TALLULAH FALLS MENACED.

By Thos. F. Ryan's Deal—Will the Forests Be Slaughtered?

(Atlanta Georgian.)
Is beautiful Tallulah Falls to give place to a dry ravine?
Or will the national government step in and protect the falls by establishing a forest reserve?
A powerful syndicate, backed by Thomas Fortune Ryan and his millions, is said to be negotiating the purchase of timber lands above the falls. The tract to be bought is a strip extending four miles on each side of the river above the falls and ten miles up the stream. The land is covered with valuable timber, and if this is cut it will destroy the natural watershed above the falls and the rains will cut their way through other courses. It will be only a few years until the falls will disappear or be reduced to a puny stream.

It is believed, however, that the Ryan interests contemplate cutting the timber at an early date. The syndicate is making enormous purchases of timber lands in West Virginia and in several Southern States, some of the tracts purchased being far from a railroad and not immediately available for timber. The same interests are building the Clinch river railway and planning other railroad improvements in the South, and it is believed they are investing in timber lands in order to "salt away" a large part of the immense Ryan holdings in something more substantial than Wall street stocks.

It is confidently expected that the next Congress will pass the forest reserve bill and open the way for the conservation of natural resources. Besides being one of the beauty spots of the South, Tallulah Falls is one of the most splendid water powers in Georgia. If the forestry bill becomes a law, steps probably will be taken at once to provide for the purchase of such lands above the falls as will insure protection from timber cutting and destruction of the water-power possibilities.

Immediately following the verdict, Judge Aldrich sentenced the prisoner to ten years at hard labor in the State penitentiary. The jury was out for four hours and eighteen minutes.

Lightning Bolt Strikes Youths.

Charlotte, N. C., June 14.—One lad was instantly killed and four others seriously, perhaps fatally, injured by lightning near Lexington, Davidson county, this morning, in an unusual manner. The boys were out gathering plums when a heavy storm came up and they took refuge in the office of a deserted manufacturing building. Formerly a telephone had been in use in the office, but it had been removed, leaving only the wires. Lightning struck the wires outside the building and traveled to the office where the boys had gathered, instantly killing Odell Young, 14 years old, and injuring four others so seriously that they have not regained consciousness. There were seven in the party and two were uninjured. They hurried to a nearby residence and gave the alarm, summoning aid to the injured. None of the injured boys was over 15 years of age.

RHETT ANNOUNCES FOR SENATE

Charleston's Executive Makes Formal Statement—Solicits Support.

Charleston, June 10.—Mayor Rhett announced his candidacy tonight for United States Senator.
Following a conference at his office at the People's National Bank he gave out the following statement: "To the Democratic voters of South Carolina: I have determined to be a candidate for United States Senator at the approaching primary election. I shall to-morrow file my pledge with the State Democratic committee as required by the rules of the party and will abide by the rules of the primary election. I respectfully solicit the support of Democratic voters of the State."
"R. Goodwin Rhett."

The announcement of the candidacy of Mayor Rhett will be in the nature of a surprise to the voters of the State, and his name has not heretofore been mentioned in connection with the office. He and Ex-Governor Heyward have been close business and personal friends for years and with the decision of the latter to forego making the race on account of his health, Mayor Rhett decided to enter the race.

Further than the statement given above Mayor Rhett said to-night that he had nothing to say, but that in the next few days he will probably make a statement.
Mayor Rhett is one of the best known and regarded men in the State and it is admitted that his candidacy is a strong one. He is one of the most successful business men in Charleston, having large financial interests, but these have not interfered with a close study of public questions and on these matters he is particularly well qualified to discuss and make the race for the office that he seeks. He was a delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention four years ago.

He entered upon his second administration as mayor of Charleston last December, after having served several terms as an alderman, and has held other positions of public trust. Mayor Rhett has spoken before commercial organizations in Columbia, Anderson and other cities in the interest of the State, where he has many strong friends and supporters. His discussions of financial and railroad questions have especially impressed his knowledge of matters of the kind. This was particularly in evidence in the consideration given to his views recently on the proposed reform of currency legislation by government officials and writers on financial matters.

Mayor Rhett is a good speaker and he promises to make a hard fight for the office that he seeks. He will endeavor to enlighten the public on the questions of the day and will make the race on his merit rather than on any attack on opposing candidates. It is thought that he will get a good portion of Heyward's strength throughout the State.
