WALHALLA, S. C. WEDNESDAY, JAN. 6, 1904. THE TIME NOT EXTENDED.

There has been some confusion in the matter of extension of time for payment of poll tax. Last Sunday's Columbia State contained the following statement...

Comptroller General Jones has reversed himself in his interpretation of the special act making a misdemeanor the failure to pay poll tax within the time prescribed for the payment of other taxes...

The Columbia correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier corrected this statement on Monday as follows: "Erroneous impression will be given to delinquent poll taxpayers by the publication of an article in a local paper this morning to the effect that Comptroller General Jones had decided that poll tax could be paid up to March 15th without penalty..."

By the terms of this latter statement the penalty attaches on and after December 31st, 1903, or, in other words, all polls unpaid on the last day of December are subject to the penalty. It has been a pretty general rule that the Legislature each year extends the time for paying taxes...

THAT PANAMA REVOLUTION. There is a great deal being said and done in Washington about the Panama Canal matter, and it is surprising to know how many Southern Senators and Congressmen are arming themselves against it. The canal will unquestionably be of great benefit to the whole country, and particularly to the South. Speaking on this subject Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, says: "I have no doubt but that the revolution in Panama was started in Washington and New York. Senator Hoar, one of the leading Republicans, thinks so, as well as hundreds of others. Washington knew all about the plans of the revolution before it even started. It may be a difficult matter to prove absolutely that this movement worked up that world, but I firmly believe it did, and I am not alone in my belief. I want the treaty. I want it for the South, because no section of the country could be more benefited than ours by the establishment of this great waterway. But I do not want the honor of my country to be snatched by any such tactics as are now being employed by the Republican administration to prevent the completion of the canal. If it could be shown that there had been nothing dishonorable done in the matter I would gladly vote for the treaty, but that can never be shown, and my intention is to fight it to the last in the caucus, and the caucus, I am sure, is going to say continuing the fight."

ABOUT OBEYING. It is quite common to hear young folk talk about the word "obey" in the marriage ceremony. Young folks sometimes say they object to that word. There is, however, another word in the marriage vow which is harder than "obey." It is "love." Women can no more love a hog than men can love an iceberg.—Abbeville Press and Banner.

THE STATE PENITENTIARY. Superintendent Griffith, of the South Carolina penitentiary, makes a good showing for that institution in his annual financial report. It is as follows: Cash, December 31, 1902, $17,112 14. Total receipts for 1902, 73,908 43. Total, $91,020 57. Expenses for year, $56,386 44. Improvements, 5,000 00. Land for farm, 800 00—$62,186 44. Cash, December 31, 1903, $28,851 13. Cash on hand, 7,600 00. Total, $36,451 13.

WHILE there is lit and a leap year there is hope. With the beginning of this year let every citizen make it a point to try to do something for his town. If you find you can do nothing yourself, then do yourself justice by hindering no one else.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally forced to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he used and it effected a complete cure. For sale by J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Westminster, January 5.—The Graded School will not open again until the new building is finished, which will be some time in February or March. The firm of Haley & Cross has dissolved. Mayo, of Charlotte, was in town one day last week. Joseph Simpson, of Pelzer, visited relatives in this community last week. Mrs. S. P. Smith, of Yorkers, Ga., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Thos. N. Carter. Miss Hunt, of Townsville, visited Miss Sallie Dickson during the past week. H. B. Miss Jessie is well equipped for this now considered very important work, having studied in Atlanta and Charleston under the best teachers.

Mrs. Jas. G. Brazzale was the charming hostess of a party given on New Year's evening. Mrs. Brazzale was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. W. C. Peden and Miss Louise Brazzale. Delightful refreshments, consisting of cake, gelatine, oranges, bananas, apples, and other candies were served in the dining room. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Brazzale's hospitality were Misses Edie Stribling, Minnie Traylor, May Moon, Nellie Norris, May Russell, Nannie Terrell, Louise Brazzale, Belle Jones, Emma Zimmerman, Sallie Dickson; Messrs. Louis Russell, Bert Mitchell, P. W. Matheson, A. W. Leathers, A. B. Stewart, V. B. Jones, K. O. Brazzale, T. P. Moore, M. C. Barton and Otto Russell. All report a pleasant evening.

Mrs. L. D. Bearden and children have returned to Greenville, after spending a week with relatives at Oakway and Westminster. James Simpson, of Asheville, spent a few days last week in Westminster visiting his brother-in-law, J. H. Harbin. J. P. Odell, of Esley, was in town Monday. Birdie and Sallie Lay, of Pendleton, have returned home, after spending several days with their aunt, Mrs. W. N. Cox. Miss Annie Dilworth is visiting relatives and friends in Greenville.

Miss May Moon, a beautiful young lady of Comer, Ga., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Stonecipher. V. B. Jones, of Newry, was a visitor here last week. Peden Anderson is at Central fixing up the books, preparatory to the opening of the new bank recently organized at that place. Peden is familiar with banking to the minutest detail, having worked under his father's care in the business for a number of years. J. N. Morgan is the president of the Central bank. Masters Roy and Jameson Stribling spent a day in Seneca recently, and in noting the improvement in the town found ours ahead in two particulars. One school building being much larger and more handsome and our business houses more attractive in appearance.

Rev. A. P. Maretz has been called to the Old Westminster church for 1904. The programme for the Christmas offering, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society was successful Monday evening, December 28th. The songs and recitations by the children, who had been trained by Mrs. W. J. Stribling and Mrs. Frank Cross, were inspiring. The prayer by Rev. A. P. Maretz, and the remarks by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Moore, who was leader of the exercises, were very appropriate and impressive. The collection will be sent to the Foreign Mission Board for the women and children of our church. The Baptist women all over our beautiful South, are making this Christmas offering and light will come to many dark homes whose inmates have never heard the Gospel.

Maj. B. H. Cross will build two brick store rooms on Main street during the coming year. They will be the sizes of the rooms now occupied by F. W. Cannon and the Stoneypher Drug Company. Maj. Miss Hattie Zimmerman has returned from Augusta, where she spent Christmas as the guest of Miss Maudie Gaines. Samuel Hunter left yesterday for Meridian, Fla., to spend several months with his daughter, Mrs. Bannerman. Girls, remember this is leap year! A. L. Gossett.

Congratulations. Mr. John H. Callum, Editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a letter of congratulation to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as follows: "Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very glad to see you. We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887 and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup, we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and the babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sale by J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Dynamite Exploded in a Hall. Woodbridge, N. J., January 3.—An explosion wrecked the hotel and hall of Joseph Galala and more or less seriously injured thirty persons at Keasby, four miles from here to-day, while the St. John's Benevolent Society was celebrating its anniversary by a dance. There were about five hundred in the hall, and one of the people became panic-stricken and sought to get out, many being trampled and seriously injured. It is believed that some one with a grievance against Galala or the society, exploded dynamite. The walls of the building were blown apart and it may collapse at any time.

When bilious try a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and realize for once how quickly a first-class up-to-date medicine will correct the disorder. For sale by J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Seneca, January 5.—Seneca's frozen stiff and hard this a.m.—the coldest day of the winter. The social calendar during the holidays was fuller than for some years. The school boys and girls were all home and there was a good number of visitors, all leading their share toward cultivating the Xmas festivities. Those from our schools were Misses Carlie Hunter, Eloise Hamilton, Leah and Ruby Harper and Bessie Belle Shelor; Wayman and Geo. Holland. Among the visitors were Misses Matthews, Mattie Sullivan, Carrie Shelor; Mrs. Lee Carpenter and children; Messrs. Elzy Ithelardson, George Benedict, Harry Ziegler, Louis Jordan, Charley Hopkins, Carl Smith, Butler Holmes and Eugene Lewis.

Mrs. J. C. Carnell entertained a most delightful party during the holidays at her home at Lockhart. Among the Seneca society young people were Misses Mary Cherry and Sarah Livingston and Dr. E. O. Doyle. A notable addition to commercial affairs here is the new firm of Stribling & Livingston, represented by M. Stokes Stribling and Whitner Livingston. The firm will do a wholesale grocery business, and will occupy the large brick building known as the Lowery-Bryce building. With Mr. Stribling's long experience in this business and Mr. Livingston's fine business qualifications, the firm will be a strong one and will be a big acquisition to business affairs here.

Our merchants did a fine business prior to the holidays and the shelves now have a well-stocked empty look. J. H. Adams is in the North replenishing his stock. The lecture by Lou J. Beachamp last Monday evening was an excellent one. A good audience heard him and his praises are heard on every hand. Our people are indeed fortunate in having the opportunity to listen to such talented men as Mr. Beachamp.

Among the private dinners, which added greatly to the pleasure of our married folks, were those given by Messrs. J. W. Stribling, S. K. Denny and H. F. Alexander. On Tuesday evening, December 29, Miss Margie Holland was "at home" to her friends, and a most delightful occasion it proved to those who attended. A delicious menu was served. On Friday evening Miss May Cherry entertained a number of her friends in the parlor of the Keowee Hotel, where whist and the all-absorbing no game, "Pit," were played. A pleasant feature also was the brilliant piano playing of Miss Annabell Matthews, the charming guest of Miss Eleanor Richardson.

Harry Poe and Chas. Gignall were the notable acquisitions to Seneca society during the holidays. The Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society yesterday afternoon at the following officers were elected: Mrs. S. K. Denny, president; Mrs. J. H. Falls, vice president; Mrs. J. W. Byrd, secretary and treasurer. The friends of Butte: Holmes and Eugene Lewis, than whom there are no more popular of Seneca's old boys, were here last week. The banquet, tendered by the members of the Once-a-Week Club on the evening of December 31, was a handsome affair and proved indeed a brilliant one to the festivities of the week. Mr. Wm. Lowery tendered her home for the occasion, the lower floor, including the parlor, sitting room, library, dining room and hall being used. The decorations of club members, white and gold, were elaborate and tasteful, and club members as a unit, received their friends, and tendered most royal entertainment. The delicious menu was served in true banquet style, the club colors being in striking evidence in its preparation. After dinner speeches were made by Seneca's best talent, which were most happy in delivery. They were as follows:

The Club Woman—From a Man's Point of View—Dr. Hines. What the Club has done for woman in an educational way—Mr. Boggs. Seneca past, present, what shall be her future?—Mr. Strickland. New Year Resolutions—Jesse W. Stribling. Toast to Woman—Mr. Boggs.

We have been requested to call the attention of all citizens to the cemetery at Retreat church, and in condition of the same, and to request those who wish to contribute to the erection of an iron fence to send the same to Mrs. W. D. Lesley, at Westminster. This will doubtless appeal to not only those who have loved ones buried there, but also to those who have tender associations connected with the place. It is earnestly and confidently hoped that prompt and liberal responses will be made. M. V. S.

John E. Vernon, Sheriff of Spartanburg county, died in the city of Spartanburg last Sunday morning from a complication of diseases. He had completed his third year as sheriff. He was the oldest son of the late Judge Thos. P. Vernon.

Consumption Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago. Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most. Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion. Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on every bottle of Emulsion you buy. SCOTT'S BOWNE, CHEMISTS, 409 Pearl St., N. Y.

At the Age of Eighty-Five, With no signs of senescence. Atlanta, January 2.—Geo. Longstreet, soldier, statesman and diplomat and the last Lieutenant General of the Confederate army, with the exception of Gen. Gordon, died in Gainesville, Ga., this afternoon at 6 o'clock from an attack of acute pneumonia. He had been ill two days. Gen. Longstreet was a sufferer from cancer of the eye, but his general health had been good until Wednesday, when he was seized with a sudden cold, developing later into pneumonia of violent nature. He was eighty-four years old. He is survived by his wife, four sons and a daughter. Gen. James Longstreet was born in Edgefield District, South Carolina, January 8, 1821. He was appointed to the United States Military Academy at West Point from Alabama, where he graduated in 1842. He won his spurs in the Mexican war, where he participated in eight important battles and was breveted captain and major for gallant conduct. When the Civil War began he enlisted on the Confederate side and was immediately made Brigadier General. He had an important part in many of the battles of the war and was known as one of the hardest fighters in the service. He was in the surrender at Appomattox. After the war he took up his residence in New Orleans and established a commercial house of which he was the head. He was appointed surveyor of the Port of New Orleans by President Grant, and was afterwards supervisor of Internal Revenue in New Orleans and postmaster in that city. He was sent as United States minister to Turkey by President Hayes and under President Garfield was United States marshal for the district of Georgia. Some years ago he was appointed United States commissioner of railroads with headquarters at Washington, to which position he held till the time of his death.

The Value of Expert Treatment. Everyone who is afflicted with a chronic disease experiences great difficulty in having their case intelligently treated by the average physician. These diseases can only be cured by a specialist who understands them thoroughly. Dr. J. Newton Hathaway, of Atlanta, is acknowledged the most skillful specialist in the United States. Write him for his expert opinion of your case, for which he makes no charge.

A Texas Marriage—An Oconee Boy. Cuero, Texas, December 31.—Editors are always after good news. Such we can report from our little town. The young folks here are of the opinion that the best time for weddings is Christmas, and so J. A. Hunnicutt, a bright and able young man, who in former times looked in your community and surely has many good friends and dear relatives there, studied this matter also. The outcome was that on December 23, at 8 p. m., in the house of Geo. Letch, he married Miss Alfredo Letch, one of our best and sweetest girls, the Lutheran pastor, Rev. W. Utesch, officiating. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Letch, parents of the bride, Mr. Geo. N. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gerhardt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Letch, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith. The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents for a time. Mr. Hunnicutt holds a good position as a weaver in our prospering cotton mill. (Rev. W. Utesch.)

Monday morning, Frank Morrell, the 14-year-old son of W. H. Morrell, a well known farmer of Wallford, accidentally shot and killed Gus Hammett, a colored farmer on his father's farm lands. Morrell was bantered to shoot at a rock thrown in the air. When the rock was thrown up the firearm was accidentally discharged and the lead took effect in the body of Hammett, inflicting a wound from which he died in a few minutes. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased, Gus Hammett, came to his death by a gunshot wound made by Frank Morrell, it being an accident.
