Wm. Tucker, of Salem, left last Thursday for Copperhill, Tenn., where he has accepted a position as time-keeper for the Tennessee Copper Co.

Dr. L. Junius Mann has gone to Anderson, where he has located for the practice of his profession. His many friends here wish for him great success in his new home.

We will show the biggest line of samples of tailor-made clothing on the road at our store on Thursday and Friday, October 8th and 9th. Moss & Ansel, Walhalla.

Mrs. J. W. Bowen and children left last Saturday for their home at Mount Pleasant, after having spent some time here at the home of the Misses Moss, on Faculty Hill.

The teachers' examination will be held in the Court House at Walhalla on Friday, October 16th, beginning at 9 o'clock a. m. All interested are requested to note advertisement, which appears in another column.

William Mitchell, of Westminster, has accepted a position with Sheriff W. M. Kay and is now in charge of the prisoners during the Sheriff's frequent absences on official duties.

Miss Marye R. Shelor spent last Friday in Walhalla in connection with her work for the International Sunshine Society, which is doing a great work all over the whole country.

We are indebted to Mrs. L. L. Hall for a handsome set of souvenir postals giving views on San Diego, Cal. Mrs. Hall is a former resident of Oconee, and is now among relatives and friends at Westminster.

Cotton—W. H. Cary, Walhalla. Full price and spot cash.

Rev. J. W. Head requests us to state that his appointment for "The Arbor," near Thos. Hall's, for the second Sunday has been called in. He will preach there on the third Sunday, the 18th of October, and on Saturday night before.

Louis L. Littman, of Anderson, spent last Thursday and Friday in Walhalla. He came up to be with the Heptasophs and did some good work while here. He says Oconee Conclave, No. 827, is in excellent shape, and is numbered among the best conclaves in the State.

Two mules, two yoke small oxen, three milch cows for sale for cash or on time at J. C. Rochester, store, opposite Walhalla Cotton Mill, by Allison & Co.

On last Wednesday the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Walhalla Methodist church held a very interesting meeting, at which new officers were elected, as follows: Mrs. D. A. Smith, president; Mrs. Jas. M. Moss, vice president; Mrs. C. G. Jaynes, secretary, and Mrs. J. W. Bell, treasurer.

W. L. Orr, of Tamassee, called on The Courier Monday morning, paying for his paper in advance, and he informed us that the squaring of that account put him even with the world. He now owes not one cent. It is surprising and gratifying to note how many of the farmers of Oconee are getting down to a strictly cash basis. It is a splendid sign.

Young men! If you want to know why you should become telegraph operators and what school to attend, write to Southern School of Telegraphy, Newnan, Ga., for free Catalogue "A." Everybody should read it. Positions positively guaranteed.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sanders, at Newry, on Wednesday, September 23, 1908, at 8 o'clock p. m., Miss Alice Sanders and Chester A. Peebles. Rev. Coke D. Mann performed the ceremony. The young couple have many friends in the county, who join in wishing them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Beaty sympathize with them in the serious illness of their two youngest children, Eunice and George Harold, who have been great sufferers from pneumonia for the past week. They seem to be somewhat improved this morning, and we hope for their early and complete recovery.

The fourth quarterly conference of the Walhalla and Seneca charge will be held at the Seneca Methodist church on Monday, October 12th, at 4 p. m. All the official members are urged to be present, as it is desired to wind up the minute business as far as possible. J. C. Yongue.

Married, at the home of the bride, near Whetstone, this (Wednesday) morning, Miss Lizzie Conley and Will P. Henry. Rev. J. C. Yongue, pastor of the Walhalla Methodist church, officiating. The bride is one of Oconee's most accomplished young ladies and has many friends in Walhalla, where she has frequently visited. The groom is the popular representative of the Palmetto Hardware Co., Gainesville, Ga. We join a host of friends in extending hearty congratulations and best wishes.

On Tuesday of last week the Paul Hayne Circle held its last meeting of the club year with Mrs. E. L. Herndon as its cordial hostess. The Circle was presided over by the president, Mrs. Sidney Adams, and the members who answered to roll call were: Mesdames J. W. Bell, J. A. Steck, E. L. Herndon, L. M. Brown, C. W. Bauknicht, J. A. Ansel, Jas. H. Darby, Misses Daisy and Alice Strong, Janie Neville, Gertrude Smith and Mary Ansel. An interesting literary program, taken from the Bay View Course on Belgium, was followed by a short business session. After adjournment the hostess distributed hand-painted rose-shape booklets, in which were a series of questions to be answered with the names of various roses, to the guests, and each was asked to find her place at the prettily appointed table corresponding in shade with the color of her booklet. The hall and parlor were filled with the sweetness and beauty of many roses, and on the four tables were exquisitely embroidered centerpieces, on which were cut glass bowls of beautiful pink, white, red and yellow roses. Amid much merriment the guessing kept up until time was called. Several were so fortunate as to draw for the prize. A beautiful vase was presented to Miss Alice Strong, and Mrs. C. W. Bauknicht received a lovely little cup and saucer. Delicious ice cream and cakes were served in attractive style. Two visitors who added much pleasure to the afternoon were Mrs. G. A. Shanklin, of Clemson College, and Mrs. James Ansel, of Chattanooga.

Dr. M. H. Land and Dr. S. Littman, representing the Greenville Optical Company, are in Oconee for a short while. Dr. Land will be at the Walhalla Drug Company Friday of this week, and Dr. Littman with the Stonecypher Drug Co., Westminster, on the same day. Read their announcement elsewhere and call on them if in need of eye treatment.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents, near Stamp Creek church, Oconee county, on Sunday, September 27, at 3 p. m., J. H. Cantrell and Miss May Hunnicutt. Rev. W. M. Walker, the evangelist, officiated. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hunnicutt, and is a young lady of rare accomplishments. Mr. Cantrell is one of Oconee's foremost public school teachers. We wish the happy couple a long and prosperous life. The announcement of this marriage was quite a surprise to the many friends of the groom here, who extend hearty congratulations.

The following item, taken from a dispatch from Laurens, will be read with much interest by the many friends here of Rev. W. E. Callender, who was formerly rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Walhalla: "Rev. W. E. Callender, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, returned yesterday from Falls Church, Va., and announced that at an early date he would submit his resignation as rector of the Episcopal churches here and at Newberry, in order to accept a call from the church in Virginia. Mr. Callender expects to leave here about the first of November, and together with his family, move to his new charge, located in the suburbs of Washington."

The South Carolina Presbytery met at Smyrna, Newberry county, on September 1. By reason of the recent disastrous floods, only eight ministers and ten elders were present. Elder A. B. Morse, of Abbeville, was elected moderator. Preaching services were held twice daily, to the great delight of the large congregations which were present at all the sessions. A conference on piety was held annually. A committee to work among the mill people was appointed. Rev. W. H. Frazier is in control of the movement. Presbytery urged its ministers to preach a sermon to their people on the "Lord's ordained plan for the support and extension of the Gospel." The proposed amendments to the constitution went over to the next regular meeting. The next Presbytery will be held at Easley on Tuesday after the second Sabbath in April, 1909.
