WALHALLA, SOUTH CAROLINA.

Local and Personal.

—C. P. Mills, of Seneca, was in Walhalla Monday for a short while on business.

—Don't forget to cast your vote right next Tuesday. Vote for the best interests of Walhalla.

—H. E. Schirmer, representing the Walker, Evans & Cogswell Co., of Charleston, was in town for a short while last week.

—Go to T. E. Alexander for your buggies and harness.

—Miss Nora Ellis, of Greenwood, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. L. Kennedy, on Faculty Hill. She will remain in Walhalla about three weeks.

—Rev. L. T. Weldon is considering a call to the First Baptist church at Walhalla, S. C. The town has taken on new life and approximately numbers about 3,000.—Lavonia Times.

—Senator J. R. Earle left Monday for Columbia to attend the session of the General Assembly. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lula, who will be in Columbia for some time.

—An opportunity to put extra money into your pocket—everything in winter goods reduced to a fraction of their true worth. Attend the sale Wednesday, 15th, to Saturday, 25th. Hunt & Harper, Seneca.

—Mrs. C. F. Hoefler and child, of Columbia, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Oehmlig, Mrs. Hoefler's parents. They will spend some time here. Their friends are delighted to welcome them.

—B. F. Bolton, of the Atlanta Journal, was in Walhalla for a short while last week, and paid The Courier a pleasant call. He is a hustler for the Journal and is building up the circulation of that paper daily.

—There will be no prayer meeting at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening, January 15th, the pastor, Rev. J. C. Yongue, being in attendance upon the Preachers' Meeting and Missionary Institute at Anderson.

—Rev. L. W. Brown and wife will return to Walhalla next Friday from Abbeville, where they have been pending several weeks among relatives and friends. Next Sunday morning, January 19th, at 11 o'clock Rev. Mr. Brown will fill his regular appointment at Richland.

—J. R. Cobb has moved his bottling works from the north side of Main street to the Eaton stand, corner Main and College streets. His present location is a much better one, being convenient to the depot and to his local patrons, with whom he is building up an increasing business.

—J. C. Rampley, who for some time past was book-keeper for Strother & Phinney, of West Union, has taken up his duties as State Fertilizer Inspector. He began work in his new position January 1st, taking the place of D. L. Reid, who resigned. Mr. Rampley will make an efficient officer. He is a young man of excellent habits and strong character, as well as marked business ability.

—Our big winter clearance sale begins Wednesday, 15th, and lasts ten days. Clothing, shoes, dress goods, underwear, etc., reduced to a point where all the profit is yours. Hunt & Harper, Seneca, S. C.

—Samuel F. Maxwell, one of the old ante-bellum darlings of this section, was advised Monday of the death of his son, John S. Maxwell, which took place at Pendleton at 10 o'clock last Sunday night. He had suffered from asthma for more than a year, and was about 31 years of age. The burial took place yesterday at Pendleton. The deceased was said to have been an unusually industrious and honest negro.

—Jas. F. Neville will leave this evening for Atlanta, where he will attend the meeting of the Forestry Association to be held in that city to-morrow night. Mr. Neville will go as the authorized delegate from Walhalla, he being in a position to better represent this section, probably, than any other man, owing to his extensive knowledge of the whole country likely to derive the most benefit from the forestry movement, which has lately assumed such proportions as to warrant our belief in results greatly to the advantage of the South. Mr. Neville has for years been so closely identified with interests looking to the development of this section and its unlimited natural resources that his selection as representative to the convention was most natural. He is thoroughly capable of looking intelligently to the interests of Oconee and other sections interested.

—Mrs. Nellie N. Moore and children are again residents of our city. We welcome them most heartily.

—Mrs. John W. Lee, who has suffered for several weeks from the effects of a severe attack of grip, is able to be up again. Her many friends are glad to learn of her recovery.

—All Pythians are urged to attend the meeting of Walhalla Lodge next Monday evening. The lodge is beginning preparations for the February banquet, and it is earnestly desired that all members be prompt in attendance upon this convention.

—St. John's Episcopal church is being greatly improved by having the windows all replaced with beautiful tinted glass. The effect inside is to give a restful, soft light. W. John Schroder is doing the work, and this is a guarantee that it will be well done.

—A new law firm has been formed in Walhalla, two of the local attorneys, Major Wm. J. Stribling and John B. S. Denny, having entered into a partnership under the firm name of Stribling & Denny. The new firm will doubtless enjoy an extensive practice.

—All Heptasophs are requested to be at the meeting to-morrow (Thursday) evening, L. L. Littman, of Anderson, will be present and install the officers for the ensuing term. After the installation, the new officers will serve a banquet to the members of the convolve. Let all be present promptly at 8 o'clock.

—Rev. E. B. Andrews, a young theological student, conducted services in the Episcopal church last Sunday. The service was greatly enjoyed by quite a number of members of the church and of other denominations. Rev. T. Walsh was to have preached, but he was prevented from coming by unavoidable circumstances.

—This section was visited last Saturday by one of the meanest rain and wind storms that has struck us for years. With a cold, heavy rain all day, accompanied by wind that was almost a gale, there were few houses that did not have water driven in them through every tiny crevice of the windows facing east. As a whole the day was what is best expressed as generally "nasty."

—J. W. Holleman received the sad news yesterday morning of the death of his grand-daughter, Mrs. Nellie Harrison (nee Boggs), which occurred at her home near Rome, Ga., on the 9th instant. Mrs. Harrison was in her 26th year, and leaves two children, one an infant of only seven months. Her parents at one time resided in Pickens county, this State, but moved to Rome, Ga., when the deceased was quite a small child. There are many in Oconee and Pickens counties who will remember the family as former residents of this section, and will regret deeply to learn of their bereavement.

—Hunt & Harper, of Seneca, announce a big sale for the next ten days. Be sure to read their advertisement on the fifth page of this issue. They are well known merchants and need no recommendation at our hands. Their business methods and the excellent stock of goods carried by them are known widely and have drawn a large patronage from over the county. You will make no mistake in giving their bargain sale a liberal patronage. They have bargains to offer from every line they carry. Remember that the sale lasts 10 days—from Thursday, January 15, to Saturday, January 25th. Call on them.

—J. D. Welch, of Birmingham, Ala., arrived in Walhalla last week on his way to Mountain Rest, where he will spend some time visiting his father, William Welch, who has been in feeble health for some time. Mr. Welch has been in Alabama for some ten years, and this is his first visit to his old home in three years. His friends are delighted to meet him again and to learn of his success in his adopted home, where, since his removal from Oconee, he has been engaged in mining. He is general manager for one of the large coal mining companies of Birmingham. A peculiar circumstance connected with Mr. Welch's return was that as he drove from Walhalla to his old home he met a gentleman coming to Walhalla, and the latter drew rein as their vehicles met. Mr. Welch began to ply the gentleman coming toward Mountain Rest with questions concerning his father, and then discovered that he was talking with his brother. A change in the manner of wearing his beard had so far removed all likeness to his old self that the returning brother did not recognize him.

—John B. Whitten, of Pendleton, was in Walhalla for a short while yesterday on business.

—Jas. H. Darby spent several days in Rabun county, Georgia, the past week, on business.

—S. A. Tow returned Saturday night from a visit to Columbia and other points in the State.

—Mrs. S. P. Denny left this morning for Greenville to visit her daughters, Mrs. L. L. Barr and Mrs. C. W. Gentry.

—Recall the past—you have the present—then think of the future, and vote next Tuesday for the best interests of Walhalla.

—Rev. John G. Law will preach at Fairview next Sunday morning at 11.30 o'clock. On the fourth Sabbath in this month he will preach at Old Pickens at 11.30 o'clock a. m. Cordial invitation to all to attend both services.

—The many friends of Dr. E. C. Doyle, of Seneca, will regret exceedingly to learn of his decision to leave this country and take up the practice of his profession in South America. Dr. Doyle has been tendered the position of physician of the Bolivia Railroad Co. and has decided to accept. He will carry with him the best wishes of hosts of friends.

—Invitations have been sent out to the marriage of Miss Mary Selma Mirett and Stiles J. Barker, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Mirett, at Conners, on Wednesday, January 29th, 1908, at 7 o'clock p. m. Both of the contracting parties reside at Conners, and are popular young people, whose many friends will be pleased to learn of their coming marriage.

—E. C. DuBose and family, of Pelzer, arrived in Walhalla last week and have moved out to their home in the Bear Swamp section. Mr. DuBose purchased the W. M. Cobb place and has had many improvements made in the residence. He has for 21 years been employed in the cotton mill business at Pelzer, and comes with his family to recuperate in the fine climate of Walhalla and vicinity. He and his are heartily welcomed in our midst.

—The sad news of the death of W. E. Lucas, which occurred this week at a hospital in Philadelphia, was received with deep regret in Walhalla. Mr. Lucas was a brother of E. R. Lucas, president of the Walhalla Cotton Mills. He had been in poor health for more than a year, and for some time had rapidly grown worse. He went to a prominent specialist in Philadelphia for treatment, but the end came soon. E. R. Lucas received word a week or ten days ago announcing his brother's critical condition, and left at once, and was with his brother when he died. The many friends of the family here and elsewhere throughout the State sympathize deeply with them in their sorrow. The deceased was one of the most prominent mill men of the South.

It Does the Business.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me., says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve: "It does the business. I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore, and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c. at all drug stores.

Little Harold Wilson.

Westminster, Jan. 10.—Special: When, two months ago, there fell over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson, a pall of sadness in the death of his little son, Harold, this household sorrowed not alone. They were not left to shed a solitary tear, for while here were father and mother, and one dear little sister, weeping in a saddened home, the tears of many others in Westminster were not only tears of sympathy, but told of a deep feeling of personal bereavement, for who of us who knew Harold well do not, even yet, miss his bright face? But the very fact that he possessed a disposition so bright and happy, and was such a child as to be greatly missed here, makes us the more sensible of the fact that he shines bright in the midst of the hosts of little ones whom God has called to render joyous service unto Him. He is far happier than ever he could be in the home to which he was so dear on earth. And how much better that God should call him out of this sinful world to a happy land, where temptations never enter! Though he had an aversion for anything that to his little mind was wicked, we do not know what effect the temptations of later years would have had on him. He might not have always been so shy of the places where sin seemed to be practiced. So to these hearts, sorely bereaved, we would say, as to any other homes where such sadness has come, or shall later come, Rebel not against God's dealings. He knows best. How beautiful the words of Longfellow in "The Keaper and the Flower:"
Shall I have naught that is fair, said he,
Have naught but the bearded grain?
Though the breath of these flowers is sweet to me,
I will give them all back again.
And the mother gave in tears and pain,
The flowers she most did love—
She knew she should find them all again
In the fields of light above.
From these fields of light these bright little flowers from homes bereft can never come back, but each sad heart may find its higher joy by going thither. May God help us all to spend life here so that we may go to them, is the earnest prayer of A Friend.

To Discuss Forest Reserve.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 12.—A convention to discuss and urge the preservation of the Southern Appalachian forests will be held in this city on January 16. Delegates representing the leading commercial organizations of the Central Southern States will attend and invitations have been sent to the Governors of these States to be present. Governor Smith, of Georgia, will preside over the sessions.

Ebenezer Items.

Ebenezer, Jan. 14.—Special: We are sorry to note that Ben Jones is on the sick list at this writing. Hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

Our school opened last Monday morning with Miss Estelle Bruce as teacher. The patrons and children are greatly attached to her.

W. M. Galloway was made happy recently by the birth of another son. We are sorry to say that Mrs. Tom Owens is confined to her room with a gripe. We hope to see her out again soon.

W. M. Galloway is anticipating a trip to Rosman, N. C., soon to see his parents.

Mrs. Amanda Rutledge is on the sick list at this writing.

J. A. Ivester killed two fine hogs last week, one weighing 550, and the other 425 pounds net. These are the largest hogs we have had in this section of late.

We are sorry to note that Henry Whitmire's horse ran away with him last Tuesday, and hurt him very badly, also demolishing his buggy.

B. T. Jones had the misfortune to cut his foot lately, but its about well now, although it was a bad cut. Mrs. Ida Dodd has moved back into our neighborhood again. B.E.

Tennessee Desperado Killed.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 4.—Garrett Hedden, a desperado, who six years ago murdered his brother in Polk county, Tenn., was to-day shot and killed by Sheriff Biggs, of Polk county. Hedden's eighteen-year-old son was shot and killed by deputy sheriffs a few hours later.

Since Hedden murdered his brother he has been at liberty. Officers hesitated to invade the mountain fastnesses until Hedden recently became so defiant that he made frequent trips to Benton and openly defied arrest. It is said that friends are organizing to avenge the death of Hedden and that they may attack Benton with the object of killing Sheriff Biggs.

Conners Dots.

Conners, Jan. 13.—Special: On account of the bad weather there was no preaching here Saturday. A very good congregation was present Sunday.

Three of the Entreklin children are down with typhoid fever, and their mother is not able to be out at all, and the father is almost down. The neighbors are to meet Wednesday to cut and haul firewood for them. If any of the relatives of the family can come and stay with them it would be well for them to do so.

Following are the names of those who are on the honor roll of Conners school for last week: Brunis Alexander, Malle Abbott, Jay Abbott, Annie Abbott, Code Alexander, Zadie Abbott, Mertie Abbott, Ennis Abbott, Nina Abbott, Gracie Abbott, Mertie Alexander, Hershall Abbott, Ollie Abbott, Garvin Barker, D. Barker, Jessie Barker, Bulah Barker, Ethel Barker, Jessie Butler, Minnie Butler, Dewey Butler, Daisy Hesse, Myrtle Hesse, Flore Owens, Zadie Belle Graham, Essie Meredith, Jane Hunsinger, Pearl Hunsinger, Burt Hunsinger, Bewley Hunsinger, Rosette McClain, Robert McClain, Tillie Burdette. S. G.

Items from Oak Grove.

Oak Grove, Jan. 14.—Special: We are having some very bad weather, and the roads are so muddy that people can hardly travel them at all.

Miss Annie Crenshaw, one of the charming young ladies of this community, has gone to Walhalla Cotton Mill.

J. M. and Boley Kelley have returned from Clarksville, Ga. They report a fine time.

Sau Kelley spent Saturday and Sunday with J. L. Broom.

L. A. Carver is still on the mend, and his many friends hope that he will be able to be up soon.

Otto Couch, of Westminster, passed through here Sunday. V.

The Cough of Consumption

Your doctor will tell you that fresh air and good food are the real cures for consumption. But often the cough is very hard. Hence, we suggest that you ask your doctor about your taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It controls the tickling, quiets the cough.

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime will cause an increased flow of bile, and produce a gentle laxative effect the day following. Formula on each box. Show it to your doctor. He will understand at a glance. Dose, one pill at bedtime. Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
