BARGAIN-HUNTERS' WEEK AT SENECA

THREE MERCANTILE FIRMS PULLING OFF GREAT REDUCTION SALES THIS WEEK.

This week The Courier goes out to its readers larger than ever before. To accommodate three of our best advertising patrons—Ruskin Anderson, Jas. H. Adams and Hunt & Harper, all of our enterprising sister town of Seneca—and at the same time to give our subscribers the benefit of the full amount of reading matter—and more—we issue twelve pages this week. It will pay the readers of The Courier handsomely to watch our advertising columns each week, but we direct attention especially this time to the advertisement of Ruskin Anderson, of Seneca, which will be found on the second page. Beginning next Friday, October 10th, he will inaugurate a great reduction sale, embracing his entire stock, from cellar to garret, from store-room to warehouse. This big cut-price sale will last for ten days only, and thousands of dollars' worth of good, seasonable goods will be turned over to Mr. Anderson's customers at an average of about one-half what they are worth at the regular every-day market-price. These goods are new and in every respect first-class. Mr. Anderson has been in the Northern markets for some time buying in large quantities with a view to making an unusually attractive offering to his customers in fall and winter goods. The sale will include general household goods, furniture, dry goods, clothing, underwear, shoes, hats—in fact everything. Remember the date of sale, October 10th—Friday of this week—and that it will last ten days. Don't fail to see him, and be sure to read his advertisement. It contains things of interest to all householders, and he is making a special offer of three prizes, valued at $150. The proposition is well worth your consideration.

J. H. Adams, the Poor Man's Friend, has arranged for a great "home coming week" at his store, which has long been recognized as one of the leading gathering places for those who, from force of necessity or from choice, strive to make their dollars and cents go as far as possible. He is offering many attractive things at attractive prices, and those who gather at his big department store will find that they have done themselves a favor by doing so. Pattern hats in his millinery department, dry goods, clothing, shoes, notions, and everything to eat, wear or use, will be made special for the present. His invitation is cordial and embraces the whole human family. Attend during this week and next and you will find Mr. Adams ready to serve you with anything from a paper of pins to a house and lot at money-saving prices. Read his advertisement on the fifth page, and be sure to call on him.

Hunt & Harper, of Seneca, though not so long in the mercantile field as some others, have gained for themselves an enviable reputation for square dealing and strict honesty. They do what they say. Their large advertisement, full of overflowing bargains, will be found on the ninth page. Beginning to-day, they have inaugurated a ten-day sale that is bound to attract more than the usual amount of attention. These young merchants have a new stock, well selected and suited to the needs of the people. They offer a handsome buggy as a premium to the holder of the winning ticket. These tickets will be given out with each purchase amounting to 50 cents. Hunt & Harper have made a cut in their prices that is bound to move goods at a rapid rate. The cut is on every article in their stock, and the prospective buyer can go to their store prepared to make his dollars go twice as far as heretofore. The sale began at 9 o'clock this morning and will last for ten days only. Get in with the early visitors and secure your share of the bargains before they have been picked over.

You Need Not Hesitate to attend these sales. R. Anderson, J. H. Adams and Hunt & Harper are thoroughly reliable, and each one who attends these sales has the reputation of these gentlemen as a guarantee that every promise will be fulfilled. The Courier takes pleasure in recommending them to its readers, and gives you every assurance that you will find everything exactly as advertised. Call on them and spend your money with the merchants of your own county. They have just as good goods and their prices are as low as the goods and prices of merchants at a distance. Spend your money where it has a chance to come back to you.

By taking these tablets as soon as the first indication of the disease appears, the attack may be warded off. For sale by J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Rev. Robt. F. Kirkpatrick Weds.

Invitations have been received by the Oconee friends of Rev. Robert Foster Kirkpatrick to his wedding, October 18, to Miss Irene White, in the Westminster Presbyterian church, Price Hill, Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick will be at home, in Austin, Texas, after November 5th. Mr. Kirkpatrick is pastor of the Presbyterian church on San Antonio street, in Austin. He is a nephew of Rev. M. R. Kirkpatrick, of Seneca, and a son of the late Rev. Robt. Kirkpatrick, the beloved pastor of Retreat church, and spent his boyhood days in Westminster.

Torments of Tetter and Eczema Allayed. The intense itching characteristic of eczema, tetter and like skin diseases is instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve and many severe cases have been permanently cured by its use. For sale by J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca.

Impressive Installation Service.

On last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Rev. Lowrie Wilson Brown was duly installed as pastor of the Walhalla Presbyterian church in the presence of a large congregation. It was an ideal autumn day, and the members of the Methodist, Baptist and Lutheran churches worshipped at the Presbyterian church. It was an occasion of great solemnity, and the spirit of Christian fellowship manifested was refreshing and helpful. The choir was composed of members of the choirs of the several churches named, and the music was inspiring. Rev. Francis W. Gregg, of Felzer, preached the installation sermon; Rev. J. J. Harrell, of Westminster, delivered the charge to the pastor, and Elder W. P. Anderson, of Westminster, charged the people as to their duties. Appropriate words of welcome were then spoken by Revs. E. S. Jones of the Methodist church, Geo. H. Judd of the Baptist church, H. C. Grossman of the Lutheran church, and O. D. Mann, former pastor of the Methodist church. At the close the right hand of fellowship was extended to Rev. Mr. Brown by the members of his own and the other churches. The occasion was a benediction to this community. The sermon and the charges to pastor and people were strong presentations of Gospel truth and earnest pleas for the performance of Christian duties in the service of the Master. Believers were built up and edified, and the thoughtless must have been impressed. The new pastor of this church enters upon his work under favorable auspices. May the labor of his hands be established and much and lasting good accomplished under his ministry.

Crosses of Honor.

The ladies of the John C. Calhoun Chapter, U. D. C., are preparing to bestow, at an early date, twenty-three "Crosses of Honor" upon Confederate soldiers. The Chapter has unanimously elected Col. Robt. A. Thompson to make an address on that occasion. The date of this important exercise has not been definitely fixed as yet, but will be made known at an early date, so that the public may be able to attend and witness the conferring of the "Crosses of Honor" on distinguished Confederates and listening to the interesting and practical address by Col. Thompson. The Chapter should feel peculiarly fortunate in having secured one of the few remaining members of the Secession Convention to be with them on such an impressive occasion and to deliver an address.
