—Rev. Columbus Wardlaw, formerly of Seneca, and who moved to Safford, Arizona, about two years ago, has become editor and manager of The Journal, a weekly newspaper published at that place. Mr. Wardlaw is a good writer, and a good man, and he will, no doubt, give the people of Safford an acceptable paper.

—All kinds of silverware at J. A. Brock's, Seneca.

—We are in receipt of a post card from Rev. George H. Judd, who was in Nogi, Japan, on November 4. He promises the readers of The Courier a series of letters on "Around the World from Walhalla." He says he has visited the chief places in Japan, and has been to Seoul, in Korea. No doubt Mr. Judd's letters will be very interesting, and we will give our readers the first installment as soon as it arrives.

—Because of the hard times in the North there is an unusual migration of tramps southward this winter. The tramps are coming this way by the thousand. These vagrants are generally no good, of course, and more often than otherwise they are on the lookout for whatever they can steal. Among them are men who will not hesitate at any crime whatever. Every community should have some adequate means of protection against people of this kind.

—James R. Harkins is now Walhalla's night policeman.

—A lot of farming tools, shovels, hoes and axes, together with a lot of kitchen furniture, tinware, lamps, etc., at cost. E. & E. Callas.

—Considerable cotton was sold last week at 11 1/4 cents. Don't sell yet, boys, unless the man whom you owe is compelled to have his money. Then let her slide, unless you can raise the money from some other source.

—W. S. Davis, of Gaffney, has bought the old C. L. Reid store house at the corner of Main and Tugaloo streets. The price paid was $3,000. Mr. Davis is an uncle of John W. Davis, of the Walhalla police force. We gladly welcome him to our town as a permanent resident.

—Buy your suits, pants, overalls, shoes, hats and caps at cost from E. & E. Callas.

—Mr. Lookout, Santa Claus's advance agent, was in Walhalla last week looking up the good boys and girls of the town. He says times are very hard with him, and that he will not leave anything for the bad boys and girls. He is a very pleasant gentleman, and said he would return to Walhalla before Christmas and revise his list of bad children. If they will be good from now on, he will remember them, if not, he will give them the "go-by." So, children, be good, and he will leave you something. He left a piece of poetry with us and requested that it be published in next week's issue.

—Crazed Negro Shot Seven People. Augusta, Ark., Dec. 6.—Crazed by cocaine, Wash Mussay, a negro, ran amuck here early to-day, shooting seven white persons, two of whom were women.

—The negro was finally corralled in the court house yard and shot to death by a posse, fighting until he fell, literally riddled with bullets. One of Mussay's victims will die.

—Negro Kills Georgia Policeman. Midville, Ga., Dec. 8.—Town Marshal Brinson was killed by a negro here this afternoon. The negro killed the marshal without any provocation. The negro, with others of his race was on the street, and was making a disturbance. The marshal told the negro he must be quiet, and ordered him to appear in the city court to-morrow morning. As the officer was turning away the negro pulled a pistol, thrust the weapon against the officer's body, and fired three times. The officer fell to the sidewalk and died almost instantly. The negro ran to a swamp and made his escape. A posse is in pursuit, and if captured he will probably be lynched.
