THE WALHALLA BAPTIST CHURCH.

REV. GEO. H. JUDD ORDAINED MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL.

On Thursday, August 30th, very impressive and solemn services took place in the above church, the occasion being the ordination to the gospel ministry of Mr. George Henry Judd, who, for some months past, has been the pastor, in response to a unanimous call of the church.

In the afternoon an examination took place, which lasted an hour and a half, Rev. J. D. Chapman, D. D., being moderator. The several ministers and deacons present asking questions as well as the moderator. The candidate's answers related to his Christian experience, call to the ministry and views of Bible doctrine.

At the evening meeting Rev. J. D. Chapman, D. D., of Anderson, who presided, offered the ordination prayer and gave the charge to the church. Rev. J. R. Moore, of Westminster, secretary of the Baptist Young People's Union, preached the sermon. Rev. C. S. Blackburn, of Seneca, gave the charge to the pastor and delivery of the Bible, and Rev. L. M. Lyda, of Newry, also took part.

As an ordination service is not frequent in Walhalla, we give a detailed report of the evening meeting. It was opened by singing the Doxology, and prayer, offered by Rev. L. M. Lyda.

Dr. Chapman then said that Mr. Judd had for many years been engaged in Christian work, but now that he had been called to the pastorate, the church considered his ordination desirable. He then called on J. W. Shelor, clerk to the Ordaining Council, to read the report, which was done. The report concluded by saying that the presbytery found the examination to be entirely satisfactory, and they recommended to the church that the candidate's ordination be proceeded with that evening.

The hymn, "There Shall be Showers of Blessing," was sung, followed by Rev. L. M. Lyda reading impressively the charge to a minister from Paul's first letter to Timothy. Rev. C. S. Blackburn then offered prayer, after which Mr. Judd was received by letter, from the Metropolitan Tabernacle, London, England, into the membership of the Walhalla Baptist church.

Dr. Chapman then read the following letter from Rev. Arthur W. Payne, of the Mildmay Mission to the Jews, London, England, addressed to the Walhalla Baptist church:

"Dear Fellow-Laborers in the Lord: It is with joy I take my pen in hand, greeting you in the name of our Common Master, and I desire to express my gladness and gratitude to God that He has laid upon your hearts to ask my dear brother in Christ, Mr. George H. Judd, to minister among you for his Saviour in holy things.

"He has been an intimate family friend and fellow church member for more than twenty years, and I owe more than I can tell under the good hand of God to his prayers and Christian sympathy, and kindly guidance and spiritual help.

"I know that the Lord has greatly used him to the blessing of souls at home and abroad, and it gives me special joy to be writing this note from Keswick, where 10,000 Christians are gathered from all parts of the world in holy convocation, as I am reminded of special seasons of fellowship at the throne of grace and around the Word of God I have been privileged to have with my dear brother, Mr. Judd, in company with other children of God.

"I am sure that he will make a faithful and fervent pastor and that his wide acquaintance with men and circumstances, the sins and sorrows of this world, through his many travels, and with various kinds of Christian effort in different lands, will fit him to help and instruct, guide and control for the glory of his crucified and glorified Lord and Master, those whom he may be called to serve in His name.

"I trust that (D. V.) the experiences of Romans XV, 30 and 31, may be his, and of I Thessalonians I, 7th verse, to end, may be yours.

"In the heartiest bonds of Christian fellowship, I am,
"Yours faithfully,
"(Rev.) Arthur W. Payne."

Dr. Chapman read the passages of Scripture referred to in the letter.

The hymn, "Stand up for Jesus," was sung, after which Rev. J. R. Moore delivered an excellent sermon. He read from the 18th verse of 1st Corinthians to the 6th verse of the 2d chapter, dwelling especially on the words "For I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ and him crucified." He said that he had learned to love the brother, who had been called to be the pastor, and he knew that this would be his theme; he knew him as one who was instant in season and out of season. When he visited Atlanta last May he found him busy in personal work at Dr. Torrey's meetings. Jesus Christ was first with Paul. There were many things that Paul could have boasted of. He mentions some in Philippians III, but he counted them as refuse for Christ, and said, "God forbid that I should glory, save in the Cross; his life's determination was to exalt Christ and him crucified. He concluded with an earnest appeal for consecration, saying "Is Jesus Christ first in your life? Enthroned Him king in your heart's affections to the exclusion of all other things; hold up Jesus; make your knowledge and all attainments like Paul; serve His interests."

A Russian Baron, at the Chattanooga Convention, said his greatest honor was to preach the Gospel. "Let your consecration be concentrated to winning the world for Christ."

Then followed the ordination prayer, offered by Dr. Chapman, the candidate kneeling, while the presbytery gathered around him, placing their hands on his head. Rev. C. S. Blackburn then gave the charge to the pastor. In his remarks he said: "It is with deep feeling that I speak to you on this occasion, my brother. Eight years ago, when you came to Persia, we welcomed you into our home and soon recognized in you a true servant of Christ, and I thank God for the blessing you were to us during all the time of your two years' stay there. My brother, God has often used you in His service, especially to souls in personal work, but in His calling you into the ministry of a South Carolina pastorate I believe that He has a wider sphere of usefulness for you for the remainder of your life. My first word to you is in II Timothy, IV, 1-3: 'I charge thee, therefore, before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at His appearing and His kingdom; preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine, for the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers having itching ears.' I believe we are in these times of 'itching ears,' and it behooves us to stand fast and not to seek to please men, or their approval except their consciences.

"My second word, feeling our own insufficiency for the high and holy calling to be ambassadors of Christ, is in the 3d chapter of Second Corinthians: 'Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything as of ourselves, but our sufficiency is of God, who also hath made us able ministers of the New Testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit, for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.' Not we, but the full sufficiency and impresses of the Holy Spirit. May your experience be what I have so often learned from you, to be His 'channels only' for the inflow and outflow. I now hand you the Word of God, the sword of the spirit." Mr. Judd then rose to receive the Bible, which was delivered to him with some more earnest words.

The charge to the church was delivered by Dr. Chapman with much earnestness. He referred to his nineteen years of experience as a pastor. His message was from First Thessalonians, V, 12 and 13, and Galatians VI, 6: "And we beseech you brethren to know them which labor among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you, and to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake, and be at peace among yourselves. Let him that is taught in the Word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things." In his address he said: "A new relationship has been formed to-night, a sacred partnership entered into—as sacred, next to husband and wife, as any this side of heaven, and I beseech you to know your pastor; grow in knowledge and confidence, desire to be a blessing to him; love him; pray for him, and if you pray daily for him you will take interest in him. One day, after I had urged prayer for the pastor, a most loveable lady in Georgia, wife of an ex-Governor, one who graced her position, came to me and said: 'I never thought of praying for the pastor. I thought that I was the one who needed prayer, and I only pray for myself.' This is very selfish. Agree to pray for and co-operate and feel interest in the work of the pastor. Don't talk against him behind his back, back-bite, some criticize sermons, etc., and take away all good impressions. It is impossible to get good if you criticize. It destroys his influence. Do not allow gossip. Help to make the preaching effective by saying good things. Talk up your church works; invite others to go to church; tell them what good sermons you hear; help visitors to feel at home and enjoy the service. When I went to the Metropolitan Tabernacle, in London, England, last year, the kind word of welcome; the loan of the hymn book, etc., made me feel at home at once. Galatians VI, 6, tells us to look after temporal wants. He teaches you the Word, gives you spiritual good things. You are to communicate to him temporal good things, and the average preacher in South Carolina to-day has need of them. He has to eat and to wear clothes; he cannot live on air and sunshine. Some churches forget this. I have heard that some only pay the pastor at the end of a year. How can he keep out of debt like that? If he is in debt it is the fault of his flock. Why cannot all pay on the first-of-the-month system? Then if he is in debt it is his own fault. Think of ways in which you can assist him, and may God bless you all, and give His servant His Holy Spirit."

The following hymn, composed by the newly-ordained pastor, was then sung to the tune "Boylston," the congregation being asked to use it as a prayer:

O Holy Spirit, work,
With Thy reviving power;
Revive in me a zealous love
For Jesus from this hour.

O keep me dead to sin,
To self and worldly foe,
That 'crucified with Christ,' henceforth
His life through me may flow.

Illumine thou Thy word;
To me God's will make clear,
And Christ reveal, and in His steps
Lead, as His call I hear.

Fill thou thy temple, rule
My actions day by day,
To glorify God's holy name,
And show His praise alway.

Touch thou my lips with fire,
To witness to His grace,
On Calvary's Cross, to sinners lost,
That they may seek His face.

Thus heart and life and lips,
Will consecrated be,
To my dear Saviour, Lord and King,
Who gave Himself for me.

With joy I then shall meet
With saints, my coming Lord,
And in His image glorified,
Forever serve and laud.

The benediction was then pronounced.

HARBISON NEGRO COLLEGE CLOSED

ABBEVILLE PEOPLE TELL PRESIDENT HE MUST SKIP, AND THIS HE DOES.

Columbia, September 6.—To prevent actual bloodshed and the possible dynamiting of school property, some of the best citizens of Abbeville took a hand in what they feared was a grave situation, and as a result Harbison negro college at Abbeville is closed and the president of the institution has gone to other climes.

From what little can be learned here the notice of the actual resignation of the president was received today. It is a somewhat long story, the details of which are not all relevant. Harbison college has been in a flourishing condition in Abbeville for some time. It gets its money largely through the Northern Presbyterian church and all of its money comes from the North for the education of the colored youth.

The trouble which has just culminated in his enforced resignation was a statement he is alleged to have made to the graduating class at the close of the college last spring. He told the class that the conduct of the colored race so far had brought the white women to the kitchen and if they kept up the good work of independence that it would bring them to the wash tub also. He hoped that none of his graduates would work for white people in subordinate or menial capacities.

On the occasion of the unveiling of the Confederate monument negroes got so boisterous that it was necessary to knock a few in the head and run others out of town and it is said a riot was narrowly averted. The people of Abbeville have had enough of the negro college and it is not likely that the college will open again.

Bank Cashier Was Arrested.

Vicksburg, Miss., September 6.—B. S. Adams, now manager for the Quinn Sharp Brokerage Company, but formerly assistant cashier of the Citizens' National Bank, was arrested yesterday by United States Marshal Wilson and taken to Jackson for being short in his cash to the amount of $48,000 while employed in the Citizens' National Bank.

Adams left the employ of the bank in August last, when he confessed to Cashier George B. Hackett he was short, stating the amount. Mr. Hackett immediately notified a surety company who had bonded Adams, and it is supposed the surety company had Adams arrested. Adams was unable to make a $5,000 bail.
