Buried Alive by Landslide.

Littleton, Ark., January 20.—Seven men were buried alive under a great mass of dirt and rock as the result of a cave-in in a deep cut 5 miles north of Antone on the Gurdon and Fort Smith railroad. All the men who were killed came here with a large number of others from St. Louis and nothing was known of them locally. The accident occurred when one hundred and fifty men were working in the cut. The cut is about 50 feet deep at that point and the seven men who were caught in the cave-in were buried under some 20 feet of rock and dirt.

The Good Roads Convention.

Columbia, January 21.—The good roads Convention met here Thursday and there were about seventy-five delegates present. F. H. Hyatt, president of the Association, called the meeting to order. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. W. W. Daniel. Mayor Gibbs, on behalf of the city, welcomed the delegates, after which President Hyatt read his report as to what had been accomplished by the Association during the past year. He said that there were about 40,000 miles of public highways in the State, and about 8,000 miles had been improved. In the upper section of the State the work of making good roads was more looked after than in any other part of the State. He recommended that the supervisors of each county look carefully into the advisability of getting representatives from counties to have a bill introduced to allow the people to vote a tax upon themselves to accomplish the purpose of extending the mileage of good roads. He especially urged that such a bill be introduced and passed at the present meeting of the Legislature. He made the point that education and good roads went hand in hand, and if the compulsory education bill is passed nothing will add more to its effectiveness than having good roads.

Columbia, January 20.—James A. Watson, a gallant Confederate soldier, and one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Yorkville, committed suicide at his home at that place this morning by shooting himself in the head with a muzzle-loading shotgun. He was an elder of the Presbyterian church and superintendent of its Sunday school.

TERROR REIGNS THROUGHOUT RUSSIA!

The Emperor Is Stricken With Grief or Terror or Both—General Trampled to Death.

St. Petersburg, January 22.—The revolt of striking workmen in St. Petersburg culminated yesterday in a desperate clash with the troops, and the whole day terror reigned in the Russian capital. Fifteen hundred are reported killed, though it has not yet got beyond the rumor stage. Some say several thousand were killed yesterday.

Quiet was restored last night and there was quiet to-day until about 1 o'clock, when a report came that the conflict had been resumed. The last reports show that the troops are firing on the workmen.

What the end will be no man can tell. The Emperor is stricken with grief or terror or both, while the soldiers and the mob make terror throughout the Empire.

Emperor Nicholas is completely prostrated by grief. He is represented to be almost in a state of collapse over the situation. In the meantime everything awaits his decision.

All schools are closed.
Every window in Grand Duke Sergius' St. Petersburg palace were broken by the mob during the night.

GENERAL TRAMPLED TO DEATH.

St. Petersburg, January 23.—Among the horrors of yesterday is the case of an aged general whose sledge was stopped by the infuriated people as he was driving in the direction of the troops. "Are you going to order them to fire on us?" yelled the crowd. The general ordered his coachman to drive on, when he was struck on the head by a well-dressed individual in a sable fur coat. The general was then thrown out of the sledge, beaten and trampled to death.

AN EXPLOSION EXPECTED.

St. Petersburg, January 23, 7.10 p. m.—Panic exists in the darkened portion of the city. A trip through the Nevsky Prospect, so far as the Moscow station, shows all the stores and houses closed and the windows and doors barred, but sullen crowds of strikers continue in the streets. The whole appearance of the district is sinister and an explosion might occur at any minute. The police are going from house to house warning the people to remain indoors, an injunction which the terror-stricken inhabitants, sitting in their darkened houses, are glad to obey. The greatest fear is that the water supply will be cut off and the city burned. The military authorities are trying to find workmen to start up the electric plant. The troops had not fired on the people up to this hour.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made.

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mr. Cora Walker, of Porterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by Dr. J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Man Killed in Bowling Alley.

Newberry, January 21.—A peculiar accident occurred here last night, which resulted in the death of a young man. While Joe Hargrove, of the Whitmire section of Newberry county, and Mr. Ferguson were rolling ten-pins in the bowling alley on Caldwell street, in the rear of Hipp's store, Mr. Ferguson's coat fell off the nail on the wall and a pistol in one of the pockets was discharged, the ball striking Mr. Hargrove in the heart and killing him instantly. Mr. Henderson, the owner of the alley, saw Hargrove staggering, but the man was dead by the time he assisted him to a chair.
