—News was received in Walhalla last Thursday of the death of John T. Ashworth, formerly of Walhalla. His death occurred at Danville, Va., Thursday, May 30th. He was 44 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his death. His funeral services were conducted at Danville on May 31st by members of Danville Lodge Knights of Pythias and of the Association of Letter Carriers. Mr. Ashworth's many Walhalla friends feel a deep sympathy for the bereaved ones.

—Ruskin Anderson, of Seneca, announces this week his annual great clearance sale to begin next Friday, June 7th. Furniture, clothing, shoes, dry goods, notions, stoves, house-furnishings of all kinds—everything in the general stock—has been marked down for a big sacrifice and that will move goods quickly. These big sales of Mr. Anderson's are too well known to the trading public to need a minute detailed account from us. When he says he is making a cut in prices it means that prices have been cut to the quick, while the quality is never cut. You will do well to call on Mr. Anderson Friday next for bargains, which will be handed out daily to his customers while this great clearance sale continues. Don't miss it! The bargains will be there for you; all you have to do is to call for them. This sale will be a great money-saver. Remember, the sale will begin next Friday morning. Read Mr. Anderson's announcement on the second page of this issue.

Hillsdale, Mich., June 1.—A diverting incident of President Roosevelt's strenuous trip west came when the President's car unwittingly kidnaped a 6-year-old boy, who had been placed on the platform at Allison, Mich., during hand shaking at that place. The President took the little fellow on his lap, gave him an orange and told him a bear story. When the next station was reached the boy was left in charge of relatives.

Two Killed in Wreck.

Savannah, Ga., June 2.—Engineer Daniel Bowen and Machinist William T. Harrison met their death at 3 o'clock this morning in a wreck at the crossing of the Central of Georgia and the Charleston and Savannah railroad. The light engine Bowen was driving crashed into another, of which H. J. Allen was engineer. Allen was slightly bruised as a result of the collision, but escaped with a miraculous escape.

Harrison crawled from beneath the wreckage, terribly injured. As he lay on the track he begged piteously that he be killed to relieve his terrible agony. He welcomed death when it came. The bodies lay for two hours before a wrecking crew arrived.
