King Williams, a negro farmer living near Mount Zion, Spartanburg county, invited Mary Tucker, a neighbor and long standing friend, to come over to his house and cook him some ginger bread. She agreed and was accompanied by her friend, Hattie Giles. On arriving at the house, Williams said something about get-ting his lover to cook for him. This aroused the ire of his visitors, one of them remarking she would kill "her," the lover. This caused Williams to go to one corner of the room and bring forth a double barrel hotgun, which, in a fit of frolic and un, he exhibited as a premonitor to those who would hurt his chosen one. Mary Tucker grabbed for the gun, and while she and Williams were struggling for its possession the wea-pon was discharged. The woman fell to the floor fatally wounded, dying in a few minutes afterwards.-Special to The State, May 14th.

Heart disease is curable, but in people of advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, hope for all sufferers in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which we know from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful sufferers, will cure where all else has failed. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a regulator of the heart's action and the most effective treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

Good Roads Convention in St. Louis.

No more successful convention was ever held in the interest of any industrial movement than the Good Roads Convention that was held in St. Louis from April 27th to 29th, inclusive. In the number of its delegates, in its unanimity and singleness of purpose, in the number of able speakers and freedom from partisan or political influences, it was seldom if ever equaled.

Two thousand delegates from nearly every State and Territory in the Union attended the convention. From the first day to the last the most dominating idea was the necessity of government aid in the construction of rural routes—government aid to be conditioned upon an equal amount of local aid as set forth in the exception of one or two, dwelt upon this idea, and the thundering applause that followed cach speaker left no room this joint. Among the most distinguished speakers at the convention were President Roosevelt, Wm. J. Bryan, Senator Lati-mer, of South Carolina, and Governor Cummins, of Iowa. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan both spoke of the necessity of building better highways for the nation, and though patther committed himself to and though neither committed himself to the proposition of advocating govern-ment aid, yet the inference was clear that both would favor such expenditures Senator Latimer made a strong, earnes and unanswerable argument in favor of government aid. His words fell upon a highly-appreciative audience, and the walls of Odean Hall resounded with acclamations at intervals throughout his address, and at its close the applause continued for several minutes. There will be no more earnest worker for good roads in the next Congress than Senator

The speech of Governor Cummins was disappointing to the Iowa delegates. Without an exception they were in favor of national aid, but Governor Cummins, while not opposing such Congressional appropriations, thought the wisdom of such a policy at least problematical and its propriety doubtful.

The President made some good points.

Among other things, he said: "It is the habit of road building that gives to a people permanent greatness.
"The development of the iron road has been all that one could wish, but it is ere presumption to consider good rail ways as substitutes for good highways.

The county possesses six steel Champion road machines and each of the three chaingang squads has an additional machine. Recently the commissioners purchased a portable rock bin, two spreading cars and one traction commissioners purchased a portable rock bin, two spreading cars and one traction engine, securing a complete rock crushing plant which has the great advantage of being portable, and is easily moved from place to place. This machinery was bought from Col. W. A. Neal, State representative of the Good Roads Machinery Company, of Kennet Square, Penn. This engine and rock crushing plant was taken to Hillsville, where a road about two miles in length is being macadamized from Hillsville to Enorce. The engine was put in order and the plant made ready for rock crushing and macadamizing. Yesterday County Commissioners Thornton and Wingo inspected the new machinery and are thoroughly pleased with the results. Macadam roads are what this county needs. Col. Neal stated that it costs from $600 to $800 per mile to build these thoroughfares with improved machinery. A few years ago the cost of macadamizing was from $2,000 to $5,000 per mile. Col. Neal stated that since January 1, 1903, he has sold $50,000 worth of road machinery throughout South Carolina, which shows that the spirit for better highways is general and growing.

Secretary Wilson, in talking to the Cane Gröwers' Convention, said that the South could not conceal her great re-sources.
