted to be positive of his proof and quietly waited further results. In the meantime Mr. Mahon had written to a prominent citizen of Hartwell, Ga., where Rev. Clifton is supposed to live. The reply from Hartwell stated that a Clifton family lived in that town; that Mr. Clifton was there occasionally and always seemed to have plenty of money, and it was generally supposed by the people of Hartwell that Clifton was a gambler; that his family always lived high, dressed well and never seemed to want for money.

Yesterday Rev. Clifton was in the Mahon & Arnold store, and despite the fact that he was being watched, he stole a pair of shoes. He was also seen with some spoons of thread in his pockets which were secured at the time. These disclosures lead to his arrest yesterday afternoon.

Four Youthful Atlanta Burglars.

Four youthful burglars were yesterday sent to the tower in default of bail, says the Atlanta Constitution of March 4th. The band of boy burglars had a den where they camped at night and hid their booty. The den was not a cave in any dismal woods, but an old cellar in the very center of the business section of Atlanta. The discovery of the den was the sequel to the arrest of the four boys who are held for the burglary of Brown's saloon on North Broad street.

The burglary, committed on the Sabbath in broad daylight, was one of the boldest the Atlanta police have ever had to deal with. From what one of the boys stated after his arrest it was believed that the four were banded together to commit crime, and it was suspected that somewhere they had a den where they met together to make plots to hide their ill-gotten gains.

The burglary, committed on the Sabbath in broad daylight, was one of the boldest the Atlanta police have ever had to deal with. From what one of the boys stated after his arrest it was believed that the four were banded together to commit crime, and it was suspected that somewhere they had a den where they met together to make plots to hide their ill-gotten gains.

In this murky cellar two of the boys slept at night as guards. When a daring burglary was to be planned the four met in the cellar and decided what places they were to break open next.

The four boys, Jim Owens, John Gentle, Ed Hollis and Ed Cassidy, were arraigned before Recorder Broyles yesterday afternoon and held in a $500 bond each for burglary. They could not make the bonds, and were sent to the tower.

Gentle was the boy who had the large assortment of keys. In his pockets were at least one hundred keys of all sorts and sizes. With them he could have entered almost any store or residence in the city.

The police believe the boy burglars have committed many of the recent burglaries in the city. They had become bold in their operations, having escaped detection so long. When they robbed Brown's saloon they must have been at work three or four hours carrying off the whiskey, beer, cigars and tobacco. The goods were removed in a sack from the saloon to a basement under an adjoining building.

Dispenser Short at Laurens.

Laurens, March 3.—State Dispensary Inspector McCarthy has closed the Laurens dispensary pending a thorough investigation of the affairs of the establishment. An alleged shortage of about $1,800 exists in the accounts. The inspector is in charge of the dispensary. A. R. Sullivan, the dispenser, has been dismissed. The loss is fully covered by a bond in a surety company.

ACCIDENTAL?

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death on the man who fell from the window ledge on which he had fallen asleep. But the death was really due to carelessness which made the accident possible.

There are a great many lives suddenly terminated as a result of carelessness, although the medical certificate may read "heart failure." When a man takes chances with his stomach and neglects the warning symptoms of disease, he is carelessly inviting calamity.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, which makes strength. It stimulates the liver, cures biliousness, and removes bilious impurities from the blood.

"I had been troubled with a pain in lower part of my stomach for three years, so severe I thought it would kill me in time," writes Mr. Aaron Van Dam, of (Huntington) 250 North St., Chicago, Ill. "I could hardly work; I felt like a big weight hanging on me and got so I had to take medicine. I used stomach bitters for a time, but it did no good so I wrote to Dr. R. Y. Pierce for advice, which he gave me immediately. I followed his directions; used two bottles of his medicine and was cured. I had a torpid liver which was troubling me, and I had a great deal of bile in my system. I had gained weight in the last year, and I have pleasure in living now; I have gained weight in the last year, and I have pleasure in living now; I have gained weight in the last year, and I have pleasure in living now."

THE OLD RELIABLE

There is no substitute.

March 3.—President Carmack, in talking with a delegation of Tennesseans who called on him, took occasion to declare that he would see Senator Carmack "in hell" before he would give him any patronage. He subsequently modified the declaration by saying he presumed he should have used the word "hades" instead of "hell."

This declaration was entirely gratuitous on the part of the President. Senator Carmack has asked him for no patronage. He has constantly kept away from the White House. Some of his criticisms of the administration and of the President have been so severe that the President feels deep resentment toward him.

The way the President's remark happened to be made was this: A delegation of Tennesseans went to the White House in behalf of Mr. Morgan, of that State, who aspires to be upon the canal commission. President Roosevelt listened to what these gentlemen had to say in behalf of Morgan, and then said he would be glad to consider their wishes.

"But," he went on to say, "there is one member of your delegation whom I would give him any patronage."

That Tennessean, he made clear, was the Senator who loses no opportunity to criticize the action of the President and his party.

Senator Carmack would not discuss the episode to-day further than to say that gentlemen in the party had reported to him what had occurred. "It was an entirely uncalculated declaration on the President's part," said Senator Carmack, "since I have asked him for nothing and do not intend to ever ask anything at his hands. I had so expressed myself to my friend, Mr. Morgan, before the party went to the White House in his behalf. I have not asked anything from the President, nor would I, and I do not care to criticize any statement he may have made. I find sufficient opportunity and sufficient occasion to do that in the Senate."

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Killed by His Stepson.

Branchville, S. C., March 4.—John Heap, formerly in charge of the Southern railway between Augusta Branchville, was killed by his stepson, Wm. Fairry, at Branchville at an early hour this morning. From the information received it seems that Heap had been on a spree at Branchville for about ten days. This morning his stepson, who lives some distance from Branchville, came to town for the purpose of quieting Heap and to get him to go home. Heap was armed with a gun, according to the report, and when his stepson approached him he told him to get away; that he would kill him, raising the gun to his shoulder and pointing it towards his stepson, who was also armed. Fairry drew his pistol and fired, killing Heap almost instantly.

Heap's stepson is said to be a prominent citizen of Orangeburg county. After the shooting he gave himself up to the officers and he was taken to Orangeburg and placed in the hands of the sheriff.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

Bishop Goes to the Penitentiary. Charlotte, N. C., March 5.—Arthur L. Bishop, the young Petersburg traveling man who was ten days ago sentenced to the penitentiary for five years for killing Thomas Wilson, of Charlotte, has failed to perfect an appeal to the Supreme Court, the time for which expired yesterday. He will be taken to Raleigh to-day to begin serving his sentence.
