

Get Your Money's Worth.

Why not get your "Money's Worth" when you buy Fertilizers?
 People kick about the price of Corn—struggle for reduction in the price of Flour and grow excited over the way they think that they are being robbed for these necessities. Yet some of them go right ahead paying two or three dollars per ton more for their Fertilizers than the actual analysis of the goods will warrant.

Too many of us struggle for reductions that are hard to secure, and often ignore the economies and better values that are open to every Farmer who will use good common sense and discretion in buying Fertilizers. You can surely save a considerable percentage of your money, and you can secure much more satisfaction in your farm work if you will only buy your Fertilizers right.

Take our celebrated G. W. G. Soluble Guano for example. It measures right up on actual analysis with Guano sold by our competitors at much higher prices—so it is with all our brands, extra values are obtained in each without extra cost to the Farmer.

Come and talk over Fertilizers with us. If you have any trade in you we can more than give you your money's worth.

WALHALLA, S. C. :

WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 1907.

Shop Run on Bible Lines.

There is a drug store in Chicago that is being successfully conducted by a man who is guided in all things by the question, "What would Jesus do?"—in other words, on the principles set forth by the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, of Topeka, Kan., in his book, "In His Steps; or, What Would Jesus Do?" The owner is Oliver J. Freeman, and the store is at 1127 Sheffield avenue. At first he found the road rough, but to-day he has passed the experimental stage and has a paying business.

Cigars and tobacco cannot be purchased in Mr. Freeman's store at any price. They are not in the stock. Nothing can be purchased on the Sabbath except prescriptions that are absolutely necessary. Not even a cough drop or a stick of gum is sold on the Sabbath and telephone service is not permitted on that day, except to call physicians in urgent cases.

In each of the display windows a sign is strung each Sunday, which reads: "Remember the Sabbath Day to Keep it Holy. Nothing but necessary articles sold on Sunday."

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE

Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. W. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, grovelling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $200,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business, furthermore, that no alcohol, or other poisonous, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever; and that Mr. Bok's malicious statements were wholly and absolutely false. In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs. These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble grovelling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however, brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traducers came to grief and their base slanders were refuted.

And that rule is rigidly enforced by Mr. Freeman.

Mr. Freeman has followed this principle for years and he is emphatic in the declaration that it pays. Although his store is almost in the extreme northern part of the city, he enjoys a prosperous business.

His prices are probably higher than those of any of the other outlying drug stores in the down town district. Ten clerks are kept busy week days.

"Yes, the application of Christian ideas to one's business is a good thing," said Mr. Freeman. "Christianity is a good thing at all times and in all places, business included. It is a good thing for nature, and it is a good thing for the citizens."

"I let the Bible govern my business, my family and all my affairs, and I assure you it governs very well indeed. For years I have conducted my business as I believed Jesus would have it conducted."

"My store is closed on the Sabbath to all business except the filling of absolutely necessary and urgent prescriptions. I do not sell tobacco in any form."

"I must confess that I found it difficult to bring my ideas into practical use at first. I have lost many customers because I have steadily refused to be swayed."

"However, the gain over the losses was such that the business slowly grew, until ten clerks are kept busy. Some customers insisted on being served with cigars and left angrily on learning that I kept no tobacco on sale. Others insisted on buying unnecessary articles on the Sabbath, but I stuck steadily to my resolutions."

"I came to Chicago in 1891, penniless, and almost friendless. I was married and my brother lent me $2,000, and with that capital I started in business where I am now located. My business has been confined to this particular locality all these years. Almost all my patronage comes from regular customers, who agree with me in my views. I am a member of the Methodist church."

"Before Richmond."

The recent Confederate reunion held at Richmond finds its climax in the unveiling of a magnificent monument to Jefferson Davis, the first President of the Confederacy. There was a large assembly of the veterans drawn to Richmond in part by its intimate connection with the Civil war—more than a thousand battles having been fought within the limits of Virginia—and partly by the fact that statues were to be unveiled to General Stewart and Mr. Davis. The unveiling of the Davis monument was preceded by a parade in which the Governor of the State, the prominent Confederate officers and survivors of the war participated. Speeches were delivered by Governor Swanson of Virginia, Ex-Governor Evans of Georgia, Senator Carmack of Tennessee, and representatives of the Daughters of the Confederacy and representatives of other bodies which had participated in the building of the monument. The speeches breathed loyalty to fallen comrades, to the ideas for which they fought and to the union, of which all sections are now a part.

It is an interesting evidence of the passing of the prejudices of war that there is now recognition throughout the union of the conscientiousness, of fidelity to conviction, that characterized the soldiers that fought on both sides. During the war and just afterwards it was difficult for either side to recognize the principles that actuated the other side. There was a lack of charity both North and South in dealing with the subjects connected with the war. Now that they are able to view the subject from a distance, the people recognize that the generation of forty years ago settled a question left as a legacy from earlier days and removed the one root of bitterness which defied a peaceful settlement.

The union is stronger, not weaker, for the passage at arms. The sacrifices endured by men and women on Baggage Thieves Caught at Last.

Richmond, Va., July 3.—After having been confined in the Richmond city jail for several months on a charge of grand larceny, Louis Rogers, the alleged baggage thief, will be given a trial in the hustings court on July 29. The companions of Rogers, Stein, alias Allen, and his wife, will not be tried in this city as there is no evidence to show that they have broken a law in Richmond. These two will be taken to Orange, where they are charged with having perpetrated a crime. Stein and his wife have been kept in the Richmond jail since they were brought here from New York, because there is no adequate jail in Orange. It was feared that they would make their escape, as one of their companions did in New York.

Rogers and Stein are members of a gang which is said to be the worst of its kind in the world. The usual method of procedure is to substitute baggage checks and obtain possession of trunks and other baggage containing valuables. The operations of the gang have been carried on all over the United States. When the case comes up for trial, about twenty-five indictments from various States and cities will be read. As soon as the Virginia trial is over, if the people have not been convicted here, they will be sent to the other States in order and subjected to a new trial. The men and women are wanted in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Tennessee for operations in Knoxville, Philadelphia, Atlantic City and many other cities.

both sides are a sad, but sacred heritage, and the devotion of the people of the South is not to be questioned because they defend the purity of their motives and quote authority in support of the position which they took on the subject of secession. The nation has no more loyal defenders than are to be found in the South, as the Spanish war showed, and the monuments reared to the Confederate dead, while proving the warmth of Southern affection and the lasting loyalty of Southern love, are no menace to the nation's peace and prosperity. The greatest element in the victory of the North is that it has converted opponents into friends, and each side can find a pride in rejoicing in the worthiness of the foe which it met upon the battlefield.—Bryan's Commoner.

Farmer Gets Ball.

Spartanburg, July 4.—D. K. Cunningham, a farmer who lives several miles from here, who killed G. B. Hunsinger by striking him in the head with a brick last Saturday afternoon, was granted bail to-day by Clerk of Court T. R. Trimmer in the sum of $1,000, Dr. G. R. Dean signing the bond. Hunsinger attacked Cunningham with an open knife, when the latter in self defense picked up a brick and hurled it at Hunsinger, the brick striking Hunsinger in the head, inflicting a wound that resulted in his death.

Fined $100 for Not Striking.

New York, July 4.—The action of a carpenters' union in Newark in fining fifteen of its members $100 each because they refused to go on strike is likely to be taken up in the courts unless the men who are under the ban get justice from the National Brotherhood of Carpenters, to which body they have appealed.

The men are at present out of work. When the strike was declared some time ago they refused to go out. It was subsequently settled and the fifteen were summoned to appear before the district council in Newark and explain why they had refused to strike. They disregarded the summons and the fines were imposed.

A few days ago the firm by whom the men were employed, V. J. Hadden & Sons Co., discharged them because the other union men had refused to work with them unless the fines were paid. The firm had no other alternative, as it had contracts that had to be finished and could not get enough men at once if they retained the fifteen. The aggrieved men then made the appeal to the national body and declared that if they are not treated fairly they will appeal to the courts for redress.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
