

CHOLERA IN CZAR'S PALACE.

St. Petersburg Plague Spreads to the Aristocratic Portion of City.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—Not only has the number of cases of Asiatic cholera in this city increased to-day, but the disease has invaded the aristocratic precincts of St. Petersburg. It has even reached the Winter Palace, one case having been discovered in the servants' quarters of the palace, in which extensive preparations are going on, in the expectation that the Emperor and Empress will spend part of the coming season in the capital. Other cases have been discovered in the palace of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolaievitch, the Tauride Palace, the palace of Prince Alexander Oldenburg, a cousin of the Emperor, and the Imperial Opera House.

A number of diplomats and prominent society people have hurried their departure abroad, but the exodus has been checked to a considerable extent by the prospect of being held in quarantine at the frontier.

In order to test the efficiency of vaccination in cholera cases several graduate students of St. Petersburg University voluntarily permitted themselves to be vaccinated, after which they drank a solution of cholera germs.

THE TUBERCULOSIS CONGRESS.

It is the Greatest Anti-Tuberculosis Movement Ever Begun.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—For the next three weeks the national capital will be the scene of such a crusade as, perhaps, never before has been witnessed against humanity's worst common foe—the white plague. It will be an educational campaign, world-wide in its scope, the ultimate object of which is to eradicate, if possible, from the ends of the earth a disease which, statistical experts declare, cuts short the lives of from one-tenth to one-eighth of the civilized population. Such distinguished foreigners as Drs. Robert Koch, of Berlin; Bang of Copenhagen; A. Calmette, of Lille, France; N. Theodor Tendeloo, of Leyden; G. W. Philip, of Edinburgh; C. Van Pirquet, of Vienna; G. Sims Woodhead, of Cambridge; Lydia Rabinowitsch, of Berlin; Camilo Calleja, of Valladolid, Spain; T. Ishigami, of Osaka, Japan, and noted American doctors and scientists and others who have devoted their lives in an effort to solve this problem, will actively participate.

The campaign will be carried on by the coming International Congress on Tuberculosis in its sixth annual session, which will meet in the United States for the first time, at the new National Museum, in this city. This congress, which might fittingly be called a real world's congress on tuberculosis, will mark an epoch in the anti-tuberculosis movement in this country.

The initial step will be taken to-morrow night, when there will be a public opening at the new National Museum, in connection with the congress, with a tuberculosis exposition. It will be one of the largest, the most important, and in every way the most comprehensive exhibit ever assembled, and it will be illustrative of what is being done throughout the world in the fight against tuberculosis.

While the display is connected with the congress, it is not so closely related as to be taken as the official opening of the congress. That important event will occur one week later, September 28.

Should Politicians Bathe?

(Anderson Mail.)

Mr. Cansler, of Tirzah, was a candidate for Railroad Commissioner two years ago, and several times before that, if we remember correctly. In filing his expense account two years ago he put in an item for "one bath, 25 cents." He was defeated by several thousand votes. This year he was a candidate again, and in his expense account he put in an item for "nine baths at 25 cents each, $2.25." And he was defeated by only several hundred votes. It would appear that Mr. Cansler has made some progress toward cleanliness in politics, and that the people have been duly appreciative. It may be argued that if Mr. Cansler had taken just a few more baths he would have been elected. But before committing yourself to that theory it would be well to remember that the expense of Mr. Caughman, who was elected, did not show that he took any baths at all. Of course Mr. Caughman may have taken a bath every week, or every day, during the campaign, but he cannot prove it by the official record, his expense account, and therein Mr. Cansler has the advantage over him. The record offered by Mr. Cansler offers a wide field for comparisons and speculations. Does it pay for a politician to bathe or not?

THEY WANT HASKELL BOUNCED.

Democratic Committeemen Ready to Use Influence Against Him.

New York, Sept. 23.—It became known at Democratic headquarters to-night that several national committeemen are preparing to use every influence to bring about the removal of Governor Chas. N. Haskell from the office of treasurer of the national committee.

This is the result of the publication of charges that Mr. Haskell, as Governor of Oklahoma, declined to permit the State to prosecute the Prairie Oil Company, a subsidiary company of the Standard Oil Company.

Charges that Governor Haskell had been identified with several railroad promotions in this city, which are said to have been unfortunate in the matter of consummation, are said to-night to have also tended to increase the feelings of the national committeemen that the time has come for Haskell to resign from the committee or be removed. National Chairman Mack is taking no action in the matter at present, nor would he state to-night what the outcome might be with reference to the Haskell matter, though his attitude is known to be such as to oppose the continuance on the committee of any man whose affiliations are proved to be with the corporations, which are opposed by Bryan.

Haskell Has Resigned.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The resignation of Governor Charles H. Haskell as treasurer of the Democratic campaign committee is already in the hands of the Democratic National Committee, and has been since he left Chicago several days ago for Oklahoma. It is said on Democratic authority here that as early as the Denver convention certain Democratic leaders of national reputation learned that Governor Haskell had figured in certain corporation matters in the past, which made it inconsistent for him to appear as one of the leaders in an anti-corporation campaign.

These men also understood that Governor Haskell had been very close to the Standard Oil Company, and while he lived in Ohio was a business associate of Senator Brice and a railroad promoter in Ohio and New York. The Democratic leaders were somewhat concerned, therefore, when Mr. Bryan selected him for treasurer of the campaign committee.

At the first suggestion from Mr. Hearst of the relations of Haskell to the Standard Oil Company the leaders of the Democracy told Mr. Bryan that he would find it hard to defend his treasurer, and at the same time Governor Haskell was advised to place his resignation at the disposal of the national committee to meet any contingency that might arise. It is the understanding of men here who are familiar with the facts that Governor Haskell left for his home in Oklahoma with no intention of returning to his duties as treasurer.

Upon the known facts regarding the Haskell resignation is based the interesting theory that Mr. Bryan will, as soon as he has read President Roosevelt's letter addressed to him to-day, announce Mr. Haskell's withdrawal in a way to derive as much political advantage as possible from a situation which was forced upon him.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold. A. J. Nubaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold by all druggists.

WILL HAVE HISGEN ELECTORS.

"Mat" Tighe in State to Select Presidential Electors.

(Columbia Cor. News and Courier.) The Independence party, better known as the Hearst party, will put out an electoral ticket in South Carolina.

This announcement may not create any great political excitement, but nevertheless the announcement is made, and it may be interesting, even if not exciting. Matthew F. Tighe, formerly head of the Columbia Bureau of the News and Courier, was in the city to-day. He is now head of the Hearst newspaper syndicate bureau in the National Capital, and because of his familiarity with men and conditions in this State has been sent to South Carolina for the purpose of opening up the Independence party campaign. Mr. Tighe has been in Greenville, where Mr. Ihmsen was with him; but he is alone here on his political mission and Mr. Ihmsen is in Florida. Mr. Tighe went to Charleston to-night, and there may be some field for his efforts in Charleston, where it is said to be a difficult job to keep alive the fires of "true Democracy."

It may not be a matter of great difficulty to put out an electoral ticket in this State. All that you have to do is to get nine qualified electors who do not hold office of any kind; they cannot even be notaries public or directors in a national bank, and it is not hard to find nine men who are neither, though it may be harder to find nine men who would not like to be both. At any rate, that is all that has to be done. Under the laws of this State it is not even necessary to call a convention of the party—the electoral ticket can be just put out just so, and Mr. Tighe says it will be done. It is not yet determined who will compose the ticket and it does not yet appear that there will be any unseemly scramble to get a place thereon.

Mr. Tighe does not seem very hopeful of carrying South Carolina for Hisgen and Graves, although Col. Graves was born and educated in this State. In fact, he concedes this State to Bryan and Kern. Hisgen and Graves, it may be well to state, are the nominees of the Hearst party for President and Vice President respectively.

The Independence party has a national committeeman in this State. He lives in Fort Mill, York county, but he is all the organization that is at this time apparent. Col. J. Conway Garlington was at one time officially connected with the organization, but later resigned, declining to desert the good old Democratic party, which is now as ever strong in Laurens county.

110 DROWNED WHEN SHIP SANK.

Star of Bengal, Salmon Bark, Lost at Coronation Island.

Wrangle, Alaska, Sept. 24.—One hundred and ten out of a total of one hundred and thirty-seven persons aboard the salmon cannery ship, Star of Bengal, were drowned on Sunday afternoon when the vessel was torn from the hold of protecting tugs and dashed ashore at Helm Point at the southeast end of Coronation Island.

The news was brought by the tug Hattie Gage, which carried the survivors, twenty-seven in all. The survivors before leaving Coronation Island, buried the bodies of fifteen white men on the beach.

The cable ship Burnside, which left for the scene of the wreck at midnight on Monday, as soon as the news was received, returned last evening with the news that the Star of Bengal was a total wreck, only the ends of her masts showing above the water.

The ship was being towed to sea from Wrangle by tugs. It was said that the ship drifted into a narrow bight about 4 o'clock p. m. and sank about 9, after breaking into three pieces.

The steamer, Star of Bengal, was an iron bark of 1,695 tons register, 262.81 feet long, with 40 feet beam. She was one of the vessels of a salmon fleet belonging to the Alaska Packers' Association. She had a cargo of 25,000 cases of salmon.

EBERHARD PLEADS GUILTY.

Hackensack Youth Who Killed His Aunt Gets 30 Years.

Hackensack, N. J., Sept. 23.—August Eberhard, on trial here for the murder of his aunt, Mrs. Ottolie Eberhard, to-day changed his plea to guilty and was sentenced to serve 30 years in the State prison.

After a conference between the prosecutor and counsel for Eberhard it was stated to the court to-day that the prisoner had agreed to plead non-vult. The prisoner's counsel said Eberhard's grandfather died in an insane asylum, that his sister now is in an institution for the insane and that young man himself had been acting strangely for some time prior to the crime. Judge Parker said the very fact that Eberhard had agreed to change his plea proved that his mental derangement was not severe enough to absolve him from punishment. There remained nothing for the court to do, he said, but to impose sentence immediately. Eberhard heard the sentence without a tremor.
