

REUNION OF ORR'S REGIMENT.

THE MEN WHO WORE THE GRAY HELD PLEASANT MEETING IN ANDERSON.

[Anderson Mail, October 3.]

The people of Anderson have no control over the weather. If they had had such control they would have provided sunshine and gentle breezes for the reunion of Orr's Regiment. The weather has greatly interfered with the occasion, but nevertheless the veterans who were here last night and to-day have been enjoying themselves.

This has been a reunion of and for the veterans of Orr's regiment. They have been the guests of the city and everything their hosts could think of has been placed at their disposal.

Despite the inclement weather the veterans have been enjoying themselves. They have enjoyed themselves mingling with each other and recounting the experiences of by-gone days. They have enjoyed themselves only as men who have faced death together on the field of battle and endured the hardships of camp life can do.

The reunion began with an informal meeting in the court house. This is really the best part of each reunion—this informal meeting on Tuesday night. It is an old custom and will be kept up as long as there are veterans left to hold reunions.

Last night Capt. A. W. Guyton was made chairman, but there was little if any formality. Short talks were made by different veterans and all were interesting and enjoyable. Anecdotes were told and pranks were played as the cigar snake curled toward the "ceiling" and many gallant deeds were recalled, together with many laughable experiences. It is impossible to recount them all, or even the half of them.

The meeting in the court house lasted for several hours and the veterans finally adjourned to seek a night's rest preparatory to the exercises of to-day.

This morning the veterans assembled at Buena Vista Park. There were some 50 or more veterans present, together with a number of citizens from the city and the ladies of the R. E. Lee Chapter, U. D. C., who had kindly volunteered to furnish the music for the occasion.

The stage of the pavillion had been draped with the Confederate colors, with the grand old Stars and Bars as the center piece and small Confederate flags at the side of the stage.

The veterans marched into the hall to the inspiring strains of Dixie and the meeting was called to order at 11.30 o'clock by Gen. R. R. Hemphill, of Abbeville, the President of the Survivors' Association.

Gen. Hemphill introduced Mayor P. K. McCully, Sr., who made an address of welcome on behalf of the people of the city. Mayor McCully is developing into quite an orator, and his address to-day was a gem. It was chaste and eloquent and overflowing with love and welcome for the Confederate soldiers. He assured the visitors of their welcome and vouchsafed to them that this city and all within it belongs to the veterans as long as they care to remain. The Mayor's address was much appreciated and he was liberally applauded.

One Cold and Another

The season's first cold may be slight—may yield to early treatment, but the next cold will hang on longer; it will be more troublesome, too. Unnecessary to take chances on that second one. Scott's Emulsion is a preventive as well as a cure. Take preciated and he was liberally applauded.

Hon. G. F. Tolly, an ex-Mayor of the city and himself a Confederate veteran, was introduced to make an address of welcome on behalf of Camp Stephen D. Lee. Mr. Tolly is a good talker on any occasion and to-day he was at his best. He spoke as a veteran to veterans and heart to heart. He grew eloquent and tender at times and his remarks were followed with intense interest, especially when he spoke of the fast approaching time when there shall be no more of these reunions and the Confederate army shall have passed from the earth forever. "There are not many of us left," he said, "and we cannot recruit our ranks. This old army is passing from the earth. May it please Almighty God in His goodness to receive all of us into His army on high."

Gen. Hemphill made the response on behalf of the Survivors' Association. He recalled the fact that the Orr's Rifles Survivors' Association was organized in the old Masonic hall in Anderson on the night that the body of Col. Jas. L. Orr, the first commander, who died in Russia, reached his old home. Regular annual meetings have been held ever since. Orr's regiment made a glorious history and it has been the duty of the survivors to collect that history for preservation. The annual reunions are always pleasant and especially those held in Anderson. Gen. Hemphill returned the thanks of the survivors for the courtesies that have been shown, and then the business meeting of the association was held.

J. W. Thompson read the minutes of the last meeting, which was held at Honea Path last year.

A letter was read from Col. J. N. Brown, who had been invited to deliver one of the addresses on the occasion, expressing his regret at his inability to be present. Col. Brown has been on a trip North for the benefit of his health and has not yet returned home.

The association then went into the election of officers to serve for the ensuing year.

On motion of Maj. J. N. Vandiver all the old officers were re-elected, as follows:

R. R. Hemphill, president; W. T. McGill, first vice president; R. Y. H. Lowery, second vice president; A. M. Guyton, third vice president; J. W. Thompson, secretary and treasurer.

Rev. M. McGee was elected chaplain in place of Rev. J. T. McBride, who has moved out of the State.

The following committee was appointed to select the time and place of the next meeting:

W. T. McGill, chairman; R. Y. H. Lowery, J. W. Thompson, J. W. Ellis, John Eskew, J. N. Vandiver.

The following resolution was adopted:

Whereas the Survivors' Association of Orr's Regiment of Rifles has heard with profound grief that the following named survivors have departed this life since our last reunion, to wit:

Col. J. Townes Robertson.
William Anderson, Company A.
Lieut. S. M. Poole, Company E.
Joe Gibson, Company E.
W. T. Cowan, Company G.
T. A. Y. Jaynes, Company F.
Joseph P. Harris, Company D.
Fred W. Pieper, Company C.
O. I. Walker, Company E.
W. P. Wright, Company K.
J. B. Cox, Company K.

Resolved, that we will ever cherish the names of these noble men who were ever faithful to duty in every relation of life and have deserved the "well done" of their country in their day and generation.

Gen. Hemphill then made his annual address. He thanked his comrades for the honor of his re-election, this being his eighth term. In the course of his address Gen. Hemphill took issue with the generally accepted idea that Abraham Lincoln was a friend to the South. Lincoln was an enemy of the South, and owed his election to that fact. His whole official course shows this, as any student of history can verify for himself. "I do not want anybody to cherish animosity," said Gen. Hemphill, "but I do not want the rising generation to have a wrong idea of Lincoln. The truth is mighty and must prevail."

Hon. J. M. Sullivan, another ex-mayor of this city, was next introduced, and he, too, made one of the nicest talks that has ever been heard hereabouts. Mr. Sullivan's address was listened to very attentively by those present, and when he concluded he was loudly cheered.

When President Hemphill introduced Hon. Martin F. Ansel, Governor-elect, there was generous applause. The applause lasted for a number of minutes, and Mr. Ansel found some difficulty in beginning his address on that account.

Mr. Ansel's talk was very interesting and entertaining. He spoke from the bottom of his heart, and the veterans listened with marked attention at his remarks, at times very emotional.

When Mr. Ansel concluded, President Hemphill announced that the Chamber of Commerce had invited those present to be their guests at dinner, and the meeting adjourned to the pavillion dining room, where a very elaborate dinner had been prepared. There was plenty of good things to eat and the veterans and their friends ate heartily and enjoyed the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce to the fullest extent.

After dinner the reunion was then adjourned.

The reunion of the gallant survivors of Orr's regiment that has just concluded was very successful and was enjoyed very much by everyone who was able to attend.

A rate of one fare, plus 25 cents for the round trip, has been secured on all railroads in South Carolina and for several points in North Carolina and Georgia.

Result of Neglect.

In most cases consumption results from a neglected or improperly treated cold. Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and prevents serious results. It costs you no more than the unknown preparations and you should insist upon having the genuine in the yellow package. J. W. Bell.

Joe Wheeler's Daughter Weds.

Memphis, Tenn., October 2.—At the old plantation home of Gen. Joseph E. Wheeler his youngest daughter, Carrie Peyton Wheeler, was married this evening to Gordon Montgomery Buck, of New York. The wedding was quiet, only a few of the family's closest friends receiving invitations.

The General's daughters have been actively managing the 20,000-acre cotton plantation near Wheeler Station, Alabama, and the wedding of Miss Carrie is the first event that has broken their quiet retirement.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 North Main street, Ottawa, Kan., writes, "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stop the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c., 50c. and $1. Sold by Walhalla Drug Co., and W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Harry Williams, a negro about 45 years old, was killed near Oliver, Ga., on October 4th, by his wife and step-daughter, they beating him in the head with sticks. It is supposed to have been a general fight.

FARMERS' UNION BUREAU.

Important Notice to Farmers' Union.

Our chairman of executive committee, J. B. Pickett, has arranged for the State Farmers' Union to meet in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Columbia, on Wednesday night, 24th of October, during fair week.

Wednesday is Farmers' Union day at the State Fair. Every Farmers' Union man in South Carolina that can possibly attend should go to the meeting of the State Union. All members will be admitted to the State meetings whether they are delegates or not. None but delegates will be allowed to vote.

Send to The Union News, Thomaston, Ga., for a free copy of that paper, containing the latest constitution, which will give all information as to electing delegates, etc. State Secretary-Treasurer B. F. Earle, Anderson, and State Organizer M. A. Mahaffey, Williamston, will give you all the information in their departments. R. F. Duckworth, from Texas, is now making a campaign of the State. Be sure to go out to hear when he comes your way.

Go right ahead now putting in oats between the cotton rows just behind the cotton pickers. You will knock off a good many bolls, perhaps, but you can save this cotton later on.

Your character as an independent farmer rests largely upon your growing your own food crops for both man and beast. If you think that you can buy your food for both man and beast cheaper than you can grow it on your farm, then we are sure that you can buy your cotton, too, cheaper than you can grow it for 9 cents.

That is the thing that hurts and makes slaves out of a large percentage of cotton farmers. They undertake to do a kind of mercantile cotton-growing business of buying food crops and selling cotton for a profit without the knowledge of first principles of good business tact in anything.

Come out and join the Farmers' Union, the business organization of farmers—and get a free course in business farming and be independent.

Drank a Quart of Rye and Died.

Augusta, Ga., October 4.—Steve Gibson, a negro, died in horrible agony at a late hour last night from the effects of drinking a quart of whiskey at one time.

In Carter's bar he and another negro disputed as to the amount one man could drink. Gibson wagered he could drink a quart without stopping. To humor the seeming joke and not suspecting the man would carry out his boast, the bartender handed him a quart bottle of rye. He hurriedly swigged down the entire amount, removing the bottle from his lips but once to catch his breath. In a few minutes he was attacked with violent pains in the stomach and head and died a few hours afterwards.

A sour stomach, a bad breath, a pasty complexion and other consequences of a disordered digestion are quickly removed by the use of Ring's Dyspepsia Tablets. Two days' treatment free. Sold by J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.
