

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

For Governor of New York—The Republicans Arraigned.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Nominating all but one of its candidates by acclamation, and adopting a platform which arraigns the administration of Governor Hughes and pledges earnest support to the Denver platform and candidates, the Democratic State Convention to-day nominated as the head of its ticket for Governor the present Lieutenant Governor of the State, Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, of Dutchess county.

He declared the nomination of Farley was agreed to without any regard to the Kings county delegation and was intended to embarrass them. He declared he would always support Democratic nominees, but would not hold himself responsible for the action of the people who felt themselves insulted.

Farley won on a roll call, but a motion to make the nomination unanimous was lost by two or three scattering negatives.

Judge Alton B. Parker, who was permanent chairman of the convention, addressed the gathering.

The convention adjourned without day after United States Senator Gore of Oklahoma had made a brief address.

"The promises of reform upon which the present Governor was elected," the platform alleges, "have not been kept. We point as proof of this fact to the expenditures of 1907, which are larger than the extravagant sums expended under the predecessors of Governor Hughes. We charge him with the responsibility for this waste and with giving his time and attention to the pursuit of spectacular methods and self-advertising issues rather than to the work of reform and retrenchment, upon the promise of which he was elected Governor two years ago. We insist that in this most important feature of his administration he has been derelict and remiss. Instead of cutting off the tax eaters from the list of officeholders he has caused new ones to be added to it, and in the two public service commissions which have been brought into existence at his suggestion and dictation, he has created officeholders who have woefully failed to better the condition of affairs confided to their charge."

Hoosier Mistaken for the Nebraskan Has All Kinds of Trouble.

(From the New York World.) Dr. David Coombs Peyton, of Jeffersonville, Ind., president of the Indiana State Medical Association, got a hair cut in the Hoffman House recently. Dr. Peyton said to the barber, "You need not shave my upper lip to-day. I'm going to grow a moustache."

Once Dr. Peyton thought it was a joke because he is a remarkable double of William Jennings Bryan, but after being routed out of a New Haven train coming from Boston to New York at midnight, pushed to the back platform, cheered and asked to deliver a speech, Dr. Peyton then thought it was time to change his looks.

Dr. Peyton would not have worried so much over the loss of sleep, but he was also caught in the Cafe Martin, and a score of men insisted on shaking hands with him. During the excitement Dr. Peyton lost a watch fob, and that was too much. Hence the hair cut and the new moustache.

While the Indiana doctor was trying to escape from the Hoffman House he was found by several enthusiastic Democrats on their way to attend the State Democratic Committee meeting in the Victoria Hotel, and before he could prove that he was not William Jennings Bryan he had his straw hat broken.

"I am a Bryan Democrat," he explained. "I like Mr. Bryan and have entertained him, but I can't carry around any more of his troubles on my shoulders. He seems to have too many friends in New York, so I am going back home where folks know who I am."

It so happens that Mr. Bryan and I are the exact age, and the same height and weigh the same. I must look like him, for the folks on the New Haven train, I think, put Mr. Bryan as a terrible liar when I insisted that I was not the real article. "I would like it much better if people could mistake me for having the brains of Mr. Bryan rather than being like him in looks. I am going home, minus a fob, the loss of a breakfast, and a straw hat, and some sleep."

WYATT AIKEN HELPS.

Popular Third District Congressman Aiding Democratic Cause.

(News and Courier.) Abbeville, Sept. 13.—Congressman Aiken some time ago sent $50 to the national campaign committee and $25 to the Congressional campaign committee. Besides this he has contributed $27 in smaller contributions as "cash" when the hat was handed around in various parts of the district, making in all $102.

About two weeks ago Mr. Aiken received a letter from the speakers' bureau of the campaign committee asking him to aid in campaigning in the doubtful States. These letters are sent to all Democratic Senators and Representatives, but Mr. Aiken believes from what he has heard that a Southern man, no matter how fine a speaker he may be, does the cause little or no good speaking to Northern audiences.

Chairman Lloyd has written Mr. Aiken asking him to go to Washington and assist the Democratic headquarters, and he may go later. The campaign committee complimented Messrs. Finley and Aiken by publishing their speeches on the tariff and ship subsidy in the campaign book, which will be read by millions.

Pickens Papers Appreciate Aiken.

We knew none of the State candidates except Governor Ansel. We are acquainted with both the aspirants for Congress and both are good men. Wyatt Aiken will advocate what he believes to be the best interest of his constituents, and he is no "stuck up" man. Write him on any business matters, and however poor you may be, you will receive a prompt and courteous reply.—Pickens Sentinel-Journal, Sept. 10, 1908.

For our part we want no better representative than Wyatt Aiken. He has done all and more than could reasonably be expected of a Congressman from a Southern district in the way of looking after the interests of his constituents. You all know.—Easley Progress, August, 1908.

Keep the Record Straight.

(Press and Banner.) The Columbia State, in publishing election returns, incorrectly stated twice that Mr. Boggs had received 817 votes in Abbeville county, when he actually received 282. In a sense a difference of 530 votes does not affect the man who is elected, but in another sense it does. Hundreds of voters who see only this statement are left with the impression that the winning candidate carried his county by only two votes to one when as a matter-of-fact he carried it by nearly six votes to one.

THE SITUATION IN NEW YORK.

Work of Campaign on in Earnest. Bryan's Rousing Welcome.

New York, Sept. 17.—With both conventions safely passed, Democrats and Republicans to-day settled down to the work of the State campaign. Little real harmony exists on either side. Both camps claim ultimate victory.

Among the Republicans favoring Hughes rejoicing exists. They believe the candidates will be swept to victory with the largest plurality in years. They are sure of the State's electoral vote for Taft and express the belief that the anti-Hughes men will get on the band wagon soon. The national committee is evidently pleased at Hughes' victory. His nomination enables the party to escape the stigma of turning down reform measures.

Among the Democrats there is said to be a last minute fight between Murphy and McCarren over the office of State engineer, but it is thought that Bryan is squared to the point of satisfaction with both parties. Chanler, it is believed, will make a strong candidate. It is thought that his strength up State is as great as his strength in New York City.

Mr. Bryan in New York.

Mr. Bryan spent a short while in the city this morning, after having made a whirl of 373 miles and delivering fourteen speeches. He makes two speeches in Delaware today, but returns to New York tomorrow, when he will deliver his first address of the campaign in this city. He has found nothing but harmony and enthusiasm among the Democrats since coming to New York.

Didn't Want the American Girl.

Rome, Italy, Sept. 17.—There is a late breach in the Italian royal family over the marriage of the Duke of Abruzzi to Miss Katharine Elkins. King Victor Emanuel is now in the midst of the family tribulation over the matter. He is sorry Abruzzi, to marry the American girl. Queen Margherita is said to be very ill from worry over the matter.

ORVILLE WRIGHT INJURED.

Lieut. Selfridge Killed in Tragis Air-ship Mishap at Fort Myer.

Washington, Sept. 17.—After having drawn the attention of the world to his aeroplane flights at Fort Myer, and having established new world records for heavier-than-air flying machines, Orville Wright met with a tragical mishap while making a two-man flight.

The aeroplanist was accompanied by Lieut. Thomas E. Selfridge, of the signal corps of the army. Lieut. Selfridge was fatally injured and died at 8 o'clock to-night. Wright is severely injured, but is expected to recover. While the machine was encircling the drill grounds a propeller blade snapped off, and hitting some other part of the intricate mechanism caused it to overturn in air and fall to the ground, enveloping its two occupants in the debris.

Soldiers and spectators ran across the field to where the aeroplane had fallen and assisted Wright and Lieut. Selfridge from under the tangled mass of machinery, rods, wires and shreds of muslin.

Wright was conscious and said: "Oh, hurry and lift the motor." Lieut. Selfridge was unconscious and had apparently struck the ground with force. His head was covered with blood and he was choking when the soldiers extricated him from the machine.

Wright and Selfridge were taken to Fort Myer Hospital. After a hurried surgical examination it was announced that Wright was not dangerously injured. He is suffering from a fracture of his left thigh and several of his ribs on the right side are fractured. Both men received deep cuts about the head.

Wright regained consciousness and dictated a cablegram to his brother in Le Mans, France, and requested that some message be sent his family in Dayton, Ohio, assuring them he is all right.

Fully two thousand persons had gathered on the parade grounds in anticipation of this afternoon's flight.

THE OPENING OF WOFFORD.

Methodist College Began Session with Large Attendance.

Spartanburg, Sept. 16.—Wofford College and Wofford Fitting School opened to-day with the largest first day attendance in the history of the two institutions. Dr. H. N. Snider, president of the college, in speaking of the successful opening, said that the management of the college was surprised at the large attendance, for while the faculty expected a large opening, it was not prepared for the unusually large number that reported for college duty on the first day. The freshman class starts off with a membership of ninety and all the other classes are large.

ABOUT MEXICAN BOLL WEEVIL.

Texas Correspondent Writes of the Pest in Oconee County.

(Greenville News.) Cuerton, Texas, Sept. 14.—Mr. Editor: In the Semi-Weekly News of the 11th I notice a special from Anderson, from G. R. McLeese, saying there is a peculiar insect preying on the cotton in Oconee county. About one year ago I was in Greenville waiting for the West-bound train on the Southern Railway, which was an hour or so late, and in conversation with several gentlemen about Texas, one man asked me if I lived in Texas and knew anything of the boll weevil. I told him that I had been here since 1859 and knew all about the weevil, as I had been helping to grow them for thirteen years.

This same man was a farmer and lived not far from Anderson. He described the pest perfectly, and I am satisfied that the pest that Mr. McLeese speaks of is the Mexican boll weevil. Now there is a pest called the sharpshooters that operates on cotton, but they are not so destructive, and these are local, maybe in one locality one year and then disappear. I found them at Rock Hill in 1905.

The cotton crop in this (Dewitt) county has been badly damaged this year. Cotton that would have made a bale per acre will hardly average one-fourth. There are about fifteen counties right here in South Texas that are in bad shape. No want of moisture, for we had all we wanted—yes, and too much for the last twelve months. It is now raining almost daily. Everything green and growing like spring.

DENSE FOG IN CHICAGO.

Two Dead and Many Hurt as Result of Accidents.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Dense fog covering Chicago and its environs handicapped transportation companies today and was responsible for a number of accidents in which two men were killed and several persons injured. Through passenger trains were slowed up and suburban service delayed on all roads.

An interurban car from Aurora crashed into an elevated car on the Oak Park incline, injuring several passengers. Two laboring men, one on the South side and another at Gross Park, were run down and killed by railroad trains.

An engineer and fireman were injured when their engine and three cars on the Chicago and Northwestern was derailed by an engine and switch crew, which they did not see.

THE RECENT WRECK AT BUFORD.

Boy Tried for Causing Same and Acquitted by the Jury.

Lawrenceville, Ga., Sept. 17.—After being declared not guilty of the charge of train wrecking, Louis Cooksey, a thirteen-year-old boy, surprised the judge, jury and spectators by saying:

"You've set me free, but I did it, just the same."

While the statement created a sensation, it was accepted as the utterance of an irresponsible child, and young Cooksey was allowed to go.

The boy was indicted for causing the wreck of the Southern Limited (No. 38) near Buford some weeks ago by placing a bolt on the track. Two men were killed and several were injured in the wreck.

WHAT THIS STATE CAN DO.

Information as to Sheep Raising—A Comparison.

(The State, Sept. 6.)

Speaking of the efforts of the Department of Agriculture to stimulate interest in live stock raising in South Carolina, Hon. E. W. Dabbs, of Goodwill, Sumter county, said yesterday that eight years ago his little boy had been made a present of a pair of sheep.

Since that time the increase from those two sheep had been over 25 head and they had sold $200 worth of wool and six had been killed for mutton. In addition to this many wool blankets had been made.

The value of cattle raising upon the farm was touched upon by Mr. Dabbs, too. In addition to the receipts for beef and hide, Mr. Dabbs asserts that from every $25 worth of cotton seed meal or hulls fed the cows, $20 is returned in manures for the farm. Then again there is the good value of butter, cheese and milk.

A Comparison.

Dr. Barrow, the South's noted chemist, says: "Many of us are often compelled to consider the question of food from another standpoint. We must consider the size of our pocketbooks, and again does cotton seed oil stand out triumphant over all competing materials. With butter at 30 cents a pound, lard at 10 cents a pound, and olive oil at $2.50 per gallon, and cotton seed oil at 50 cents per gallon, or 6-2-3 cents a pound, we find that the price of one pound of cotton seed oil will only pay for but two-thirds of a pound of lard, about one-fifth of a pound or one-fortieth part of a gallon of pure olive oil, and frequently the pure olive oil may be nothing more or less than a high grade of cotton seed oil bearing a fictitious label."

"It follows, then, that we have in cotton seed oil not only the purest, most nutritious, nourishing, palatable and strengthening fat we can obtain, but also for the cheapest of any similar material."
