THE NEWS FROM SENECA.

Seneca, May 16.—Divine services were held in three churches here last Sabbath, both morning and evening, an unusual occurrence with us. Presiding Elder Jones preached at the Methodist church at the evening hour.

There will be no prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening next, but on Friday morning, and continuing through Saturday, there will be twice daily services, preparatory to the communion service on Sunday.

On Thursday evening the closing exercises of the Graded School will be held in the opera house. A pleasant and interesting occasion is anticipated, both on account of the interest which centers in the school, and also because it will be the first public affair held in the new hall. The principal and assistants have spared no pains making the occasion creditable to themselves and pupils. Let everybody go. The program of exercises will be found below.

Misses Virginia and Lillian Norris are visiting in Atlanta this week. The many friends of Miss Bessie Wilson are delighted that she is at home again.

Mrs. Laura W. Bates will leave the first of June for New York, where she will take the Chautauque course in music, preparatory to resuming her work as music teacher in September. There is an universal verdict the Mrs. Bates has given entire satisfaction here and the combined sentiment of the community favors her return to us in the fall. Affable, painstaking, untiring and efficient are qualities which have endeared her not only to the citizens directly interested in her as music teacher, but to others as well.

The success of the Sunday school picnic, given at Davis's mill last Saturday, is largely due to the efforts of the efficient superintendent, who left nothing undone towards giving the children a good day. A number of teachers and parents were also instrumental in making the outing the success it was.

Mrs. W. J. Lunney left on Monday for a visit of some weeks to her parents, Col. and Mrs. R. E. Mason, at Charlotte, N. C.

Mrs. J. F. McCarey and little daughter, Miss Clara Verner, left yesterday for Greenville, where they will visit friends for two days before going to Spartanburg county for a visit of some length to Mr. and Mrs. John L. McWhorter.

Masters Edward Stribling and James McCarey are visiting in Spartanburg county.

Frank Cherry is visiting his mother, Mrs. S. D. Cherry.

John Livingston is in Seneca with his mother's family.

Miss Fannie Crisp spent last Saturday and Sunday with her friend, Miss Stella Fincannon.

We are in receipt of an invitation to the graduation recital in music in which one of Seneca's talented young women, Miss Carrie Lewis Hunter, will participate. The recital will be held at Chicago College auditorium on Friday evening next, of which institution Miss Carrie will be a full graduate at the approaching commencement exercises. The hearty good wishes and congratulations of the writer, and community as well, are extended this accomplished young musician.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carpenter and family, of Greenville, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hunter last week. Mrs. Carpenter returned to Greenville on Sunday afternoon, Mr. Carpenter going to the mountains on a few days outing.

We most heartily commend the thoughtful ingenuity of the good deacon who on last Sabbath improvised the nursery at the Presbyterian church. It reminded us of the good old days when the infant contingent of every family was naturally included in the Sunday services.

Was it a kind Providence or the new city council who saw to the sweeping of our sidewalks last Saturday night? In any event it was very noticeable, and the thanks of the community go out to whom they are due. We had been requested to punch the council about this very matter, and what a relief it is to be saved this unpleasant duty. Is it a fact that the business houses are required to carry their sweepings out the back door? If so, it is another commendable step, but those down our side haven't caught on yet.

Thos. E. Dickson has been visiting his family here this week.

"The best laid plans of mice or men" and that "toothache," according to Burns, is truly "the b—l of all diseases." No doubt expresses the combined sentiment of a popular young couple last Sabbath. Take comfort to yourselves that "there's a better day coming."

The ice cream and strawberry festival, given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church last Friday, was a pronounced success. A pleasant social affair was afforded to all and a neat sum netted for these noble women.

We regret to announce the death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wright, which occurred at their home here last Saturday. The little one had been sick only a few hours. The sympathy of their friends is extended them in their bereavement.

A notable gathering of women was which met last Friday afternoon in the parlors of the Palmetto House, when the regular quarterly meeting of the Andrew Pickens Chapter, D.A.R., was called to order. The regent, Mrs. Meil, of Clemson, presided, and the meeting was said to be one of the most enthusiastic yet held. Among a number of articles of historic interest displayed was the chair in which the regent sat—one which had been preserved since the days of John Verner, a Revolutionary soldier, who used the chair. Mr. Luke Verner displayed articles which had been preserved in the family for several generations, and the gavel with which the regent called the meeting to order was made from wood cut from a tree under which Andrew Pickens made a treaty with the Indians. This was furnished by Miss Lillian Caldwell. Immediately after the business meeting a few moments of social intercourse was enjoyed, when luncheon was announced.

The arrangement of the parlors of the hotel are admirably adapted to such entertainments, being connected with sliding doors. These were thrown back and luncheon was announced by the butler. The center table, a large one, was used for the officers and guests of honor, while smaller ones about the room were appropriated by the other members. Polished tables with exquisite laid-out pieces and beautiful cut flowers made the dainty menu appear to attractive advantage. The place cards were done by a Seneca artist and were greatly admired by the ladies. The menu was first a salad course, consisting of celery salad, iced tomatoes with salad dressing on lettuce, nasturtium sandwiches and crackers. Iced tea accompanied this course. Ices and small cakes followed and olives were used throughout the luncheon.

A popular adjunct was the organo bowl, which was found at the entrance of the parlor door, which was most gracefully presided over by two of Seneca's charming young women, Misses Inez Dickson and May Cherry.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Lee Carpenter in October, at her home in Greenville. The Seneca contingent of the Andrew Pickens Chapter were showered with thanks from the visiting members for the charming evening afforded them.

The music program for next Sabbath morning at the Presbyterian church has been arranged and consists of the following appropriate numbers:

"Behold! What Manner of Love," McPhail, Quartette.

Offertory, "For God so Loved the World," Solo and quartette also arranged by McPhail.

The closing exercises of the Seneca Institute (colored), which were held in the hall of the college building last Wednesday and Thursday evenings, were distinctly creditable and were attended by large numbers of the colored friends of the school. On Wednesday evening the program consisted of drills, recitations, etc., participated in by the younger pupils, while on Thursday evening the graduation exercises occurred. A large mixed class received diplomas, which were presented by Rev. Osborn, of Benedict College, who previously delivered an address to the class. Creditable essays were read, which were interspersed with music furnished by the class. The Mayor and Aldermen were present, also the board of trustees of the Seneca Graded School. Mayor Carey was called upon and responded in a thoughtful talk. The president of the institution, J. J. Starks, presided over the exercises and reflected credit upon himself and the institution. Order was fine and the closing exercises marked the end of the most successful year the college has known.

The alarm of fire was given last Wednesday night about 11 o'clock, and when it was discovered that the store room belonging to W. J. Lunney and occupied by Seaborn Bros., was the seat of alarm, the heart of every citizen of the town was terror-stricken. The fact that the discovery was made at the first no doubt prevented what might have proved a most disastrous holocaust. Being in the very heart of the business block it would have taken heroic measures to prevent a wiping out of the whole business portion of town. The origin of the fire is not known.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

GRAND LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS.

The Orphans' Home Property Accepted—C. R. D. Burns Elected Deputy Grand Master.

The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of South Carolina was held in Greenwood on May 11 and 12. All the Grand Lodge officers were present, and an unusually fine attendance of representatives from subordinate lodges. There were over sixty junior Past Grands admitted as members of the Grand Lodge.

The most important work was the establishment of the Orphans' Home. The committee, through L. N. Zealy, reported that the amount of $7,088.46 had been received, of which amount the sum of $5,000 had been paid for the Orphans' Home, and that a balance of $2,088.46 was on hand for furnishing and equipping the home. The Orphans' Home tax now raises about $5,000 per annum. This will amply provide for all the requirements of the home at present. This is an institution that is close to the heart of every brother in this Grand Jurisdiction, and may we always live up to this portion of our duty towards our more unfortunate brothers and their loved ones, by caring for the orphans who shall come to our home, and that it may be a living monument to the glorious motto: "Friendship, love and truth."

The law in regard to clubs of ten was repealed and now the law fixes the uniform rate of five dollars for the initiatory, and one dollar each for the other three degrees. This, in a great measure, was a compromise between the old rate and the club plan.

The salary of the Grand Secretary was raised to $500 per annum, and he was also made ex-officio State Organizer at a salary of three dollars per day and necessary expenses when instituting new lodges. This makes the office of Grand Secretary very important, and our present officer, Dr. S. F. Killingsworth, is very competent and efficient and we expect good results to follow from the inauguration of this plan.

The deliberations of the grand body were harmonious and the best of feelings prevailed.

The following were elected grand officers for the ensuing year: Grand Master, J. J. McSwain, Greenville; Deputy Grand Master, C. R. D. Burns, Walhalla; Grand Warden, C. L. Kelley, Columbia; Grand Secretary, S. F. Killingsworth, Abbeville; Grand Treasurer, H. Endal, Greenville; Grand Representative, J. Marion Davis, of Newberry, was re-elected without opposition.

The following grand officers were appointed: Grand Chaplain, Rev. O. T. Porebor, Greenville; Grand Marshal, T. K. Hudgens, Pelzer; Grand Conductor, H. M. Prince, Anderson; Grand Guardian, Van Smith, Newberry; Grand Herald, R. P. Skain, Newberry.

Following are the Grand Lodge committees: Constitution and By-Laws: Joseph Leach, W. H. Cobb, G. A. Neuffer.

State of Order: J. A. Summersett, J. E. Crosby, J. S. Winslow. Finance—M. Kelloff, W. F. Stieglitz, L. M. Overstreet.

Credentials—J. W. Camfield, W. C. Winters, F. C. Perry. Orphans' Home Trustees—L. N. Zealy, C. J. Pride, T. N. Bennett, H. J. Southern, H. Whitcover, L. M. Oliveros.

The city of Greenville was chosen as the place for the next meeting.

The city of Greenwood extended a royal and hearty welcome, and its generous hospitality was enjoyed by all.

Lander College captured the Grand Lodge the first evening spent in the city. Light refreshments were served by the beautiful young ladies, who also entertained the occasion with songs and instrumental music. Addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Kerr and Rev. J. O. Willson, and responded to by Grand Master McSwain.

Conveyances were furnished and the grand body en masse visited the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, where there is a family of about two hundred in all, and it is splendidly conducted by Rev. Mr. Jamison, the superintendent. The bright and cheerful faces of the children indicate that they are well cared for and contented, and that it is an institution of which every Baptist in South Carolina may justly feel proud.

The visit to Greenwood will be long and pleasantly remembered by all.

ENCAMPMENT.

The encampment branch of the order was strengthened by the formation of a State Grand Encampment, so the head of this department will be within the limits of this State instead of being governed exclusively by the Sovereign Grand Lodge. The officers of the Grand Encampment are: Grand Patriarch, C. L. Kelly, Columbia; Grand High Priest, W. B. Sams, Abbeville; Grand Senior Warden, G. A. Neuffer, Abbeville; Grand Scribe, I. B. F. Middleton, Charleston; Grand Treasurer, F. E. Cortez, Graniteville; Grand Representative—W. S. Brown.

REBEKAH ASSEMBLY.

The second annual meeting of the Rebekah Assembly was largely attended, forty delegates being in attendance. Twenty-two new members were admitted. The report of the secretary showed a steady growth during the past year. The Rebekah membership is now over 1,000 in South Carolina, there being 21 lodges throughout the jurisdiction.

Five new lodges were instituted during the past year. Miss Wessie Corley, the retiring president, was presented a handsome gold past president's jewel. The officers for the ensuing term are: President, Miss Lucy Jones, Newberry; Vice President, Miss Nettie Shealy, Graniteville; Warden, Miss Minnie Hunt, Pelzer; Treasurer, Miss Annie Bond, Charleston; Secretary, Miss Annie Walker, Pelzer.
