Thanksgiving.

[Children's Visitor.]

We wonder how many of our young readers know that ours is the only great nation in the world whose chief ruler issues a proclamation every year calling upon the people to gather in their places of worship to give thanks to God for his manifold blessings. It seems to us that one of the very first things for which we which the gospel is preached and God is honored. But there are many others that we should not forget. We are at peace with all the world. And what wonderful prosperity in material things God is showering upon us! In intellectual and spiritual wealth also we are increasing all the time. Our schools and churches are growing as never before. Surely, if ever a people had reason for gratitude, we who live in this land of freedom and opportunity have. Think of all this, and make Thanksgiving day a day of the real giving of thanks. The more grateful we are, the more joy we shall have in our blessings. The selfish, ungrateful heart cannot be truly happy. We should not be content, however, to express our gratitude in words only. Once in the history of Israel there was a great day when the people were permitted to hear Ezra read God's law, which they had not heard for a long time, because they had had no stated worship. Ezra wanted to make the day a kind of thanksgiving day. So he said to them after the service was over: "Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions to him for whom nothing is prepared, for this day is holy unto the Lord; neither be ye grieved, for the joy of the Lord is your strength." Suppose we take this exhortation as a motio for Thanksgiving day, not forgetting about "sending portions to him for whom nothing is prepared."

LINGERING COLD

Withstood Other Treatment, But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is for sale by J. W. Bell, Walhalla, W. J. Lunney, Sangas.

SENECA.

Seneca, Nov. 27. - Thanksgiving ser rices will be held in the Baptist church; and Rev. K. G. Finlay will preach the sermon. Rev. M. R. Kirkpatrick will assist in the services, the other pastors, Revs. O. M. Abney and C. S. Blackburn, being unavoidably absent. An effort has been made to make the services as attractive as possible, and it is hoped that a large congregation will be present. The following program of music has been arranged: Prelude, Andante, (Schubert), Mrs. T. M. McCutcheon, violin; Miss Carrie Hunter, organ; voluntary, Sing unto the Lord, mixed quartette; offertory, Gently, Lord, arranged from Henis' Slumber Song, Mrs. T. E. Stribling, soprano, Mrs. T. M. McCutchen, violin obligato.

Rev. J. A. Campbell, of London, Eng. s visiting the family of Rev. C. S. Blackburn. Mr. Campbell assisted in the services at the Baptist church last Sabbath evening, and it is hoped by our churchgoing people that they will be able to hear him frequently during his stay here.

The new train on the Southern, running daily between Toccoa and Charlotte, which we term "The Bell," made a prompt appearance Monday morning and will prove a delightful convenience to our citizens. Already our ladies are ought to render thanksgiving is that we planning shopping tours up the road, a are privileged to live in a country in number of whom will take in the Christmas sights at Greenville next week.

The election set for the water and lights question comes off to-day. An unusual degree of interest is manifest, and we confidently predict that Seneca will be in line with the other progressive towns about here in her signs of pro-

At a meeting of the citizens of Seneca last Friday evening initiative steps were taken toward making Seneca the terminal point for the new train, and also of the "Bell," running from Toccoa to Atlanta. The following committee was appointed to see the railroad officials and present the question: Mayor W. F. Austin, J. H. Adams and C. H. Ellison. The Board of Public Works was also appointed, consisting of Mayor Austin, J. W. Byrd, L. A. Edwards.

A petition was passed through the business partof town last week asking that the stores and other business houses be closed for Thanksgiving, which was readily signed. This fact should have been given our readers last week, but the committee failed to post your correspondent on the facts.

Rev. and Mrs. O. M. Abney are absent this week upon the meeting of the South Carolina Methodist Conference.

Mrs. C. S. Blackburn, who has been visiting her relatives in Columbia and other points in the State, returned to her home here last week.

Eugene Lewis and Butler Holmes, two of Seneca's "oldest and best," visited their friends here last Sabbath.

Even this minute, as your correspondent writes, wedding bells are ringing in Seneca and Madam Rumor tells her that "Still there's more to follow."

The oyster supper for the benefit of the library fund was a nice success, a neat sum with which to purchase new books being realized.

J. T. Lawrence's new residence is going up rapidly, and when completed will be one of the most attractive cottage homes in Seneca.

J. E. Sitton has moved into his nev house near the Methodist church.

Seneca is to have another newspaper, arrangements having been recently perfected for the establishment of a weekly newspaper, to be known as the Seneca Journal, which will be published by the Seneca Publishing Company, which is to be incorporated. W. A. Gardner, of Florida, will be the editor, and W. E. Neilson, also of Florida, foreman, and it is evident from the unusual interest manifested that Seneca has determined upon making the enterprise a success. Indeed our business men have awakened to a realization of the fact that a good newspaper is a necessity to the growth of a town, and the company above mentioned is the direct outcome of that spirit. The managers are in Atlanta now buying machinery, and the first copy will be issued early in December.

A CHARMING AFFAIR.

Miss Inez Dickson was hostess on last Friday evening to the Gossipers, the meeting being devoted to the Linen Shower which was tendered by the members to one of their number, Miss Fannie Lowery. The easiest informality characterized the affair, which was in every detail beautifully planned and perfectly executed. The club colors—red and white—were in evidence everywhere, the decorations being red carnations and white chrysanthemums, which were used Miss Inez Dickson was hostess on last The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood, which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored, and, as time has proven, permanently cured me." The club colors—red and white—were in evidence everywhere, the decorations being red carnations and white chrysanthemums, which were used in the parlor and dining room, the two casion, was called a Romance of Roses, in which was interwoven the romance of two lovers whose names were taken from the catalogue of roses, the names themselves being supplied by the contestants. The white folders, containing the romances, were tied with red cords, from which depended tiny red pencils, the covers bearing pen drawings of wild roses. The prize, an elegant bouquet of meteor roses, went to Miss Sue Thompson, who graciously presented them to the bride-elect. Delicious refreshments, in which the color scheme prevailed, followed, after which the members literally showered their fair bonoree with everything imaginable in dainty finger work. Miss Lowery never appeared fairer than on this bright occasion, when she wore a handsome brown suit with cream trimmings, with hat to match.

LOWERY-MOORE.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Fannie Louise Lowery will be married to Rev. J. R. Moore, of Westminster. The wedding will be a very quiet affair, with only the family and a few friends present. The bride, as Miss Fannie Lowery, has been one of the most admired of Seneca's young women, numbering her friends by her acquaintances, and being possessed of those admirable qualities of heart and mind, coupled with a charming personaity which have made her always the attractive center of an admiring circle of friends and the gem of a large family of loved ones. Mr. Moore is the pastor of the Westminster Baptist church and is a young man of the brightest promise of usefulness, and one fully worthy the hand of the young woman of his choice. The bride wears her going-away gown to be married in, a handsome cloth tailor suit of rich brown, with hat to match. The presents are numerous and beautiful, attesting silently the undoubted popularity of the young couple. May heaven's choicest blessings attend them through a long life of happiness. The ceremony will be performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. S. C. Blackburn, the wedding march being in the skilful hands of Mrs. Carl B. Smith. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple will board the Southern vestibule train for Spartanburg, where they will attend the Baptist Convention, after which they will visit Mr. Moore's relations in North Carolina. M. V. S.

Later—On the question of issuing $30,000 worth of bonds for water and lights, the election was practically unanimous favoring the same. LOWERY-MOORE.

Billousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with bilious-ness and constipation, which made life ness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I would have been to-day had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by Dr. J. W. Bell, Walhalla; W. J. Lunney, Seneca. Lunney, Seneca.

Wolf in Greenville.

Greenville, Nov. 23.-Quite a panic was created on the streets here yesterday afternoon when a large prairie wolf, which has been confined in the city by a dog chain for nearly a year, broke loose and ran at large for some time. A number of people were attacked by the animal, and their clothing torn. Late in the afternoon little Luthur Rogers, a 12 yearold white lad, was attacked by the wolf and the child's leg badly lacerated. A negro blacksmith was attracted by the child's screams, ran to the scene and stunned the wolf by a blow from his fist, stamping the animal to death.

The wolf was brought here about a year ago from the West and has been considered tame. The fact that it at-tacked everybody it came in contact with has given rise to the opinion that it suffered from the rabies and the head has been forwarded to the Pasteur Institute, in Atlanta, for examination. If that opinion is found to be true the child will be sent to Atlanta at once.
