

Get Your Money's Worth.

Why not get your "Money's Worth" when you buy Fertilizers?

People kick about the price of Corn—struggle for reduction in the price of flour and grow excited over the way they think that they are being robbed for these necessities. Yet some of them go right ahead paying two or three dollars per ton more for their Fertilizers than the actual analysis of the goods will warrant.

Too many of us struggle for reductions that are hard to secure, and often ignore the economies and better values that are open to every Farmer who will use good common sense and discretion in buying Fertilizers. You can surely save a considerable percentage of your money, and you can secure much more satisfaction in your farm work if you will only buy your Fertilizers right.

Take our celebrated G. W. G. SOLUBLE GUANO for example. It measures right up on actual analysis with Guano sold by our competitors at much higher prices—so it is with all our brands, extra values are obtained in each without extra cost to the Farmer.

Come and talk over FERTILIZERS with US. If you have any trade in you we can more than give you your MONEY'S WORTH.

PROHIBITION IN GEORGIA.

First Violator of Law Gets Sentence of Cool Thousand.

Athens, Ga., Jan. 12.—The first case of violation of the State prohibition law in this county, and the first of its kind in the State of Georgia, was tried before Judge Howell Cobb, of the Athens city court on the 11th.

Anson Huggins, a young white man, of splendid appearance, was the defendant. He represents the firm of E. B. Gibson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and the charge was that on January 3, at the Central of Georgia depot, in this city, the same being a public place, he gave away several samples of liquor as well as distributed advertising matter.

After hearing all the evidence Judge Cobb reviewed the prohibition law of the State. He said that the dry counties, under the old law, had been flooded by the liquor dealers in the wet counties until the people rose up and enacted the State law, and that now it appears that firms outside of the State were attempting to nullify the sentiment of the people of the State on this subject.

Consequently he would impose the maximum sentence of the law, less the service in jail or chain gang, and the fine was placed at $1,000.

300 LIVES LOST.
Moving Picture Machine Catches Fire in Crowded Restaurant.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 9.—Mail advices from South China tell of a terrible fire at Canton, where 300 lives were lost in the burning of a restaurant. A Chinese recently returned from California, bringing a cinematograph machine, gave an exhibition of moving pictures in a restaurant. Several hundred Chinese had crowded into the place out of curiosity, packing it tightly, when the film took fire. There was a panic, during which the burning building collapsed.

Advice to mothers: Don't let your children waste away. Keep them strong and healthy during the winter with Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It is the greatest tonic for children. Pure and harmless, does the greatest good. 35c.—Tea or Tablets. Dr. J. W. Bell.

100,000 IDLE AT NEW YORK.
Committee Looks Into Many Cases of Lack of Employment.

New York, Jan. 9.—The committee of the Central Federated Union, which is investigating the laying off of men by the National, State and city authorities, reports that there are at present 100,000 men out of employment in New York city alone. They say that 40,000 union men, allied with the building trades, are out of work, 20,000 miscellaneous union men idle and 100,000 non-union men looking for jobs.

HISTORIC TOXAWAY.

Occurrences of the Long Ago—A Progressive Section of the County.

Prather's Bridge, Jan. 8.—Special: Peace and quiet prevails in this section. The people are prosperous and happy, and have hog and hominy in abundance.

It was my pleasure a few days ago to visit J. F. Stewart and family on Toxaway, where I was royally entertained by Mr. Stewart and family. I met A. B. Stewart who has returned from the West, and Miss Adia Wiley and Miss Geraldine Hughes, of Richland, both teachers of ripe intelligence. Miss Hughes is the teacher of the Toxaway school, and has been for several terms, and gives general satisfaction. Miss Hughes is teaching near the historical home of the Hughes' Horse Shoe, the home of her father and grandfather.

People of honored nativity in war and peace have lived in the Toxaway valley and along the banks of its crystal waters. Toxaway is an Indian name of a creek and valley. The valley is populated by some of the best farmers and citizens in upper South Carolina. On the farm of James Pool the Baxters were killed by a negro in 1850—John Baxter, a son and daughter. The negro was caught in Gilmer county, Georgia, and was hanged at Cross Roads, near Madison, on a black gum tree. The tree is still standing by the side of the road, and is noticed by many people. John Baxter was killed by his own negro, whom he bought from Harrison Riley, of Dahlonga, Ga.

Toxaway Valley has produced many great men and valiant soldiers—the Pools, Maxwells, Adamases, Deatons and Striblings, and is now inhabited by many good citizens. Good farms and residences are on every hand. The most costly residence is that of R. B. Collins, just completed at a cost of $1,800.

SPINNERS' ASSOCIATION.
Meeting to Look Into Cotton Goods Situation.

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 8.—Believing that the present unsatisfactory condition in the cotton goods situation demands a remedy, a call was issued to-day for a joint session of the Southern Soft Yarn Spinners' Association, the Southern Hard Yarn Spinners' Association, and the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association. The meeting will be held in this city January 18th. At the joint session the condition of the cotton goods market will be considered and some action taken to protect the manufacturers of cotton goods. It is expected that over 2,000,000 spindles will be represented at this meeting.

Your Passing Shadow

THE S. C. PYTHIAN.
It is in Trouble with the Post Office Department.

(Anderson Mail.)
The South Carolina Pythian, the journal established by the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias at the meeting in Anderson last May, and which has been published monthly ever since, is in trouble with the post office department and may be temporarily suspended. It is possible that the suspension will be permanent.

The Grand Lodge levied an assessment of 25 cents on each member of the order in the State for the support of the Pythian, and ordered the paper sent to each member without further cost. The post office department has ruled this is not a bona fide subscription list and that the paper is not, therefore, entitled to the newspaper postage rates. The publishers of the paper say they cannot afford to pay the higher postage rates demanded by the post office department, which would be one cent per copy for this issue.

Grand Chancellor M. L. Smith called a meeting of the Grand Lodge officers in Columbia a few days ago to discuss the matter, but a quorum was not present, and no action was taken. It is not known what will be done, but it is thought that the next move will be that an effort will be made to get the post office department to modify its ruling and allow The Pythian the same postage rates that are allowed regular newspapers. If this is not done there may not be another issue of the paper until after the Grand Lodge meets again and takes action.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. As least so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—relieves blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a corollary for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your fingers, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

The Secret.
There is music in your laughter,
That echoed through the day,
For 'tis said, you're always happy,
Whether blue the sky or gray;
And, they add, your face is beaming
With the joy of paradise,
For your little heart is shining
Through your eyes.

They have told me of your gladness,
Of your smile, and how you sing;
They have spoken of the goodness
Which you find in everything;
And that you are most contented
No one longer now denies,
For your little heart is shining
Through your eyes.

Every dainty bud and blossom
Lift their tiny little heads,
For the blessings of the sunbeams
That your soul upon them sheds;
And they never miss the splendor
Any more of starry skies,
For your little heart is shining
Through your eyes.

It is mighty close to heaven
Where you linger night or day
And it does not seem far distant,
When your footsteps guide the way;
For a soulful sort of feeling
Every requisite supplies,
When your little heart is shining
Through your eyes.

I have wondered as I listened
To their reasons—some absurd—
And have weighed in silent wisdom
Each explanatory word;
But suppose they knew exactly—
Would they stare in wild surprise?
Why your little heart is shining
Through your eyes!

Bet and Jim.
(Fredericksburg Free Lance.)
In the northwest part of our country there lives a well known Irish magistrate. A man of liberal education and full quota of genuine wit. A short time ago Jim and Bet, a colored pair, called upon the 'squire to be united for better or worse. The 'squire having been notified of their coming, prepared and actually used the following ceremony:

"Jim, will you take Bet,
Without any regret,
To love and cherish,
Till one of you perish,
And is laid under the sod,
So help you God."

All being answered in the affirmative by Jim, the 'squire turned to Bet and said:
"Bet, will you take Jim,
And cling to him,
Both out and in,
Through thick and thin,
Holding him to your heart,
Till death do you part.
Bet acquiesced by a modest bow of the head, and now the happy pair was dismissed as follows:

"Through life, alternate joy and strife,
I now pronounce you man and wife.
Go up life's hill till you get to the level,
And salute your bride you black rustic devil."

OLD MEN IN THE SENATE.
Long Terms in that Body a Comparatively New Fashion.

William Boyd Allison, of Iowa, has been in Congress forty-two years, ever since the second inauguration of Abraham Lincoln, says the Boston Globe. For thirty-four years he has been a Senator and now he announces himself as ready to receive a seventh term. Already his record of senatorial service is unequalled, and if he shall serve out another term he will have held his seat for forty-two years and been in Congress a full half century.

The increasing tendency to continue old men in the Senate is a remarkable development of our politics. It is surely not due to the softness of the berth. The Senate is the most influential and the hardest working legislative body in the country; in either respect it has few equals in the world. Yet the men in it who have passed middle age must constitute nearly half of its membership.

There are fourteen who are more than three-score and ten and half a dozen of these are about 75. Five of the twelve Senators from New England are septuagenarians. At least twenty members have served more than two terms. Half of the New England Senators are in that favored class.

Long terms in the Senate of the United States are a comparatively new fashion. They are rare in the first half of the 19th century. The name of Thomas H. Benton suggests a striking exception to the rule in those earlier days, for he sat in the Senate thirty years.

The truth is that a seat there was not so much coveted then as now. Men resigned it lightly. With three exceptions—Strong, Pickens and Varnum—no Massachusetts Senator until Webster served the length of one term.

George Cabot and Samuel Dexter resigned from the Senate to accept cabinet places, and Harrison Gray Otis threw up his place even to be mayor of Boston. John Quincy Adams was so insulted when the Legislature indicated its preference for another as his successor that he refused to serve out his term. Benjamin Goodhue, Dwight Foster and El Porter Ashmun resigned for no public reason whatever. James Lloyd, who was twice elected, resigned each time before completing his six years.

When Webster had served fourteen years he retired to enter Harrison's cabinet. Being re-elected, he again retired after five years to accept a place in Fillmore's cabinet. Hoar's twenty-seven years and Sumner's twenty-three in the Senate gave them the record from Massachusetts, and each served until death. Wilson, had served eighteen years when he left to be Vice President. Dawes, at the end of eighteen years, was forced out and his seat was taken by Mr. Lodge, who has now been in fourteen years.

The New Stenographer.
I have a new stenographer, she came to work to-day,
She told me that she wrote the Graham system,
Two hundred words a minute seemed to her, she said, like play,
And word for word at that—she never missed 'em!

I gave her some dictation—a letter to a man,
And this, as I remember it, was how the letter ran:
"Dear Sir: I have your favor, and in reply would state
That I accept the offer in yours of recent date.
I wish to say, however, that under no condition
Can I afford to think of your free lance proposition.
I shall begin to-morrow to turn the matter out;
The copy will be ready by August 10th, about.
Material of this nature should not be rushed unduly,
Thanking you for your favor, I am,
Yours very truly."

She took it down in shorthand with apparent ease and grace,
She didn't call me back; all in a flurry,
Thought I, "At last I have a girl worth keeping 'round the place,"
Then said, "Now write it out—you need hurry."

The Remington she tackled—now and then she struck a key,
And after thirty minutes this is what she handed me:
"Dear sir, I have the Feever, and in a Plie I sit
And I except the Offer as you Have reasoned it.
I wish to see, however, That under any condition
Can I for to Think of a free lunch proposition?
I shall be in to-morrow To, turn the mother out,
The cap will be red and Will cost, $10 about.
Material of this nation should not rust N. Dooley,
Thinking you have the Feever I am
Yours very truly."

Attempt to Go Trough Train Standing at Union Station.
Kansas City, Jan. 9.—Four men without masks boldly walked into a passenger train standing in the union station early this morning and attempted to hold up the passengers.

While they were getting busy Conductor Drew came in. He smashed his lantern over the head of one of the men and all turned and fled. They left no clue.
The police quickly followed, but the men separated and escaped.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.
Feared That There Will Be a Repetition of the Night Rider Outrages.
Lexington, Ky., Jan. 9.—A squad of soldiers with a Gatling gun are in Lexington to-day prepared to quell any disturbance that may arise as a result of the tobacco war.

Night riding outrages in the White tobacco regions are anticipated, and Governor Wilson has sent squads of soldiers to various sections, and will not dispatch the entire militia to any place. The planters, in case of an uprising, will be dealt with severely.
