STATE LEAGUE FOR LAW AND ORDER

Proposes to Check Crime by Striking at the Cause—Address to the People.

[The State, November 25th.]

The Executive Committee of the Temperance Law and Order League, which was organized fair week, met in the city last night and prepared an address to be issued to the people of South Carolina. Constitution and by-laws were also adopted. It was decided to put a man in the field at once. The necessary expenses must be met by voluntary contributions. All who are interested in the welfare of the State are urged to send contributions to the treasurer of the league, Howell Morrell, of Horrell, Richland county.

After the adjournment of the committee meeting, the chairman, Capt. J. W. Hamel, editor of the Kershaw Era, stated that the members are very much in earnest; they have met with much encouragement and expect to succeed. It must come about slowly, just as the present state of lethargy has come over the State gradually, but the league expects to see the day when the people will see the cause of crime.

THE ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

Following is the address which was issued last night:

To the People of South Carolina:

The Executive Committee of the State Temperance Law and Order League, in the discharge of the duty imposed on them, would address to their fellow citizens a few considerations and conclusions as to the deplorable condition of lawlessness existing in the State, a condition well calculated to humiliate us in our own eyes and degrade us in the estimation of the civilized world.

It is sufficient to call attention to the fact that 180 homicides are reported in the daily papers as committed in this State for the nine months ending September 30 of the current year, to show that a terrible state of lawlessness exists, and to justify the most earnest and strenuous efforts on the part of law-respecting citizens to correct it.

Besides this record of bloodguiltiness, crimes of all lesser grades, which result from a lawless spirit, are on the increase, while efforts to repress them by the ordinary processes of law seem to be singularly ineffective.

It is scarcely necessary to recite the catalogue of these crimes against morality and good order. They are known and read of all men. The laws of God and man are violated with impunity as witnessed by the desecration of the Sabbath, the profanation of the sanctuary of God by scenes of drunkenness, disorder and bloodshed, the violations of the criminal law, and the shameful violation of the dispensary law in all its restrictive and prohibitive provisions.

Under these conditions it becomes a proper enquiry for thoughtful men, what is the cause of this disordered condition of society, and to seek to discover a remedy therefor.

The most painful feature of the situation is to be found in the general indifference on the part of the better element to assume their part in the enforcement of law, and their refusal or neglect to support those appointed agents who are charged with its enforcement.

We believe it the duty of good citizens of all classes, and especially of Christians, to aid in the enforcement of all laws which have been placed on the statute books by their sanction, and that their neglect or refusal to discharge their duty in this respect is the chief encouragement and support to lawlessness.

We commend his Excellency, Gov. Heyward, for his sincere effort to enforce the dispensary law, and declare it to be one of the purposes of our organization to render all available aid and encouragement to him and his officers in their laudable endeavor.

In a word, we would call upon our fellow citizens to come promptly and boldly to the rescue of our State from the perilous position in which we have been placed by suffering a small minority of law breakers to imperil every true interest of the people by their criminal conduct.

For this purpose we would urge upon the people in every county and community to unite with us in organized effort by forming themselves into leagues for the purposes set forth in the simple form of organization which is herewith submitted.

J. W. Hamel, Chairman,
Howell Morrell, Secretary.

THE CONSTITUTION.

The general purpose of the league will be found in the constitution, which is as follows:

This organization shall be known as the South Carolina Temperance Law and Order League. It shall be supported by free will offerings and shall have for its objects:

1. To render all moral encouragement and support to the constituted authorities in the enforcement of existing laws, both State and municipal, relating to the peace and good order of the community.

2. To render such individual service as may be practicable and lawful, in securing and furnishing to the proper law officers facts and information of violations of law to enable them to proceed against the violators.

3. By all lawful means to hold the sworn officers of the law to the prompt and faithful discharge of their official obligations to the public, and by proceeding against them for wilful neglect or failure on their part.

4. Especially to secure a full and satisfactory enforcement of the dispensary law, both against those engaged in prohibited traffic in intoxicants and those who violate the provisions of the law while acting as sworn officers of the dispensary.

5. By endeavoring to secure such legislation in the future as will ultimately prohibit the traffic in intoxicants for beverage purposes in South Carolina.

Its officers shall consist of a chairman, secretary-treasurer, and an executive committee consisting of seven members, one for each Congressional District in the State, of which the chairman and secretary-treasurer shall be ex-officio members, and one or more field workers.

The chairman, secretary-treasurer and executive committee shall be elected at a convention of delegates from the county leagues hereinafter provided for, and the field workers shall be chosen by the executive committee. The term of office shall be for one year or until their successors are chosen.

The executive committee shall have power to transact such business as may promote the objects of the organization, and shall meet at such times and places as the chairman may appoint.

The annual convention shall be held in the city of Columbia on Wednesday evening of fair week for the election of officers and the transaction of such business as may be deemed necessary.

COUNTY LEAGUES.

A county league shall be formed at each county seat and may maintain branch leagues at such points in the county as may best subserve its interest, and shall adopt such simple rules for its government as may be necessary to carry out the objects of the organization.

OFFICERS.

The officers of the county leagues shall consist of a chairman, secretary and treasurer and an executive committee in such number as the league may decide upon. They shall be elected annually and hold office until their successors are chosen.

The chairman of each county league shall be ex-officio member of the State executive committee.

Each county league shall elect annually at their meeting in September delegates to the annual convention in Columbia in the ratio of one for each member of the General Assembly from their county.

Safeguard Against Accident.

The best safeguard against accident is to use good judgment in directing every act. But accidents will often occur in spite of every effort to prevent them. The best safeguard against injury resulting from accidents is Elliott's Emulsified Oil Liniment. It is the most serviceable accident and emergency liniment ever made and is the most satisfactory liniment for use in the family and on animals ever offered. Large bottle 25 cents. J. H. Darby, Walhalla; Seneca Pharmacy, Seneca.

An exchange says the following is the method of courtship in the Carolina pine woods: "When a boy wishes to express himself to his girl he takes a piece of fat pine, trims it in the shape of a capital I and then passes it to his girl, which means, 'I pine for you.' If she rejects him she takes a match and sets it on fire, which means, 'I make light of your pining.' If she likes him she hands him a pinewood knot which means, 'Pine not.' I am glad to say that most of the boys get a pine wood knot back.

TIRED OUT.

There's many a farmer's wife sits on the porch in the growing shadows of a summer evening, knowing to the full what it is to feel tired out; as if there was not another ounce of effort left in her. But she knows how sound her slumber will be and how refreshed the morning will find her. That's the tiredness of a healthy woman. But it's another thing for the sick woman to feel tired out. Rest only seems to increase her suffering. Just as in profound silence a discord jars the ear more forcibly, so now that she has stopped moving about, this tired woman feels more acutely the aching back and throbbing nerves.

Sick women, hundreds of thousands of them, have been made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"Words cannot tell what I suffered for thirteen years with uterine trouble and dragging-down pains thro gh my hips and back," writes Mrs. John Dickson, of Grenfell, Assiniboia Dist. N. W. Ter. "I can't describe the misery it was to be on my feet long at a time. I could not eat nor sleep. Often I wished to die. Then I saw Dr. Pierce's medicines advertised and thought I would try them. Had not taken one bottle till I was feeling well. After I had taken five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I was like a new woman. Could eat and sleep and do all my own work."

Educational

The board charged with the management of the Peabody Educational Fund decided at their last annual meeting to appropriate $10,000 for the development of rural public schools in the South. They also appropriated $10,000 for the benefit of summer schools. After October, 1904, the scholarships in the Nashville Normal School will be discontinued. This latter action was deemed advisable in view of the fact that within recent years normal schools have sprung up in various Southern States, and it was thought more good could be accomplished by encouraging these local undertakings and at the same time helping to build up the country schools in deserving districts.

Compulsory education is a duty to the taxpayer, who is taxed not merely to keep schools open, but to educate—and to educate all. It is not enough that a few children should attend school. The justification of the tax is that the country is to be made better by the education of all the people.—Superintendent McMahan, in Annual Report for 1902.

A Celestial Vision.

Christian workers will feel interested in the following article by John Temple Graves in The Atlanta News:

The account given by General Booth, of the Salvation Army, as the secret of his consecration and efforts for the spread of the Gospel is very interesting reading. Space is too limited to detail the account entire, but the synopsis may teach a lesson.

In a sort of vision he was brought to the verge of death by severe illness, as he thought, and his friends became greatly alarmed. Previous to that time he was a professing Christian, in a Christian community. He said he thought he was active in religious work. He attended services on Sunday and took an active part in teaching children the truths of Christianity. He visited the sick and gave some money to support religious work about him. In all this he was sincere. He was no hypocrite. He said he had gotten in to a rut of thought, action and profession—hoping it would all be well with him at the close of life.

When he was so comfortably inclined he saw himself in what his friends said would be his fatal sickness.

In this vision—whatever it may be termed—he saw his duty clearer and found he had nothing to rest upon but the mercy of the Saviour—and he found himself repeating:

"I am a poor sinner, just nothing in all,
But Jesus Christ is my all in all."

While this state of mind prevailed a cold numbness possessed him, his breathing became difficult. His dear ones wiped his brow, used restoratives, fell on their knees and wept. With the faintness—he lost consciousness, and found himself out of himself in a new and celestial existence, beautiful beyond expression, delightful beyond conception—and the whole country "was filled with a blissful ecstacy," that could only be realized to be imagined. He felt he was really landed in heaven, safe, saved; to suffer and sin no more.

"Far from a world of grief and sin,
With God eternally shut in."

With all this celestial bliss in plain view he found himself lonely in heaven. Not one of the bright beings, seraphim and cherubim, came to speak with him. He begun to feel an unfitness for association with the inhabitants of the celestial country. He asked himself if he had gone in uninvited or by mistake.

Then a record was unfolded before him. It was his own life's record—the deeds done in the body. He found that all the things he had done amiss, before his conversion, were blotted out; cancelled, as it were. Some friendly hand had gone over the roll and stricken out the things he dreaded to see. Nor was there any notice taken of his mistakes and errors since the date of his conversion. What he had committed that grieved him and what he had sought forgiveness for were not present to torment him; but the trouble lay in the real objects for which he had lived in his earthly life. How had he employed his time, talents and money—the gifts God had given him to use for His glory and the salvation of the world? He found he had been intent on earthly things, seeking his own carnal interests, pottering about the things of the flesh—when he had been given every chance to glorify his occupation as a servant of God. He felt so miserable that he would have gone back to the world to have redeemed the time and lived a nobler life, that he might have wiped out from eternity these unutterable regrets. He asked himself if it would be impossible to obtain a commission or permission to go back to that part of the world from which he had come clothed in human form and live over his earthly life again, to prepare his nature for a life in this celestial kingdom—without harrowing memories which would forever defile? While thus perplexed a glorified messenger came to him and told him the hosts were waiting to hear him relate his victories by which he had helped forward the kingdom of Christ upon earth—and especially if he had been the means of bringing salvation to the dear ones they had left behind. Then he remembered his selfish eagerness for a life of ease and comfort—and what could he say? He had no stories to tell save the record of self-gratification, for he had sacrificed nothing worth naming on earth—much less in heaven for His dear sake!

Thus briefly the story of General Booth's vision is told. How much it has affected his life and purpose who may declare?

Shattered Nerves and Weak Heart.

Too Nervous to Sleep or Rest.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

A shattered nervous system nearly always leads to some affection of the heart, especially where the patient's heart is weak from hereditary or other causes. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is not only a great heart regulator, but it is a blood tonic which speedily corrects and regulates the heart's action, enriches the blood and improves the circulation. It will build you up just as it did Mr. Crawford whose letter follows, and greatly improve your general health:

"I have been so greatly benefited by Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure that I freely recommend them as the best remedies for the diseases they are recommended to cure. When I began taking these medicines I weighed scarcely 140 pounds, my nerves were badly shattered and my heart troubled me a great deal. I had pain in my left arm and shoulder, had difficulty in sleeping on my left side, had frequent smothering spells and my heart would flutter and palpitate. I could eat scarcely any kind of food without suffering great distress, and was so restless and nervous that I slept little night or day. Now I am never bothered with my heart, my nerves are steady as a die, I sleep well, eat well and weigh 163 pounds. I am happy now and am trying to make back the money I spent for doctors who did me no good while I was ill."—T. R. CRAWFORD, Center, Texas.

Eggs and Divorce.

What a man eats, that he is—a rule that applies to woman, just as much or little. Mrs. Sarah Rorer, philosopher and artist of the palate, has given a new explanation of the frequency of divorce: "If fewer women ate eggs for breakfast," says this lady, "there would be fewer cases of divorce." Eggs make their eaters lazy. The feminine egg-eaters neglect their work. Their husbands are dissatisfied. Quarrels and divorces start from the egg. To the woman who doesn't have to do housework eggs are just as pernicious. "The social leader who over-indulges" in eggs "loses her brightness of eye, her piquancy and charm." Her husband "loses interest. Then come lawyers." Hens as a factor of divorce; there's a problem for the debating societies and the women's clubs.—New York Sun.

Death of the "Great White Mother."

New York, November 22.—In the presence of many representatives of the people to whom she had devoted her life, the last rites were performed to day over the body of Mrs. Harriett Maxwell Converse, "the great white mother" of the six nations of the great Iroquois Confederacy. Eulogies were pronounced by the dead woman's pastor and by the chiefs of the various clans of the Seneca Nation, by whom Mrs. Converse was adopted when but a little girl, and one of the chiefs performed the ancient rite of "the passing of the horns" which consisted of taking the string of sacred wampum beads, the insignia of office, from the lid of the casket and presenting them to Joseph Keppler, long associated with Mrs. Converse in her work amongst the Indians, by which act Mr. Keppler was nominated by the chiefs present as the successor of the dead woman.

Mr. Keppler was adopted by the Senecas many years ago and bears the name of Gy-Ont-Wa-Ka, or "The Panther."

In addition to the delegates from the six nations, there were present representatives of the Hurons, Sioux, Abinki, Algonquins, Aztecs, of Mexico, and several other tribes.

Rev. Thomas H. Sill, of St. Chrysostom's chapel, the dead woman's pastor, read the Episcopal services for the dead, after which Crow, a Seneca warrior, made a brief address in his native tongue, lamenting the death of the "great white mother." In speaking he addressed himself to the body before him and in conclusion wished her happiness in the spirit land. Then, turning to his tribesmen, he said:

"We have lost our best and dearest friend. In the many gifts of the great spirit that have been given us there came nothing so beautiful as this woman. She was the most beautiful of all our gifts. She knew us and understood us. She stood between us and those who would have wronged us. It will be a happy task now for the Great Spirit to make her a home in the happy land."

Chauncey Abrams, also a Seneca, acting for Chief Corn Planter, lifted the "horns" from the casket and presenting them to Mr. Keppler, informed him that he had been selected to take the great white mother's office. Then, turning to the coffin, he said:

"I wish you, Ga-Is-Wa-Nea, a safe and happy journey to the spirit land."

Mr. Keppler, in accepting the ancient "horns," promised to faithfully administer the trust imposed on him by his red brethren.

Chief Corn Planter followed, wearing under his vest a red sash, the badge of the high priest of "Gon-Oi-Din" religion. He expressed his grief in a few words of broken English, while tears streamed down his face, and then sat in his chair, buried his face in his hands and wept.

OURS THE TRUE RELIGION.

Dark Face, a magnificent looking man with hair streaming below his broad shoulders, said:

"I am not a Seneca, but I come of the Denikee tribe. I know the great white mother, as every red man in this land knows her. She studied the Indians' religion, the true religion. It is founded on the true God. Our God touched this woman's heart and she understood us. She was the angel of God. We may not have a Christ in our religion, but we have a mediator and she was the great mediator between the whites and the Indians. We see our God—we hear our God. We see Him in the trees, in the rivers and even in a blade of grass, just as we hear him in the rustle of the leaves in our forests. Ours is the God of Nature. She was a leader to us. She inspired us to better things. We loved her and now she is gone from us; but while we are sad it is for us that we are sad, not for her, because we know she is happy. We are sad because we are left alone. I think ours is the sweetest of all the religions."

Addresses were also made by Chief Longfellow, Morris Leigh and Carlos, an Aztec from Mexico.

The interment will be made to-morrow in the Converse family plot at Elmira, N. Y.

How we Catch a Cold.

A cold is sometimes contracted while remaining inactive for a while in an uncomfortable room or a cold draft and by falling to sleep under like conditions. But most colds are caught while sleeping too cold at night. Deep sleep causes sluggish circulation, which renders the system susceptible to change of temperature. To prevent colds, sleep under plenty of cover. To cure colds use Rydale's Elixir, it lessens the severity and shortens the duration of a cold and prevents pneumonia, bronchitis and consumption. J. H. Darby, Walhalla; The Seneca Pharmacy, Seneca.

Dr. Charles H. Judson, dean of Furman's faculty, has announced that he will give $20,000 for endowment of Furman University, provided the present movement to secure $100,000 endowment for the institution is successful by December 1 and $5,000 additional is secured. Those directly interested in the canvass now on say the desired amount will be secured.

Men and Women of All Ages, I CAN CURE YOU!

DR. HATHAWAY.
Recognized as the Leading and Most Successful Specialist in His line in the United States.

The specialist is now indispensable. In all walks of life there is a demand for the man who can do one particular thing better than any one else, and such a man is one who has confined his endeavor to, and centered all of his energy and ability on the specialty he has chosen for his life's work.

Early in my professional career I realized that Chronic Diseases were not being given the attention which their importance warranted. I saw that these diseases required a special fitness which the busy practitioner could never acquire. For more than twenty years I have devoted myself exclusively to the study and treatment of these diseases, and the fact that physicians recommend me to their patients is an evidence of my skill and ability in my special line. I give special counsel to physicians with obstinate and obscure cases.

I have devoted particular attention to chronic diseases of men and women, and no other class of disease requires more intelligent and expert treatment. It is a fact that a majority of men owe the seriousness of their condition to improper treatment, and a failure to realize the importance of placing their case in the hands of a skilled and expert specialist.

Nervous Debility Overindulgence, indiscretions and excesses are not the only causes of an impairment of sexual strength. Such a derangement frequently comes from worry, overwork, mental strain, etc., which gradually weakens and injures the system before the unfortunate victim realizes the true nature of his trouble. Nervousness, weak back, dizziness, loss of memory, spots before the eyes, despondency, etc., often are the first symptoms of an impairment of manly vigor, and if neglected serious results are sure to follow. I want to talk to every man who has any of these symptoms of weakening of his manly functions. I can promptly correct all irregularities, and under my skillful treatment you will have restored all of the strength and glory of your manhood. Whether you consult me or not, do not jeopardize your health by experimenting with ready-made medicines, free samples, so-called quick cures, etc., as the most delicate organs of the body are involved, and only an expert should be entrusted with your case. Send for free booklet, "Nervous Debility and Its Family of Ills."

Stricture My cure for this disease is gentle and painless, and often causes no detention from business or other duties. It involves no cutting or dangerous surgical operation. Improper treatment will result in serious injury. I give each case individual attention, and treat its every requirement. Every obstruction is removed, and all discharge soon ceases, inflammation and soreness is allayed and the canal heals up promptly and permanently. Send for free book on Stricture.

Varicocele This disease is the enlargement of veins of the scrotum, which fill with stagnant blood, causing a constant drain upon the vitality. It weakens the entire system and saps away all sexual strength. I cure this disease with the same uniform certainty just as quick as consistent with medical science. Probably more men are afflicted with Varicocele than any other disease, and their strength is being drained away without their knowing the cause. Come to me at once if you think you are afflicted, and learn the cause of your trouble. Send for free booklet on Varicocele.

Blood Poison This horrible disease is no longer incurable, and when I say that I can cure the most severe case I do so because I know just what my treatment has accomplished. If you have sores, pimples, blotches, sore throat, pains in the bones, falling hair, or any symptoms which you do not understand, it is important that you consult me at once, and I will tell you frankly whether or not you are an unfortunate victim. I will guarantee to cure you without the use of strong and injurious drugs, in as quick, if not quicker, time than any known treatment. My cure is a permanent one, and is not more patchwork, and the disease will be eradicated from the system forever. Send for my free booklet, "The Poison King."

Diseases of Women Women who suffer from the ailments peculiar to their sex are cured by my gentle and painless method of treatment, which avoids all necessity for surgical operations. If you suffer from bearing-down pains, backache, irregularities, le
