SHOES DE LUXE

NEVER were shoes more beautiful than the new "Queen Quality" Custom Grade models. The extent of their variety may be practically presented by stating that they are made in no less than 4,760 variations of shape and style, thus affording accuracy of fit for every type and size of foot, and ease the first day worn. But no figures can express the charm of this variety, indeed it is but faintly suggested by the illustrations here shown. To appreciate this you must see the shoes. Ask for them while our assortments are complete.

SENECA.

Seneca, July 31.—There will be the usual twice daily preaching in the Presbyterian and Methodist churches next Sabbath and in the Episcopal church at the evening hour.

Seneca is boiling over to-day, (what wonder is it?) and as there are doubtless representatives, including ye editors galore from the Courier, your correspondent will not refer further to the Tillman, Latimer, Aiken and Boggs meeting.

Yesterday, what was at first thought to be a serious accident, occurred here near the depot when L. O. Lindsay's horse, which he was driving to a cart, became unmanageable and threw Mr. Lindsay out, rendering him helpless for a time. A litter was provided and the injured man was carried to his home where he received attention from local physicians. Mr. Lindsay is reported as doing very nicely to-day, with no serious injuries.

The Williams Comedy Company will begin a week's engagement at the opera house August 27th.

Beginning August 17th and continuing through the third Sabbath, a meeting will be conducted at the Presbyterian church by A. P. Hassel in the interest of young people and young people's societies. The following card is being sent out to our churches in the county by the pastor of the Presbyterian church, which explain fully the import of the meetings:

"Your church, Sabbath school and young people's societies are cordially invited to send representatives (as many as you see fit) to a meeting to be held in the Seneca Presbyterian church August 17-20, in the interests of the young people and young people's societies. A. P. Hassel, sent by Dr. A. L. Phillips, will conduct these meetings. Under the heads of Organization and Equipment he will present the subjects of Bible study, prayer, Christian culture, missions, stewardship, extension, social work and personal work. Meetings will begin Thursday, 17th, 8.30 p. m. Three meetings will be held daily. We will be glad to entertain all who come. Write me how many will come.

"M. R. Kirkpatrick, Pastor."

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson leave tomorrow for Atlanta, where they go to consult Mr. Thompson's physicians as to his condition, which is not as satisfactory to the family as they would desire. Their numerous friends here hope to hear encouraging news soon.

As every citizen of the county (more or less) is here to-day, including his wife and baby, we will be excused from giving their names, so will merely add a "hearty welcome to all!"

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Doyle and children and Miss Lizzie Tandy, of Texas, are in Seneca to-day, on their way home. Miss Anna Stribling, of Walhalla, is in Seneca also for a few hours on her way to Elberton for a few weeks' visit.

Cecil, John and David Todd have been with their parents here for a week.

Master William Phillips McWhorter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McWhorter, celebrated his seventh birthday last Friday afternoon in a delightful manner, when he had with him a baker's dozen of bright young people. The home was bright with lavish decorations, yellow being the color scheme, which was found in evidence everywhere. Quantities of gorgeous sunflowers were used in mammoth jars, vases, etc., and were used to drape the curtains in the parlor and dining room, making a charming picture. The birthday cake was beautifully embossed and held seven yellow candles. The same color prevailed in the delicious refreshments, which were served in the softly lighted dining room. After refreshments the young company repaired to the parlor, where a contest was engaged in, his highness cock-a-doodle-doo having been previously placed on the wall in convenient reach of the tots, who were required, blindfolded, to pin his comb on. Little Miss Alice Neill came nearest pinning the comb on the proper place and was presented the prize. Master Charles Verner Stribling was requested to make the presentation speech, which he did in a graceful manner, the effort being a gem of eloquence, oratory and rhetoric! Many pretty gifts attested the popularity of the young man, the donors thus expressing their hearty best wishes for "many happy returns."

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines." There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. For sale by J. W. Ball, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Rev. J. W. Humbert Dead.

Newberry, July 28.—Rev. John W. Humbert died this afternoon, aged 71 years. Mr. Humbert was for many years one of the best known members of the Methodist conference. He served many charges in all parts of the State and was always successful in the work of the ministry, which he loved. He was a member of the conference for 47 years. His death is sincerely mourned in Newberry, as elsewhere throughout the State.

He was married in 1865 to Mrs. M. M. Doyle, a daughter of Gen. H. H. Kinard. Mrs. Humbert is now secretary of the missionary society of the conference, which position she has held since its organization, and she has always been a great helper to him in his work.

Methodist Church Against Dispensary.

At the last meeting of the Rock Hill district conference of Methodist churches strong resolutions against the dispensary were adopted. After setting out in general terms the evils of intemperance, the report says:

"The most gigantic evil to-day in South Carolina is the liquor traffic. The hellish octopus with its seat of authority in our fair capital has insinuated its diabolical and damning influence into every part of our commonwealth. We call upon our people to rise up and crush the monster evil.

"Methodism has always led in the temperance crusade. She was the first church ever to have a rule against drunkenness or drinking spirituous liquors. From that day till this, Methodism has never receded from her position."

Then follows a statement of the position of the General Conference, which was recently held at Birmingham, on the whiskey question. The report closes as follows:

"We appeal to our Legislature and be the members thereof to banish the liquor traffic from our State. No Legislature has a right to bargain away the morals of a people.

"Realizing the necessity of an aggressive campaign against the great liquor evil at this time we offer the following resolutions:

"1. That the subject of temperance be systematically taught in our Sunday schools.

"That our pastors be requested to preach on the subject more frequently.

"That it is the duty of every Methodist to use his power of suffrage to banish this gigantic evil from our State."

All the churches are arrayed against the dispensary. Individual members may possibly hold divergent views, but the churches have gone on record on this question, and the voting is a matter of individual consciences. And in spite of this fact a dispensary organ, in discussing the great moral institution, has the effrontery to say "The moral question is not one for consideration."

Four Murdered in Pennsylvania Home.

Cannonsburg, Pa., July 30.—When Samuel Pearce, a well-known resident of Washington county, returned to his home from a drive last night, he found his wife and two children, dead and a third dying, from bullet wounds.

Mrs. Pearce, who was 25 years old, had been shot through the breast; Margaret, 5 years old, and Dwight, 11 months old, had been shot through the head, while Robert, still living, had a bullet hole through his lungs. Pearce had just returned from a visit to the depot here, and when he drove into the lane leading to his barn he noticed a cloud of smoke rolling from the bed room window. Leaping from his buggy, he rushed to the front door, which he found locked. Going around to the rear, he gained an entrance, and upon reaching the bed room, from which he had seen the smoke issuing, he found upon the floor the dead body of his wife, and side by side on the floor, a little distance away, lay the little girl and Robert. He approached the crib at the side of the room and there found the baby, also dead. A heap of combustible matter had been thrown together at the foot of the bed and this was burning. Pearce stamped out the fire and summoned neighbors for help in searching for the murderer.

Enna Dempster, the negro who murdered Mrs. Pearce and children last night, was captured this morning six miles from the scene of the tragedy. He was employed by Pearce as a farm hand. Last night he was accused of assaulting Margaret by her mother. He seized a revolver and shot them all. Robert may recover.

Double Shooting at Toccoa.

Toccoa, Ga., July 28.—This morning, about 10 o'clock, Elbert Loden, a young man of Toccoa, about 24 years of age, visited the home of Bill Smith, about three miles from Toccoa, and became involved in a difficulty with Bill Bowden and Smith.

Loden shot Smith through the heart. Death ensued immediately. Bowden was shot through the neck and back, and he cannot live.

The difficulty began between Loden and Bowden, and Smith, Bowden's brother-in-law, interfered. Smith is about sixty years of age, and Bowden about thirty-five. Both have families. Sheriff W. A. Stowe, with a posse, have been in pursuit of Loden all day, but up to late this afternoon had not succeeded in apprehending him. Neither Bowden nor Smith had firearms when they were shot.

Westminster, July 30.—Yesterday, being a fifth Sabbath, there were no preaching services in any of the churches in town.

His board and treatment costs $7 a week. Fifty dollars were paid by the children and Sunshine Society and the rest has been paid by the people of Atlanta. Pratt has suffered untold agonies. His picture will appear in the Sunshine Bulletin to show how he was cured.

D. White, of Oak Grove, had the misfortune to get severely cut by W. D. Roach, in the public road, near Westminster, on July 24. White was carried to the residence of Dr. Burt Mitchell and had his wounds dressed by Drs. Mitchell and Walker. Those present were little Misses Luly, Pauline and Victoria Miller, Ada and Robbie Simpson, Annie Bell and Sarah Lee Watkins and Janie Harris. After several interesting games the little party were ushered into the dining room, where delightful refreshments were served. It being the hour of six, the friends of little Miss Smith bade her adieu, wishing her many happy returns of that day.

Provi Henry, known as "the Atwood fat boy," died last Sunday at Arcola, Ill. He was nineteen and weighed 406 pounds. His waist measurement was 73 inches. Fatty degeneration of the heart was the cause of death.

Suits aggregating $3,000 were filed against the Southern Railway Company in the office of the Clerk of Court in Greenville, all of which suits grew out of the alleged failure of train No. 40 to stop at Norris on the evening of October 21st, 1905.

An attempt was made last Thursday night to enter the room of Miss Irma Nettles, near Lanes. The young lady fired a pistol shot through the blinds, and on investigation blood spots were found, indicating that her aim was good. About 300 yards away a bloody shirt was found, having been discarded by the person who was wounded.
