Walker Elected.

In Greenville county yesterday the Democratic nominee for County Supervisor, J. E. Speagle, was defeated by Walker, independent.

Some Changes on the Blue Ridge.

The new schedule on the Blue Ridge railroad went into effect last Sunday. The passenger train leaves at 8.35 a. m., as heretofore, and arrives in the evening at 5.44, instead of 5.55.

The Exact Thing Required for Constipation. As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives.

Meteorological Matters.

The following is the record of temperature and rainfall as recorded at the U. S. Station, at J. D. Isbell's, near Wallhalla, for week ending November 4, as recorded by J. D. Isbell, observer:

Table with columns: Month and Day, Condition of the Weather, Temperature (Max, Min, Mean), Rainfall (Inches).

Unfortunate Accident at the Oil Mill.

Last Wednesday evening, while attending to his duties as machinist at Strother & Phinney's oil mill, in West Union, F. A. Gambrell, head machinist, was caught by the huller belt and painfully hurt.

When You Have a Bad Cold

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure. You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectoration easy.

South Carolina Horses on the Track.

Luke W. Verner has returned from the Virginia and North Carolina circuit and has been quite successful with the three horses he has been racing. He started six times with Paddy Ledgard, 2194, and was five times first and once second, winning $1,080.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the other way in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies, no matter how severe and irrespective of old age.

Master's Sales for November.

W. O. White, Master, last Monday sold the following tracts of land at public outcry at Wallhalla: Tract of 32 1/2 acres, on Conneross creek, Jas. W. Alexander home place, $650.

News from the Wallhalla Cotton Mill.

Wallhalla, November 8.—Everything is moving on nicely here, with a few families moving in and out, as they are at all cotton mills.

Sam Elliott, who left here about two years ago and went to the country, returned last Saturday to go to work in the mill. His many friends welcome him back to his old home.

The new Wesleyan Methodist church that is being built here is nearing completion, and they expect to be ready to hold services in it by Christmas or before.

I must say hurrah for our little Sunday school here. During the last month it has given $33.60 for home missions. It being a union school there were four denominations represented.

We, as a little band of Sunday school workers, earnestly ask the prayers of all the Christian people in and around Wallhalla, that our little school may grow in grace and in numbers and still continue to do good.

The Woman's Aid Society here, under the management of Mrs. H. J. Sligh, is also doing some very good missionary work. They have collected something over $11.

After all, we mill people are not so bad as some people judge us to be.

Thought It Was Whiskey.

Darlington, November 7.—A colored man named Ed Brown died here on Sunday night from the effects of poison taken by mistake. He was in the employ of the Atlantic Coast Line here, at the station, as an extra hand.

A hundred persons were drowned last week by the sinking of the French steamer Gironde after having been in collision with the French steamer A. Schidau near Gibraltar, 25 miles from Bona, Algeria. The Gironde left Bona with 110 passengers, of whom 100 were Algerian natives.

CLOSE OF THE McCUE TRIAL.

Ex-Mayor of Charlottesville Convicted of Murder in the First Degree.

Charlottesville, Va., November 5.—J. Samuel McCue, for four years Mayor of Charlottesville, was to-day found guilty of the murder of his wife, Fannie McCue, on September 4 last.

McCue grew nervous as Gilmer, commonwealth's attorney, was closing, but he held up, occasionally taking a Testament from his pocket and reading passages. He stood calmly as the verdict was read, but while his attorneys conferred as to their motion for a new trial he showed emotion.

The verdict was received in silence by the throng. Counsel for the defence moved that the verdict be set aside on the ground that the jurors had read the newspapers.

The Court called the jurors to the witness stand, one by one, and questioned them under oath as to whether they had read newspapers. All said that they had not been influenced by anything they had read.

The motion will be argued later. As McCue left the Court House to go to jail, accompanied by four guards, a large crowd stood outside, but there was no untoward act.

Particularly sad was the fact that McCue had for years been a lawyer at the bar before which he was convicted. The jury frequently questioned witnesses. The foreman shook hands with the prisoner and relatives before the convicted man went to jail.

The crime occurred on Sunday night, September 4, as Mrs. McCue returned from church about 9 p. m. Shortly afterward her dead body, clad in a night robe, was found in the bath-tub filled with water. McCue said that some one had entered the house and knocked him senseless and probably killed his wife, but investigation led to his arrest only four days after he had retired from the Mayorship.

Mrs. McCue had received the contents of a shotgun in her breast, a sufficient wound to cause instant death, and had also been struck a heavy blow on the head, cutting an ear nearly in two.

Conneross Items.

Conneross, S. C., November 7.—The farmers of this community are busy gathering their crops.

The Alexander relatives celebrated their thirteenth annual reunion on October 27th. The day was pleasantly spent, especially by the young people.

Ray Abbott while dressing a beef had the misfortune to inflict a painful wound in one of his legs just above the knee.

The sad news of the death of little Jimmie, the eight year old daughter of Mrs. J. W. Alexander, of Carnesville, Ga., reached here yesterday.

We regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Watkins, the mother of Mrs. R. H. Dilworth, of this place.

The young people of this community met Sunday and completed the organization of the Baptist Young People's Union.

A Sunbeam Society was also organized for all children under the age of fifteen years, with Mrs. S. M. Hunsinger, president, and Mrs. J. S. Abbott, vice president.

The Baptist church here unanimously elected Rev. C. Wardlaw as pastor for the incoming year.

The monument of Rev. A. W. McGulch will be erected on December 6th, at Conneross cemetery with memorial services conducted by Iava J. H. Stone, J. M. Sanders and other visiting ministers.

Capers Estridge was killed by a falling tree near Batesburg Saturday night. He was out possum hunting.

Items from Madison.

Madison, November 8.—Everybody here was disappointed last Sunday, as our preacher did not come to fill his pulpit as usual.

The school at this place is in a flourishing condition under the supervision of Prof. M. C. Barton.

Miss Pearl Lyles, who has been teaching at Cherry Hill, has closed her school and is now at home. She contemplates a visit to relatives in Texas in the near future.

W. J. Walters is putting an addition to his dwelling.

Jim Jones has been having some fine fox chases lately.

We have had some pneumonia in this community for the last month.

Henry Spencer is taking a coon hunt in the mountains this week.
