Stir Up—Get Busy.

Your local unions are just as strong and as good as its members make them. All of you together and your county unions are just as strong and useful as the locals make them.

We have heard enough about that trying to place the blame on the other brethren about the inactivity, lazy, cowardly indifference of your drowsy local unions.

Get together, pay up your dues and if you can't get up a good speaker to touch you up a little on the live wire order, try an oyster supper or a "yaller dog" fight, or anything that will bring the boys together.

When you all get together please never breathe a word about your faults; all of you try your best to see if you can't find something good—even the smallest spark—in your neighbor and each of you mention these to each other and the last one of you will go home no doubt feeling very glad that you are an important part of your Union and that you are doing your duty to yourself, your neighbors and your God. Get busy, boys, push forward, don't drag along behind like the heavy, muddy tail of a runaway fox.

Williamson Method of Growing Corn.

The land upon which these experiments were made is varied in richness with clay subsoil and was planted the previous year in wheat, followed by a fine crop of peas sown broadcast and vines mown off for hay. This field was turned in the fall previous to planting at a depth ranging from nine to twelve inches.

Plots.	Cultivation Regular.		Williamson Stunted.
	Bus.	Lbs.	Bus.	Lbs.
1 and 2 150 lbs. 10-2 acid, 200 lbs standard guano 10-3-2	111	52	91	12
3 and 4 150 10-2 6 and 7—No fertilizer at any time	72	54	70	49
8 and 9—150 102 200 standard guano 10-3-2.....	78	46	70	28
	68	30	60	58

The reader may take above figures of results and work out quite a number of facts as shown by the note, viz: Average yield per acre for regular cultivated plots is 83 bushels. The average yield per acre on stunted plots is 77 bushels and 45 pounds. Thus you see a gain of even 6 bushels in favor of the regular method of cultivation for the average, while plot without any fertilizer and poorest land gave a gain in favor of the Williamson method of one bushel and 5 pounds per acre.

In all cases where acid phosphate alone was used it was put in drills before planting. The standard fertilizer was used as a side application at the rate of 100 pounds to the acre, put in every other middle with a common one-horse fertilizer drill run in close to each row. The first side application was made on June 7th, and the second side application was made in the other middles on June 22d. Owing to rains corn was not planted until April 9th. Continued rains from latter part of June on prevented giving the last plowing and the side application of the nitrate of soda, but this fact does not detract from the Williamson method of cultivation which he has stated that there was more in his method of "stunting" than there was in the side application of the fertilizers.

We give the foregoing not as conclusive fact either one way or the other, as our next year's comparative test on a different field and different seasons may show entirely different results.

We are indebted to both Mr. Williamson and Mr. Aldrich for their new method of growing corn. We look for valuable lessons from both these progressive farmers in corn growing. We, of the Southern States, are very much ahead on cotton growing and miserably behind on corn growing.

Farmers' Cotton Union Organized.

Their motto is, "From farm to mill. One shipment; net cost."

The die for a square deal in the cotton trade for one million producers of cotton has been cast. The "Farmers' Cotton Union"—the child of the cotton fields of the South—has been born and launched out in the "cold and indifferent world," wrapped in its cotton swaddling and is now sitting in the cradle of equity with outstretched hands, appealing to all its large family—the cotton producers of the South—for succor, that it may grow up strong, wise and great, so that it may some day merit the position on the throne of King Cotton.

This Farmers' Cotton Union has been formed by cotton growers for the benefit of all cotton producers that may patronize it and as its management will no doubt be placed under the protection and control of the Farmers' Union, it will be entirely with the cotton growers whether or not the institution will dwindle away and die, or grow and prosper, which will also bring prosperity to the whole South.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh is Cure taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have had so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Robert Peary to Try Again the North Pole.

New York, December 20.—With a picked crew of United States blue-jackets, Commander Robert E. Peary, it was announced to-day, will make another attempt to reach the north pole.

Mutinous and incompetent aids, who were recruited mainly from Newfoundland, hampered Peary greatly on his last trip, when he succeeded in getting farthest north—87 degrees 6 minutes.

Peary's determination to make another try for the pole is against the wishes and advice of his friends and of Mrs. Peary. He has consented to direct his dash for the pole from the Roosevelt instead of leading it himself. He is now 51 years of age and his health has suffered by the rigors of the Arctic climate and the deprivations to which he has been subjected.

The new plans of the explorer contemplates sending out sled parties over the ice for the 450 miles that will intervene between the pole and Cape Sheridan, which will be the base of the expedition.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

Grain Dealer Found Guilty of Fraud.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—Last Wednesday George S. McReynolds, recently a prominent dealer in grain and in the elevator business, was found guilty of obtaining money from different banks of the city on fraudulent warehouse receipts.

The indictment upon which McReynolds was tried charged him with removing about 4,000 bushels of grain from an elevator in South Chicago, when the corn had been pledged as security for money loaned by the Corn Exchange National Bank. Altogether it was charged that McReynolds disposed of grain valued at more than $500,000 on which he had borrowed money from a number of local banks. Several of these lost more than $100,000 each.

The offense of which McReynolds was convicted is punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary from one to ten years.
